THE WEATHER
Showers and warmer tonight. Wednesday showers, followed by clearing in the afternoon or night; light easterly to southerly winds increasing and becoming westerly Wednesday.

THE LOWELL SUN

5 O'CLOCK

ESTABLISHED 1878 LOWELL MASS. TUESDAY APRIL 27 1909 PRICE ONE CENT

SULTAN A PRISONER

In Hands of Young Turks Taken to Asia Minor

Deposed in Favor of His Brother--A Salute of 101 Guns Announced to People of Constantinople Change in Sultanate—Fresh Outbreak of Fanticism at Adana

The young Turks have scored a complete coup in deposing the sultan and sending him a prisoner to Asia Minor.

Abdul Hamid III, sultan of Turkey, was today deposed from the throne of the Ottoman empire by his subjects for his interference with the progress of popular government under constitution granted by him last July, and the brother, Mehemmed Reschad Effendi now occupies the throne.

This change was decided upon by the national assembly without a dissenting voice and it was carried out with the utmost rapidity. The sultan is now a prisoner in the hands of the Young Turks and carefully guarded by his captors.

The formal decree removing Abdul Hamid from all power over the Turkish empire was issued by the sheik-ul-islam, the head of the church, in the regular form prescribed by the tenets of the Mohammedan faith.

The city of Constantinople is alive with excitement and throngs of the populace fill the streets. A number of arrests have been made but the change of sovereigns has been effected without disorder of any kind.

A salute of 101 guns announcing the end of the reign of Abdul Hamid and the beginning of that of Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, was fired at half past two o'clock this afternoon.

SULTAN TAKEN TO ASIA MINOR

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—It is reported here that the sultan has been removed from the imperial palace and conveyed across the Bosphorous to a point in Asiatic Turkey.

SULTAN IS A PRISONER

LONDON, April 27.—A despatch received here by the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Constantinople, says that troops under the command of Young Turk officers entered the sultan's palace last night and took his majesty prisoner. Later, closely guarded, he was removed to the Cheraghan palace of the Bosphorous.

SALUTE TO THE PEOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—A salute of 101 guns fired at half past two o'clock this afternoon announced to the waiting populace of Constantinople the change in the sultanate.

FRESH OUTBURST OF FANATICISM

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—There was a fresh outburst of fanaticism and murder last night at Adana accompanied by looting and incendiarism. The situation is critical.

50 TURKISH OFFICERS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—Fifty Turkish officers have been arrested at Erzeroum by their troops and dispatched under escort to Trebizond.

The exact significance of this action is not yet clear but it is feared that it means the beginning of the revolt of the provincial troops against the Young Turk officers.

Continued to last page.

HAD HEMORRHAGE

YOUNG MAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AT HOSPITAL

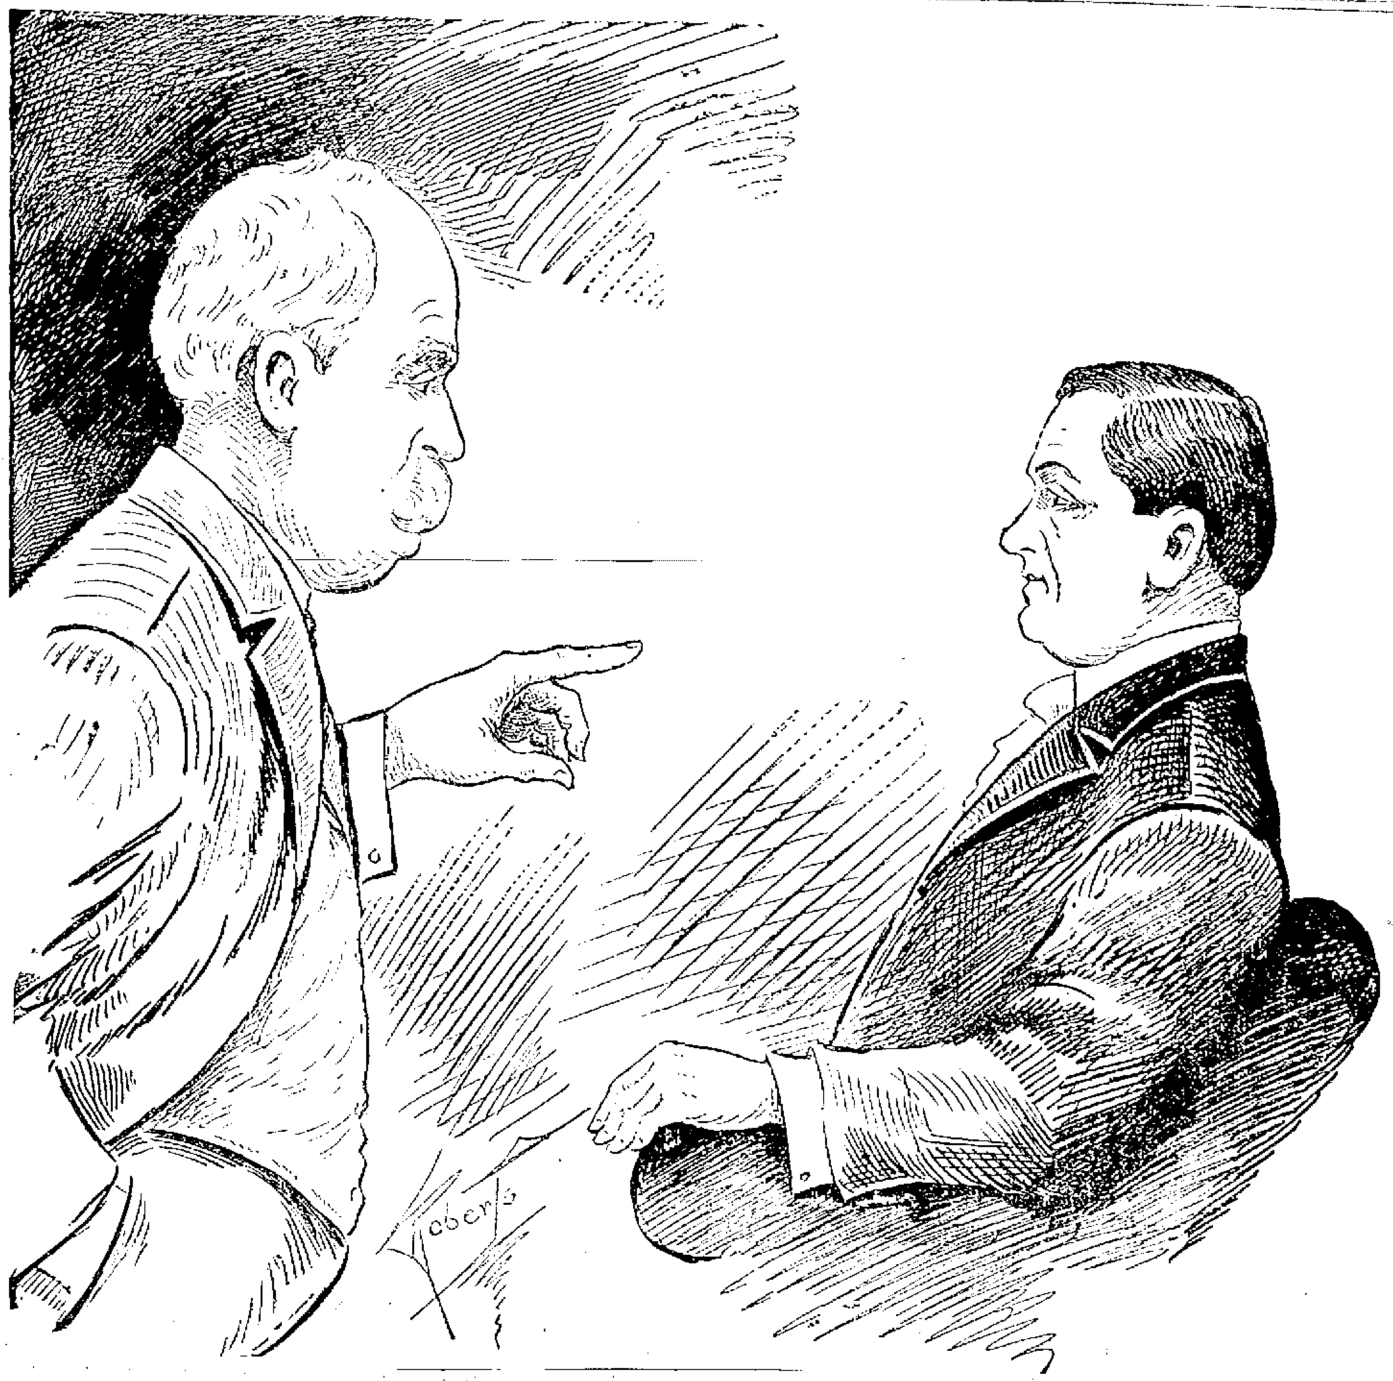

A man about 30 years of age and suffering from a hemorrhage of the lungs was this morning removed in the ambulance from the Bridmar Chambers, corner of Fletcher and Worthen streets, to St. John's hospital. He is in a precarious condition and at the time of writing was unconscious.

Very little could be learned as to the identity of the young man, other than that he gave the name of Conway before becoming unconscious.

He was a stranger at the Bridmar Chambers and how he happened to be in the hallway is not known by the matron of the building. One of the occupants of the building found the man lying in the hallway, blood flowing from his mouth. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital.

Broke His Leg

Ephraim Rousseau, a pupil of the Green grammar school in Merrimack street, while playing in the school yard this morning, fell and broke his leg. The ambulance was summoned and the boy was taken to the Lowell hospital. He resides at 2 Racine place, off Hall street.

ATTORNEY WM. H. BENT PUTTING THE MAYOR'S SECRETARY, W. C. MACBRAYNE, THROUGH A SEVERE CROSS-EXAMINATION AT THE HEARING YESTERADY

GROCERS CONVENE

Annual State Convention Opened This Afternoon

David Gerow of This City Presides Over Convention—Many Delegates Present — Banquet to Follow Business Session

The annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers association opened this afternoon in Odd Fellows Temple with a large attendance, including delegates from Boston, Lawrence, Haverhill, E. Weymouth, Medford, Worcester, Springfield, and other places, the importance of the matters to be discussed drawing an unusually large delegation.

The convention was formally called to order by Mr. Edward Fitzpatrick, president of the Lowell Grocers association, who turned the convention over to Mr. David Gerow, of this city, president of the state organization, who introduced Mayor Brown for the speech of welcome. The matter of annual reports was then taken up and followed by discussions on different subjects pertaining to the welfare of the trade.

At the conclusion of the business session this afternoon a banquet will be held in the banquet hall at which President Fitzpatrick will be the toastmaster and addresses will be made by State President Gerow, Mayor Brown, Hon. George Carter, former mayor of Chelsea; Prof. Hugh Molloy of the normal school, and others.

THE HOTEL MEN

Called as Witnesses at the Police Board Hearing

The respondents opened their side of the police board hearing this morning and among the witnesses summoned were local hotel men.

When the hearing was resumed this forenoon Supt. Moffatt, who was being cross-examined by Mr. Burke when the hearing adjourned last evening, was recalled.

Mr. Moffatt was asked relative to the sandwich law cases; the two in which juries disagreed and the others that were thrown out by the district attorney.

Asked if he had given the hotel men the true interpretation of the law, Mr. Moffatt said: "I think not—I do not know now what the true interpretation of the law is."

Mr. Moffatt said he gave to the hotel men the interpretation given by Fred N. Wier, former district attorney and ex-police commissioner. Asked as to the condition of the police force at the present time, as to discipline, activity and ability to perform required duties, Supt. Moffatt said that the department is in fine shape; discipline good and everything is harmonious.

As to the enforcement of the liquor laws in Lowell during the year 1908, Mr. Moffatt said that they were more rigidly enforced than ever before in the history of the department, and he said that the licensed places so far as he knew were all living up to the law.

Asked as to the work of the present police board, he said it had devoted two or three times as much time to the work of the department than any other police board of which he had any knowledge.

As to the honesty, earnestness and sincerity of the present police commissioners in the performance of their duties, Mr. Moffatt said, speaking from his experience and association with them, that he believed them to be thoroughly honest and sincere.

Mr. Moffatt's cross examination through with, the defence started in on its case. The hotel men were present and were sworn.

Henry W. Garrity of the Old Washington Tavern was the first witness.

"Were you called to the mayor's office with others in February?" asked Mr. Burke.

"I was."

"Did you know of anything to bring about, or that might have brought about, that invitation that you got to come to the mayor's office?"

"I did not know of anything."

"Did you hear the mayor say anything about the summonses that were sent out by the police board to the hotel men?"

"I did not. I was late in arriving."

Asked what was said about the sandwich law, he said that the mayor gave as his opinion that a man who called at a hotel on Sundays or holidays and ordered a sandwich, that the man ought to be entitled to as many drinks as he might feel that he required.

Mayor Brown sought to shake Mr. Garrity in his testimony relative to the sandwich, asking him if what the mayor said wasn't to the effect that a man who resorted to a hotel for food, in good faith, was entitled to drink. Mr. Garrity said the word sandwich was used. He was interested in the sandwich law and he remembered very well what was said concerning it. He said the mayor likened a man going into a hotel for a sandwich to a man going into a restaurant. If a man went into a restaurant and bought a sandwich he would be entitled to buy as many cups of coffee as he desired and he thought the man who bought a sandwich in a hotel was entitled to one, two or more glasses of beer.

Mr. Garrity said he had not been granted a license for this year. He testified to the closing of his hotel between 10 a. m. and 12 m. on Sundays. He said the hotel was not closed, but that no drink was served between those hours. He was requested by the police commissioners to dispense with the sale of drinks during those hours.

Proprietor Cushing

Edward T. Cushing of the Richardson hotel was the next witness. He was asked first relative to the appointments of his hotel and then as to the conference between the hotel men and the mayor.

He said that it was an entire surprise to him when he was invited to come to the mayor's office. The mayor, he said, asked him if he had received his summons from the police board for a hearing before that body. He said he [illegible] with him and gave it to the mayor.

As to what the mayor had to say about sandwiches and beer, Mr. Cushing said the mayor said that a guest resorting to a hotel in good faith for food, ought to be entitled to one, two or three glasses of beer. By food, he said, the mayor meant sandwiches. The mayor said that he very often made a meal of a sandwich.

Cross-examined by counsel for prosecution, Mr. Cushing told in considerable detail the location of the dining rooms of his hotel, entrances to them, etc. He was asked a number of questions relative to the testimony given against his hotel in police court. He said he had not yet been granted his license for this year. Asked when he was granted his license last year he said he could not remember the exact date but it was earlier than this.

A recess of ten minutes was taken, and when the hearing was resumed Mr. Cushing, in reply to a question by counsel for prosecution, said he was notified yesterday by Mr. Bent to attend the hearing today.

Mayor's Speeches

Dr. Wm. H. Gallagher was the next witness. He said he knew Mayor Brown very well. He heard the mayor deliver campaign speeches, and from the top of the lunch cart at the corner of Paige and Bridge streets he said he heard the mayor say that he would not stand for liquor licenses going to the agents of breweries and wholesalers, and that he would remove the police board for granting them licenses.

Asked when his attention was first called to the fact that he would be called to testify as to what Mr. Brown said from the top of the lunch cart, he said he did not know just when. It was to Mr. Bent he spoke relative to it. He said he told Mr. Bent that he could not give the mayor's exact words, but that he could give the substance of it.

Asked by counsel for the prosecution if he knew that Mr. Gregg had been going about soliciting persons to come to the hearing to testify as to what they had heard the mayor say during the season of his campaign, witness said he didn't know anything about it.

Supt. Moffatt Cross-Examined

When the hearing was adjourned yesterday afternoon, Supt. Moffatt was being cross-examined by counsel for the respondents. Counsel for the prosecution offered no evidence under charge 42, which refers to the citizenship of Commissioner Hanson. Charges 35, 36, 38 and 39 were also abandoned. Counsel for the prosecution refused to abandon several others that counsel for respondents said should be abandoned, for specified reasons; and the mayor when called on for a ruling, sustained his own counsel. The charges that have been abandoned are as follows:

35. That you voted to appoint and also authorized persons to act as special police officers who, at the time of their appointment, were not citizens of Lowell, contrary to section 2, of rule 39, of the rules and regulations of the police department of the city of Lowell.

(For specifications see appointment of Charles A. Merrill, Alexander Bauwart, Frederick R. Ervin, George Pangborn.)

36. That you voted to assign certain police officers to act specially in the enforcement of the liquor law when you knew or ought to have known that these same officers had been removed from the liquor squad where they had formerly served, because of the evidence of their neglect and incapacity disclosed in the proceedings before Mayor James B. Casey in the matter of the removal of a former board of police.

(For specifications see report of said proceedings before Mayor Casey pertaining to the official conduct of Thomas R. Atkinson, Alexander Duncan and William H. Grady.)

38. That because of politics or favoritism and not for just causes, you permitted and authorized Superintendent Moffatt to remove and transfer certain officers without their consent from the routes and places of employment, where they had been assigned, to other and less desirable positions, contrary to chapter 210 of the acts of 1906, and contrary to the best interests of the police department.

(For specifications see lists of transfers in possession of Superintendent Moffatt.)

39. That you permitted and authorized Superintendent Moffatt to promote certain police officers contrary to rule 3 of the rules and regulations of the police department of the city of Lowell and contrary to the best interests of said department.

(For specifications see promotion of Officers Downey, Atkinson, Duncan and McCloughrey.)

42. That you are legally incapacitated from holding your office as a member of the board of police of the city of Lowell because you are an alien by birth and have never been naturalized as a citizen or legally qualified to be a member of either of the two leading political parties, as required by section 3 of chapter 109 of the revised laws.

FUNERAL NOTICE

MARTIN—The funeral of the late Timothy Martin will take place tomorrow morning at eight o'clock from his home, 4 rear of 168 Adams street, and at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Banish Spring Humors

Impure or effete matters accumulated in the blood during the winter cause in the spring such disfiguring and painful troubles as boils, pimples, and other eruptions, also weakness, loss of appetite, that tired feeling.

The best medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. These ingredients are the very remedies that successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make and yields a larger profit.

Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today, in the usual liquid form or in the chocolated tablets known as Sarsatabs. 100 Doses One Dollar.

CURTIN & SPILLANE
Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters
Estimates Cheerfully Given
26 ANDOVER ST. Tel. 2429

All Run Down? Pale? Nervous?
All run down, easily tired, thin, pale, nervous? And do not know what to take? Then go direct to your doctor. Ask his opinion of Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. No alcohol, no stimulation. A blood purifier, a nerve tonic, a strong alterative, an aid to digestion. Let your doctor decide.

LOWELL INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS
INCORPORATED 1829
THE OLD LOWELL SAVINGS BANK
INTEREST BEGINS MAY 1
18 SHATTUCK ST.

THE BABBITT CO.
OPTOMETRISTS,
Expert Work—Reasonable Prices
Eyesight Specialists in Attendance. Any Lens Duplicated. Try Our Prices.
81 Merrimack st., Cor. John (Over Lawler's)

INTEREST BEGINS SATURDAY, MAY 1
—AT—
THE CENTRAL SAVINGS BANK
55 CENTRAL STREET

POLAND WATER
For Sale by
GEO. A. WILLSON & CO.
F. and E. BAILEY & CO.

The Best Housewife
Demands that her home shall be cleaned with a Vacuum Cleaner.
Every bit of dirt is sucked up into the cleaner and taken out of the house to be destroyed.
We let a Vacuum Cleaner by the day.
Lowell Electric Light Corp.
50 CENTRAL STREET

THE 8-HOUR LAW

Was Passed to be Engrossed by the House

BOSTON, April 27.—The house spent two and a half hours yesterday on motions to reconsider votes of Friday.

In the first place Representative Duane of Waltham moved reconsideration of the vote whereby his bill for direct nominations in the 5th Middlesex senatorial district was rejected last Friday and the adverse report of the committee on election laws accepted. On a roll call reconsideration prevailed, 112 to 85. The question then recurred on the motion to substitute. Here again Representative Duane won out and his bill was substituted for the adverse committee report, 112 to 83.

Representative Hall of North Adams moved reconsideration of the rejection of the bill to regulate the practice of osteopathy. Friday last, practically without discussion, and with comparatively few members in the house, this measure was rejected without division. When Representative Hall made his motion to reconsider Representative Cushing of Boston objected. The house was spending too much time in reconsidering matters, he observed, and if the present pace was maintained the legislature would be in session next summer.

Representative Weeks of Everett, however, insisted that the house should reconsider. The bill had not been given that consideration which its importance warranted. Not only should the rejection be reconsidered, he said, but the house should pass the measure along.

Eight-Hour Bill Advanced

On a rollcall the motion to reconsider prevailed. The question then recurred on ordering the bill to a third reading and after a general debate in which the bill was favored by Messrs. Weeks, Hall, Elmore, Stearns, Brown and Montague, and opposed by Messrs. Callahan, Oliver and Riley, the bill was ordered to a third reading, 81 to 71.

The house discussed the eight-hour bill about an hour and finally passed it to be engrossed.

This measure, sponsored by Representative Fay of Boston, provides that laborers, mechanics and workmen engaged on public work shall not be "permitted" to work more than eight hours in any one day. The present law says they shall not be "required" to work longer.

Mr. Fay had an amendment in to exempt the state printer from the proposed act during the legislative session and in the fall when getting the ballots ready. Representative Dorman, opposing the Fay bill, offered a substitute measure to permit overtime work but providing that the employe shall receive double compensation therefor.

The Fay bill was opposed by Representative Bishop of Newton. It was favored by Representative Parks of Fall River, Mildram of Boston, White of Brookline and Carmody of Worcester. Representative Dorman of Lynn spoke for his bill, and this was favored by Representative Moore of Duxbury.

On a voice vote the house adopted the Fay amendment in favor of the state printer, rejected the Dorman substitute, and, as amended, ordered the Fay bill to be engrossed without a division.

TAINTED BEEF LAW

Was Attacked in Lower Branch of the Legislature

BOSTON, April 27.—The law enacted in 1908, providing that the carcasses of cattle infected "to any degree" with tuberculosis or any other disease could not be sold in Massachusetts, was vigorously assailed at the public hearing on Gov. Draper's message of March 25, held yesterday before the joint judiciary committee at the state house. Chairman Spalding presided and prominent veterinarians, health officials and butchers and dealers in livestock voiced their opinions.

It was charged that the enforcement of the law worked to the detriment of the commercial interests. Ex-Atty. Gen. Herbert Parker presented an amendment to last year's bill at the opening of the hearing, which he believed would clarify the existing situation in the beef industry as a result of Atty. Gen. Malone's interpretation of the statute.

Discussing the amendment which he offered, Mr. Parker said that it strikes out the prohibition upon the sale of meat "which has come to its death in any manner or by any means otherwise than by slaughter or killing while in a healthy condition," and prohibition of the sale of meat of cattle" as described in section 1" and substitutes a prohibition on meat that "is found to be infected by disease or so diseased as to be unfit for food."

New Section to Beef Law

It also adds a new section, which reads as follows: "Any carcasses of animals, or any parts or products of the same, may be offered for sale, sold or otherwise disposed of for food, when authorized or permitted by the rules and regulations of the chief of the cattle bureau, made and approved in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 and 7 of chapter 90 of the revised laws, as amended by chapter 116 of the acts of 1902. Provided, however, that no carcass, part or product thereof, of any animal, in any degree affected or infected with tuberculosis, shall be offered for sale, or sold for food, within the commonwealth.

This last clause, Mr. Parker pointed out, absolutely prohibits the sale in Massachusetts of any part of the carcass of an animal which is in any degree infected with tuberculosis, and while eminent authorities hold that the flesh of such animals may be eaten with perfect safety, still there is a very strong sentiment against its use, and the interests which he represents are willing to make this sacrifice to meet the wishes of the public, if the legislature deems it wise.

Would Follow the Federal Law

Chairman Spalding asked why perfectly good beef should be destroyed, and Mr. Parker said there is no reason for it except the misconception the public at present entertains relative to diseased beef. Senator Spalding suggested that it might be well for the commonwealth to follow exactly the federal statute, with an additional proviso that meat which is in any degree affected or infected shall not be offered for sale. Mr. Parker said he had no objection.

Mr. Parker, who appeared for Mr. Hapgood, president of a large slaughtering concern in Brighton, said that the act of 1908 makes a serious interference with legitimate enterprise, as it requires a too rigorous condemnation of property. He believed that the state may well place its own law in accord with the federal enactments, which have been found thorough, effective and adequate.

Dr. Burr of the Boston board of health, who has had 20 years' experience at the Brighton abattoir, said that what was wanted was immediate relief from the present interpretation of the law. He said that the number of cattle killed at Brighton during April, 1908, was 2511, and of that number 15, or 6238 pounds, were condemned. In the last four weeks there were 1446 killed, and out of that number 42, or 26,405 pounds, were condemned. He said that the proportion of hogs condemned was even greater.

Old Law Defended

Dr. Austin Peters, cattle commissioner, suggested that the best way to relieve the present situation was to repeal section 1 of chapter 329 of the acts of 1908, or the whole chapter, and then have a commission to codify the existing cattle inspection laws.

Ex-Atty. Gen. Albert E. Pillsbury unqualifiedly declared that there is no need whatever for any change in the law, as it does not at present prevent the sale of meat that is pure and wholesome, notwithstanding the opinions of the eminent attorneys who have declared that it does. In his opinion, there is no manner in which the law can be construed as Messrs. Parker, Malone and Storey have construed it, as the word "disease" in the second clause, which manifestly is an important word, is rendered of no effect under their construction.

Sec. J. Lewis Ellsworth of the state board of agriculture said that the interpretation put upon the law of 1908 is working a great hardship all over the state, animals being condemned which are perfectly wholesome to eat. J. A. Hathaway of Brighton compared the small number of cattle he was killing at present, as compared with former business, and said he was sending the greater part of his beef to England.

Loose Inspection Condemned

Warren C. Jewett of Worcester, representing the state grange, said the persons whom he represented were opposed to the present construction put upon the law as to cattle, which would certainly kill the beef and cattle industry of the state.

Representative Quigley of Holyoke said that he desired to bring in veterinarians in support of his contention that there should be a more rigid inspection of beef. He objected to the loose manner in which state inspectors are not allowed to put the seal of Massachusetts on infected cattle.

Representative Quigley said that he would furnish the committee with a copy of his bill now before the rules committee. In reply to Senator Birch of Millford he said that what he was after was perfect harmony between the state aid federal inspectors.

Whitfield Tuck of Winchester thought that the committee should not consider solely the commercial phase of the present situation. They should think also of the people who didn't want to get the meat of a sick cow, which cow had been sold because she was sick.

PATHETIC STORY

Of Illness of Adlai Stevenson

CHICAGO, April 27.—A pathetic story of Adlai Stevenson's illness at a hospital here, has just come to light. During the time the former vice president lay ill from the effects of an operation, his sister, Mrs. McCaughey of Sioux City, Ia., died, and two days later his brother William of Bloomington, Ill., also passed away.

Fearing the effect of this news on the patient's mind and fearing more the danger of accidental disclosure, his Chicago friends decided to send for his wife and to have her tactfully tell him of one of the deaths.

When he recovered from the shock of this it was decided he should be informed of the other. Mrs. Stevenson arrived Sunday morning and performed her delicate task, telling her husband only of the death of his brother.

In the afternoon Federal Judge Kohlsat visited the distinguished patient, but his conversation could not draw the mind of the afflicted man from his grief. Mr. Stevenson spoke to the judge of the great blow that the news of his brother's death had been to him. Supposing the sick man knew of both the deaths, Judge Kohlsat naturally remarked:

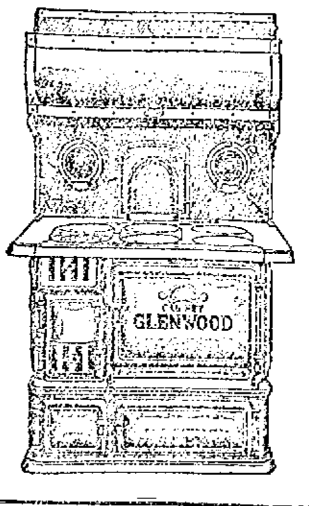

"Yes, indeed; it must have been a severe shock, coming along with the death of your sister."

That was the former vice president's first inkling of the second tragedy.

I Just Love the Cakes Mama Bakes in our new Glenwood

"Makes Cooking Easy"

Plain "Mission Style."

No filigree or fancy nickel.

A room saver too—like the upright piano.

M. F. Gookin Company,
35 Market St., Lowell.

WILL IS OPPOSED

Relatives Seek Estate of Mrs. Noble

MANSFIELD, April 27.—There is to be a contest of the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth F. Noble of this town, who died April 2 at the age of 94, leaving a fortune estimated at from $600,000 to $800,000.

Mrs. Noble left generous sums of money to charitable and other public organizations in New York, Boston and other places, while her relatives, nearly all of whom are said to be poor, were bequeathed only from $50 to $3000 apiece as a rule.

Several of the relatives are to contest the will on the ground that Mrs. Noble was mentally incompetent when the document was drafted. The will is dated Dec. 7, 1901, when Mrs. Noble was in her 86th year.

Mrs. Noble had no children of her own. Her husband, a wealthy New York business man, died 40 years ago and left her all his money. He is said to have been in the coal business. About 20 years ago Mrs. Noble came to Mansfield and moved into a handsome house deeded to her by her brother, Henry Kinsell, located on South Main street near Park row. Here she lived alone with her maid up to the time of her death.

Practically the only relatives Mrs. Noble has living are nieces and nephews and grand-nieces and grand-nephews. None of these live in Mansfield but are scattered all over the United States. Among the principal ones mentioned in the will are Catherine A. McClellan of New York, but now in Florida, niece; Annie S. Emley of New York, niece; Elizabeth M. Johnson of Milford, niece; Lucy M. Smith of Malden, niece; Robert Kinsell of Washington, D. C., nephew; Nellie Kinsell of St. Louis, grand-niece; Dudley Kinsell of Oakland, Cal., grand-nephew; Omega K. Swartz of St. Louis, Mo., grand-niece; Benjamin Kinsell of Dallas, Texas, grand-nephew; Geo. H. Stoddard of Somerville, grand-nephew; Victor H. Stoddard of Melrose, and Frederick A. Stoddard of Melrose, grand-nephews.

The largest bequest received by any one of these was $800. Practically all the others were under $300 or $1000, while some were as low as $50, it is said. In addition to the above named Mrs. Helen Hooper of Lexington received $1000 and Miss Annie Thompson of Lynn $500. Hettie Cavener, who was Mrs. Noble's maid, was deeded a tenement house on Union street and several thousand dollars.

THINK IT OVER

But don't think too long. A 25c shaving mug, a cake of Colgate's shaving soap and a good lather brush, all for 25c. Howard, the druggist, 197 Central street. (College Ice 5c. Ice cream soda 5c.)

If you are savingly inclined,
You stretch your dollars to the limit.
At Coburn's you will find
More truth than poetry in it.

HARRISON'S

"Town and Country PAINT

Will keep your house in good looks longer and for less cost than any other.

All Regular Shades $1.60 a Gal.

C. B. COBURN CO.

63 MARKET ST.

IS CHAMPION

MAX LUTTBEG DEFEATED ALBERT WASSON

CHICAGO, April 27.—Max Luttbeg of Kansas City won the lightweight wrestling championship of America by defeating Albert Wasson of St. Louis in the final match at the lightweight tournament at the Illinois A. C. last night.

The preliminaries having taken up so much time the principals agreed to wrestle one fall to a finish for the title. Luttbeg took the fall in 25 minutes after an exciting tussle with a half nelson and bar arm hold. Wasson was awarded second money.

Ernest Linberg of Chicago won third money by winning from Arthur in a one fall match with a scissors and body hold.

FIRE STARTED

IN THE WAYS OF BATTLESHIP FLORIDA

NEW YORK, April 27.—Some excitement was created in the New York navy yard in Brooklyn today when fire was discovered working under the bows of the splendid new battleship Florida which is under construction there. Investigation showed that the ways had caught fire probably from a hot rivet dropped by one of the workmen. An orderly who discovered the fire and a sentry used a chemical extinguisher to such good effect that a fire engine on arrival had nothing to do. Work was resumed as usual on the battleship. The damage was trifling.

CAPT. BENSON

WAS MEANS OF STOPPING FILIBUSTERING EXPEDITION

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Captain Benson of the cruiser Albany, who has been in Central American waters under instructions from this government to watch developments in that territory, it was learned here was the means of stopping an alleged filibustering expedition in command of Capt. John Moissant, an American, which was about to cross from Nicaragua into Salvador. Details have not yet been received. The expedition, it is alleged, was to start under cover of night. Captain Benson threatened to open fire, it is said, if the supposed filibusters made any move.

COL. STANFORD

TO REPRESENT UNITED STATES AT CONFERENCE

NEWPORT, R. I., April 27.—Lieut. Col. James C. Sanford, U. S. A. corps of engineers will sail on May 1 as the representative of the United States to the annual meeting of the permanent international association of navigation congresses which is to be held at Brussels on May 17. He will act as the delegate of the American commission, the members of which are Brigadier General Raymond, retired; Lieut. Hodges, corps of engineers at Panama; E. L. Corthell and John Bogart, civil engineers of New York.

Plans for the next international navigation congress will be formulated at this meeting which will be attended by delegates from most of the countries of the world. The congress is held at intervals of about three years, and at its sessions questions concerning inland and maritime navigation are considered and other matters connected with the improvement of waterways discussed.

TRE CENTENARY

OF THE BIRTH OF OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—In connection with the centenary of the birth of Oliver Wendell Holmes which will be celebrated appropriately at Harvard university tonight the exhibition of the various editions of the author's works, manuscripts and other memorabilia was visited today by hundreds of persons. At tonight's exercises President Eliot of Harvard will preside and among the literary guests expected are Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Julia Ward Howe, Judge Robert Grant, George W. Cable, Florence Earle Coates of Philadelphia, Prof. Arlo Bates of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Prof. Thomas R. Lounsbury of Yale.

FOR BABY'S SAKE
—USE—
Comfort Powder

Then his skin will be free from itching, chafing, scalding, rashes, and all soreness. The original and best baby powder.

Be sure you get "COMFORT" POWDER. Box with Baby's Head and Trained Nurse.

SURPRISE PARTY

AT RESIDENCE OF MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN WARD

There was a surprise party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ward, last night, by the employes of the Dumas Co., in honor of their daughter Evelyn, who has just completed one year of married life. The shower of tins came one by one, and a verse appropriate to the article given was also recited. Each verse was original and among those present were the following: Miss Nellie Chitty, Miss Margaret Martin, Miss Sadie Braden, Miss Genevieve Smith, Mrs. J. Johnson, Miss Mollie Doherty, Miss Mabel Ferguson, Miss May McLaughlin, Mrs. F. Foster, Mr. Martin Wyke, Mr. Wm. Edge, Mr. Thomas Edge, Miss Adelaide Sullivan, Miss Jones, Mrs. J. Smith, Miss Minnie Damon, Miss Spilaine and the Misses Bertha and Amelia Cote. Those responsible for the musical part of the program were: Miss Genevieve Smith, who gave a number of selections on the piano; solos, Miss Spilaine and Miss Mollie Doherty; jokes were given by Mrs. J. Johnson. Seasonable refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Ward proved to be most genial and hospitable hosts.

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS

BOSTON, April 27.—Two police inspectors left Boston today for Shreveport, La. to bring back to this city Alexander B. Hugh who is under arrest in the Louisiana city. Hugh is wanted here for the alleged passing of worthless checks.

The Boston police officials say that the man is wanted in Brockton and Worcester and several cities and towns in Connecticut and New orkY state on similar charges.

FRENCH COOKING DEMONSTRATION LECTURE

The Lowell Gas Light company comes very near being up to the minute in most things, and particularly in looking after the interests of the Lowell public and all the public. Under its auspices and at its expense, Miss Carolyn Putnam Webber, through the aid of an interpreter, will give one of her cooking demonstration lectures before the French people of the city. Place, Boisvert hall, corner Ennell and West Sixth streets. time, Thursday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock. No admission fee and everyone more than welcome. The menu for the evening is as follows:

BONNE SOUPE AUX POIS
IMPERIAL STICKS
STEAK DE BOEUF A LA HENRIETTE
SAUCE HENRIETTE
RAMEKINS A LA STUYVESANT
SAUCE AUX TOMATES
PUREE AUX POTATES
SHORTCAKE AUX PECHES NOTTINGHAM

SCHOONER IS FREE

HYANNIS, April 27.—The schooner Alaska which grounded at the eastern entrance to the harbor during a gale Sunday night released herself from her precarious position early today and proceeded under her own sail to an anchorage in the inner harbor. It was not believed that the vessel was damaged very severely.

Mr. Joseph P. Girty writes that Barnum and Bailey's circus starts on the road Wednesday, April 27th. After a run of five weeks in the Coliseum, Chicago, Ill., the circus goes from Chicago to Champaign, Ill., and then to Bloomington, Ill., then to St. Louis, Mo., for a week's stay. Mr. Girty is a musician with the circus.

SKULL CRUSHED

Police Are Looking for Man's Son

NEW YORK, April 27.—The body of Thomas Browne, aged 60, was found in the kitchen of his home in Brooklyn today where he had been murdered some time during the night. His skull was crushed, probably with a stone. The police began to search for Edward Browne, his son, with whom he had a disagreement on Saturday.

$15,000 OFFER

FOR BOUT BETWEEN GOTCH AND HACKENSCHMIDT

SEATTLE, Wash., April 27.—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition was offered $15,000 for a finish "go" between Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt for the wrestling championship of the world. Sixty per cent of the gate receipts, guaranteed not to be less than $15,000 together with a half interest in the picture rights and the traveling and training expenses, are used as the bait to blind the eyes of the wrestlers to the offer of $25,000 from Australia which is said to have been made.

A WATER GUN

TO BE USED TO STOP AUTO SCORCHING

HAMMOND, Ind., April 27.—The police of this town have devised a new plan to quench the ardor of the auto scorcher whose favorite stretch for speedway is Calumet avenue. Midway along this thoroughfare is a field telephone, installed and worked by an officer, who will send information to the farthest end of the approach of a violator of the speed ordinance.

Here will be established a water gun with a three inch nozzle and one hundred pounds pressure to the inch. It is claimed that on the refusal of the chauffeur to stop when ordered a stream will be turned upon him with a force sufficient to lift him out of the machine without inflicting serious injury.

BALTIMORE WOMAN

HAS ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The original manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner" has been located by the Francis Scott Key Memorial association, which is endeavoring to obtain possession of it. While it is improbable that the owner of this precious relic, a Baltimore woman, will consent permanently to part with it, the association hopes to be able to borrow the manuscript to place on exhibition at the old Key mansion in Georgetown, D. C.

CHILD IS DEAD

SHE SURVIVED HER MOTHER JUST ONE WEEK

EAST PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—Surviving her mother just a week, 13-year-old Sarah Clinton, died here today of burns received. At that time the child's clothing caught fire from the kitchen stove and while she was rushing to aid her daughter, the mother, Mrs. Salira M. Clinton, dropped dead.

COTTON FUTURES

NEW YORK, April 27.—Cotton futures opened easy. May 10.55; June —; July 10.42; Aug. 10.28; Sept. old, 10.19; Oct. 10.16; Nov. —; Dec. 10.15; Jan. 10.09; Feb. —; March old, 10.09.

Neuralgic Anodyne for RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA ACHES & PAINS

Try NEURALGIC ANODYNE for any pain or ache, no matter how severe and the result won't disappoint you.

It's human nature to procrastinate. Everyone knows that NEURALGIC ANODYNE will almost perform miracles in times of painful distress, and yet at such times many people will not have it on hand.

If you haven't NEURALGIC ANODYNE in the house, get a bottle right now. It is for sale everywhere, and a large bottle only costs 25 cents.

It cures neuralgia, rheumatism, pains in the chest or back, stomach pains, dysentery, coughs, nervous headaches, and all aches and pains. It is an absolute necessity in every household. The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

LIVELY RACE

AND HONORS WENT TO THE "KID"

Editor Sun:

A very exciting and enjoyable "Marathon" race was witnessed by a number of spectators on Appleton and Chelmsford streets last evening. The contest was due to an argument that arose in the Boston fish market, when Charles Allen made the assertion that he could "beat" any one in the market. One of the other clerks said that John McQuade, known at the market as the "kid," could give him a trimming and they made a wager on the result.

It was just 6.45 and the "course" was named as up Appleton to Chelmsford and conclude at the proprietor's residence in Nesmith street. The contest started with both men on the scratch. It was followed by the other employes of the shop in teams, including the stakeholder. It was nip and tuck until the corner of Cambridge and Chelmsford streets was reached, when the "old man" succumbed and was taken in one of the teams to the barn. The "kid" continued and finished in fine condition. He received a great ovation and a good bit of change, while all Charlie got was a great guying.

Upon telephoning to the market today, the writer was informed that Charlie reported for work early and not so fully convinced as he was yesterday that the boy runner can best him.

Yours truly,

Tom Mahoney.

ST. PETER'S MISSION

St. Peter's church, auditorium and basement, was crowded again last evening at the second night's services in the women's mission. Rev. Fr. Robert, C. P., preached a powerful sermon on "Mortal Sin." The children who are making the mission made their confession this afternoon and their mission will close tomorrow.

Lowell, Tuesday, April 26, 1909

A. G. Pollard Co.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

OUR OFFERING OF

NEW SPRING WOOLENS

69c a Yard for $1.00 to $1.50 Grades

Includes all the most popular novelty goods made by one of the biggest and best mills. Every good shade and new weave you have seen is represented. Plain and fancy panamas, serges, mannish suitings, English mixtures, shadow stripes and checks — strictly all wool and full 50 or 54 inches wide.

We offer some 15,000 yards of short lengths and part pieces for your choosing.

We invite your attention to our Window Show, Merrimack Street.

REMEMBER—$1.00 TO $1.50 DRESS GOODS ONLY

69c Yard

Palmer Street, Right Aisle

You're Interested in Wunderhose

Children's .................. 4 pairs for $1.00
Ladies' .................. 3 pairs for $1.00
Men's Half Hose .................. 4 pairs for $1.00

And the makers assure you that the dollar's worth of either size will wear three months without darning at heel or toe, or they'll replace any worn ones you send to them.

We are the sole sellers of these good stockings for this section—Let us show them to you at the Men's or Ladies' Hosiery Sections.

East Section, Left Aisle—West Section, Left Aisle

ON SALE TODAY

Laces At Less Than Half Price

There are 550 pieces of Fine Torchon, Linen and Valenciennes, Edgings and Insertions for all kinds of trimmings, all new patterns, fresh from the importers. Laces that wash and will wear. The reductions are most attractive.

Torchon Laces—fine quality, edges and insertions to match, 5c and 8c value at .................. 3c Yard

Fine Torchon Laces—all new patterns, very fine quality, all widths, 10c and 12½c values at .................. 5c Yard

All Linen Laces—nice fine quality, from one inch to four inches wide, very handsome patterns, 10c to 15c value at .................. 5c Yard

Sale in Our Basement Bargain Department

Palmer Street, Basement

LIVED IN LOWELL

Mother and Daughter Married to the Same Man

DENVER, April 27.—Mrs. Luella Nicholson, widow of William Curtis, a railroad employe of Ayer, Mass., and divorced wife of Edward Booth, a Boston man, is now being held in the city jail, together with her husband, Edward Nicholson, and her daughter, Sadie Nicholson. Meanwhile the police are confronted with a matrimonial dilemma. Nicholson is said to be the husband of both Mrs. Luella and Sadie.

The trio were arrested Saturday night at their temporary residence, 269 South Broadway, where they, in company with the landlady, had been engaged in a hand-to-hand fight. At police headquarters the elder Mrs. Nicholson gave an inkling that led to revelations concerning the married lives of her husband, her daughter and herself which Chief of Police Armstrong declares are unrivaled for intricacy.

Mrs. Nicholson's Story

Mrs. Luella Nicholson, as she states her story, is a Massachusetts woman. She married, when 16 years old, William Curtis, then an employe of the Nashua & Fitchburg railroad. The couple had been wedded not more than two years when Curtis was discharged. Quarrels followed and the young mother was frequently left alone for days with their baby, the 8-month-old Sadie. In 1893 he was killed by a Nashua & Fitchburg train near Ayer.

Mrs. Curtis moved soon after to Lowell and worked in the mills. In 1898 she went to Boston, where she met Edward Booth and they were married. The couple lived in Boston for five years and a son Harry was born. Then Mrs. Curtis-Booth discovered that Booth had a wife in Boston. The marriage was annulled.

Leaving Harry in Boston with friends the disappointed woman went with Sadie to Chicago. There she encountered William Van Rossen, whom she wedded. She sent to Boston for Harry and there promised to be some happiness for the young woman. But when she and her third husband left Chicago for Denver, domestic felicity was again menaced and later destroyed by the present husband, who maintains that the much wedded woman threatened death to both herself and her husband if she did not obtain a divorce and marry him. The decree was gotten. Nicholson and Mrs. Curtis-Booth-Van Rossen were then married. Incidentally Nicholson is a cousin of Jesse James, the famous bandit.

Sadie's Three Husbands

Meanwhile Sadie had grown up and the son, Harry, had been sent to an orphanage at Van Rossen's instigation. Nicholson, who is said to have already had a wife in Cheyenne, became enamored of Sadie and when she married William Chesney is said to have forced the couple by threats to divorce. The same is reported as the fate of the girl and her two ensuing husbands, Ed Belander and Charles Yarbrough.

Then, after chasing his stepdaughter to Eaton, N. M., he is charged with marrying her. This was before he had been divorced from his first wife or from his bride's mother. What appears to be the stepfather, husband, and the stepdaughter-wife went to California for a honeymoon and then returned to Denver, where they were arrested on account of the chance fight.

Mrs. Nicholson, the elder, claims to have two brothers in Massachusetts. Her son Harry, she thinks, is in or about Boston, adopted from an asylum by a private family. She has been kept from searching for the boy, who is now 14 years old, by her last two husbands, who would not support him.

Another Bridegroom Waiting

Later information apprises the police of the fact that Mrs. Luella Nicholson if she had not been arrested Saturday night would have again been married Sunday afternoon. She acknowledged freely that she had had an appointment with a man, the name of whom she refused to divulge, to meet him at a designated place and there be wedded.

The daughter, whose two children, Luella and Walter, are in confinement with her, was also acquainted with the state of affairs and states that her mother was forced by threats of the husband and stepfather to undertake the step. Nicholson calculating that if she should again marry she would also be guilty of bigamy and therefore not be in a position to prosecute as she had intimated she would do.

The accused man claims to be a native of Kentucky, where he has influential relatives, whom, he says, will assist him when they hear of his predicament.

TO SIGNAL MARS

Prof. Pickering Has Been Offered Sum of $10,000,000

BOSTON, April 27.—William Henry Pickering, professor of astronomy at Harvard university, yesterday received a telegram from Fort Worth, Tex., proposing that if the professor would go to Texas to superintend extensive experiments for signalling to the planet Mars, $10,000,000 would be raised for the purpose. The telegram was signed by The Star and The Telegram, the two leading newspapers in Fort Worth.

Prof. Pickering said last night that he would heartily enter into any experiments of this kind, but that he would advise those who made the offer to wait until additional and more conclusive evidence as to life on Mars had been procured before spending so large a sum on experiments which might prove of little value. He has not yet replied to the telegram.

Advocates Observatory

Prof. Pickering said he would counsel those behind the movement to establish an observatory of the highest possible efficiency in some favorable location in western Texas, where he and other astronomers could carry on extended observations of the planet within the next few years. This could be done, he said, for a very small part of the immense sum, which it is proposed to expend on the undertaking. Those observations, the professor said, might yield information such as would warrant further and more costly steps, namely, the building of enormous reflectors by means of which the sun's light could be reflected with sufficient intensity to reach through the 45,000,000 miles between the earth and Mars and attract the attention of the planet's inhabitants.

In discussing the matter Prof. Pickering said:

"The brevity of the telegram does not permit me to say from what sources the money for the experiments is coming—the telegram was signed only with the names of the newspapers.

"However, I don't feel that we know enough about the planet as yet to spend much money in signaling to possible inhabitants. But the planet will shortly come around into a position of exceptional advantage for observation. As it moves about its orbit it comes into a position where it is nearer the earth than any other time of the year. Its average mean distance from the earth in the last several years was approximately 45,000,000 miles.

Mars Coming Nearer

"But next fall—or rather, late next summer, the planet will swing around to a position only 35,000,000 miles from the earth. If an observatory of efficiency is in working order in the clear atmosphere of the west Texan hills about that time, some very surprising observations and records might be procured. If the observations found in that way warranted going on with the work, there would still be plenty of time for expending the large sums necessary to build the immense multiple reflectors.

"Our knowledge of Mars is not so very extended as yet. We all know that there are lakes there and canals connecting them in some places. In many respects these canals seem to be artificial; for instance, they are straight in their lines of construction, and at their junction with the lakes have formations and constructions which, by all the laws of the world in which we live, are artificial and not of natural construction of growth.

"That is one of the things which an observatory such as I suggest might determine—whether or not these canals are natural or artificial; whether they are really straight or merely appear so because of the inconceivable distance through which we see them."

"Doctor's Daughter"

Talk on the Stomach

The stomach and digestive organs are many times the cause of some disease which might have been prevented if these organs had performed their natural functions, and the great variety of symptoms which arise from a disordered condition of the stomach and liver, cause many people to think that they have some awful disease, the consequence of which is, that they do nothing for their stomach, but doctor for some other trouble. A poor acting stomach and liver will cause headache, backache, nervous troubles, distress after eating, bloating, sour stomach, heart pressure, insomnia, loss of flesh, constipation and may other disagreeable feelings. If you are a sufferer of any trouble and your stomach or liver is out of order correct these troubles first, get the benefit of the food you eat, and your other troubles will many times correct themselves. Stomach-Rite, the combined stomach and liver remedy has an unequaled record of many remarkable cures to its credit, and when you need a stomach remedy, get the best, a remedy that gives results, not promises, that's Stomach-Rite. One 50 cent box will quickly convince you the true worth of this medicine. There is nothing just as good, insist on Stomach-Rite.

Very truly yours,
DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

Summer Prices For COAL

Buy Early and Get the Best

E. A. Wilson & Co.

4 Merrimack Square—700 Broadway—15 Tanner Street

ASKS FREEDOM

Woman Says She Was Illegally Jailed

BOSTON, April 27.—Molly Clark, alias Minnie Williams, petitioned the supreme court yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus against Sheriff Seavey for her release out of Charles street jail. She is being held there in default of bail upon an indictment for larceny. She was claimed to have worked the badger game and got $2200 from Maxime Bellville and on James Barrett when she got $275.

Her claim to her freedom is based upon the ground that she was once put in jeopardy upon the whole indictment and that while the government sought to elect to try her only on the charge of larceny from Barrett and then consented to a verdict of not guilty on it, the election to try only that count came too late. Hence, in effect, she claims the whole indictment was disposed of and her release should have been ordered.

She was brought to trial on March 17 in the superior court. The jury was empanelled. The indictment was read to it. Then the prosecuting attorney elected to proceed on only the count concerning Barrett. Later the government consented to a verdict of not guilty on that. She claims the whole indictment was put before the jury, and that she was in legal contemplation on trial upon it and put in jeopardy, and cannot be tried over again on the remaining count relating to Bellville's $2200. An order of notice was issued returnable today.

GREAT TRADE

BETWEEN U. S. AND NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Trade between the United States and its non-contiguous territories will aggregate approximately 150 million dollars in the fiscal year which ends with June next, against approximately 70 millions in 1899, a decade earlier. For the eight months for which the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor has complete figures the shipments of merchandise from the United States to its non-contiguous territories—Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands, Guam, Midway Islands, and Tutuila—amounted to 43½ million dollars, and the shipments of merchandise from those territories to the United States amounted to 52½ million dollars. These figures relate only to merchandise. The value of the native gold shipped from Alaska to the United States in the period in question was 16¾ million dollars or more than twice the purchase price of Alaska.

The shipments of merchandise from the non-contiguous territories to the United States for the eight months ending with February, 1909 (52½ million dollars), show an increase of about 2 million dollars over the corresponding period of 1908, and 5½ million dollars over the corresponding period of 1907. The merchandise shipped from the United States to the non-contiguous territories in the same period (43½ million dollars) shows a decrease of about a half million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of 1908 but an increase of about three-quarters of a million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of 1907.

This slight decrease in the shipments to the non-contiguous territories in 1909, as compared with 1908, is due in part at least to the fall in prices of certain classes of articles sent to those territories. Prices of many manufacturers have ranged somewhat lower in the eight months ending with February, 1909, than those of the corresponding periods of 1908 and 1907, and as a consequence this fall in prices has given a lower total of values even in cases where the quantity shipped was greater. In manufactures of iron and steel, which form an important item in the shipments to Alaska, prices are less than those of 1908 and 1907; in cotton manufactures, which form an important item in the shipments to Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines, prices are also less than those of the immediately preceding years.

The value of merchandise shipped from the United States to Alaska during the period in question was $9,409,452, against $10,694,364, in the corresponding months of the immediately preceding year. The value of the merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States in the same period was $12,155,538, against $10,472,747 in the corresponding months of the preceding year. The principal articles forming the 9½ million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Alaska in the period under consideration were: Iron and steel manufactures, $1,[illegible], against $1,074,269 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products, $1,505,206, against $1,434,448 in the same months of last year; breadstuffs, $437,268; manufactures of wool, $458,548; manufactures of cotton, $351,553; fruits and nuts, $316,155; leather and manufactures thereof, $127,605; mineral oils, $[illegible]; spirits, wines, and liquors, $[illegible]; vegetables, $72,952; and wood and manufactures thereof, $438,[illegible]. The 12 million dollars' worth of merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States included: Canned salmon, $[illegible]; fish, other than salmon, $[illegible]; copper ore, $405,00[illegible]; furs and fur skins, $[illegible]; and whalebone, $[illegible]. Of the 12 million dollars' worth of merchandise coming from Alaska, $[illegible] entered at the port of San Francisco, $5,955,312 at Seattle, and $[illegible] at Tacoma. Of the merchandise sent to Alaska, $8,774,328 went out through the customs district of Puget Sound, and $707,[illegible] went out through San Francisco.

Of the $11,150,149 worth of merchandise sent to the Hawaiian Islands in the eight months under consideration, breadstuffs amounted to $1,[illegible],558, against $1,070,374 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; cotton manufactures, $[illegible], against $[illegible] in the corresponding months of the preceding year; iron and steel manufactures, $1,653,676, against $1,255,209 in the same months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products $156,720; mineral oil, $542,183; spirits, wines and liquors, $377,605; and wood and manufactures thereof, $650,860. Of this total 7 1-4 million dollars worth went out of San Francisco, a little over 1 1-2 million dollars worth out of Puget Sound, and nearly 2 million dollars worth out of New York. Of the $22,647,780 worshipped from the Hawaiian Islands to the United States, sugar amounted to $20,937,649, against $15,519,128 in the same months of last year; canned fruits, $728,823, against $572,420 in the same months of last year; fruits, green, ripe, or dried, $149,246, against $102,302 in the same months of last year; coffee, $129,929, against $49,961 in the same months of last year; rice, $174,390; and wood and manufactures thereof, $55,169. Of this 22 1-2 million dollars worth of merchandise sent from the Hawaiian islands, about 10 millions went to San Francisco and about 12 millions to New York and Philadelphia, chiefly the former.

Of the $15,827,939 worth of merchandise sent to Porto Rico, breadstuffs amounted to $1,209,639, against $1,182,863 in the same months of last year; cotton manufactures to $2,594,178, against $1,890,378 in the same months of last year; manufactures of iron and steel, $2,015,061, against $2,908,130 in the same months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products, $1,633,094, against $1,598,539 in the corresponding months of last year; rice, $2,214,166, against $2,195,545 in the same months of the preceding year; wood and manufactures thereof, $805,230; vegetables, $316,506; spirits, wines and liquors, $172,477; and mineral oil, $222,986. The $10,750,057 worth of merchandise sent from Porto Rico to the United States in the period under consideration included: Sugar, $5,543,576, against $6,764,225 in the corresponding months of last year; cigars, $2,950,827, against $2,195,184 in the corresponding months of last year; leaf tobacco, $820,993, against $1,130,981 in the same months of last year; fruits and nuts, $707,509; coffee, $5468, against 39354 in the same months of 1908 and $14,514 in the same months of 1907. Nearly all of the trade of Porto Rico with the United States passes through the port of New York.

Of the $6,874,826 worth of merchandise sent from the United States to the Philippine Islands during the eight months ending with February, 1909, iron and steel manufactures amounted to $1,599,037, against $2,329,323 in the corresponding months of last year; explosives, including dynamite, cartridges, gunpowder, etc., $724,572, against $432,023 in the same months of last year; cotton manufactures, $497,235, against $571,926 in the corresponding months of 1908; mineral oils, $571,705, against $522,057 in the same months of preceding year; meat and dairy products, $278,450; spirits, wines, and liquors, $91,760; manufactures of tobacco, $88,074; and leather and its manufactures, $296,640. The $7,070,132 worth of merchandise sent from the Philippines to the United States included: Manila hemp, $4,938,712, against $4,726,508 in the corresponding months of last year, a fall of nearly 2 million dollars in the value, although the quantity actually increased by several thousand tons; sugar, $1,594,604, against $313,800 for the same months of last year; cocoanut meat, copra, etc., $165,572; cocoanut oil, $177,409; chemicals, $38,579; and straw hats, $15,444.

Of the 9½ million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Alaska in the period under consideration, 4¾ million was manufactures ready for consumption, and 4¾ million was in foodstuffs. Of the 11 million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Hawaii for the period under consideration 6¼ million was manufactures ready for consumption and nearly 3 millions foodstuffs. Of the 15½ million dollars' worth sent to Porto Rico practically 8 million was manufactures ready for consumption and a little more than 6 million foodstuffs. Of the 6¾ million dollars' value sent to the Philippines 4½ million was manufactures ready for consumption and 1½ million foodstuffs.

WOMEN OUSTED

Clerk of the U. S. Circuit Court Opposed Judges

BOSTON, April 27.—The announcement was made yesterday of the resignation of Mrs. Lillian C. Tucker, deputy clerk of the U. S. circuit court, and the discharge of her sister, Miss Edith Rollins, employed as a clerk in the court, by Clerk Alexander H. Trowbridge.

Mrs. Tucker has been in the service of the court for about 25 years, entering the office when scarcely more than 15 years old. With the late John G. Stetson as clerk, she rose steadily, being appointed deputy in 1900.

Last September, on the death of Benjamin J. Bradlee, the chief deputy clerk, she succeeded to his position with the attendant salary of $2500. As deputy clerk she had a large part of the work of the office to carry on.

Thought Salary Too Much

Mr. Trowbridge, in an interview yesterday afternoon, stated that he had requested and received her resignation Nov. 16 last. He had objected to a woman receiving the salary of $2500, which Mr. Bradlee had had, and though he had made application for its payment it was only on the recommendation of the judges of the court and contrary to his own ideas, especially in view of the insufficiency of funds in the office. At the time, he added, an official in the office of the attorney general at Washington, to whom he made the application, stated that the payment of such a salary to a woman was quite unprecedented.

In addition to the disagreement over the matter of salary, he said there had been other troubles. Mrs. Tucker, he admitted, had great ability and the quality of her work had been excellent but as she was ambitious to the last degree and highly popular with the judges she tended, he said, to assume authority which did not belong to her as deputy clerk, so that he himself was unable to accomplish anything or have his recommendations approved by the court unless they were approved by her.

GOVERNOR'S SON

Will Continue to Work in Mill

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 27.—Despite the fact that a reconciliation between Bristow Draper and his father, the governor, has been effected, the young man will not return to Hopedale. He will continue to work in the cotton mill here, where for the past year, since his marriage with Queenie Sanford, he has labored as a common spinner for $7.50 per week.

By the side of beautiful Lake Champlain stands the little cottage where the heir to the Draper millions found true happiness with the wife for whom he gave up all else, and the bright eyed baby boy, whose dimples and smiles triumphed over parental sternness. Here he will make his home. Bristow Draper no longer works as a common spinner for a $7.50 wage, for his own ability has won him recognition and promotion.

Both Mrs. Draper and her husband were anxious that the young man should go to college and take up a profession, preferably the law. He entered Harvard in accordance with their wishes, but it was not long before he announced to his parents that he had made up his mind to go to work. The father was disappointed, but a position was offered the young man in the mills at Hopedale.

Bristow Draper donned overalls and went to work in the machine shop. He did not go in as a machinist, he started at the very bottom of the ladder. It was not long before the boy, who was only 20 at the time he entered the shops, had made a mark.

He was treated just as were the other men in the shops. He labored with the rest from 7 in the morning until 6 at night.

When young Draper wed Queenie Sanford, the popular actress, there came the banishment which has just been recalled.

NUN KILLED

SHE WAS RUN OVER BY A HEAVY TRUCK

NEW YORK, April 27.—There is grief in the Dominican convent of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary in East 63d street, over the death of Sister Angela, who was run over by a truck in Third ave., late yesterday. Sister Angela, who, before taking the veil, was Miss Margaret O'Manning of Troy, N. Y., was out for a stroll with her sister Loretta, whom she had not seen for a number of years, when the accident occurred.

The younger woman was able to escape being knocked down by the unmanageable horse, but the nun, embarrassed by her heavy clothing, could not save herself. Both wheels of the truck passed over her, causing instant death. The body was taken to the convent between rows of children who loved the nun and who stood aside bareheaded and wept.

The driver of the truck, Isidor Wolf, was placed under arrest charged with homicide.

A SUICIDE

MRS. SPENCER KILLED HERSELF WITH A RIFLE

ORLEANS, Vt., April 27.—The second suicide in two weeks in this vicinity occurred yesterday when Mrs. Walter Spencer, aged [illegible] years, sent a rifle bullet through her heart, immediate death resulting. Mrs. Spencer, who lived near Brownington, suffered a shock about a year ago, since which she has been in poor health. Sunday night she suffered considerably but felt better yesterday morning and helped do the washing. After dinner her husband left the house to transact a small business matter with a neighbor and during his absence Mrs. Spencer went into the pantry and took her life.

She is survived by her husband and two sons.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frank [illegible] of [illegible] and Miss Edith [illegible] Staples of this city were married yesterday at [illegible] at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. H. Staples, [illegible] Stevens street, Rev. E. Victor [illegible], pastor of the [illegible] Congregational church, performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Edith [illegible], a sister of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. James Webster Jr., and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Edward F. Staples. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony by the D. L. Page Co. and the couple left for a wedding tour. Their home will be in Plymouth, Mass.

FALLING HAIR is the forerunner of baldness. If you wish to prevent it, start in now to use and see how quickly the new hairs will begin to come in; good strong healthy ones too. The old hairs will stop falling out, and dandruff, the cause of baldness, will disappear. Then you will have a head of hair to be proud of.

Hay's Hair Health

IS NOT A DYE.

$1 AND 50c. BOTTLES, AT DRUGGISTS.
Hay's Harfina Soap cures Eczema, red, rough and chapped hands, and all skin diseases. Keeps skin fine and soft, 25c. druggists. Send 2c. for free books, "The Care of the Skin," "The Care of the Hair."
Philo Hay Spec. Co., Newark, N. J.
FALLS & BURKINSHAW

"The Kayser"

Patent Finger-Tipped Silk Gloves

The pure silk fabric is made in our factory—made in our durable weave.

The double tips are famous as the tips that outwear the gloves.

The fit is perfection, as millions of women know.

And the guarantee found in every pair insures satisfaction.

50 Operations

The exquisite finish is due to 50 operations, through which every Kayser glove goes.

All this has come through 25 years of experience.

There are no other gloves which compare with them.

These are the gloves which all women want, for they cost no more than the common.

So look in the hem—see that "Kayser" is there. That is the only way to be sure of the genuine.

Short Silk Gloves
50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25

Long Silk Gloves
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50

JULIUS KAYSER & CO.
MAKERS
NEW YORK

WERE NOL PROS'D

Boston Normal School Cases Disposed Of

BOSTON, April 27.—Dist. Atty Hill yesterday nol pros'd the indictments against the Geo. W. Carr Co. and John J. McAllister, Roger Tansey and Nicola Gentile, based on alleged violations of the law in building the foundation of the new normal school in Huntington avenue. The indictments were found by the grand jury in August, 1906, at the instance of the late Dist. Atty. Moran. These are the last of the Moran special cases that Mr. Hill has thrown out. Several others have been resubmitted to the grand jury and new indictments were obtained.

The men named were charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of Boston in having used three bags of cement in a batch of concrete instead of four bags. The company was charged with building the foundation of a building of concrete without the authority of the building commissioners and the board of appeal.

BILLERICA

A stubborn brush fire broke out in the Shawsheen district in East Billerica Sunday night and had gained considerable headway before being discovered. The Billerica Centre fire department was notified and after promptly responding got down to work on the flames. Owing to the start that the fire had it took the firemen considerable time to get it under control. About 10 acres were burned over. A quantity of cord wood was also destroyed.

Two canoes and two dory boats, owned by people who frequent the Concord river during the summer time have been reported missing. One of the canoes had been stored in a boat house in North Billerica and when the owner went to look for it last week found that it was missing. The other boats belonged to campers on the Bridle road. The matter has been reported to the police.

BENEFIT FOR SCHAEFER

NEW YORK, April 27.—Billiard enthusiasts and admirers of Jake Schaefer, "the wizard of the cue" who is critically ill at Denver, Colo., played benefit games and took up collections for the former champion, in practically all the larger cities throughout the country last night. Men prominent in other sports gave their support to the testimonial liberally.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Nervous Women will find that Nature responds promptly to the gentle laxative effects, and the helpful tonic action of Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

Two 2 grain Quinine Capsules a Cup of Hot Water and one Blackburn's CascaRoyal-Pills

Will Check a Cold in a Few Hours.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

The Best Worm Medicine

For children and adults. Purely vegetable. In use since 1851. Reliable stomach remedy and laxative.

35 cts., 50 cts., $1.00—All dealers

SIMPLEX Vacuum Cleaner

Operated by hand. Price $25 delivered. Rentals, $3.50 per day.

W. T. S. Bartlett
653-659 MERRIMACK ST.
The Uptown Hardware Store

BAY STATE DYE WORKS

Have you had any work done with us since we installed our new machinery? If you have not you should give us a trial, for we do all kinds of dyeing, cleansing and pressing, as well as feathers, ribbons and all kinds of ladies' garments, dyed, cleansed and pressed, by the most improved methods. All work promptly attended to.

BAY STATE DYE WORKS
54 Prescott Street
D. J. LEARY, Proprietor

REMEMBER THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR TO GET THAT

Gas Stove, Ice Chest, Refrigerator, Tin Roof Conductor, or Gutters Repaired.

Special attention given to furnace and stove work

C. F. Hoisington & Son
141 Market St. Tel. Connection
All orders promptly attended to.

$6,000,000 SUIT

Was Decided in Favor of the United Fruit Co.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The supreme court decided yesterday in favor of the United Fruit Co. a suit brought against it by the American Banana Co., which sought to recover $6,000,000 under the Sherman anti-trust law because of damages said to have been done by combinations of the United Co. with other companies. The Banana Co., whose plantation is in Panama, complained that in July, 1904, Costa Rica was in control where the plantation is located, and Costa Rican soldiers, instigated by the United Co., seized a portion of the complainant's property and has continued to forcibly occupy the plantation with much resulting damage. It was asserted that the United Co. through combination has so arranged with growers that the complainant company cannot purchase the bananas for export. The United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, which tried the case held that whatever damage had been done had been due to the acts of the Costa Rican government and not to the United Fruit Co. This opinion was confirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals and today by the supreme court.

WOMAN ARRESTED

Is Charged With Being Fugitive From Justice

Nellie Goff, who has been living in this city for about a week, was arrested from a house in Andover street yesterday by United States Marshal Bancroft of Boston and Inspector Martin Maher, of the local police, on a warrant charging her with being a fugitive from justice.

It is alleged that while the woman was in Portland, Me., she sent prohibitory matter through the United States mails. The federal officers having charge of the district in which Portland is located after working some time on the case secured clues which, it is alleged, incriminated the Goff woman, but when the officers went to place her under arrest it was found that she had left Portland.

Her description was telegraphed throughout New England and New York state and yesterday it was found that she was stopping at a house in Andover street, this city. Marshal Bancroft came to Lowell yesterday and with the assistance of Inspector Maher the woman was arrested.

She was taken to Boston yesterday afternoon and will later be taken to Portland.

BRUTAL MURDERS

Committed by Gang of Female Cut-throats

ST. PETERSBURG, Apr. 27.—A band of female cut-throats that many months past has been committing a series of brutal murders, was discovered and arrested yesterday in the village of Kurchino, thirty miles from St. Petersburg. The principal culprits are a mother and her two daughters who kept a tavern. Assisted by other women in the village they murdered travelers who stopped at the inn for the night, disfigured the bodies beyond recognition and then threw them into a rapidly flowing stream that passed near the inn. Many of these corpses were found but the distance of the village was so great that suspicion never centered there.

TAX ON IMMIGRANTS

Is Proposed in Amendment to the Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—Mr. Overman, (N. C.) offered an amendment to the tariff bill in the senate yesterday by which he proposes to place a head tax of twelve dollars on each immigrant coming into the United States. Mr. Overman discussed his amendment by unanimous consent.

"It means not only revenue for the treasury," he said, "but also a select class of immigrants and therefore it protects labor."

Mr. Overman estimated that the head tax on aliens which he proposed would bring to the government six to ten millions of dollars of revenue.

LOEB HAS PLAN

To Stop Smuggling in This Country

NEW YORK, April 27.—Prompted by the recent uncovering of attempts to smuggle quantities of costly women's apparel for women into the country by means of so-called "sleeper" trunks, Collector of the Port Wm. Loeb yesterday issued an order which it is believed will check such attempts in future. According to the new rule all left over baggage found on any wharves of any incoming steamer or on board any steamer after twenty-four hours after the time of the vessel's arrival must be sent to the United States public stores. Heretofore unclaimed baggage and such trunks have been allowed to remain on the wharves indefinitely and smugglers used it to their advantage their knowledge of this fact, leaving unclaimed the trunk they were trying to smuggle in and choosing the first favorable opportunity to obtain possession of them unmolested.

CASE DISMISSED

Was Brought Against Great Northern R. R.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The case of the government against the Great Northern railroad, in which that company was fined $5000 for granting rebates on shipments of sugar for the American Sugar Refining Co. was yesterday dismissed by the supreme court of the United States at the instance of the company. The case involved the same points that were involved in the New York Central case recently decided in favor of the government in which the fine imposed was $108,000.

Scott's Emulsion
is a wonderful help to the expectant as well as the nursing mother.
All Druggists

JOHNNY EVERS

To Rejoin the Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO, April 27.—After many earnest requests from the members of the Chicago Nationals, Manager Chance included, for him to join his team Johnny Evers, the Cubs' star second baseman, who had announced early in the year that he would not play ball this season, is to rejoin his teammates and get into the fray May 1. The return of Evers will no doubt strengthen the Cubs. His great playing at second base for the last three years has materially aided the Cubs in winning the banner three times in succession. Last season he led his teammates in batting throughout the whole season. Evers is something more than the second baseman of the world's champions. He is a great help to Manager Chance, because he needs little or no advice from his superior in a game and is constantly taking the initiative and accomplishing things that no manager would have the time or opportunity to order. It was Evers who discovered Merkle's fatal solecism in the celebrated game in New York last fall. In a game that looked irretrievably lost Evers, with hair trigger thinking, noticed that Merkle, who should have run to second base, turned aside and bolted for the clubhouse because a man on third had crossed the plate. The same thing is done frequently, but Evers knew that it transgressed the rules and appealed to the umpires, who saw the justice of the claim.

YOUNG FEUDIST

Is Charged With Killing His Father

IRVINE, Ky., April 27.—Both the mother and grandmother of Beech Hargis, the young man on trial for killing his father, Judge James Hargis, the Breathitt county feudist, testified that the father was extremely cruel to his son. Beech Hargis said that when he shot his father the latter was choking him and that the shot was fired in self defense. Mrs. Hargis has placed her entire fortune at the disposal of her son for the defense.

BEECH HARGIS

$50,000 DAMAGE

Was Caused by a Fire at Plymouth

PLYMOUTH, April 27.—Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused yesterday by a fire in the power house of the Plymouth Electric Lighting Co. at the corner of Leyden and Water streets. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought that it may have been due to defective insulation. The building was not badly damaged, the chief loss coming through the injury to the generators and switchboards. The company supplies light and power to the towns of Plymouth, Duxbury and Kingston. It was thought that it would be possible to put part of the lights in commission by tonight.

SUPREME COURT

Says Railroad Company Must Settle

WASHINGTON, April 27.—That a city can compel a railroad company to bridge its street crossings when the street has been established subsequent to the laying of the railroad tracks just as it can when the tracks follow the laying out of the street was in effect held by the supreme court of the United States yesterday in deciding favorable to the city the case of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba R. R. Co. and the Great Northern R. R. Co. vs. the city of Minneapolis.

It was announced by Chief Justice Fuller of the supreme court.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The president yesterday made the following nominations:

Consul, Edward E. Nathan, Pennsylvania, at Mersina, Turkey; A. Donaldson Smith, North Carolina, at Patras, Greece.

ONLY THREE HITS

And Lowell Team Loses Another Game

FALL RIVER, April 27.—Despite the raw weather, Fall River and Lowell played a snappy game yesterday, the locals winning 4 to 2. Neither pitcher was hit hard, Fall River getting the lead in the seventh on a single, a sacrifice and battery errors. Fullerton's fielding was a feature. The score.

FALL RIVER

| | ab | r | bh | po | a | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Messenger, lf | 4 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| Weaver, ss | 3 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 3 | 0 |
| Austin, rf | 3 | 0 | 1 | 2 | 0 | 1 |
| Solbraa, 1b | 1 | 0 | 0 | 13 | 3 | 0 |
| Devine, cf | 3 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 |
| Nichols, 2b | 3 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| McDermott, 3b | 1 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 0 |
| Toomey, c | 3 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| Fullerton, p | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 8 | 0 |
| Totals | 27 | 4 | 4 | 27 | 22 | 1 |

LOWELL

| | ab | r | bh | po | a | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Ball, lf | 3 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Beauchamp, 2b | 4 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Howard, cf | 3 | 0 | 0 | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Uniac, ss | 4 | 0 | 0 | 4 | 0 | 0 |
| Pickett, rf | 2 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 |
| Cox, 1b | 2 | 1 | 1 | 8 | 0 | 0 |
| Bonner, 3b | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Boyle, c | 2 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 |
| Musil, p | 3 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 4 | 1 |
| Totals | 25 | 2 | 3 | 21 | 10 | 1 |

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Fall River | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 1 | * | —4 |
| Lowell | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | —2 |

Three base hit—Cox. Sacrifice hits—McDermott, Weaver. Stolen bases—McDermott, Devine, Nichols. Left on bases—Fall River 3, Lowell 2. First base on errors—Fall River 1. Hit by pitcher—McDermott, Ball. Struck out—By Fullerton 2, by Musil 2. Passed balls—Boyle 2. Time—1.21. Umpire—Buckley.

DIAMOND NOTES.

At Fall River today.

Don't forget the big show tomorrow. Buck's Best band will blow music.

Smith, Lowell's new catcher, will probably go behind the bat in tomorrow's opening game.

The salt sea air was a little strong for the Tigers for a starter. But they'll strike their gait soon.

First Baseman Cox is starting out like a race horse, but with the stick and on the initial bag.

N. E. LEAGUE STANDING

| | Won | Lost | P.C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fall River | 2 | 0 | 100.0 |
| Haverhill | 2 | 0 | 100.0 |
| New Bedford | 1 | 0 | 100.0 |
| Brockton | 1 | 1 | 50.0 |
| Lynn | 0 | 1 | 00.0 |
| Lowell | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |
| Worcester | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |
| Lawrence | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |

N. E. LEAGUE RESULTS

At Fall River—Fall River 4, Lowell 2.

At Lawrence—Brockton 1, Lawrence 0.

At Haverhill—Haverhill 7, Worcester 2.

At New Bedford—New Bedford-Lynn postponed; cold weather.

AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING

| | Won | Lost | P.C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Detroit | 8 | 2 | [illegible] |
| New York | 6 | 3 | 66.7 |
| Boston | 5 | 4 | 55.6 |
| Philadelphia | 5 | 4 | 55.6 |
| St. Louis | 4 | 6 | 40.0 |
| Cleveland | [illegible] | 7 | [illegible] |
| Washington | 2 | 7 | 22.2 |

AMERICAN LEAGUE RESULTS

At Boston—Boston 3, New York 0.
At Cleveland—Detroit 4, Cleveland 2.
At Chicago—Chicago 5, St. Louis 0.
At Washington—Philadelphia 2, Washington 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

| | Won | Lost | P.C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Boston | 5 | 3 | 62.5 |
| Chicago | 6 | 4 | 60.0 |
| Cincinnati | 7 | 5 | 58.3 |
| Philadelphia | 4 | 3 | 57.1 |
| Pittsburg | 5 | 5 | 50.0 |
| New York | 3 | 4 | 42.9 |
| Brooklyn | 3 | 5 | 37.5 |
| St. Louis | 4 | 8 | 33.3 |

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

At New York—Boston 5, New York 2.

At St. Louis—Pittsburg 4, St. Louis 3. (12 innings.)

At Cincinnati—Chicago 6, Cincinnati 2.

At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 6, Brooklyn 1.

GAMES TODAY

New England League

Lowell at Fall River.
Worcester at Lawrence.
Brockton at Haverhill.
Lynn at New Bedford.

American League

New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Washington.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Detroit at Cleveland.

National League

Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Pittsburg at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cincinnati.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

The Young Champions defeated the Y. M. C. A. juniors of the tremendous score of 22 to 2. The features of the game were the pitching of Segal and the batting of Bernstein for the winners and the clever fielding of Mack for the losers.

The Young Champions want games with strong 14 or 15 year old teams, the Orioles or Mammoths preferred. Manager S. E. Rostler, 642 Middlesex street.

The Young Harvards would like to challenge any team under 12 years of age. The lineup is as follows:

H. Soklesky, c; M. Fineberg, p; A. Swartz, 1b; E. Snider, 2b; M. Gerson, ss; I. Harris, 3b; L. Weiss, lf; S. Silverblat, cf; J. Cohn, rf.

Send all challenges to E. K. Snider, 29 Daly street, manager.

The Union Blues would like to challenge the Daly Stars or the altar boys. Send all challenges through this paper.

The Hobson Stars would like to challenge any team in the city under 13 years of age. The lineup is as follows:

Little Chief, Thunder Cloud Murphy, p; Pig Head Kenney, c; Bandit Campbell, 1st b; Austin Lalley, 2d b; Grave Yard Sweeney, ss; Miser Grove, 3d b; Pie Face Neurige, rf; Punk Forges, center-field; Hickory, lf.

Address all challenges to Miser Kenney, South street, or through this paper.

The Fulton A. C. would like a game with any 16-year-old team in the city for Saturday, May 1, 1909.

The lineup is as follows: Conley, c; Murphy, p; L. Connors, 1b; Kilbride, 2b; Jesey Curley, ss; Frank Jordan, 3b; Gallagher, lf; Dempsey, cf; Delaney, rf. Send all challenges to John Murphy, the lanky Yankee pitcher, 9 Fulton street or through the Lowell Sun.

The Glenmore Jrs. defeated the Buffaloes of the South common Saturday afternoon on the former's grounds in a hard fought 12 inning game by the score of 9 to 7. We would like to meet any team under 13 years of age for a quarter ball. The Centrals or Indians preferred. Our Mascot is Peter Regan, Jr. Send all challenges to Capt. Edward Donahoe, 62 Chambers street, city.

The Mammoths defeated the Mt. Grove Jrs. Saturday by a score of 11 to 5. The Mammoths would like to play any team in the city under 15 years of age.

The Tyngsboro team defeated the Lowell 8 in its first game of the season, by a score of 10 to 6. The Tyngsboros would like a game with any strong team in the city, for Saturday, May 1. Address William P. Proctor, North Chelmsford.

The Orients and the Carson A. C. will play on the South common Saturday afternoon for a purse of $10.

The Mammoths defeated the Mt. Grove Juniors by a score of 11 to 5. The Mammoths would like to play any team in the city under 15 years of age. Send all challenges to Frederick Schonborn, 101 Crawford street, Lowell.

The P. R. Warren baseball team would like to arrange a game for Saturday, May 1, with any of the strong amateur teams in Lowell or vicinity. Address Manager Baseball Team, Warrenville.

The Palmer second team would like games with any 13 year old team in the city. Send all challenges to H. Forgays, 184 South street.

The Buffaloes defeated the Heroes by the score of 14 to 12 the 17th of April, and defeated the Beavers by the score of 14 to 4 the 13th of April, and lost to the Young Butlers Saturday in a twelve inning game by the score of 5 to 7.

The Buffaloes would like to challenge any team in the city at the age of 15. Send all challenges to John Miskell, 15 Pollard street, or through this paper.

The Sagamores would like to arrange a game for next Saturday with any of the strong amateur teams of the city. Dixwells, Lowell S. or Leroys preferred. Challenge through this paper.

FRANKIE NEIL

WAS NEARLY KNOCKED OUT BY MORAN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27.—Frankie Neil of San Francisco, fought 12 hard rounds with Owen Moran of England here last night. No decision was given, but Neil was outclassed from the start when he went through the ropes from a left hand drive by Moran. Time and again Neil looked as if he would be knocked out, but he was game and came back with a rush. Moran finished without a scratch, but his opponent was badly cut about the face. The men were to have fought at 124 pounds, but Moran refused to weigh-in and lost his forfeit. Neil weighed 121 and Moran looked to be many pounds heavier.

It was a whirlwind fight from beginning to end, both lads continually rushing. Moran, however, was able to use his left with success through Neil's guard and he several times put the latter against the ropes. Neil played for Moran's ribs and stomach, and in the clinches was handy with both hands. In the fourth Neil was almost out but came back fresh in the fifth. In the last three rounds Moran hammered Neil constantly, but could not get the deciding blow.

ABE ATTELL WON

COLUMBUS, O., April 27.—Abe Attell, of California, champion featherweight boxer, last night outclassed Biz Mackey of [illegible] in eight rounds of a ten round bout. He knocked Mackey down twice in the eighth round, whereupon the police stopped the bout.

COAST DEFENSE EXERCISES

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Dates for the joint army and militia coast defense exercises to be held this summer have been selected by the militia division of the war department. The New England dates are:

Maine, Aug. 2 to 11; New Hampshire, June 12 to 19; Massachusetts, Aug. 11 to 21; Rhode Island, June 21 to 27; Connecticut, July 12 to 21.

THE FIRST GAME

Edsons vs. Bartletts Saturday Morning

The grammar school league opens Saturday and the Edsons will cross bats with the Bartlett school team on the South common at 9.30. The Edson school boys have selected Frank Roane for captain of the team and he claims it will put up a strong battle. Mr. John Condon, janitor of the school is the coach. He is an old time ball player himself and understands the game from A to Z. It was through his great work that the team captured the pennant for the last two years. Captain Roane played on the team last year and made a record for himself. He will pitch the opening game.

The lineup for Saturday is as follows:

T. Breen, c; Frank Roane, p; John Roane, 1st; L. Panton, ss; James O'Day 2d; Frank Waymon, 3b; George Kerwin, lf; John Miskell, cf; W. Donohue, rf.

TEXTILE SCHOOL NOTES

Manager Michelson of the 1909 football eleven has arranged a schedule with some of the strongest preparatory schools in New England, the first game of the season to be played with Andover on the 29th of September. The following is the schedule:

Sept. 29, Andover at Andover.
Oct. 2, Exeter at Exeter.
Oct. 9, St. Johns at Lowell.
Oct. 13, St. Marks at Lowell.
Oct. 16, Tufts 2nd at Medford.
Oct. 20, Groton at Groton.
Oct. 23, M. I. T. '12 at Lowell.

Tomorrow the baseball team will cross bats with the strong Cushing Academy at Ashburnham. Last season the Textile team lost to the academy boys by a score of 3 to 2.

The engineering department is about to install a 30 K. W. turbine and generator which will be ready for use in about two weeks, and also an alternating current switch board which will be used for both experimental purposes and service.

The exhibit of textile machinery at the Mechanics building in Boston opened yesterday and quite a few of the students attended it. This exhibit is under the auspices of the National Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and is a yearly event.

A number of the seniors taking the design and woolen courses are weaving cloth with which to make a graduation suit. Several students in last year's senior class tried this idea and some very attractive suitings were woven. Three of them bought a quantity of high grade wool and put in through the various dyeing, carding, spinning, weaving and finishing processes and used it as their thesis for graduation.

10,000 STARVING

Armenians Besieged by 50,000 Moslems

ALEXANDRETTA, Asiatic Turkey, April 27.—Refugees who have made their escape from Deurtyul, which is a small town not far from Alexandretta, bring most alarming accounts of the situation there. They affirm that 10,000 Armenians are beleagured by 50,000 Moslems. The besieged are half starving, and the conditions within the walls of the city are pitiful. It is certain that there are no Americans in that place.

TOWN IN FLAMES

BEIRUT, April 27.—The town of Hadjin, about 100 miles to the north of Alexandretta, where the residents had withstood the assaults of the fanatics for the past week, was in flames Sunday. According to reports received here several of the quarters escaped, and up to midnight Sunday all the Americans were safe. At this place there are five American women missionaries.

Latakia, in Syria, has been relieved, thanks to the unceasing efforts of the American consul-general at Beirut, Gabriel B. Ravndal, who secured the co-operation of the French cruiser Jules Ferry, which arrived at Latakia yesterday morning. Thousands of refugees have been pouring into Latakia, and the presence of the French warship there will have much influence in controlling the situation. The refugees are mostly women and children, many of the male members of the families having been killed. The consul-general has also succeeded in inducing the local authorities to take measures for the relief of the people, and they are responding sympathetically and energetically.

HAD SALT RHEUM FOR FOUR YEARS

Began Like a Ringworm on Hand—Though Treated, Washing Irritated It and It Spread Over Arm and Face—Kept Growing Worse

CURED TWO YEARS AGO BY CUTICURA

"A little over six years ago I had a sore come on my hand. I consulted a doctor. He told me it was a ringworm. It kept on getting worse so I went to another doctor. He called it salt rheum. I kept on taking his treatment for some time but every washday my hand would break out and be worse. It continued to spread till it got over my whole hand and up my arm, also on my face. I suffered with the disease about four years when a friend of mine told me to try Cuticura. I got two cakes of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. When I had used them up, I was cured and I haven't seen the least sign of the humor since. Mrs. Linda Winslow, Wyalusing, Penn., July 13, 1908."

FACE BADLY BRUISED

And Cut by Fall. Now Healed without a Scar by Use of Cuticura.

"On January 31 I fell from a wagon, landing on my face and head against the curb and gutter. I was about the worst looking person that ever had a face. After about two hours' careful washing I got the blood stopped and the dirt off and my face pretty well covered with Cuticura Ointment. You may know that I was pretty well skinned up by the fact that both lips were cut inside and out and the skin on my nose and both cheek bones cut. Part of my face was healed over in a week and the scales came off and while the cheek is still sore there are no marks to prove that I was ever scratched. I would also say that I use the Cuticura Soap for shaving and my face is always soft. W. H. Dean, Newark, Del., February 24, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

WILLIAM AUSTIN

THE INVENTOR OF THE FIRST AUTOMOBILE EVER MADE

A correspondent of The Sun sends in the following account of the life of a Lowell inventor who died recently at Winthrop:

The inventive genius of Mr. William W. Austin, who recently died at his home in Winthrop, began to develop when he was about ten years of age. His mother had died and his father was left with five children. William was placed in the care of the writer's father, in what was then North Wrentham (now Norfolk) and that was where he was "farmed out." Winter evenings the fire was kept in the old kitchen fireplace for him to make the molds and melt up all the old pieces of pewter he could find, to make flat irons, cents and spoons. His kit of tools consisted of a jack knife and a little iron dipper. Before he was twelve years old he made a pair of wooden oxen and yoked them together. In his farm life he had every advantage a country boy could have and was never kept from school when it was in session. His father wished him to stay on the farm until he was 17 and then he was apprenticed to learn the trade of a blacksmith. He was married when he was 21. In 1860 he invented the steam carriage and rode to Wrentham on his first trip, frightening many horses. What he has done will be acted upon by other minds. It is not usually the real inventor that reaps the harvest. His married life was very happy and the death of his wife, 14 years ago was a great sorrow to him. They lie in the cemetery at Wrentham in the brick graves that were made by his own hands. The fact that his machine, the first auto carriage ever invented, has been in this city for years and that Austin for a time resided here gives a local interest to the story of his life.

M. N. L.

POLICE OFFICER KILLED

WORCESTER, April 27.—Silas D. Hemenway, a police officer, was fatally injured last night in a runaway accident. He was 49 years old and leaves a widow.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

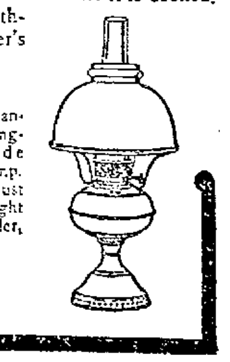

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room.

NEW PERFECTION
Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

besides being the perfect stove for summer use is just as efficient for year 'round use. Does anything any other stove will do. It is built just like the modern steel coal range, with a CABINET TOP that makes it possible to keep food warm after it is cooked. Made in three sizes. Sold either with or without Cabinet Top. If not at your dealer's write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp a substantial, strongly made and handsome lamp. Burns for hours with a strong, mellow light. Just what you need for evening reading or to light the dining-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

TAYLOR FELL FIRST

Washington Gray of Concord Saw Him Fall

A New Hampshire Survivor of Old Sixth Makes Affidavit That Taylor Was First to Fall in Baltimore — He was a Member of Company C, Mechanic's Phalanx of Lowell

According to Washington Gray of Concord, N. H., the tablet in the Ladd and Whitney monument is properly inscribed, and Charles A. Taylor was the first to fall in Baltimore.

Following is Mr. Gray's affidavit:

Narrative of the killing of Charles A. Taylor, Sixth Massachusetts Volunteers, in the streets of Baltimore, April 19, 1861:

Washington D. Gray, born July 18th, 1840, enlisted in Company C. Mechanic's Phalanx, of Lowell, April 16, 1861. Left Boston with the regiment April 17th, about seven p. m. When we arrived at Baltimore, three horses were hitched to cars and drew off two ahead. Brought the Phalanx in lead, Captain Follansbee, Major Watson was there. The man in charge of the horses was not inclined to hitch. Major Watson compelled him to. After the man hitched, he wouldn't start the horses, but kept touching them with his whip and they would only jump right up and down, but wouldn't draw enough to pull your hat off. A man came around the corner of the depot and told Captain Follansbee to unload, saying, "Get out as soon as God will let you. Follow me," leading us into a trap. The trap was a bridge over a canal or something, with all the planks loosened, and the beams, too. But they were too anxious, and tipped up some of the planks, which warned us. From the rear came the order, "about face." We had to step lively to get out of the trap. That brought Captain Follansbee to the rear. Then we came down and made one turn. Somebody of our regiment came and spoke to Captain Follansbee, giving some sign. He ordered Captain Follansbee to follow. Before turning on to Pratt street Charles A. Taylor was shot down. We turned on Pratt street, I think to the right. Taylor was in the rear ranks of Company D. The "about face" brought us in the rear of Company D. Taylor was near to me in rank in front of me. Captain Hart's company was in front of Phalanx. Rear rank of Company C when faced about brought me directly in rear of Company D. We got badly mixed up on Pratt street, but before we rejoined the regiment, we got back in proper formation. I saw Taylor drop, and my opinion is the shot came from a window. It was the first shot I heard. There had been no firing before this. Before that it was bricks and other missiles. After we turned on Pratt street another was shot. I think that the commissary's name was Lieutenant Parker, but I am not sure. Perhaps I have forgotten his name. I was detailed as his assistant after we had gone into camp at the Relay House. I made trips to Baltimore by railroad every morning, and back at night, to buy bread for the regiment. The man who furnished the bread was a northern man. I do not remember his name. We became very friendly and he gave me a good deal of attention and showed me all over Baltimore. One day we were driving through Pratt street and when we turned the corner he showed me where the first man that was shot was picked up and carried into a house, which he pointed out. A father and son picked him up, (he told me their names, but I have forgotten) and carried him into their own house, and had considerable opposition in so doing, from the mob, who continued to beat him with bricks, etc., and to kick him. Taylor had an overcoat, blanket, belt, gun and cartridge box. I heard Taylor in Boylston hall, apply to Captain Follansbee to join his company, and he told him that his company was full, and took him to Captain Hart, who was short of men, and Captain Hart said to him: "I have no uniform for you, but I will get one if we don't have to move from here before morning. But I will get you a blanket and overcoat, gun, belt and cartridge box." And he did.

I saw Taylor quite a number of times on the trip, and he appeared like a nice young man. I saw him at the Girard House in Philadelphia, when we laid on the floor to get some rest, refuse several times to take liquor, and there is no question in regard to his identity. When he fell he was not more than fifteen feet from me.

(Signed) Washington Gray.
Witnesses:
(Signed) Harrie E. White,
Samuel C. Marden.

Concord, N. H., April 20, '09.

Personally appeared before me this date the foregoing affiant and witnesses and subscribed to and made oath to their statement.

(Seal)
(Signed) Frank Battles,
Notary Public.

CARTER & SHERBURNE'S UNUSUAL OFFER

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Carter & Sherburne to a Sun man who dropped into their store, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and, although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"We are still selling the specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Ward and Vokes with their company of dancers and singers entertained a large audience at the opera house, last night. The title of the musical comedy was "The Promoters," and the two stars had ample opportunity to hand out jokes in their own inimitable way. The stage settings were very fine, and the costuming of the company could not have been better. The chorus work was very satisfactory and the specialties introduced were above the average. The piece itself was not up to the usual Ward and Vokes selections, but nevertheless it gave satisfaction and the audience was perfectly satisfied. Lucy Daly did some very clever dancing and her sister, Josie, who was seen here for the first time, was most pleasing in her dances. Our old friend Lew Kelly was all to the good and was given a great reception. The ladies' band was heard in several selections and the entertainment was enjoyed, although it was the opinion that it did not reach the standard of former Ward and Vokes productions.

FAUST AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Paul Cazeneuve and his splendid company of French players come to the Opera House Friday night, April 30, presenting Faust. The play is well staged and costumed, the electrical effects being particularly good. Mr. Cazeneuve gives a splendid performance, and the supporting company is most satisfactory and efficient. Seats are now on sale.

MONTANA

"Montana" is the newest play from the pen of the young actor-author, Harry D. Carey, and this young playwright has never written a prettier story nor has a more capable cast ever presented one of Mr. Carey's plays than the one to be seen at the Opera House Saturday, May 1st. It is a well known fact that "Montana" was one of the greatest successes ever scored by a western play in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago, for press and public proclaimed it the masterpiece of them all. This is "Montana's" only appearance in Lowell this season.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

There's a good show at Hathaway's theatre this week. There's a little of everything and something to laugh at all the time. Don't forget that this is the final week of vaudeville this season at this theatre and just for that you cannot afford to miss the show this week. Out of so great a variety of things interesting and amusing you'll be sure to find something that will strike you just right. If you don't it's up to you to take something for that tired feeling.

Perhaps you would like Edwards Davis. He's got a little piece that he wrote himself and he named it "All Rivers Meet at the Sea." He is supported by a good company and the playlet is a very clever one. Of course you can't see the rivers meeting, harmonizing and frolicking at the sea, but that's none of your business. If you can't stretch your imagination a little bit it isn't Edwards Davis' fault. If there's any appreciation in your makeup you'll like it and you'll come away thinking that Edwards Davis was a dern bright fellow to think the thing all out by his lonesome. There's a woman in the case and she's been awfully abused by a "very devil" of a man and if you don't feel bad for her that's a sign that there's something the matter with your sad irons. Mr. Davis has to work himself up to pastic fury at times and if you don't forgive him for that you're a mean old thing.

And now, "lest we forget, lest we forget," let us say a word about Prof. Wormwood and his trained animals. This animal act of his is one of the biggest things of its kind in vaudeville. You see the professor has spent some seventy odd years training those awful wild things. He was in Africa one time and the animals got to know him so well that they called him by name. He was more popular in the jungle than Teddy Roosevelt will ever be, because Teddy can't talk the jungle language and Prof. Wormwood can, and, besides, Teddy is afflicted with jungle ego and there's big hairy things down there that won't stand for that. When Prof. Wormwood came back from the jungle he brought some of his most intimate friends along with him and should you go to the Hathaway's this week and should you note a family resemblance in the [illegible] just keep it to yourself. Don't [illegible] see Prof. Wormwood's animals. He has several baboons and they [illegible] sorts of things even to riding [illegible]. There are little simians and big [illegible] Great Danes and other things [illegible] and see [illegible] and take the [illegible] along.

The Robert-DeMont company [illegible] men and a woman, give the [illegible] acrobatic novelty of the season.

The [illegible] melodies. [illegible] than any [illegible]. The singers [illegible] second [illegible] W. Ma[illegible] day. Elsie Harvey, who [illegible] had an excellent [illegible] found two [illegible] suffers as a result. [illegible] Cooper, [illegible] endless lot of [illegible] laughs with it. [illegible] "opens" the bill, [illegible] talk" and does some good [illegible]

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

[illegible] each week. [illegible] program [illegible] latest films [illegible] first time in Lowell. [illegible] widely in many [illegible] songs and views of the world which also are frequently changed and variety is ever the spice of the Academy program. The shows run daily from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10.30, with a continuous performance on Saturday and the price of admission is always five cents, and admission includes a good seat. The reserved seats are five cents extra.

THEATRE VOYONS

One of the feature pictures at the Theatre Voyons today, "A Fighting Chance," affords the spectator a fine chance of witnessing the rugged scenery of the Rocky Mountains. "A Drive for Life" is a very successful auto picture with a thrilling and perfectly [illegible] story. The actors all carry their parts well and everything is perfect. Comedy is always pleasing and "[illegible] Successful Bluff" provides just

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. To the devisees, legatees, and all other persons interested in the estate of [illegible], late of Lowell, in said county, deceased, testate. [illegible]

[illegible] W. [illegible], Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. [illegible] Clerk of the Committee.

GIRL RETURNS HOME

Her Trip to Boston Laid to a Childish Whim

NEW YORK, April 27.—Adele Boas, the whimsical 15-year-old daughter of Arthur E. Boas, a wealthy thread manufacturer, is with her parents and relatives in the West 80th street residence; the mystery of her disappearance on Friday last has been dispelled. The case resolves itself into nothing more than a naive childish escapade with no other explanation than a sudden desire to see the world. Boston in particular, and a wish to be independent and to work for a living.

But with a cut finger and dishevelled clothes and apparently fatigued, Adele's parents are sure that she realizes that there are pleasanter experiences than going forth alone to a strange city in response to call for adventures. Yet aside from the natural reaction that has set in she is little the worse for her wandering. Dr. August G. Seibert, the Boas family physician, spent half an hour with the girl last evening and announced afterward that she was in perfect health. He said her trip was merely the result of a childish whim.

"She is growing," he said, "and she was seized with one of those inexplainable notions children have, and followed the fancy. She had been thinking of going to Boston for some time. For two weeks she had been saving her money for the trip."

With the first shock of the meeting with her parents over, the child told more of her movements in Boston. The position she had in a restaurant there was to have brought her $2.50 a week with board and lodging.

Identified on the Train

Saturday night and Sunday she spent in the room which she had rented. Her money by this time was practically exhausted—all but enough to get back to New York—and yesterday morning she decided to return. She went to the South station and was approached by an elderly man.

"The police are looking all over for you, Adele Boas," he said.

"My name is not Boas," she replied defiantly and boarded the train for New York, only to be identified at Stamford, Conn., after she had tried in vain to dodge the persistent questioners, even resorting to the ruse of speaking broken English.

The first clew to the missing girl came yesterday morning when Mrs. E. M. Upton telephoned from Charlestown, Mass., and said she had seen a girl answering the description of Miss Boas while on a train between Boston and New York. Mrs. Upton did not make it plain to the police whether the train was en route to Boston or coming to New York.

Police Put on the Alert

But with this to work on, the Boston police were notified and later Mr. Boas received a telephone message from Adolph Helther, a Boston bookbinder, who told of having seen a girl answering the description of Adele, boarding a train for New York. This started so much police machinery in motion that it was impossible for the girl to pass unnoticed.

STAR THEATRE

the right thing to send the audience away perfectly happy. The songs are good, notably "My Pony Boy," a big hit in "Miss Innocence" and "In the Days of Long Ago," a beautiful ballad.

Two acts being presented by Miss Lillian Leslie, eccentric character woman who is as funny as the day is long and Jim Carroll, one of the best blackface comedians on the stage, are on the bill at the Star theatre for today and tomorrow. Besides these features there are pictures of Henri Renaud, the Nashua mill hand, winner of the big Marathon race, and the race, talking pictures, motion pictures and illustrated songs. The new talking picture is the "Mad Miner." Hear the singing [illegible] render "Gee, I wish I was a girl."

Amateurs will be part of the big show tonight.

LOST AND FOUND

SUM OF MONEY lost Saturday noon, between Sunlight Shoe store, Central st. and Keene st. Reward at 82 Prescott st. G. L. B.

ELKS SLEEVE BUTTON and Elks tooth lost between 12 and 1, between Chalifoux bldg. and Putnam's Dining Room, Sunday. Reward at Central Club. C. H. Frost.

PURSE FOUND with small sum of money, in Colonial bldg., last Wednesday. Call at 142 Concord st.

LADY'S SOLID GOLD WATCH with a 1908 expert medal for marksmanship, attached as a fob, lost. Return to Mr. Cid Dennison, Care American Hide and Leather Co. and receive reward.

PEARL ROSARY lost last Saturday afternoon, Merrimack sq. The finder will be rewarded by returning to The Sun Office.

SHELL POCKETBOOK found containing a sum of money and souvenir medal. Owner can have by proving property at 579 E. Merrimack st.

HAND BAG lost containing sum of money, rosary and dance ticket. Finder return to 85 Worthen st. Liberal reward.

FOX TERRIER lost Monday afternoon. Reward to finder at 222 Moody street.

SUM OF MONEY lost Sunday between Fifth Ave. and St. Patrick's church. Reward at 85 Salem St.

WANTED

SECOND HAND FURNITURE of any kind wanted. We pay the best price. 241 Middlesex st. Call or send postal.

NOTICE—Money wanted. Will give $25 for the use of $400 for six months, with interest at six per cent., with good security. Inquire at Sun Office.

BOARD WANTED in Catholic family, two girls, aged 4 and 6, good locality. Address M., Sun Office.

BOARDERS and ROOMERS wanted at the Columbia, 179 Middlesex st.

TWO SMALL CHILDREN wanted to care for by the week. Address Mrs Williams, R. F. D., No 2, Lowell, Mass.

SPECIAL NOTICES

THE LEIGHTON, Salisbury Beach, is open for the season. M. L. Mohn, Prop.

KEEP AWAY—Comb tenders on strike in Wilton, N. H.

WE WILL PAPER YOUR ROOM with one of the latest spring patterns for $1.75. Outside and inside painting at low prices. Send postal. H. J. McCarthy, 641 Broadway.

LACE CURTAINS laundered, 40 cents a pair. Satisfaction guaranteed. Mrs. C. Palmgren, 27 Meadowcroft st., off Moore st.

ROGERS' INDIAN BLOOD REMEDY—The worst cases of blood diseases have yielded to this remedy. 18 Prescott st. Up one flight.

IF YOU HAVE the least idea of buying a piano, call at W. F. Trumbell's rooms tomorrow. He will save you $50. 101 Westford st.

QUINCY HOUSE, 53 Lee st., Lowell, Mass. To the general public: You may think as many do, that on account of the exceedingly low rates that the house is second class, but such is not the case, everything is good and very homelike, and we give you our word that the board and rooms here are in fact better than most of the high priced hotels. Nothing to equal it can be found in Lowell for the price charged. Our untiring efforts to see to the comfort of our guests are greatly appreciated. Kindly soliciting your patronage, we remain, very truly, Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor.

WE ARE SELLING out the Boston Furniture Co. stock at half price. Bornstein & Quinn, 181 Middlesex st.

MATERNITY NURSE, 656 Gorham st.

IF YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY on harness and carriage trimmings come to Roy's, cor. Market and Palmer sts. Work done by Joseph Hebert.

MERRITT'S BOOK STORE—The place to buy or sell books, magazines, etc., 277 Middlesex st.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU, all kinds of reliable help furnished. Give us a call. W. C. Brooks, 32 Hildreth building. Phone 2103.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS—Razors, scissors and knives sharpened in first class shape, at Harry Gonzales, 125 Gorham st. Tel. 252-2.

THE SUN IN BOSTON—The Sun is on sale every day at both news-stands of the Union station in Boston. Don't forget this when taking your train for Lowell.

MONEY TO LOAN

NOTES OF SALARIED PEOPLE and others bought without security, easy payments. Offices in 56 principal cities. Don't be deceived by misleading advertisements, investigate actual terms of others, then save money by trading here. D. H. Tolman, Room 48, 45 Merrimack st.

One Per Cent.
Loans Per Month with or without security
salaried people, merchants, boarding house keepers and others. Will lend you any reasonable amount of money at 1 per cent. per month. No borrower should pay more. Loans made on furniture, pianos, etc. on short notice. COMMISSIONS PAID. All business strictly confidential.
Merrimack Loan Co
ROOM 5, 51 MERRIMACK ST.
Hours: 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Monday and Saturday until 9 p. m.

Lowell Dye House Co.
324 CENTRAL STREET
Nearly Opposite Lowell Opera House
Ladies and gentlemen's clothing dyed, cleansed and pressed in the most skilful manner.
Men's Suits cleansed and pressed, $1.50, giving them every appearance of new. Dry Cleaning a specialty.
Also Nashua Dye House, 15 and 17 Canal St., Nashua, N. H., and Mystic Dye House, 18 and 20 Montvale Ave., Woburn, Mass.
We do one of the largest dye house business in New England.
Perkins & Goodwin
Phone 2470

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

HOUSE 11 ROOMS for sale. Bath, hot and cold water, gas, furnace, 10,050 ft. land, large barn and carriage house. Inquire 87 South Highland st.

8-ROOM HOUSE for sale in North Chelmsford, on Highland ave., attic, bath, gas, water, cement cellar, large shed newly painted, good condition, 3 minutes' walk from car line. 5c fare from Lowell. Write Homeseeker, Sun Office.

6250 SQUARE FEET OF LAND on E street for sale at your own price, if sold at once. Inquire 792 Gorham st., upstairs.

SPLENDID two-tenement house for sale, excellent location. Will give somebody bargain, quick cash or easy payments, also a nice cottage very cheap. More information, P. O. Box 1017, Lowell.

REAL SPRING BARGAINS—Cosy cottage, orchard, garden, poultry houses, car line, very cheap. Dandy two-tenement near North common, easy terms. 2 nice cottages together for price of one. Cottage and 2-tenement for price of one. Modern 2-tenement 6-room flats, just finished. 6½ acres, cottage, barn, poultry, fruit, real bargain. 1½ acres cottage, barn, poultry, fruit, cosy bargain. 1-3 acre, 6-room cottage, 15 minutes' walk to city hall. Several desirable investments in blocks, best renting locations. For a quick, quiet trade place your property for sale with M. J. Sharkey, Insurance and Real Estate, 22 Central st., room 25. Tel. 2329-5.

HOUSE OF 9 ROOMS and pantry, one acre of land, for sale. Address Box 256, Chelmsford Centre.

EIGHT TENEMENT BLOCK for sale, all rented. Income $756 year. Located near depot. Aged owner will take $100 down. Two-family house near Ennell st. Gas, bath, open plumbing, hardwood floors. Large lot of land. Take $200 down. Linus, 267 Central st., Room 55.

AN INVESTMENT PROPERTY paying a big percentage on Arch st. for sale. Excellent corner lot and always rented. It will pay you to investigate this property. The price will be right. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

17 ROOM HOUSE near Dodge st. for sale. 3500 feet of land. A good property in a good location. Rents for $360 a year. Will sell for $4100. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

8 ROOM HOUSE with bath and furnace heat, near the court house, for sale. Could be made into investment property if desired. Will sell for $1500. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

10 ROOM HOUSE in Belvidere for sale. Bath and steam heat. Fireplace, set tubs, laundry. Excellent location. A substantially built residence. $5600. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

FOR SALE

In Chelmsford, some nice places, large and small, at the right prices.

Nice place on Westford st., good 8-room house, large lot of land. Price only ........ $3200

Near Westford st., 6-room cottage house. Price ........ $1250

On Varnum ave., a nice place for the right prices.

Good 24-room lodging house. Price $800

Near Navy Yard mills, good 8-room house and shed, 1 acre land, all in first class repair. Price ...... $1500

In Centralville, 4-tenement block, always rented. Will be sold at a bargain. Your own price and terms.

G. L. HUBBARD
Telephone 2163. 44 Central St.

HELP WANTED

AN EXPERIENCED SALESMAN wanted to sell groceries at wholesale. Address Q., Sun Office.

EXPERIENCED CLERKS wanted for Monday evenings and Saturday afternoons and evenings, at Gregoire's, Lowell's Greatest Millinery Store.

AGENTS WANTED—25 boys or girls to sell staple article, necessary in every home. Big premiums or cash. J. Durand, 251 Central st.

EXPERIENCED WOMAN COOK wanted at 6 Brookings st.

AGENTS WANTED at once, to handle new household specialty; big profits; easy sales; repeat orders. L. B. Lowell Co., Box 84.

AN OLD WOMAN wanted to do light housework and care for two little girls. Apply 88 Common st.

MAN WASHER wanted for laundry work. Apply 412 Suffolk st.

TEMPERATE YOUNG MAN wanted, about 22, to join experienced man as equal partner, opening first class butter, cheese and egg store, $150 required. Experience unnecessary, state age when answering. Address A. F. B., Sun Office.

ALL 'ROUND COOK wanted at once. Apply 129 Tremont st.

GOOD MACHINIST wanted for laundry work. Inquire 159 Cushing st.

MIDDLE AGED WOMAN wanted to do chamber work. Apply Lowell Inn, Central st.

KITCHEN GIRL and meat cook wanted. Apply 8 Dutton st.

CARRIAGE PAINTERS wanted at once. Call at 493 Chelmsford st.

FLYER SPINNERS on worsted wanted. Comb tenders and card room hands. Apply Hillsborough Mills, Wilton, N. H.

MARRIED COUPLE wanted to occupy double rooms furnished for light housekeeping. Part payment taken in housework. References given and required. Inquire J. Durand, 251 Central st. Tel. 1314-2.

YOUNG MEN wanted to prepare for post office clerk, carrier, and railway mail clerk positions. Good pay, short hours, pleasant work. Particulars free. Springfield School for Mail Service, Springfield, Mass.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS wanted. Salary $800 to $1400. No "layoffs." Examination for Lowell, May 15th. Common education sufficient. Candidates prepared free. Write immediately for full particulars. Franklin Institute, Dept. 71A, Rochester, N. Y.

CARPENTERS

T. B. Beecher of the Interstate Association in Conn., wants 50 more first-class non-union carpenters to work in New Britain. Union men quit work, refusing to handle material bought outside of New Britain. Wages 45c per hour, 8-hour day; steady work all the year. Apply with tools, to J. W. Allen, New Britain, Conn.

Will Paper Your Room for $2.00

We will paper your room, furnishing the paper and border to match, and hang the same in a first class manner for $2.00. Inside and outside painting, whitewashing, etc. Will cheerfully give an estimate on any work you intend to have done.

BAKER
The New Racket Phone 1072-4
508 MIDDLESEX ST.

C. E. SPONY
Ladies' Hair Dressing Parlors
All Kinds of Hair Work Manufactured
Scalp treatment, chiropody, electric face massage, shampooing and manicuring. We buy hair combings.
ROOM 2, ASSOCIATE BUILDING, Lowell, Mass.

TO LET

FURNISHED ROOMS to let. Nice, light, clean and quiet, double or single. Bath and all conveniences. Tom Kershaw, 29 Kirk st.

4 ROOMS AND SHED to let. Inquire 77 Bartlett st.

STORE TO LET May 1st, cor. Broadway and Willie st. Inquire O'Brien's drug store.

4-ROOM TENEMENT to let, on Fletcher st., near Broadway. Rent $6. Apply to Henry Miller & Son, 7 Merrimack st.

HOUSE OF 13 ROOMS to let, in Centralville, after May 1. Bath, furnace heat, shed and yard. Apply to Henry Miller & Son, 7 Merrimack st.

AN UP-TO-DATE TENEMENT to let with hot and cold water, furnace heat and nice garden. Inquire 539 Rogers street.

FURNISHED ROOMS to let for light housekeeping, en suite. 6 Stackpole st.

NICE SUNNY ROOMS to let with board, home cooking, everything first-class, at 494 Bridge st.

BAKERY TO LET—Large store with all fixtures and tools. Apply 469 Broadway.

PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO, together with 5-room tenement and bath room, to let, all in first class condition, at the corner of West Sixth and Ennell sts., with entrances on both streets. Near St. Louis' church. Apply to Frank A. Hamelin, Tailor, cor. Cabot and Merrimack sts.

SUITE OF ROOMS in the Harrington building will be vacated May 1st. Three splendid rooms with large front room on Central st. Inquire at The Sun office.

CHAMBER TO LET—Steam heated, bay window; also side room, cheap. 45 Hurd st.

TENEMENT OF 7 ROOMS to let. Bath, pantry, set tubs, furnace heat, 5 minutes' walk from square. 133 Stackpole st.

NEW FLATS OF 5 ROOMS to let on Stackpole st., bath, open plumbing, electric lights, modern improvements. Rent $15. Apply 384 High st.

NICE TENEMENT of five rooms, in first class repair to let, 332 Fletcher st. C. A. Roberts, Tel. 88-1.

MODERN FLAT in new house at cor. Gorham and Central sts., to let. Hot and cold water, open plumbing, set wash trays. All windows equipped with shades. Apply F. W. Barrows, 656 Gorham st.

5-ROOM TENEMENT with pantry to let at 44 Barclay st. Apply Phillips Schutz Furniture Co., 332 Middlesex st.

FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED rooms to let for light housekeeping. Steam heat, electric light. 75 East Merrimack st.

NICE TENEMENT of five rooms to let at 68 Chambers st. Inquire of Collins & Hogan, Central st.

ROOMS TO LET. Inquire 375 Gorham st.

TO LET

| | |
|---|---|
| 5 rooms, Central st. | $10.00 |
| 5 rooms, Adams st. | 10.00 |
| 3 rooms, Suffolk st. | 7.00 |
| 5 rooms, Watson st. | 8.00 |
| 4 rooms, Middlesex st. | 10.00 |
| 5 rooms, Tilden st. | 8.00 |
| 5 rooms, Union st. | 8.00 |
| 4 rooms, Appleton st. | 10.00 |
| 9 rooms, Central st. | 15.30 |
| 5 rooms, School st. | 8.00 |
| 6 rooms, Cottage st. | 8.60 |
| 5 rooms, Cushing st. | 10.00 |
| 6 rooms, Whipple st. | 8.00 |

Apply 468 Central Street

FOR SALE

BUREAU and BOOKCASE combined; also 2 large window sashes for hen house or hot bed, for sale. Inquire 87 South Highland st.

GOOD, SECONDHAND CONCORD WAGON for sale. Mackenzie's Carriage Shop, 592 Broadway.

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER for sale; total adder; also 3-foot show case and counters. 137 Middle st.

CHEST OF CARPENTER'S TOOLS for sale. Inquire 18 Ludlam st.

COLUMBIA CYLINDER GRAPHOPHONE for sale, many records, almost new. Also beautiful rosewood, German imported concertina, very cheap. Call 7 to 8 evenings. 501 Merrimack st., room 2.

VARIETY STORE for sale, on account of sickness; doing good business. Inquire 121 Lilley ave.

FOUR GOOD ACCLIMATED HORSES, 2 nice young, fresh family cows for sale. Rear 56 Franklin st.

HOUSE LOTS for sale from 2 cents to 10 cents a foot, within the city limits. Inquire 1128 Bridge st.

BAXTER BOILER and ENGINE, six horse power, for sale. Can be seen working at 56 Adams st. Must be sold at once.

GOOD FAMILY COW and two Angora goats for sale. Inquire at 513 Pleasant st., Dracut.

SAFES FOR SALE—Two secondhand safes in good condition, at a bargain. Address Box Z., Sun Office.

"CHARTER OAK" REFRIGERATOR, large size, for sale at a bargain. In excellent condition, suitable for boarding house, store or camp. Call at 1087 Middlesex st. or telephone 282-2.

Back at the Old Stand
110 Central Street
SPAULDING SISTERS' CAFE
They who feed you right.

SITUATIONS WANTED

SITUATION WANTED as fireman; first class license. Manuel R. Vieira, 434 Worthen st.

SITUATION WANTED—First class paperhanger and painter wants work. J. T. Smith, 9 Fifth st.

SITUATION WANTED—Young woman fully experienced in kitchen work wants position. Address B. D. E., Sun Office.

NEAT SMART GIRL wants house or table work. Good kitchen help. Ascension Home, Rear 128 Bridge st.

HOUSEKEEPER (working), or housework wanted. Likes children. Wages moderate. Ascension Home, Rear 128 Bridge st.

SITUATION WANTED by a good, capable woman to care for an invalid or do light housework. Address J. D., Sun Office.

SITUATION WANTED by a Protestant woman as housekeeper; care of an invalid or institutional work. Address N., Sun Office.

MISCELLANEOUS

DRINK GLORIA for health; sold everywhere.

LIMBURG, chimney expert. Chimneys swept and repaired. [illegible] 1128 Bridge st. Tel. [illegible]

MOTHERS—Baby's [illegible] falls [illegible] children [illegible] dandruff and itching scalp, prevents falling hair. [illegible] only at Falls & Burkinshaw's, 418 Middlesex st.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED, badges and door plates made to order at Harry Gonzales, 125 Gorham st. Tel. 252-2.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Cash Loans
$10 and upwards
Secured quickly and quietly.
Housekeepers and workingmen you can secure money from us without publicity, at the very lowest rates. These things, combined with courtesy and consideration, will give you more solid satisfaction and contentment of mind than you think, and if the company you do business with will not live up to this policy or arrange your loan to suit you as well as themselves, then it's time for you to change. Come in. No Red Tape. Our methods are entirely different from any other concern of money lenders. We don't ask you to tie up to a long-time complicated contract.
Call, write or phone
American Loan Co.
AGENTS,
Room 10, Hildreth Bldg.,
45 Merrimack St.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was

15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Plotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The New York police the other day fired upon autoists who drove over an aged man and passed on with increased speed. They were right in firing but they did not hit any of the men in the auto. They evidently require target practice.

THE SULTAN SHOULD GO

It will be a great benefit to the world it the old sultan of Turkey be driven from power and a ruler chosen in his place who will accommodate himself to the progress of the hour. The sultan has been pulling against the advance of eastern civilization for many years and it is to be hoped the present upheaval will result in a policy that will accord more with the steady advancement which is characteristic of almost every other nation on the globe.

THE MAYOR VS. POLICE BOARD

An examination of the charges made by Mayor Brown against the police board shows that they have practically all been obtained from a close scrutiny of the police records; that they are mostly technical and unimportant in character. It is plain, therefore, that when Mayor Brown made a virulent attack upon the board in his inaugural address, he had at that time practically nothing to sustain his sweeping charges.

In order to make some show of even feebly supporting those charges he had to throw himself into the arms of his political opponents as if crying, "save me! save me!"

But for the mass of stuff read from the records of the department, His Honor's case against the police board would have been confined to hot air, and even with all the rehashed reports, there is so very little to sustain any charge against the board, that it practically amounts to nothing. Thus has the great, stormy and menacing mountain brought forth a very diminutive mouse.

SENATOR ALDRICH'S SHAMELESS COURSE

Senator Aldrich can have anything he wants from the trusts. He appears to be more subservient to their interests than the veriest trust magnate in the land. He is the vindicator, the procurator and defender of the trusts. The tariff rates that have been condemned as being only for the benefit of oppressive trusts he singles out as most essential to the well being of the people.

Aldrich is now paying on behalf of the republican party the debt which that party owes for its reelection to power.

In return the trusts will enjoy the privilege of plundering the people for four years more. Hides are to go back on the protected list and even wood pulp, which the house, after a thorough investigation put upon the free list, is likely to be taxed. Aldrich is the most shameless tariff extremist that has yet appeared on the scene. He has outdone Dingley. He has repudiated the avowed purpose of the republican party in its ante election pledges and stretched the platform declaration in favor of the trusts.

This revision upward instead of downward is treacherous, a breach of faith, a republican betrayal of the masses and one which will grant the trusts a new license to plunder the people. It is time President Taft came out to protest against such an outrage upon the country as the Aldrich bill would impose; time he interposed to prevent the standpatters from intensifying rather than reducing the tariff evils from which the people complain. Will he do it? The country anxiously awaits his action. If Roosevelt were in his place, he would be heard from in no uncertain voice. Can it be that we have gone from bad to worse?

THE MERRIMACK AS A SEWERAGE OUTLET

The state board of health has submitted an elaborate report on the pollution of the Merrimack among other rivers, depicting it from Lowell to the sea in all respects as an open sewer.

Particular attention is given to a matter that is of vital importance to our city. It is that of having sewers empty upon the dry bed of the river at Lowell in summer, and flow along, giving out odors that cannot fail to spread disease.

This state of affairs is justly to be condemned and should be remedied as soon as the bed of the river dries up.

It appears that the agitation against the pollution of New England rivers is assuming such proportions, that legislative action looking to a remedy will soon be provided. The city of Lowell at least should arrange to prevent the emptying of sewers upon dry rocks in the bed of the river. There should be a deep channel formed in the middle of the river bed, so that it would not thus be wholly dried up. Into the channel should empty the sewers which now empty near the river edge or along the mill buildings fronting on the river.

If the Merrimack is bad, the lower Concord is a great deal worse, as it is clogged with deposits of manufactures of mud and filth. Both rivers are sorely in need of purification, and no doubt, a change in that direction would prevent many outbreaks of diseases but financially we are not prepared how to meet the expenses of such a change.

The best way to effect it is to begin gradually to lessen the pollution and after a term of years, stop altogether the emptying of sewage into the rivers.

It is alleged that there are various ways of disposing of sewage without having it carried off by rivers. These methods however are in the first place expensive, and unless reports be incorrect, many of them are ineffective.

This sewerage problem in its various phases is one of the most important confronting our city at the present time. Nothing brings better results to a city than sewers. They promote good health and increase the taxable property.

It will do no harm and may do much good to conduct an occasional experiment in disposing of sewage in other ways than by emptying it into the rivers.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Announcement is made of the wedding of Frank H. Grey, Harvard, '06, formerly of Arlington, and Miss Retta M. Spelley, until recently a member of Henry M. Savage's theatrical companies. The marriage took place at Southern Pines, N. C. Mr. Grey made a study of music while at Harvard, taking courses under Prof. John K. Kaine, Frederick Converse and others. He composed some tunes for two Pi Eta shows.

Rev. Mary Miars, pastor of the Quaker church at Lynn, has resigned, and in June she will start for the west, visiting her parents at Wilmington, O., on the way. She has been pastor of the Friends' church at Lynn for 11 years. She is a graduate of Earlham academy, Richmond, Ind.

E. H. Harriman, the financier, has decided upon a long vacation abroad. His recent extended trip through the west made such heavy demands upon his time that he did not get the rest that he had hoped for.

The annual course at Yale university of Lyman Beecher lectures on preaching for other topic appropriate to the work of the ministry), founded in 1872 by the late Henry W. Sage, is being given this year by Rev. Herbert Hensley Henson, D. D., canon of Westminster and rector of St. Margaret's, Westminster, London, on "The Liberty of Prophesying."

Dr. W. T. Grenfell, the Labrador missionary, has just been appointed a magistrate by the Canadian government.

Substantial progress has been made by the Dartmouth college committee having the New Gym fund in charge since the beginning of the vacation. At present some $80,000 has been pledged and $35,000 of it has been paid. The organization among the alumni previous to 1885 has been perfected and responses are coming in well. With $100,000 in pledges and $50,000 in cash the committee will confer with the trustees of the college with a view to beginning work on construction this spring, so that the building will be ready for next spring.

A bronze tablet showing a bust portrait of Mrs. Craigie, the writer whose pen name was John Oliver Hobbes, has been presented to Barnard college by some of the author's friends and admirers, among whom are Richard Watson Gilder and Joseph Choate. Dedication ceremonies, presided over by Silas Brownell, chairman of the board of trustees of the college, will be held on Wednesday. An address will be made by Mr. Choate, followed by a short lecture by Rt. Rev. John J. Wynne, editor of the Catholic Herald.

Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to England, has accepted the office of honorary chancellor of Union university, New York, and in that capacity will deliver the annual chancellor's address at the Union college commencement on June 9. Dr. Alexander, pastor of the University place Presbyterian church of New York city, and president ad-interim of Union college, was the chairman of the committee of the board of trustees which had the selection of an honorary chancellor in charge. It is expected that Mr. Choate will take part in the other commencement exercises, in view of the fact that President-elect Charles A. Richmond of Albany will be inducted into office at that time. It is the custom for the college to confer a degree on the honorary chancellor, but what degree will be given Mr. Choate has not been made public.

Dr. John Burnet, professor of Greek at St. Andrew's university since 1892, and vice president of the Classical Association of Scotland, has been offered the professorship of Greek at Harvard university.

An invitation is given to college students by Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, and other educators, to compete for the prize essays offered by Hart, Schaffner & Marx to encourage the study of business subjects. The competition for 1909 is now under way and will end the coming June. Subjects for 1910 have just been suggested by the committee, as follows:

1. The effect of labor unions on international trade.
2. The best means of raising the wages of the unskilled.
3. A comparison between the theory and the actual practice of protectionism in the United States.
4. A scheme for an ideal monetary system for the United States.
5. The true relation of the central government to trusts.
6. How much of J. S. Mills' economic system survives?
7. A central bank as a factor in a financial crisis.

The contestants are divided into two classes. Class A includes any American without restriction. Class B includes only those who, at the time of competing, are undergraduates of any American college. A first prize of $600 and a second prize of $400 are offered for the best studies presented by class A; a first prize of $300 and a second prize of $200 are offered for the best studies presented by class B. Any member of class B, however, may compete for the prizes of class A.

Men or women who have not had a college training are eligible to compete under class C, to which a prize of $500 is offered for the best essay, and for which the following subjects are suggested:

1. The most practicable scheme for beginning a reduction of the tariff.
2. The value of government statistics of wages in the last ten or fifteen years.
3. Opportunities for expanding our trade with South America.
4. The organization of the statistical work of the United States.
5. Publicity and form of trust accounts.

The winning essays will be published in book form at the discretion of the committee, which, in addition to Professor Laughlin, consists of Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia university; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace Wright, New York city, and Edwin F. Gay, Harvard university. The papers are to be handed in by June, 1910.

McGauvran Bros.

LOWELL'S LEADING

Piano and Furniture Movers

Furniture and Crockery Packed by Experienced Men

STORAGE

OFFICE, 5 BRIDGE STREET

Opp. Transfer Station

Office Tel. 49 Residence Tel. 1035-1

Allan Line "Royal Route"

SHORTEST, SMOOTHEST AND MOST PICTURESQUE

Montreal and Quebec to Liverpool, Glasgow and Havre, via the majestic St. Lawrence river, affords three days' sailing in sheltered seas, through almost indescribable grandeur of scenery. Palatial turbine steamers, swift non-vibrating and odorless. Route especially recommended to delicate or timid persons. Rates moderate. Illustrated booklets sent on application.

Denis Murphy, 18 Appleton Street

H. & A. Allan, 110 State St., Boston

JOHN J. O'CONNELL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR,

Telephone Connection

1010 Central St. Davis Sq.

JAMES E. O'DONNELL

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Hildreth Building. Lowell, Mass.

ST. THOMAS' SALVE

—FOR—

Piles, Old Sores and Skin Diseases

—FOR SALE—

At All Up-to-Date Drug Stores

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

ELECTRIC and COMBINATION FIXTURES

At Manufacturer's Prices

—AT—

DERBY & MORSE'S

64 Middle Street, Lowell, Mass.

WILLIAM RIGG

The well known and reliable piano and furniture mover will attend to orders large or small, promptly, in or out of town, and he also makes packing a specialty. Order by tel or postal, in person at 13 Prescott st. P. S.—Edward McGauvran is employed in charge of packing.

Fresh Clams Every Day

At the Lowell Inn. Fresh fish direct from the Boston wharves. Lobsters fresh from the traps. Meals first class and wholesome. Call and see the LOWELL INN, busiest place in Central street.

Wall Paper

—AT—

97 APPLETON ST.

75 YEARS OLD

SENATOR CHAUNCEY DEPEW OBSERVED BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, April 27.—A great birthday cake, aglitter from 75 candles and garnished with an equal number of new pennies, was presented to Senator Chauncey M. Depew last night at a dinner in honor of his 75th birthday at the Montauk club, Brooklyn. He has been the guest of honor on 17 similar occasions.

Sen. Depew was the only speaker, a custom which has been rigidly observed at his birthday dinners.

SENT TO ASYLUM

YOUTH HAD CONFESSED TO SEVERAL ROBBERIES

HAVERHILL, April 27.—A temporary and perhaps permanent respite from the consequences of nearly a dozen burglaries and breaks, to which the police say he has confessed, was granted yesterday to 19 year old Leslie N. Anderson, when Judge Fuller ordered his commitment to the Danvers insane asylum. The judge's order was based upon a report by physicians that Anderson was mentally irresponsible. Whether yesterday's action will result in a cessation of the case against Anderson is not known.

The arrest of the young man less than a fortnight ago following a series of small burglaries and thefts, to each of which the police connect Anderson, was a great surprise to those who know him. The boy bore an excellent reputation.

A RATE WAR

BETWEEN EASTERN TRUNK LINES AT HAND

WASHINGTON, April 27.—A rate war among the eastern trunk lines is nearly inevitable in the opinion of the interstate commerce commission. Thus far, the trouble extends only to rates on import traffic, west-bound, but the likelihood is that it will extend, before a great while, to domestic traffic.

The trouble was precipitated some time ago by the Boston & Maine railroad in wiping out a differential of one cent a hundred pounds on import traffic, west-bound, which had existed for years between Boston and the ports of New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia. It was not expected that the trunk lines generally would meet the second reduction made by the Boston & Maine, but a day or two ago the Chesapeake & Ohio reduced its rate from Norfolk to meet the Boston & Maine's rate. The Chesapeake & Ohio rate goes into effect May 21.

PENSION SCHEME

FOR BOSTON AND MAINE EMPLOYES DISCUSSED

Secretary C. U. Bedell of the Railroad Relief pension committee says that much doubt and misunderstanding of the pension bill now before the legislature will be cleared away at the next meeting of the B. & M. Agents' association, for the clear explanation of the provisions of the measure by Assistant Solicitor General Hale of the B. & M. company. A committee of the employes was present and many of them asked questions in regard to the bill.

At the close of Mr. Hale's address, Employes committee and Mr. Hale in behalf of the vote of thanks. The pension plan was unanimously endorsed as for the best interests of all employes.

Among some of the erroneous impressions which were corrected was the one which has gained some ground to the effect that the pension plan was obviously a scheme on the part of the company to cut the wages of the employes to obtain money to pay for their worn-out servants—an impression which was easily dispelled by the convincing arguments of Mr. Hale.

Another idea which has gained credence in some quarters is to the effect that the railroad company would profit greatly by the handling of the funds of the Pension Fund association, whereas the fact is that all such accounts are handled by the trustees of the association, the company not profiting one iota thereby.

THE AUTO FUND

Is Close to the $8000 Mark

Just $1587 more is needed to make up the guarantee fund of $10,000 necessary to insure the proposed automobile carnival during Labor day week. At the meeting of the finance committee of the Lowell Automobile club to be held in the board of trade rooms tonight, it is expected that the secretary will be able to report that the contributions have been swelled to $10,000.

Nearly $500 has been collected since Saturday and up to date $8413 has been guaranteed.

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club left Boston on the midnight train for New York where he is to meet the advisory board of the American Automobile Manufacturers association, relative to the two stock car races to be held here. He will return to Lowell on Wednesday.

On Sunday the Musicians union, at a regular meeting, voted to proffer the services of a band of 75 musicians for a concert to be given in aid of the guarantee fund. P. J. Burleigh would be the leader of this band. The finance committee will do nothing about the offer unless it is found out that the $10,000 is not forthcoming from regular subscription.

The following additional contributions were reported last night:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lowell Gas Light Co. | $250.00 |
| John Russell | 25.00 |
| W. A. Mack Co. | 15.00 |
| Robert F. Marden | 10.00 |
| Harry Raynes | 10.00 |
| N. D. Spyropoulos | 5.00 |
| Houpis Fruit Co. | 5.00 |
| Merrimack Shoe Shine Parlor | 5.00 |
| George Couzoules & Co. | 5.00 |
| George Voltolis | 5.00 |
| A. Johnson | 5.00 |
| S. G. Soplios | 5.00 |
| R. A. Griffiths | 5.00 |
| William Wrigley | 5.00 |
| Louis Gefteas | 4.00 |
| B. Giavis | 2.00 |
| George Eliopoulos | 2.00 |
| M. Iatros | 2.00 |
| Elias Houpis | 2.00 |
| H. Demaras | 1.00 |
| M. Samaris | 1.00 |
| H. Loures | 1.00 |
| H. Houpis | 1.00 |
| Christos Chapelas | 1.00 |
| Dr. D. Mitsakos | 1.00 |

AT AUCTION

BOSTON PROPERTY OF FISH TRUST TO BE SOLD

BOSTON, April 27. — The Boston property of A. Booth & Co., the so-called fish trust, which has its headquarters in Chicago and numerous branches throughout the country and Canada, will be sold at auction on May 24, by order of Judge Dodge of the United States circuit court here. The sale will be conducted by Wm. J. Chalmers and Maurice P. Shaw, receivers of the corporation.

The property in this city consists of wharf rights and lease hold estate in Boston and real estate, wharves, elevators, machinery and other equipment in East Boston.

It is understood that similar sales of the company's property in other states and Canadian provinces will occur during May.

COURT MIDDLESEX, F. OF A.

The regular meeting of Court Middlesex, Foresters of America, was held last night in Foresters' hall, Chief Ranger John H. Condon in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Two candidates were initiated and final arrangements were made for the social party which is to be held in the near future. The auditors made their report for the quarter, showing a gain in finances and membership. The trustees reported the goods and effects of the court in excellent condition. Interesting remarks on the court affairs and the order were made by the chief ranger, P. C. R. P. F. Kennedy, who has held the office of auditor for a number of years, tendered his resignation on account of other duties occupying his time. A rising vote of thanks was extended him for the manner in which he had performed his duties.

U. S. ARMY ENGINEERS

NEWPORT, R. I., April 27.—The board of United States army engineers which was recently designated by the war department to make a survey for the construction of a continuous waterway, inland where practicable, along the Atlantic coast, will meet at the Crown hotel, Providence, next Wednesday morning.

OUR CHALLENGE!

CARTER & SHERBURNE DECLARE THAT HEM-ROID WILL CURE ANY CASE OF PILES.

By authority of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, Carter & Sherburne, Lowell, Mass., guarantee that Hem-Roid, an internal tablet remedy, will cure any kind of piles, no matter how bad.

Dr. Leonhardt is the celebrated specialist who discovered that the cause of piles is internal, and in giving his remedy to the public, said: "Hem-Roid will be sold only under a guarantee that it will cure any case."

$1 for 2½ days' treatment. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y., props. Write for booklet.

An Asparagus Bed

Should be a part of every family garden. This week we offer a splendid lot of

New Jersey Asparagus Roots

FREE FROM RUST

BARTLETT & DOW

216 Central Street.

MILK PRODUCERS

Met and Perfected an Organization

The Middlesex North milk producers have organized and are now in a position to protect themselves against what they call injustice to farmers. The organization which was proposed at a meeting held earlier in the month was completed at a meeting held at Odd Fellows hall in Centralville yesterday afternoon.

Walter E. Morris of Billerica presided and was elected president. E. S. Howe of this city was chosen secretary and treasurer. L. W. Wheeler of Westford, chairman of the committee on by-laws, reported a draft of by-laws that was adopted.

They provide that the name of the organization shall be the Middlesex North Farmers' Protective association, the object of which shall be "mutual protection against injustice in the enforcement of laws dealing with the production and sale of milk." The initiation fee was set at $1, with the understanding that the members will stand ready to give further financial support if it is required.

The following committee was appointed to bring in new members: F. L. Fletcher, Chelmsford; S. P. Pike, Tewksbury; George Bancroft, Tyngsboro; L. W. Wheeler, Westford; C. P. Greenwood, Billerica; R. S. Fox and Enoch Mills, Dracut; Charles Skelton, Carlisle.

The membership paper that will be circulated in the several towns for signatures will read as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the Middlesex North Farmers' Protective association, hereby protest against what we deem to be the unfair, unjust and wrongful prosecution of milk producers for the selling or having in possession for sale milk which is below the standard set by law, where such milk is pure, unadulterated, natural product of the cow. For the purpose of protecting ourselves against such unfair, unjust and wrongful prosecution, we hereby pledge the amount of money set opposite our names, such money to be paid at such time and in such amounts as may be necessary to accomplish said purpose."

GIRL MAY DIE

She Was Attacked by a Dog

GLOUCESTER, April 27.—While at play with some playmates in a school yard on Main street in this city last night, Helen Ferguson, nine years of age, was attacked by a large St. Bernard dog and after being dragged all over the school yard by the animal was badly torn in several places by the animal's teeth. She was taken to her home and will probably die.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last evening, Helen, accompanied by four or five other girls, went into the yard of a school house on Main street to play.

A large St. Bernard dog was lying near the school steps and as the children commenced to gambol, the brute rose and, with a snarl, made a leap for the Ferguson child, grabbing her by the right leg. The animal hauled the girl all over the yard, pausing now and then to release his victim, but to bite her again about the face, arms and legs.

Several boys passing heard the child's cries and rushed into the yard. After a sharp battle with the dog, which they attacked with stones and clubs, they succeeded in driving the beast away.

Picking the Ferguson girl up, the boys carried her to her home on Trask street. Two physicians were hurriedly summoned, and after examining the child's bites pronounced her in a critical condition and stated that she would probably die.

The attack was reported to the chief of police, who detailed several officers to hunt for the dog, but he has not yet been found.

HE LEFT $50,000

But Somerville Man Died of Starvation

BOSTON, April 27.—Miss Elizabeth A. Waters of East Somerville said yesterday that she has learned through a telegram from Seattle that her brother, Charles Waters, formerly a resident of this city, had died there. He was 89 years old or more, and moved to the west 40 years ago on the crest of the boom. In earlier life he was in the grocery business and later in the wire business on State street.

According to the dispatch, Mr. Waters died from starvation, yet had bequeathed $50,000 to his sister. He is believed to have acquired large real estate holdings in Seattle. Miss Waters is active in Somerville in charitable work and was the founder of the Day street children's home, West Somerville.

PLANS MADE

FOR REORGANIZATION OF BANKRUPT FIRM

NEW YORK, April 27.—A plan for the rehabilitation of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani was announced yesterday by Irving L. Ernest, one of the attorneys for the failed brokers.

The plan provides for the formation of a co-partnership to take over the assets of the firm and issue notes maturing in a year and a half.

These notes to be given to creditors in part payment of their claims, the remainder to be paid them in the form of a cash dividend. Mr. Ernest was confident that this cash payment would approximate twenty per cent.

A meeting of the creditors will be called shortly for the purpose of formally endorsing the plan.

RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

FITCHBURG, April 27.—Vice Chairman Charles E. Ware of the board of trustees of the Burbank hospital, who, with Mayor M. Fred O'Connell, chairman of the board, has borne the brunt of the charges of misconduct recently brought against the institution, yesterday resigned his office as vice chairman and from the executive committee, although retaining his membership in the board. He gave no reason.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "want" column.

EASY THE HEAD

That wears our English Derby; made in half sizes—that means double the number of sizes made in other derbies, and twice the chances of fitting you perfectly without stretching or padding the hat—Smart shapes, fine quality, black and Spring colors,

$3.00

Low Shoes

FOR WARM DAYS

New lasts and the best of leathers carefully made. Young men's stylish shoes, pumps, two eyelet ties and oxfords—russet, black and shiny leather,

$2.50 to $4.00

Conservative straight lasts in shoes for the man who goes in for comfort. Russet, calf and kid,

$2.50 to $4.00

Hanan's Shoes

And we feature these as the best shoes made, russet and black, stylish and perfectly fitting,

$5.00 and $6.00

Fancy Hosiery

To go with low shoes—fine lisle and silk lisle in fifteen colors,

25c and 50c

2400 Pairs

Solid color fine hose—reseda, gray, helio, green, black and tan—the best thing we've ever shown,

2 Pairs for 25c

PUTNAM & SON CO.

166 Central Street

GENERAL AMES CAMP

Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, United Spanish War Veterans, met in regular session last night in Memorial hall. There was a large attendance of members and considerable business was acted upon during the course of the meeting. Three new members were mustered in and six applications for membership were received. Plans were discussed for the May party to take place early next month, and for Memorial day.

Edith Prescott Wolcott auxiliary also held a well attended meeting and transacted considerable routine business. Mrs. Jelly was in the chair. The auxiliary discussed plans for the events this spring.

PEOPLE WE KNOW

They are Lowell People, and What They Say is of Local Interest

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press: are published as facts, people become skeptical. One subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

S. Jones, living at 511 Bridge St., Lowell, Mass., says: "I am pleased to speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills as they have done me a wonderful amount of good. For years I had trouble with my kidneys being forced to get up several times during the night to pass the secretions. My back ached most of the time and I could not find any position that was comfortable. After trying several remedies with indifferent success, I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, and procured several boxes at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. Since using them my back has been strengthened and freed of pain and I have been in better health than before in years."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WORMS

are the "unknown" ailment from which so many pale, hollow-eyed, peevish children suffer.

KICKAPOO WORM KILLER

Candy Lozenges, will make them bright, happy, healthy—with normal appetite. Trial proves. All druggists.

KICKAPOO MEDICINE CO., Clarksville, Ga.

MIGHTIEST NIMROD OF THEM ALL

A Genius Who Combines Exploration, Hunting and Photography With a Life of Adventure

PHOTOS. COPYRIGHTED BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD, N.Y.

RICALTON AND A CHINESE DWARF

RICALTON WITH TWO OF HIS FRIENDS, CASHMERE GIANTS

RICALTON IN INDIA

ON THE WAY TO AN ELEPHANT HUNT

THERE will be no peace for anything that crawls, creeps, crouches or flies in the African jungles this year. About the time that Theodore Roosevelt and his caravan train their guns in the greatest hunt of modern times another will be there with his cameras and guns to add interest to the invasion. This one is James Ricalton of South Orange, N. J., who is the dean of the camera kingdom of the world. This reads like an extract from Colonel Tody Hamilton's circus posters, but no ordinary phrases or sentences can give an adequate description of Ricalton's exploits.

Professor Ricalton has been in Africa before. He has been everywhere where there was anything doing. He has met and "taken" nearly every potentate, ruler, general and admiral of earth and the file of all nations. He has been on the firing line of great contests, in the midst of the carnage, inside and outside of the breastworks, on the mountain tops, in the valleys and on the sea.

An interesting character is this little, wiry Jerseyman—sixty years of age, slender in physique, modest in manner, with kindly blue eyes peeping through gold rimmed spectacles, speaking, to quote his own words, "no language but English, and very little of that." All distances are alike to him. He tramps as many miles in a day as a horse walks, carrying a thirty pound camera and tripod, for he scorns the snapshot apparatus. On the march he wears out young soldiers. He takes his place with the gunners in perilous artillery positions, lounges with the reserves waiting for battle and is in the dash of the onslaught when he is allowed. When the positions have been carried he sits down with the living and the dead with as much insouciance as he would sit at a dinner in his Jersey home.

When Edison wanted the right vegetable fiber to serve as a filament for his perfected incandescent lamp he sent Ricalton around the world to find it. The search took Ricalton into the remotest parts of Burma, China and India, and on this tour he experimented with more than 140 varieties of the bamboo. These travels made him the wonderful photographer that he is. It was Ricalton who made the pictures for the Stoddard lectures. They told the story when Stoddard's descriptive vocabulary gave out.

Ricalton sailed from Australia March 17 for Africa. He took his camera and gun, for as a hunter he is in the same category as Roosevelt, and in the opinion of some he is the more expert of the two. One object of Ricalton's mission is to stalk the fly which inoculates those whom it bites with the fatal sleeping sickness. He has a camera with a lens especially arranged for photographing the fly in action. Ricalton is a faunal naturalist as well as an entomologist. The stalking of this fly is a feat well calculated to test the hunter's skill and endurance. If anybody can do it Ricalton can. While in the dark continent Ricalton will be within reach of Roosevelt, and when not catching the tsetse fly on the wing he will take a hand in the hunt for game and train his camera on any brought down as well as on much that will get away.

Ricalton was at the front and on the flanks and in the rear during the Boer war, and he is familiar with the geography and topography of the country. There will be new stories and strange experiences and wonderful pictures when Ricalton has finished his dash into Africa on the heels of Roosevelt.

Every reader will recall the great Delhi durbar. Ricalton was there. Undazzled by its pomp and tinsel, he erected a scaffold in the center of the throng of jeweled princes and barbaric warriors and calmly took his pictures of the bewildering pageant. The stories written of that event may have been overcolored, but the pictures of Ricalton were from life. People who saw these pictures knew exactly what the durbar was. The lens was mightier than the pen.

He was the first foreigner to travel on foot through northern Russia. He walked 1,500 miles from Archangel to St. Petersburg. In all his travels, in all countries, he estimates that he has exposed 75,000 negatives. He believes that he has photographed every celebrity of his generation.

As a photographer in war Ricalton did with the lens what Munkaczy did with the brush. In the Philippines he was the only one in his business to get troops actually firing on the enemy. At the battle of Caloocan a soldier near him was shot down. Ricalton seized the rifle, picked up the cartridge belt and joined the skirmishers. At the siege of Tientsin he stood on the walls and photographed Americans who were dropped by Chinese bullets.

Favored by Nogi.

In the war between Russia and Japan Ricalton became a well known figure wherever there was danger and suffering.

When General Nogi's chief of staff answered by telephone the complaints of his perplexed commanders who had arrested "an indefatigable little man with a camera," he said, "If it is the American photographer Ricalton let him take photographs wherever he likes." General Nogi himself was friendly to the little man from Jersey, often sent him presents of fruit and frequently humorous messages. All the war correspondents were friends and admirers of the "little fanatic," as they dubbed Ricalton.

Writing to a friend in this country while he was watching the shells from the great siege guns in Manchuria, Ricalton said: "I have been trying to photograph the flying shells. They can be seen in flight, and I must make a stereograph to show one."

He kept at it until he had secured what he wanted. It was a marvelous picture, showing a 500 pound projectile thrown by an eleven inch coast defense mortar over the hills at the invisible Russian fleet. In order to get the proper range he was compelled to stuff his ears with cotton wool. Gunners who had neglected to take this precaution became deaf.

Camera Is King.

Ricalton's success with the camera brings to mind the important work done by his profession. The pictures of epoch making events are necessary in this age to complete the best descriptive work of the pen of great battles, splendid festivals, glittering pageants and the catastrophes of land and water. Without the aid of the camera the terrors of the earthquake at Messina could not have been adequately realized. It was the camera that focused the attention of the world on the awful flood of lava and the destruction of life about Vesuvius.

Only those who have made the subject a study have any conception of the manner in which great events are pictured, and only those engaged in the work know what dangers are frequently faced in order to obtain the results. The skilled photographer is a born explorer and an adventurer in the best sense of the word. The distances from Sahara to the polar circle, from Patagonia to Tibet, are all the same to him. To be stoned in China, arrested in the Forbidden Land, imprisoned in Siberia, captured in savage jungles, detained as a spy in times of war and turned down by officious underlings hedged about for a day with red tape—all of these, and more, are a part of his day's work. To accomplish his purpose he sleeps on the ground, in the cold or under drenching rains, faces disease from exposure and goes hungry. He wins his spurs on rocky roads.

Before the photographer became an essential in the collection of the great news events the correspondent had it all his way. Within less than a half century intelligent readers have learned that, while it is possible for the best trained correspondent to exaggerate now and then, the lens tells the truth always. The camera does not lie. Today the reliable correspondent and the photographer stand shoulder to shoulder.

The news photographer is an oddity. Nothing surprises him. Nothing makes him lose his nerve. His hand must be steady and his brain unclouded. He must be able to shoot, manage a caravan, adapt himself to perilous positions, eat and sleep wherever his hat falls, tramp and steal his way everywhere, ride anything that has four legs, barter and exchange goods, develop his plates on arid sands or in arctic ice and get the prints to the home office before the news becomes stale.

These are glittering generalities. Let us take some actual experience and adventures.

There was one of these knights of the camera who mounted an old elephant with his ladder camera under his arm and followed the governor of Ceylon in an elephant hunt. Another followed a swarm of eastern pilgrims to the holy sepulcher at Jerusalem. There he balanced himself on a swaying board slung from a balcony high above the heads of the crowds and made a picture of the populace and representatives from every Christian nation of the earth. One of the intrepid knights dashed four times up the side of Mont Pelee and took photographs of the volcano in action. Another crossed the boiling rapids of the Jhelum river by gliding along a cable made of a single rawhide rope, from which he was suspended by a loop of straps. Pictures of holy places in Palestine were taken by another, who rode through the country mounted on a mule. Yet another went with an exploring expedition to the farthest north and made photographs that no lens had ever recorded.

Triumphs of American Photographers.

It was an American photographer, E. R. Rose, who spent a fortnight in the Vatican, studying the revelations of papal life, from which he made pictures that were commended by artists and which gained for him a medal from Pope Pius X. similar to the medal presented by his holiness to the Prince of Wales. Accompanying the medal was a message from the pope, thanking the photographer for his work and bestowing upon him the papal blessing.

Another American photographer, Henry A. Strohmeyer, made more than a thousand photographs of the late President McKinley. Strohmeyer has traveled in every state in the Union. He took over 2,500 photographs of President Roosevelt. He followed the strenuous executive in all his dangers. One of the most striking of the collection was taken while the photographer stood on "Rocking Stone and the Drop of Despair." A misstep or an attempt to recover his camera had it fallen would have precipitated the photographer into a valley a mile below the spot on which he stood.

One of the youngest and most daring American photographers is Horace D. Ashton, who succeeded in breaking into the offices (in a legitimate way) of magnates in the Wall street district, where he was permitted to take photographs of leading financiers, who consented to face his lens. This young man has just passed the majority mark of life, but he is now following the head of the Panama canal work. Like all in his profession, his life is a varied one. One day he is photographing the members of a peace congress; the next he is pointing his camera at life in the slums. Then he is off to do a fashionable wedding; an hour later he is in a tunnel under one of the rivers of New York. One day he climbed the flagpole of a skyscraper, from which he made a birdseye view of the restless life of the great city beneath.

It is recalled that these knights sometimes pay their lives as a forfeit for their undertaking. H. F. MacKern died not long ago of jungle fever while taking photographs in the interior of Mexico. He was a famous photographer in the Boer war. He trekked all over the scenes of the war with a wagon and two horses.

A well known millionaire has become infatuated with the business. He has a [illegible] automobile in which he travels over Europe and in his own country as well taking photographs, which are shipped to New York city and [illegible] throughout the country.

Wherever there is a cyclone, wherever a city is wiped out by conflagration, wherever [illegible] military review, wherever there is a political [illegible] a battleship, a balloon flight, a [illegible], anything that appeals to the public interest, there is [illegible] with [illegible].

FRANK H. BROOKS.

SCHOLARS WHO HAVE PLAYED POLITICS

And Politicians Who Went Into University Life.

THE tender to Dr. Eliot of the mission to the court of St. James recalls some interesting data in connection with the diplomatic service of this country in which college men as well as others have figured.

Only one college president has been elected president of the United States—Garfield. Several have been appointed ministers or ambassadors.

One president of the United States founded a great institution of learning after he left the White House. The inscription over the grave of Jefferson, which he had previously directed should be placed there, shows that he was content to let his fame rest upon two events, that he was "the author of the Declaration of Independence and father of the University of Virginia." Madison and Monroe later aided in fostering the great institution.

Long before Taft had any idea of reaching his present place he was dean of the Cincinnati Law school, and he was a lecturer there while on the bench.

There are two college professors in President Taft's cabinet—Jacob McGavock Dickinson, secretary of war, and James Wilson, secretary of agriculture. The former was a professor in the Vanderbilt university. He has recently represented the interests of the United States in important litigation of an international character, and at the time of his appointment to the cabinet he was general counsel for the Illinois Central Railroad company. Before Secretary Wilson went into the cabinet (he was appointed by President McKinley) he was a professor of the Iowa Agricultural college.

When President Cleveland quit political life he retired to his home in Princeton and was a lecturer in Princeton university and was also advisory counsel for one of the great life insurance companies of New York.

When Robert Edward Lee, the idol of the Confederate cause, laid down his sword he went to Lexington, Va., and became president of Washington (now Washington and Lee) college, where he remained until his death. Peace had her victory.

Others who had been honored in halls of learning went to political honors. James Russell Lowell was twice ambassador. In 1877 he was sent to Spain and transferred three years later to the court of St. James. In 1855 he was Smith professor of French and Spanish languages and professor of belles lettres in Harvard.

Before he was appointed minister to Turkey, in 1897, James Burrill Angell had been professor in modern languages and literature at Brown university, president of the University of Vermont from 1866 to 1871 and then president of the University of Michigan. In 1896 he was appointed a member of the deep water commission.

Andrew Dickson White, who was professor of history and English literature in the University of Michigan and then president of Cornell (1867), was sent to St. Petersburg as an attache of the American legation, after which he was appointed minister to Germany from 1879 to 1881. At another time he was United States commissioner to Santo Domingo. Previous to these appointments he was a state senator from the Syracuse (N. Y.) district.

Carroll D. Wright was the first commissioner of the United States bureau of labor, in 1885. He first appeared in political life as a Republican presidential elector in 1876. In 1878 he was lecturer on phases of the labor question, ethically considered, at Lowell institute in Boston. In 1881 he was university lecturer on the factory system in Harvard. He was also president of the collegiate department of Clark university in Worcester, Mass.

William L. Wilson, who prepared the Mills tariff bill in 1888, was professor of Latin at Columbia university in 1865-71. At the time of his election to congress he was president of the West Virginia university.

Jacob Gould Schurman, professor of philosophy in Cornell in 1886 and president of that institution in 1892, went to the Philippines in 1899 as chairman of the Philippines commission, having been appointed by President McKinley.

Thomas Jonathan (Stonewall) Jackson went to the field after he was professor of natural science and instructor of military tactics in the Virginia Military institute at Lexington, Va.

Edward Everett was an example of the scholar in politics. From the chair of Greek literature in Harvard in 1814 he went to the governor's chair of Massachusetts in 1834. In 1841 he was appointed minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain. After his return he was chosen president of Harvard and remained in that place from 1845 till 1849. He was in the cabinet of President Fillmore as secretary of state. In 1854 he was a United States senator from Massachusetts. In 1860 he was nominated for vice president on the Constitutional Union ticket.

David Jayne Hill of New Jersey was minister to Switzerland in 1903. Previous to his appointment to that post he was a professor and afterward president of Bucknell university. In 1888 he was president of Rochester university, and in 1898 he was appointed first assistant secretary of state.

COPYRIGHT BY [illegible] PHOTO. CO.

DR. CHARLES WILLIAM ELIOT.

Edward John Phelps of Vermont, who was sent by President Cleveland to the court of St. James, was president of the American Bar association in 1880 and at the time of his appointment as representative to Great Britain he was Kent professor of law in Yale, which place he held until his death, for while he was absent as minister the chair at Yale was kept vacant. In 1893 he was senior counsel for the United States in the Bering sea arbitration.

John Eaton of New Hampshire became president of Sheldon Jackson college, at Salt Lake, in 1895, after he had been commissioner of the United States bureau of education from 1871 to 1886.

Champ Clark, member of the lower house of congress from Missouri and now leader of the minority in the house, was president of Marshall college, West Virginia, in 1873-4.

The militant leader of the reform movement in Connecticut, Dr. Flavel Sweeten Luther, is president of Trinity college. Seth Low gave up the presidency of Columbia university to become mayor of New York city, and he is actively engaged in [illegible] at the present time. [illegible] Charles Hughes of New York was [illegible] law in Cornell [illegible] politics [illegible] Greater New York [illegible] was a member of [illegible] of congress [illegible] and he is also [illegible].

George [illegible] president or a professor [illegible] but his history [illegible] of universities [illegible] he was [illegible] administrative [illegible] ister to [illegible] Lothrop Motley [illegible] but as a [illegible] [illegible] secretary of the American [illegible] St. Petersburg [illegible] minister to [illegible] Great Britain in 18[illegible].

James Monroe, [illegible] Adams [illegible] Van Buren and [illegible] ministers to [illegible] was also [illegible] ferson [illegible] minister to [illegible] president of the United States.

ASA JAY.

FACTS IN FLASHES.

[illegible] of the sun [illegible] quarter of [illegible].

[illegible]

TRAINS TO AND FROM BOSTON

SOUTHERN DIV.

| To Boston. Lve. | To Boston. Arr. | From Boston. Lve. | From Boston. Arr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 5.40 | 6.55 | 6.30 | 7.20 |
| [illegible] | 7.41 | 7.58 | 8.55 |
| b6.44 | 7.52 | 8.15 | 9.01 |
| 6.40 | 7.30 | 9.00 | 9.89 |
| 7.01 | 8.00 | 10.00 | 10.37 |
| 7.22 | 8.05 | 10.21 | 11.34 |
| b7.31 | 8.50 | 11.30 | 12.07 |
| 7.44 | 8.35 | 12.00 | 12.56 |
| 8.59 | 9.40 | 1.00 | 1.37 |
| 10.27 | 10.55 | 2.00 | 3.02 |
| 9.36 | 10.19 | 3.00 | 3.37 |
| 10.45 | 11.40 | b3.51 | 5.02 |
| 11.38 | 12.29 | a4.14 | 5.31 |
| 12.5_ | 1.00 | 5.00 | 5.37 |
| 1.45 | 2.30 | b5.21 | 6.23 |
| 2.41 | 3.23 | 5.38 | 6.25 |
| 3.57 | 4.40 | b5.51 | 7.05 |
| 4.28 | 5.30 | s6.1_ | 7.30 |
| 5.20 | 6.15 | 7.30 | 8.05 |
| 6.10 | 7.19 | 8.30 | 9.05 |
| 6.28 | 7.10 | 10.30 | 11.34 |
| 7.54 | 8.35 | 11.20 | 12.16 |

WESTERN DIV.

| To Boston. Lve. | To Boston. Arr. | From Boston. Lve. | From Boston. Arr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6.50 | 7.55 | z7.00 | 8.15 |
| 8.04 | 8.55 | 9.25 | 10.35 |
| 9.50 | 10.50 | 10.25 | 11.52 |
| 10.50 | 11.55 | 11.50 | 12.58 |
| 12.00 | 1.05 | 2.15 | 3.25 |
| 3.10 | 4.14 | 3.50 | 4.30 |
| 4.23 | 5.25 | 4.58 | 5.56 |
| 5.06 | 6.12 | 6.02 | 7.04 |
| 7.00 | 8.00 | 6.35 | 7.45 |
| 9.35 | 10.35 | 9.35 | 10.31 |
| | | *11.25 | 12.21 |

*Runs to Lowell Saturdays only. a Via Lawrence Junction.
b Via Bedford.
s Via Salem Jct.
z Via Wilmington Junction.

SUNDAY TRAINS

SOUTHERN DIVISION

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6.49 | 7.30 | 9.00 | 10.00 |
| 7.22 | 8.05 | 10.00 | 10.37 |
| 8.48 | 9.49 | 11.30 | 12.07 |
| 9.20 | 10.15 | 1.00 | 1.37 |
| 10.50 | 11.33 | 5.00 | 6.02 |
| 2.25 | 3.27 | 7.30 | 8.08 |
| 5.10 | 6.00 | 8.30 | 9.08 |
| 6.28 | 7.10 | 9.00 | 10.02 |
| 7.52 | 8.35 | 10.20 | 11.35 |

SUNDAY TRAINS

WESTERN DIVISION

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 8.20 | 9.24 | 8.00 | 9.08 |
| 12.10 | 1.25 | 12.00 | 1.00 |
| 3.50 | 5.00 | 2.15 | 3.23 |
| 5.45 | 7.00 | 3.30 | 4.40 |
| 8.50 | 10.02 | 5.20 | 6.38 |
| | | 8.40 | 9.42 |

LOCAL NEWS

You want printing; Tobin's Printery.

Hicks, eye expert, 137 Central street.

Dr. Walker, dentist, Central block.

Undertaker Finnegan, Davis sq. Tel.

Interest begins Saturday, May 1, at The Central Savings Bank.

When placing insurance consult J. F. Donohoe, Donovan building. Tel.

Teeth extracted without pain by the Obtundine system of painless dentistry, Dr. Gagnon, 466 Merrimack street.

The trade journals are taking notice of Humphrey O'Sullivan's scheme of advertising the Merrimack Clothing store in the Boston papers. The Fourth Estate is among the journals that takes special notice of this departure.

Lowell Institution for Savings, 18 Shattuck street, was incorporated in 1829 and this month completes its 80th year. It has paid its depositors 169 consecutive dividends and over $8,000,000 in interest. This is a record worth consideration. Deposits begin to draw interest Saturday, May 1.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Proprietor—JULIUS CAHN—Mgr.

FRIDAY, April 30

M. Paul Cazeneuve and Company, Presenting

"FAUST"

(In French)

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c. Seats on sale.

Saturday, May 1 Matinee Night

Henry D. Carey, in the Thrilling Western Drama

"MONTANA"

A Complete Scenic Production

Matinee prices, 10c to 25c. Evening prices, 15c, 25c, 35c and 50c. Seats on sale.

HATHAWAY'S

CLOSING WEEK OF VAUDEVILLE

MR. EDWARD EDWARDS
In "All Rivers Meet at the Sea"
ELSIE HARVEY and HER BOYS
JAMES and LUCIA COOHER
J. WARREN KEANE
LONG ACRE QUARTET
ROBERT DUMONT TRIO
HATHASCOPE
WORMWOOD'S DOGS and MONKEYS

Matinees at 2.30. Evenings at 8.15
Ladies' Orchestra Seats, Matinees, 10c

Pianos from M. Steinert Co.

The Great Turbine Steel Steamships

Harvard and Yale

will resume Service for the Season on the All-the-Way-by-Water Route of the Metropolitan Line between

Boston and New York

on Monday, May 3rd. Leave Boston and New York 5 P. M. every day—15 hours direct between the two Cities. Tickets via the Metropolitan Line to New York and to points beyond will be on sale at all regular Railroad and Steamboat Ticket Offices in the East and throughout the United States. Ask for tickets via the Metropolitan Line.

Academy of Music

HIGH CLASS MOTION PICTURES
NEW ILLUSTRATED SONGS

Performances 2 to 5 and 7 to 10.30 p. m. Continuous performance Saturday, 2 to 10.30 p. m. Admission 5c, with a Good Seat. Reserved Seats 5c Extra.

Theatre Voyons

Today
A Drive for Life
Jack's Successful Bluff
A Fighting Chance
The Day and the Man

"In the Days of Long Ago," and "My Pony Boy," are the songs.
TEN CENTS—THAT'S ALL

A BUNCH OF KEYS, lost in postoffice. Reward if returned to office at 125 Perry st.

CAPABLE WOMAN, wanted at once for light general housework. References required. Reply before Saturday. Address B, Sun office.

5-ROOM TENEMENT to let, clean, sunny, dry cellar, city water, nice view, hen house, also 12,000 feet land for garden. $8. Carl Palm, 21 Johnson st., off Varnum avenue.

A WOMAN FOR WASHING and scrubbing wanted. Inquire at S. Cohen, 119 Howard st.

1 TOP STITCHER, 2 BACK STAYERS wanted on Wheeler & Wilson Post machines, apply, Federal Shoe Co., Dix st.

TURKISH NEWS

Continued

SULTAN IS DEPOSED IN FAVOR OF BROTHER

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—Abdul Hamid II has been deposed as sultan of the Turkish empire. Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, his brother, will be proclaimed his successor, probably by 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The deposition will be through the regular form prescribed by the tenets of the Mohammedan faith. It is understood that the sheik-ul-Islam, the head of the church, will issue the decree of deposition.

The news of the deposition of Abdul Hamid and the selection of his brother to succeed him caused great excitement throughout Constantinople.

Crowds at once began to gather in the principal squares and thoroughfares and around the imperial palace of Yildiz in anticipation of the proclamation of a new sultan.

A TERRIBLE MASSACRE IN VILAYET OF ADANA

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—The following account of the disorders at Adana has been received here by telegraph from the Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, a missionary:

"The entire vilayet of Adana has been visited during the past five days by a terrible massacre of Armenians, the worst ever known in the history of the district. The terror has been universal and the government is powerless to check the disorders. Adana, the capital of the province, has been the storm center.

Conditions have been unsettled for some time past and there has been animosity between Turks and Armenians owing to the political activity of the latter and their open purchasing of arms.

"Early last Wednesday while I was in the market I noticed that the Armenians were closing their shops and hurrying to their homes. An Armenian and a Turk had been killed during the night and the corpses were paraded through their respective quarters. The sight of the dead inflamed the inhabitants and crowds began to gather in the streets armed with sticks, axes and knives. A few young Armenians assembled in the center of the covered market and began firing revolver shots into the air. By 1 a. m. the crowd had begun the looting of shops.

"The military commander of Adana was by my side in the market when the firing began. He had not the courage to disperse the mob; he returned to his residence and did not venture out for two days.

"William Chambers, field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and myself proceeded to the Konak and found a howling mob demanding arms with which to kill the Giaours. We then went to the telegraph office to summons the British consul. On the steps of the building we saw three dead Armenians. Their bodies had been mutilated. While we were in the telegraph office a mob burst into the room where we were and killed two Armenians before our eyes. The unfortunate ones were supplicating the protection of the vali when they were struck down.

"We managed to make our way into the next room where we made representations to the vali. This official said he could do nothing. He was afraid of his own life and he made no attempt to protect us. Somehow we managed to get to the interior of the Konak where we remained at the side of the government officials for the next 48 hours. That afternoon the situation grew distinctly worse. The Armenians withdrew to their quarter of Adana which is situated on a hill and converted their houses into fortresses. Here the fighting went on for two days, the Armenians beating off their Turkish assailants.

Wednesday evening Major Daughty-Wylie, the British vice consul at Mersina arrived at Adana and established headquarters in the house of a dragoman of a wealthy Greek resident, where many refugees had been received. The wife of the British consul who was brought into Adana under fire on Thursday, attended personally to many wounded women and children.

"Adana was a hell. The bazaars were looted and set on fire. There was continuous shooting and killing in every part of the town, and fires raged in many quarters. Moslems from the neighborhood began pouring into the city and notwithstanding our vehement protests the vali distributed arms to these men, alleging that they were Turkish reserves.

"Major Daughty-Wylie at the head of troops which he compelled the vali to supply, went to the railroad end of the town and was successful in preventing the villagers from coming into Adana. Later while the major was attempting to pacify the town he was shot and disabled.

"Missionaries of the Central Turkey mission had assembled for a district conference in the center of Adana on the day of the outbreak. They received and protected hundreds of refugees in the American seminary for girls and courageously endeavored to pacify the warring elements.

"On Thursday Daniel M. Rogers and Harry Maurer, American missionaries, were killed under treacherous circumstances.

"On Friday the Armenians yielded since when there has been little murdering.

"Adana is in a pitiable condition. The town has been pillaged and destroyed and thousands of homeless people here are without means of livelihood. It is impossible to estimate the number of killed. The corpses lie scattered through the streets. Friday when I went out I had to pick my way between the dead to avoid stepping on them. Saturday morning I counted a dozen cart-loads of Armenian bodies in one-half hour being carried to the river and thrown into the water. In Turkish cemeteries graves are being dug wholesale.

"The condition of the refugees is pitiable and heart-rending. Not only are there orphans and widows beyond number but a great many, even the babies, are suffering from severe wounds.

"The situation in Adana itself is unspeakable. On Friday afternoon 250 so-called Turkish reserves without officers seized a train at Adana and compelled the engineer to convey them to Tarsus where they took part in the complete destruction of the Armenian quarter of that town, which is the best part of Tarsus. Their work of looting was thorough and rapid. It is said that they spread with kerosene and fired the great historic Armenian church at Tarsus, the most important building in the city. They demolished marble statues and shattered historic tablets. Everything portable was carried away, but the church itself resisted the attempts to burn. Fortunately few persons were killed here. This was owing to the proximity of the American college where 4000 destitute and homeless persons had sought and found shelter.

REV. H. A. GIBBONS IS A YOUNG MINISTER

BOSTON, April 27.—Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, the missionary who has telegraphed the details of the Adana massacres, is a teacher in St. Paul's Institute at Tarsus, a college maintained by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. Rev. Thomas D. Christie, who has been a missionary of the board since his graduation from Andover theological institute in 1877 is its president.

Rev. Mr. Gibbons is a young man, having been graduated from Beloit college only recently. After graduation he went to Paris to pursue further studies and the understanding is that he was engaged as a teacher by President Christie while abroad. A daughter of President Christie was the wife of D. Miner Rogers who was killed at Adana.

LAST NIGHT'S EVENTS IN TURKISH CAPITOL

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—The deposition of Sultan Abdul Hamid appears now to be certain and the 101 guns saluting Mahemmed Rechad Effendi as the new ruler of the empire probably will be heard before the next selamlik on Friday. The dignitaries of the church care as little for Abdul Hamid as does the committee of union and progress, but the higher clergy are seeking to curb the agitation of the enthusiasts of the Mohammedan league. Senators and deputies who have inquired among the Ulemas find them in different degrees favorable to the sultan's removal. A caucus of senators and deputies yesterday determined to make an effort to compel him to abdicate under the ecclesiastical law, by the terms of which a decree may be issued by the Sheik-Ul-Islam, the highest authority of Mohammedanism next o the sultan, pronouncing the sultan incapable of ruling.

The grounds upon which the issuance of a canonical rescript will be demanded are that the sultan's supremacy is harmful to the church, contrary to the sacred law and unjust to the Turkish people. The program as agreed upon at the caucus is that a demand shall be made for the abdication of Abdul Hamid simultaneously from the highest court of the church, from the national assembly and from the military chiefs. The sultan will be offered a palace and liberal allowances.

The parliamentary leaders wish to discuss this program at a public sitting before they approach the Sheik-Ul-Islam on the subject, for it is with this man, who lives a secluded life of a mysterious, semi-holy character, in the popular belief, that the difficulty lies. He is not likely to act without giving serious consideration to this important matter, taking counsel with the principal Ulema and seeking the opinion of the wisest and most powerful men in the church.

The constitutionalists have no wish to oppose ecclesiastical authority nor to undertake the tasks of progress without the support of a majority of the wise men, and if they strongly oppose the abdication of the sultan, it would hardly be insisted upon at present, although this is regarded as the simplest course to avoid further complications with Abdul Hamid.

Mahemmed Rechad Effendi, the heir apparent to the throne, who would probably be selected for the succession, has lived practically a prisoner for 25 years in the large palace and gardens not far from the Yildiz Kiosk. Since the July revolution, however, he has often been in the streets of Constantinople, looking from the carriage windows upon the scenes in the thoroughfares which must have been strangely interesting to him. He is very bearded and not very strong, to judge from his appearance. He is 65 years of age and well educated, although inexperienced in the affairs of the world.

Yesterday afternoon witnessed the final act in the siege of the Yildiz, General Schefket, commander of the constitutionalists, over-awing the Albanians into surrender. This force, which was composed of 200 men, was stationed in the imperial palace. The Albanians were not engaged in the fighting on Saturday, but they persistently refused to lay down their arms. General Schefket sent up a strong force of Macedonians and six field-guns were placed in a prominent position above the palace. Other guns were disposed on the neighboring heights, with troops commanding all the approaches.

The sad day continued, however, to ... until 2 o'clock, when the ... slowly down ... making place for the white token of surrender. A few minutes later a crowd of fugitives were seen running down the dusty road, leading to Beshiktash, where they were fastened together with ropes and conducted under escort to the headquarters of the commission of inquiry. The prisoners included domestics, eunuchs, pages, secretaries and practically the entire male staff of the palace, as well as the famous Fusiliers, the special bodyguard of the sultan. The ... were arrested in disguise at Sinaia and severely handled and subjected to indignities.

The Salonikis showed great severity. Many of the arrested softas, credited with being reactionaries, have been brutally treated. The vigorous search continues ... the European countries. It is estimated now that at least 10,000 prisoners are in the hands of the Salonikins. Those liable to severe punishment, such as the rebellious Saloniki chasseurs, have been securely roped. Among the civilians arrested are: Maurad Bey, editor of the Mizan, Abdurrahman Effendi, assistant minister of finance, and several high officials of the Porte. A number of reactionary newspapers have been suppressed.

Fresh battalions continue to arrive from the country districts. They came in yesterday, marched to the palace of justice where the parliament was sitting and saluted the representatives of the new government. Many of the soldiers went to the mosques yesterday to pray.

Most of the American tourists have left the city. Ambassador Leishman, who has received many telegrams inquiring whether it is safe to come to Constantinople, has replied to these that such course would be inadvisable, as the city is under martial law. Nevertheless, several Americans reached here yesterday, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Moore.

The condition of Frederick Moore, the American correspondent, who was shot while watching the fighting on Saturday, is causing anxiety. His wound may prove to be more serious than at first supposed. The surgeons in attendance will not be able for two or three days to give a definite opinion as to whether his spine is injured.

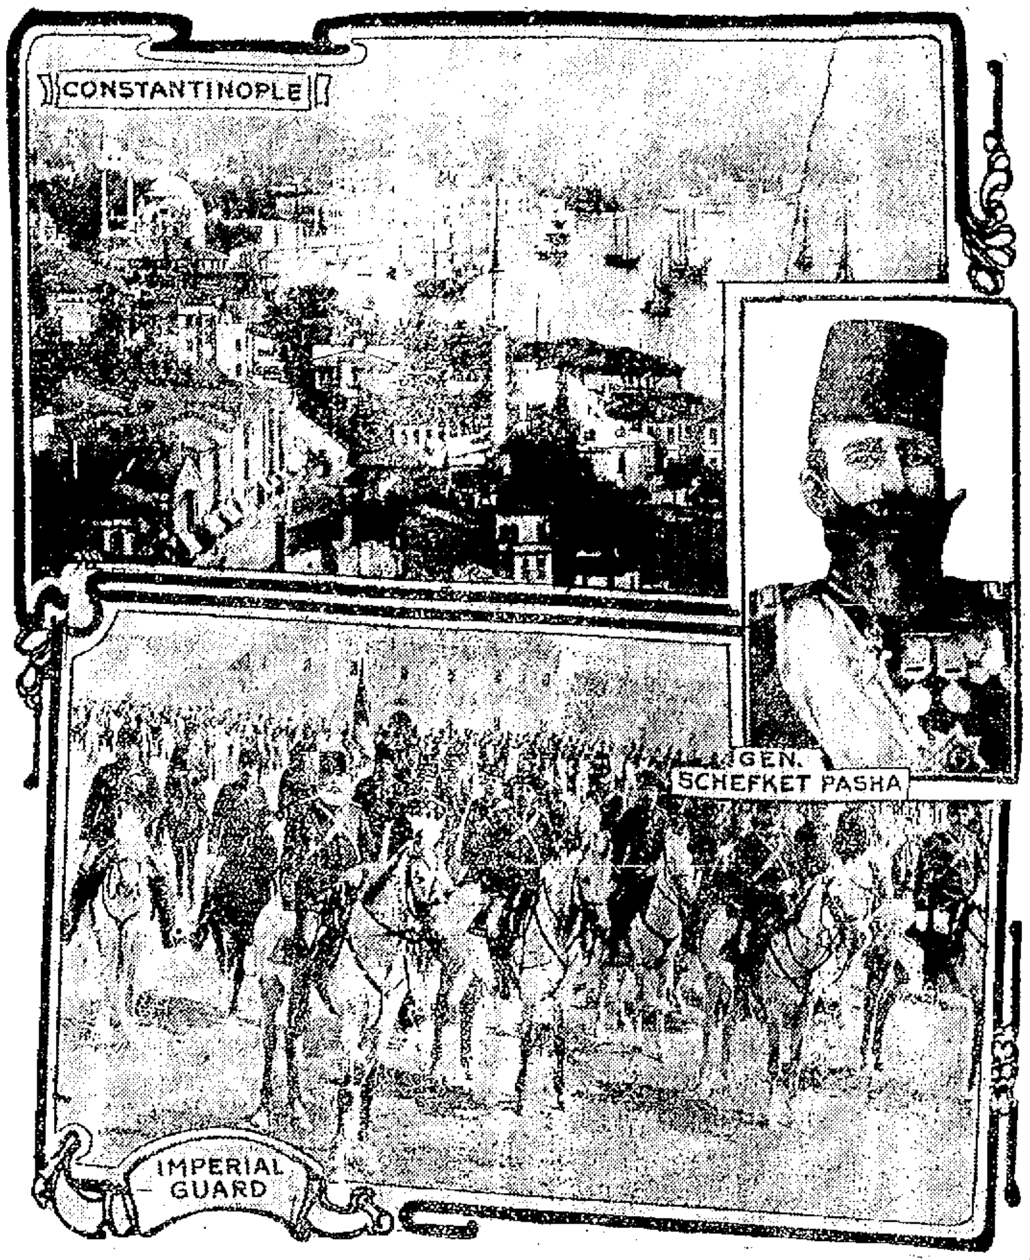

Alexander Girgalou, first dragoman of the American embassy, who also was wounded by a stray bullet, is improving. He was able yesterday to go from his residence to the hospital to have his wound dressed, and it is expected will be well in a fortnight.

Booth, the London Daily Graphic artist and correspondent, is able to sit up in bed, and was engaged in sketching street scenes.

Tewfik Pasha, the grand vizier, and the other members of the cabinet, resigned yesterday, but their resignations were not acted upon. Tahir Pasha, one of the commanders of the Yildiz garrison, has been degraded and dismissed from the army. Numerous other officials of the palace have been dismissed, while many women of the sultan's harem, with their families, have been sent away.

The senate and chamber of deputies, in joint session, requested the ministers to remain in office for some days longer.

Gen. Schefket last night issued a proclamation, announcing that the instigators of the recent crimes, including those who have been guilty of stirring up a feeling of discontent, will be exterminated as the worst enemies of the country, in accordance with Sheriat and the unanimous wish of the nation, and that measures will be taken to prevent the propagation of the subversive ideas. The proclamation concludes with the assurance that peace will be maintained and the people will remain tranquil.

GEN. BABCOCK

NEW YORK, April 27.—Brig. Gen. Breckenbridge Babcock, U. S. A., retired, died at sea aboard the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, which arrived here today from Bremen. Gen Babcock's death occurred yesterday from Bright's disease. His body was brought to port on the steamer. Mrs. Babcock and their son Franklin accompanied the general to Europe some time ago in the hope that the trip might improve the general's health.

Gen. Babcock was born in Louisiana in 1843. He served in New York regiments during the civil war and emerged with the rank of major. He was appointed to the regulars from Connecticut as a second lieutenant in '66, and finally attained the rank of brigadier general in 1903, being retired at his own request in the same year. During the Spanish-American war he was a brigadier general of volunteers.

I Wish to Announce

to the general public that I am prepared to do plastering, whitening and whitewashing and general jobbing of all kinds in this line. Reasonable prices and satisfaction guaranteed.

JAMES LARGY
23 RICHMOND STREET, CITY

SOOTHING WASH CURES ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen Compound Solves a Vexing Medical Problem

One of the most vexing problems in all medicine appears at last to have been solved by the most simple of all remedies. Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded with thymol, glycerine and other mild healing liquids, tones up the healthy skin while killing and ultimately removing the eczema germs.

This compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription, has now so thoroughly proven its efficacy that druggists recommend it unhesitatingly.

The Sheriff of Franklin Co., Frankfort, Ky., Mr. W. H. Graham, writes, "My twelve-year-old daughter had been suffering with an aggravated form of eczema for more than two years. We had her under the care of the best physicians here. Upon getting no relief, we were induced to try D. D. D. Prescription.

"She was entirely relieved. It has now been more than one year since she ceased the use of the Remedy, and no sign of the trouble has appeared."

We recommend D. D. D. Prescription to all sufferers from eczema. Carter & Sherburne, Falls & Burkinshaw and Ellingwood & Co.

WALTER E. GUYETTE. Auctioneer

Office, Rooms 77-78 Central Block. Tel. 2415.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

OF A COTTAGE HOUSE, NO. 14 PENN AVE., OFF LINCOLN STREET, LOWELL, SATURDAY, MAY 1, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

I will offer for sale by the order of the mortgagee, at the appointed time, a cottage house and about 2200 square feet of land, more or less, situated within seven minutes' walk from Gorham street. The property comprises a six-room house, bath room, gas, city water, electric door bell, etc. The house is in perfect repair inside and out, only recently the present owner added a large piazza running the whole side of the house. There are six fruit trees that will bear this year. If you are looking for a home in a good location, where it requires but little money, be sure and attend this sale. It is just what you want.

Terms: $200 to be deposited with the auctioneer as soon as struck off, other terms at sale.

By order of LOWELL CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee,
By William D. Brown, Treasurer.

WEISS IN COURT

Was Charged With Disturbing the Peace

Max Weiss, the second hand clothing dealer who has come into the lime light because of the fact that he has an overcoat hanging outside of his store which is stolen periodically, was in police court again this morning, but this time instead of being the complainant in the case, he is a defendant, he and Abraham Deshefsky, of Boston, having been arrested for disturbing the peace.

The cases were called for trial this morning but on the request of counsel they were postponed till Thursday.

Weiss and the Boston man got into an argument at the corner of Middlesex and Howard streets last night and had succeeded in attracting quite a large crowd when Patrolman Frank Donovan put in an appearance and sent both men to the police station. As is usual each man blames the other and the case is so mixed up that there is sure to be something doing when the cases are heard Thursday.

Locked Out in the Cold

"Won't you open dat door and let me in, I'm out here freezing cold to the skin," was the refrain which John Gillis was singing outside his house on the Tremont & Suffolk corporation about ten minutes after one o'clock this morning when Special Officer John Mahan put in an appearance. Gillis was under the influence of liquor and was placed under arrest.

In court this morning he explained that owing to the fact that he has an artificial limb he has had considerable difficulty in securing work and went out to North Chelmsford last night to look for a job. He arrived in Lowell shortly before eleven o'clock and managed to connect with a couple of "four masted" schooners before closing time. He then wended his way towards his domicile. He rang the bell but received no response. He rang it again and again, and then again and he kept on ringing but his wife refused to open the door. He said: "I ring the bell but she would not open the house so I was waiting around for her to open the house."

He was sentenced to four months in jail, from which decision he appealed and was held for the superior court.

Milk Below the Standard

John Constantopolous entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with having milk below the standard in his possession. In fact the milk was very poor, analysis showing that there was but 9.92 per cent. of solids while the standard is 12.15 per cent. He was fined the usual amount, $15.

Drunken Offenders

Mary A. Kelley was in for the third time within two months and she will spend the next four months in jail.

Four first offenders were each fined $2 and four simple drunks were released before the opening of the court.

BADLY INJURED

Girl Was Testing Rope Fire Escape

WELLESLEY, April 27.—By the breaking of a rope fire escape, Miss Jeanette Tandy of Vevay, Ind., a sophomore at Wellesley college, fell two stories striking on her back and head and sustaining serious injuries. She was taken to the hospital conscious and suffering great pain.

The accident happened in Stone hall, one of the college dormitories, about 8 a. m. Within the past year every room in the college has been equipped with rope fire escapes and it is compulsory on every student to make at least one descent by the rope under the direction of one of the captains of the college fire brigade. This morning Miss Tandy under the direction of Miss Julia Locke, a senior, the captain of the Stone hall fire brigade, started to make the descent by the rope from the second floor. The fire escape was hung on the inside of the building near the staircase. Miss Tandy, who is rather heavy, had just swung over the railing on the second floor when the rope broke and she fell to the bottom floor some thirty feet below. She struck on her back and the back of her head. She was conscious when picked up but appeared to be in great pain. She was taken immediately to the Wellesley hospital. The extent of her injuries has not been determined although it is believed that she was badly hurt.

RACES TODAY

WON BY AVALANCHE II. OVER NOTED HORSES

NEWMARKET, April 27.—The first spring two-year-old stakes of ten sovereigns each with two hundred sovereigns added, distance four furlongs, was run here today and won by Avalanche II. East Pool was second, and LeCroisette third. Among the fifteen starters were H. P. Whitney's Oversight and C. Carroll's Truckee.

BENHALL'S WINE OF OLIVES

For the thin, pale, tired, or sufferers from dyspepsia. Makes both fat and muscle, and aids digestion in a remarkable way. Gives health and strength to the weak.

Prepared by BENHALL OLIVE CO., Lowell, Mass. For Sale by Leading Druggists.

"Hello," 1485 please. "Is this Keyes' Auction Room?" "Yes sir." "Have you any upright pianos in your furniture sale Thursday?" "Yes, there are three nice ones." "What else is there?" "Oh! there is a roll top desk, several brass beds, leather couch, lot of carpets and art squares, piazza chairs and fancy rockers, square pianos and organs, camp chairs and settees, and there are four elegant pieces of antique furniture." "Better come down and look them over." "Are you open in the evening?" "Yes sir." "What time does the sale commence Thursday?" "At 1.30 sharp." "Thank you, good-bye."

EAT CORNED BEEF, CABBAGE, PORK AND ONIONS FOR DINNER

Do you crave for a good old fashioned New England boiled dinner?

Corned beef and cabbage and pork and beets and onions and turnips?

There may be a few readers of the Sun who will turn up their noses and sniff contemptuously, but if they do it's because they have never faced the good old kind like mother used to make.

But there are thousands of people in this world who won't eat a New England boiled dinner because they can't digest it.

And these people ought to know at once that Mi-o-na tablets, the quick acting and guaranteed cure for indigestion, will put the stomach in such a clean and perfectly healthy condition in a few days that they will be able to eat and digest a New England boiled dinner or any other kind of a dinner.

Carter & Sherburne sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box and they guarantee it to cure indigestion, catarrh of the stomach or any chronic or acute stomach trouble or money back.

Mrs. Susan Rea, says: "For months I endured the pains and agony of the stomach that I could not digest and my appetite got bad. I doctored without relief or success until I used a treatment of Mi-o-na. This remedy cured my trouble entirely and I can, since using Mi-o-na partake of any kind of food that I wish." 30 Pratt St., Pontiac, Mich.

Mi-o-na is a wonder worker. It instantly stops distress after eating; turns a sour stomach into a sweet one; stops belching and heartburn. Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

THE WEATHER

Showers and warmer tonight. Wednesday showers, followed by clearing in the afternoon or night; light easterly to southerly winds increasing and becoming westerly Wednesday.

THE LOWELL SUN

6 O'CLOCK

ESTABLISHED 1878 — LOWELL MASS. TUESDAY APRIL 27 1909 — PRICE ONE CENT

NIGHT EDITION

THE HAINS TRIAL

The Work of Securing the Jury Was Resumed Today

FLUSHING, N. Y., April 27.—When court convened today with ten jurors in the box for the trial of Captain Peter Hains, jr., charged with the killing of William E. Annis, it was expected that the two jurors remaining to be chosen would be secured during the day. It was announced that should the jury box be filled a reasonable time before the usual hour for adjournment the state would immediately present its case. District Attorney Dwight declared that his opening address would be brief.

Peter Hains, third son of the captain who has not seen his father since the captain's arrest seven months ago, is now on his way to New York where he will join his grandmother, Mrs. Peter Hains, sr., and come with her to Flushing.

DEFENSE OPENS

Jordan's Counsel Claims That He is Insane

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—The presence in the court house today of his parents and other members of his family seemed to cheer Chester Jordan as he settled himself to listen to the evidence in his trial for the murder of his wife. The Jordan family waited until the defense was about to begin before appearing and today they remained in an anteroom until the cross-examination of a couple of government witnesses had been concluded before coming into the court room. As there remained a few questions to be asked of some of the medical examiners, Dr. Thomas Durrell and Dr. Swan, both of Middlesex county, were recalled. The former admitted that he could not state positively the exact cause of the death of Mrs. Jordan, although he was fairly sure that the wounds on the head, strangulation and the cut found on the throat all combined to bring about the result.

"I am positive that Mrs. Jordan's death was caused by violence," said Dr. Durrell as he left the stand.

Dr. Swan, who followed, was asked a number of hypothetical questions regarding death by violence caused by blows on the brain, strangulation and cuts on the throat, but as a rule he was non-committal.

The declaration that the defense will call to the stand medical experts, who will controvert the evidence given by the prosecution's experts, was the feature of the opening for the defense which was made by Harvey H. Pratt when the session was resumed. Mr. Pratt, after explaining the different degrees of murder, and laying stress on the question of reasonable doubt and the presumption of innocence until a man is proven guilty, stated that Dr. William Councilman of the Harvard Medical school would testify for the defense that Mrs. Jordan's death was not caused by blows on the head; that a fracture of the skull is of no importance unless the brain is affected and that such was not the case in this instance.

The claim of the government, that the murder was premeditated, Mr. Pratt said, had not yet been shown. He claimed that neither deliberation, premeditation nor atrocity had been proven. While speaking on this point he was interrupted by Dist. Atty. Higgins, who inquired of the court if the opening arguments were not being unduly prolonged, but Mr. Pratt was permitted to proceed.

"I shall ask the court," he said, "to instruct you that where no positive or definite cause of death has been shown the verdict must be in the second degree."

Mr. Pratt sketched briefly the life of Jordan, noting his birth in Indianapolis 29 years ago and stating that he did not act like other boys, that he was an invalid for some years through an injury to his head, that he was backward in his studies, that he was subject to fits in his younger days and that a cousin committed suicide.

The climax of Mr. Pratt's opening came with his announcement that Jordan was suffering not only at the time of the death of his wife but at the present time with epileptic insanity, a disease, according to Mr. Pratt, which renders a person incapable of knowing what he is doing or being responsible for his actions.

Mr. Pratt closed a few minutes later and introduced Dr. William T. Councilman of the Harvard medical school as the first witness.

Dr. Councilman said that he was unable to determine from an examination of the body of Mrs. Jordan the exact cause of death. He found no traces of strangulation, said that the marks on the head were not sufficient, while regarding the cut on the throat he could not determine whether it was made before or after death. He found no traces of blood in the Jordan home.

The government's theory regarding the cut in the throat was indicated in the cross examination when Dr. Councilman was asked whether he would look for blood when the head and shoulders were held over a tub and the throat cut while in that position. Dr. Councilman said that he would not.

NORMAL SCHOOL

Educational Campaign for Boys Discussed

John E. Gunckel of Toledo, Miss Jane Day and Lee F. Hammer of New York, spoke at the Normal school this afternoon in connection with the great educational campaign for boys. All three are noted workers in their special line and for several days past have been interesting Boston people in the movement. They were greeted by a large audience at the Normal school. After the exercises there, they were scheduled to speak at a public meeting in High school hall at 4.30.

MINE OWNERS

SCRANTON, Pa., April 27.—An agreement between the anthracite mine owners and the mine workers will be signed at a meeting to be held in the Reading Terminal building in Philadelphia on Thursday afternoon unless present plans fail. The tri-district convention of the union mine workers met in the court house here this afternoon to act on the proposition already agreed on by the representatives of the men. The agreement expected to be signed in Philadelphia provides for the removal of another period for another three years of the old agreement with a few concessions to the miners.

ORDER OF GOLDEN CROSS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—Routine business matters were the only subjects of interest under discussion at the 25th annual session of the grand commandery of Rhode Island, United Order of the Golden Cross, held here today. Subordinate commanderies of this jurisdiction were present.

Officers were elected later in the afternoon.

All Run Down? Pale? Nervous?

All run down, easily tired, thin, pale, nervous? And do not know what to take? Then go direct to your doctor. Ask his opinion of Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. No alcohol, no stimulation. A blood purifier, a nerve tonic, a strong alterative, an aid to digestion. Let your doctor decide.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE BABBITT CO.
OPTOMETRISTS,
Expert Work—Reasonable Prices
Eyesight Specialists in Attendance. Any Lens Duplicated. Try Our Prices.
81 Merrimack st., Cor. John (Over Lawler's)

CURTIN & SPILLANE
Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters
Estimates Cheerfully Given
26 ANDOVER ST. Tel. 2429

SULTAN A PRISONER

In Hands of Young Turks Taken to Asia Minor

Deposed in Favor of His Brother—A Salute of 101 Guns Announced to People of Constantinople Change in Sultanate—Fresh Outbreak of Fanaticism at Adana

The young Turks have scored a complete coup in deposing the sultan and sending him a prisoner to Asia Minor.

Abdul Hamid III, sultan of Turkey, was today deposed from the throne of the Ottoman empire by his subjects for his interference with the progress of popular government under constitution granted by him last July, and the brother, Mehemmed Reschad Effendi now occupies the throne.

This change was decided upon by the national assembly without a dissenting voice and it was carried out with the utmost rapidity. The sultan is now a prisoner in the hands of the Young Turks and carefully guarded by his captors.

The formal decree removing Abdul Hamid from all power over the Turkish empire was issued by the sheik-ul-islam, the head of the church, in the regular form prescribed by the tenets of the Mohammedan faith.

The city of Constantinople is alive with excitement and throngs of the populace fill the streets. A number of arrests have been made but the change of sovereigns has been effected without disorder of any kind.

A salute of 101 guns announcing the end of the reign of Abdul Hamid and the beginning of that of Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, was fired at half past two o'clock this afternoon.

SULTAN IS A PRISONER

LONDON, April 27.—A despatch received here by the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Constantinople, says that troops under the command of Young Turk officers entered the sultan's palace last night and took his majesty prisoner. Later, closely guarded, he was removed to the Cheraghan palace of the Bosphorous.

SULTAN TAKEN TO ASIA MINOR

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—It is reported here that the sultan has been removed from the imperial palace and conveyed across the Bosphorous to a point in Asiatic Turkey.

SALUTE TO THE PEOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—A salute of 101 guns fired at half past two o'clock this afternoon announced to the waiting populace of Constantinople the change in the sultanate.

FRESH OUTBURST OF FANATICISM

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—There was a fresh outburst of fanaticism and murder last night at Adana accompanied by looting and incendiarism. The situation is critical.

50 TURKISH OFFICERS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—Fifty Turkish officers have been arrested at Erzeroum by their troops and dispatched under escort to Trebizond.

The exact significance of this action is not yet clear but it is feared that it means the beginning of the revolt of the provincial troops against the young Turk officers.

The written declaration of the sheik-ul-islam authorizing the dethronement of Abdul Hamid reached parliament house at ten minutes past ten o'clock. Five minutes later parliament pronounced the deposition of Abdul Hamid and at 10.50, forty minutes after the receipt of the decision of the head of the church the national assembly invited Mehemmed Reschad Effendi to succeed to the throne.

THE NEW SULTAN DESCRIBED BY FRIEND

LONDON, April 27.—A person who is well acquainted with Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, the new sultan of Turkey, gives the following sketch of the brother of Abdul Hamid.

"He is tall and well proportioned but inclined to stoop. His features are regular but he has a hooked nose like that of Abdul. His eyes are blue and his hair and beard are light red. His manners are gracious and easy and he is exceedingly generous and kind. He is not at all fanatical but he is sincerely religious. He plays well on the piano and he is a great admirer of classical music.

"Like the deposed sultan, the new ruler of Turkey is a good draftsman and he sketches well. He has two wives and several children, three of whom are boys. His wives are both highly educated and are the daughters of distinguished pashas. They dress at home in the French fashion."

Continued to last page.

POLAND WATER
For Sale by
GEO. A. WILLSON & CO.
F. and E. BAILEY & CO.

LOWELL INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS
INCORPORATED 1829
THE OLD LOWELL SAVINGS BANK
INTEREST BEGINS MAY 1
18 SHATTUCK ST.

INTEREST BEGINS SATURDAY, MAY 1
—AT—
THE CENTRAL SAVINGS BANK
55 CENTRAL STREET

HAS NO SCHOOL

But He Received Sum of $380

ORANGE, N. J., April 27.—Having tried hard for the last eight months to provide a job for Edwin S. Brady, one of its principals, that would be somewhere near commensurate with the salary it was forced to pay him, the board of education has at last given it up and the principal in question will receive $380 of the taxpayers' money without giving any services in return for it. He was principal of the night school, but the night school all winter was a feeble institution at best and on account of lack of attendance the board has directed that it be closed.

Brady was principal of the Cleveland street school last year, but for reasons that the board deemed sufficient it decided not to reappoint him, naming Stanley C. Dukeshire in his place. Brady had a host of friends among parents and he made such a fight that the board reconsidered its action and appointed him principal at a salary of $1900, though not naming the school he was to take charge of. The contract had been made with Dukeshire by that time and he was placed in charge of the Cleveland street school. In order to give Brady a berth the night school plan was hit upon, but the population of Orange is not the kind that takes readily to the night school.

Brady's $380 represents two months salary from now till the end of the school year, or June 30.

It was suggested that in order to make himself useful Brady might take a school census, but he refused on the ground that he was named as a principal and as a principal only would he serve the city.

STOLE A SAFE

Robbers Found They Could Not Open It

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., April 27.—Early yesterday morning an automobile party came here and told the authorities that while they were stopped for repairs out near O. H. P. Belmont's place a wagon was driven hastily out of a patch of woods near there and out across the Hempstead plains at a fast rate. They reported it, they said, because the action was so suspicious.

Yesterday morning the explanation was obtained. Some time Sunday night burglars after obtaining a crowbar and some other tools from a blacksmith's shop broke into the Meadowbrook hotel, kept by Paul Lonzer. They loaded into a wagon a safe which must have taken four men to handle, the cash register, a slit machine and some whiskey and cigars.

When the robbery was reported deputy sheriffs went in the direction the wagon had gone and in a clump of woods they found the cash register and the slot machine broken open and empty.

The safe was there also. It hadn't been robbed, but the men had battered it so that it will take an expert to open it. Mr. Lonzer says there is about three hundred dollars in it.

The robbers evidently became frightened when they heard the automobile. On the line of flight across the plains the deputy sheriffs found some of the whiskey bottles that had been jolted out of the wagon and broken.

BABCOCK DEAD

Member of Congress for 14 Years

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Former Representative Babcock of Wisconsin for 14 years a member of the lower house of congress and for many years chairman of the national republican congressional committee, died at his home here at 9.45 a. m. today. He was 59 years old.

The Best Housewife

Demands that her home shall be cleaned with a Vacuum Cleaner.

Every bit of dirt is sucked up into the cleaner and taken out of the house to be destroyed.

We let a Vacuum Cleaner by the day.

Lowell Electric Light Corp.
50 CENTRAL STREET

THE HOTEL MEN

Called as Witnesses at the Police Board Hearing

The respondents opened their side of the police board hearing this morning and among the witnesses summoned were local hotel men.

When the hearing was resumed this forenoon Supt. Moffatt, who was being cross-examined by Mr. Burke when the hearing adjourned last evening, was recalled.

Mr. Moffatt was asked relative to the sandwich law cases; the two in which juries disagreed and the others that were thrown out by the district attorney.

Asked if he had given the hotel men the true interpretation of the law, Mr. Moffatt said: "I think not—I do not know now what the true interpretation of the law is."

Mr. Moffatt said he gave to the hotel men the interpretation given by Fred N. Wier, former district attorney and ex-police commissioner. Asked as to the condition of the police force at the present time, as to discipline, activity and ability to perform required duties, Supt. Moffatt said that the department is in fine shape; discipline good and everything is harmonious.

As to the enforcement of the liquor laws in Lowell during the year 1908, Mr. Moffatt said that they were more rigidly enforced than ever before in the history of the department, and he said that the licensed places so far as he knew were all living up to the law.

Asked as to the work of the present police board, he said it had devoted two or three times as much time to the work of the department than any other police board of which he had any knowledge.

As to the honesty, earnestness and sincerity of the present police commissioners in the performance of their duties, Mr. Moffatt said, speaking from his experience and association with them, that he believed them to be thoroughly honest and sincere.

Mr Moffatt's cross examination through with, the defence started in on its case. The hotel men were present and were sworn.

Henry W. Garrity of the Old Washington Tavern was the first witness.

"Were you called to the mayor's office with others, in February?" asked Mr. Burke.

"I was."

"Did you know of anything to bring about, or that might have brought about, that invitation that you got to come to the mayor's office?"

"I did not know of anything."

"Did you hear the mayor say anything about the summonses that were sent out by the police board to the hotel men?"

"I did not. I was late in arriving."

Asked what was said about the sandwich law, he said that the mayor gave as his opinion that a man who called at a hotel on Sundays or holidays and ordered a sandwich, that the man ought to be entitled to as many drinks as he might feel that he required.

Mayor Brown sought to shake Mr. Garrity in his testimony relative to the sandwich, asking him if what the mayor said wasn't to the effect that a man who resorted to a hotel for food, in good faith, was entitled to drink. Mr. Garrity said the word sandwich was used. He was interested in the sandwich law and he remembered very well what was said concerning it. He said the mayor likened a man going into a hotel for a sandwich to a man going into a restaurant. If a man went into a restaurant and bought a sandwich he would be entitled to buy as many cups of coffee as he desired and he thought the man who bought a sandwich in a hotel was entitled to one, two or more glasses of beer.

Mr. Garrity said he had not been granted a license for this year. He testified to the closing of his hotel between 10 a. m. and 12 m., on Sundays. He said the hotel was not closed, but that no drink was served between those hours. He was requested by the police commissioners to dispense with the sale of drinks during those hours.

Proprietor Cushing

Edward T. Cushing of the Richardson hotel was the next witness. He was asked first relative to the appointments of his hotel and then as to the conference between the hotel men and the mayor.

He said that it was an entire surprise to him when he was invited to come to the mayor's office. The mayor he said, asked him if he had received his summons from the police board for a hearing before that body. He said he had the summons with him and gave it to the mayor.

As to what the mayor had to say about sandwiches and beer, Mr. Cushing said the mayor said that a guest coming to a hotel in good faith, for food, ought to be entitled to one, two or three glasses of beer. By food, he said, the mayor meant sandwiches. The mayor said that he very often made a meal of a sandwich.

Cross examined by counsel for prosecution, Mr. Cushing told, in considerable detail, the location of the dining rooms at his hotel, entrances to them, etc. He was asked a number of questions relative to the testimony given against his hotel in police court. He said he had not yet been granted his license for this year. Asked when he was granted his license last year he said he could not remember the exact date but it was earlier than this.

A recess of ten minutes was taken, and when the hearing was resumed Mr. Cushing, in reply to a question by counsel for prosecution, said he was notified yesterday by Mr. Bent to attend the hearing today.

Mayor's Speeches

Dr. Wm. H. Gallagher was the next witness. He said he knew Mayor Brown very well. He heard the mayor deliver campaign speeches, and from the top of the lunch cart at the corner of Paige and Bridge streets he said he heard the mayor say that he would not stand for liquor licenses going to the agents of breweries and wholesalers, and that he would remove the police board for granting them licenses.

Asked when his attention was first called to the fact that he would be called to testify as to what Mr. Brown said from the top of the lunch cart, he said he did not know just when. It was to Mr. Bent he spoke relative to it. He said he told Mr. Bent that he could not give the mayor's exact words, but that he could give the substance of it.

Asked by counsel for the prosecution if he knew that Mr. Gregg had been going about soliciting persons to come to the hearing to testify as to what they had heard the mayor say during the season of his campaign, witness said he didn't know anything about it.

Witness said that the mayor from the top of the lunch cart said, among other things, that a minister who went to one of the police commissioners to talk about the liquor traffic and hotel business was told to go to a place "where he couldn't shovel snow."

It came to pass that counsel for the prosecution learned that Dr. Gallagher was going to New Bedford this afternoon and when he asked him who was going with him the doctor told him it was none of his business.

Alfred John Walker Gregg was the next witness. He said he knew Mayor Brown and heard his campaign addresses.

He, too, heard the lunch cart speech.

"What did you hear him say?" asked counsel for prosecution.

"I heard him say that he would remove the police board for granting licenses to agents of breweries and wholesalers," said witness.

Cross-examined by counsel for the prosecution, witness said he is now in business in New Bedford. Asked if he had been engaged by Mr. Bent as a professional witness, Mr. Gregg said he had not.

"I will not call him a spotter," said counsel for the prosecution.

"You better not," said Mr. Gregg.

Witness said he had talked with Mr. McGarvey of Bridge street relative to the lunch cart speech. He said, however, that he did not ask him to testify at the hearing, but he did ask him if he remembered what the mayor had said during his delivery of the lunch cart speech.

Witness said he was not receiving any recompense for his services at the hearing, as witness.

Asked by the mayor if he solicited business from liquor dealers, witness said he did not solicit business from anybody.

Asked by the mayor to repeat other things that the mayor said from the top of the lunch cart, witness repeated several unimportant things.

Joseph L. Cronin of the Courier-Citizen identified reports in his paper as reports made by him of speeches made by the mayor during his campaign; two speeches made on the night of Dec. 2, 1908, in which he was quoted as saying that a reorganization of the police department was necessary; that the superintendent of police and police board members were out against him, and that a "clean sweep of the department should be made from the top down."

Mr. Cronin identified another report of a speech made by Mr. Brown on the night of Dec. 3, 1908 and made at the junction of Lakeview and Lilley avenues. In this speech he was quoted as saying that the police department was in need of reorganization and that the department was badly in need of a new superintendent.

John S. Haynes, a Gorham street florist, testified that on Jan. 16, a police officer went to him and told him he could not sell flowers on Sunday.

He said that on the following day he spoke with the mayor over the telephone, and told the mayor he had been ordered not to sell flowers on Sunday. He said he told the mayor he was a news agent and the mayor told him to open up as usual. He said the mayor told him that he, the mayor, would have to go down and take charge of the police department himself.

Cross-examined by counsel for the prosecution witness said it was Officer Giroux who called and told him he could not sell flowers on Sunday. He said the officer told him he would have to close up tight on Sunday.

Continued to page three

HAD HEMORRHAGE

YOUNG MAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AT HOSPITAL

A man about 30 years of age and suffering from a hemorrhage of the lungs was this morning removed in the ambulance from the Bridmar Chambers, corner of Fletcher and Worthen streets, to St. John's hospital. He is in a precarious condition and at the time of writing was unconscious.

Very little could be learned as to the identity of the young man, other than that he gave the name of Conway before becoming unconscious.

He was a stranger at the Bridmar Chambers and how he happened to be in the hallway is not known by the matron of the building. One of the occupants of the building found the man lying in the hallway, blood flowing from his mouth. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital.

Broke His Leg

Ephraim Rondeau, a pupil of the Green grammar school in Merrimack street, while playing in the school yard this morning, fell and broke his leg. The ambulance was summoned and the boy was taken to the Lowell hospital. He resides at 3 Racine place, off Hall street.

6 O'CLOCK

GROCERS CONVENE

Annual State Convention Opened This Afternoon

David Gerow of This City Presides Over Convention—Many Delegates Present — Banquet to Follow Business Session

The annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers association opened this afternoon in Odd Fellows Temple with a large attendance, including delegates from Boston, Lawrence, Haverhill, E. Weymouth, Medford, Worcester, Springfield, and other places, the importance of the matters to be discussed drawing an unusually large delegation.

The convention was formally called to order by Mr. Edward Fitzpatrick, president of the Lowell Grocers association, who turned the convention over to Mr. David Gerow, of this city, president of the state organization.

President Gerow in his address said:

"This is the 5th annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers association. I am deeply conscious of the honor conferred upon me one year ago and am proud, also, that in this, my home city, this convention is held.

"During the year now closed, we have tried in every possible way to aid members of the association and incidentally all grocers; we have not made a great show for outside effect, but have proceeded along well defined lines trying to gain and hold the confidence and respect of retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers, one and all.

"We have added to our fund despite unusual adverse conditions, and are now preparing for an exposition that will, from present indication, place our association on a self supporting basis. Until that is accomplished, we cannot hope for the largest measure of success. There are many things we would do, things that ought to be done, that must remain unattempted until our treasury fund warrants the expenditure necessary.

"We have kept in close touch with those departments of our state government that enforce the laws that vitally affect us. We have kept a close watch upon all legislation and have helped to kill many a bill that would, if enacted into law, hamper and harass us unduly and unnecessarily.

We have joined with our brethren in sister associations in advocating just measures and are proud that something has been accomplished; not only have we helped secure the enactment of a law placing grocers on the preferred list in case of death of a debtor, but have also laid the foundation for other measures that by united effort may be made laws one year hence.

I refer especially to the bill making married women jointly responsible with their husbands for debts due for groceries and provisions, and the bill requiring the license of grocery and provision dealers. This latter bill, if enacted into law, would enable local boards of health to prevent the unfair competition of those who, amid dirt and filth, dispense disease and contamination to the hurt of the legitimate, self-respecting dealer.

Quite recently there has come to my notice what seems to me to be an attempt to make dealers commit a crime. Certain persons with short myasure bottles have visited our stores and asked us to sell them a pint or quart of vinegar, as the case may be, well knowing that said bottle would not contain the amount asked for. In one case when told by the grocer that he had no pint measure, the answer was: "Guess at it, as near as you can."

We believe that every dealer selling short weight goods should be prosecuted to the full limit of the law, but we object emphatically to those schemes to cause a technical violation of law by an honest grocer.

Dr. Harrington, late secretary of the state board of health, stated to a committee of our association that if any of his agents indulged in any such practices, he would remove him immediately. Any department that sanctions such action on the part of its agents is unworthy of our confidence and deserving of severest condemnation.

The one thing needed today in Massachusetts, is a concert of action on the part of all the grocery organizations in the state. This organization represents the entire commonwealth. It is the center head to which all other associations should come for advice and suggestion, for conference upon all matters of trade importance.

I suggest that each local grocers' association in the state by vote authorize its president and secretary to meet at stated times with the executive committee of this association. I am sure that from these conferences, good would come, not only to our members, but to the members of every association in the state.

By getting together and joining forces for the accomplishment of certain specific reforms, great good will result. This is an idea I have long had in mind and I urge it with the full belief that it will create an interest and arouse an enthusiasm that will count largely for our benefit.

What we need in association work is the co-operation and interest of every grocer. A few may do the work but could do it a good deal better if they had the active assistance of the hundreds who stand aloof. Why this lack of interest? The little time and extra effort required is a good investment.

I hope the grocers of Massachusetts will show, during the coming year, a more determined and enthusiastic interest in this association and in all Grocers' associations. With members and with effort, we can make the grocer the power he ought to be. No dealer has more influence; all that is needed is that his influence be made manifest.

If we have not accomplished all that we hope for during the past year, we have been untiring in our efforts. Every member of the executive committee is deserving of especial praise and I thank them for their loyal support at all times.

Let us make the year 1909 memorable in the history of this association; a banner year rich in the accomplishment of desired reforms.

I ask you to enlist today for a service that means benefit to every grocer in Massachusetts.

The officers of the state association are:

President, David Gerow of Lowell.

Secretary, Arthur T. Farmer of North Abington.

Treasurer, James E. Tarbox of Lynn.

Vice-presidents—A. T. Farmer, No. Abington; H. W. Mansfield, South Braintree; A. E. Jewell, Worcester; F. E. Hurd, Haverhill; O. B. Parks, Westfield, F. L. Drury, Fitchburg; Geo. H. Garfield, Brockton; Leonard Rhodes, Boston; E. S. Randall, Medford.

Executive committee—Fred. Humphrey, East Weymouth; W. K. Hutchinson, Arlington; V. Harry Fairey, Brockton; W. R. Ferry, Milford; F. W. Mendum, Roxbury; Alanson Gray, Lowell; W. C. Walker, Wakefield.

Organizer—Frederick Humphrey, E. Weymouth.

Exposition Committee—David Gerow, chairman, Lowell; A. C. Dowse, secretary, 69 North Market street, Boston; A. T. Farmer, treasurer, North Abington; W. K. Hutchinson, Arlington, H. W. Mansfield, South Braintree, W. C. Walker, Wakefield.

Associate Member on Exposition Committee—E. E. Folsom, Brockton Public Market, Brockton; J. C. Shepard, Gloucester; W. W. Graves, Malden; G. A. Stroat, Newtonville; T. A. Smith, Orleans; W. H. Berry, Berry Bros., Quincy; Louis J. Ball, L. J. Ball Co., Springfield; H. Q. Presbrey, Presbrey Bros., Taunton; S. E. Farnsworth, Westboro; C. N. Chapin, Worcester; H. H. Phelps, Worcester; Nahum Reed, Whitman; Gamaliel P. Atkins, Newton; Chase & Richardson, Haverhill.

The matter of annual reports was then taken up and followed by discussions on different subjects pertaining to the welfare of the trade.

At the conclusion of the business session this afternoon a banquet will be held in the banquet hall at which President Fitzpatrick will be the toastmaster, and addresses will be made by State President Gerow, Mayor Brown, Hon. George Carter, former mayor of Chelsea; Prof. Hugh Molloy of the normal school, and others.

Standing Committees

Legislative—Frederick Humphrey, East Weymouth; W. K. Hutchinson, Arlington.

Legislative Council—A. C. Dowse.

Progress—V. Harry Fairey, Brockton; W. C. Walker, Wakefield; Alanson Gray, Lowell.

Grievances—W. R. Ferry, Milford; J. E. Tarbox, Lynn; F. W. Mendum, Roxbury.

Pure Food—O. B. Parks, Westfield; Frederick Humphrey, East Weymouth; F. W. Mendum, Roxbury.

Special Committees

Convention—David Gerow, Frederick Humphrey, Alanson Gray, W. K. Hutchinson, F. W. Mendum.

Nominations—W. K. Hutchinson, Alanson Gray, V. Harry Fairey.

Resolutions—W. R. Ferry, J. E. Tarbox, W. C. Walker.

FUNERALS

MALONE—The funeral of Elizabeth Malone took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 64 Union street, and was largely attended. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, under direction of M. H. McDonough & Sons.

McDERMOTT—The funeral of Hannah McDermott took place yesterday afternoon from the rooms of Peter H. Savage. The bearers were Daniel and William Regan, Patrick Kilroy and Michael Roarke. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Curtin read the committal prayers.

WILBY—The funeral of Robert Pevey Wilby took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 66 Washington street. There were many floral tributes. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, under direction of M. H. McDonough & Sons.

MANN—The funeral of Carlton Mann took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 5 Foster street, Rev. H. S. Trueman officiating. There was singing by Mrs. Shepard, and there were many floral offerings. Burial was in the Edson cemetery, under direction of Higgins Bros.

SMITH—The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Smith took place Saturday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James N. Greig, at 76 Bellevue street. Rev. Charles T. Billings officiated. The bearers were Hugh Manning, Edward Page, Alexander Greig, Sr., and Arthur W. Davis. Burial was in the Edson cemetery, under the direction of J. A. Weinbeck.

SABRE—The funeral of John B. Sabre took place yesterday afternoon from the residence, 255 Hildreth street, Rev. J. T. Carlyon officiated. The bearers were Thos. Regan, Hazen Stickney, Ralph D. Plumstead and Francis W. Cragin, all of Post 120, G. A. R. The services of the G. A. R. were held at the residence. The body was sent to Chazy, N. Y., for burial. J. A. Weinbeck was in charge.

VAUGHAN—The funeral of the late James W. Vaughan took place yesterday afternoon from the warerooms of Peter Davey and proceeded to St. Peter's church, where at 2.15 o'clock funeral services were held. Rev. Fr. Burns officiating. The bearers were: Thomas F. Plunkett, Edward O. Boyle, John J. Donnelly, and John J. Dailey. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Peter Davey.

TRACY—The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary M. Tracy took place this morning from her home, 281 Concord street, and was largely attended. There was a number of people from out of town, among them being Dr. and Mrs. Conroy of Andover, Mrs. Rose Whalen and family, Miss Katie Tracy and Miss Mary Fallon of Lawrence. The cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church where a solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I., celebrant, Rev. Fr. McRory, O. M. I., deacon, Rev. Fr. O'Brien, O. M. I., sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Charles P. Smith, sang the Gregorian mass and during services appropriate selections were rendered. Mrs. Walker presiding at the organ. Despite the request of the family that no flowers be sent, there was a profusion of beautiful tributes, including wreath inscribed "Wife" from husband; standing cross inscribed "Mother" from the sons; wreath inscribed "Mary" from John Rogers and family; standing lyre with purple ribbon inscribed "Grandma" from the grandchildren; standing heart of red pinks with white ribbon inscribed "At Rest" from Mr. and Mrs. John Durkin; basket of white roses and pinks from Mrs. Lyons and Margaret Brady. The bearers were Edward P. McCullough, John J., James H., Bernard J., Michael F. and George Tracy, all sons of deceased. At the grave Rev. Fr. McRory, O. M. I., read the committal prayers, and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned desire to express their sincere thanks to their many relatives and friends, who, by words of sympathy, tried to lessen their grief caused by the death of their daughter and sister, Rose Etta Dowd. To those who sent floral offerings they are also deeply grateful.

Mrs. Rose Dowd and family.

DEATHS

FARRELL—John M. Farrell, a well known resident of St. Patrick's parish died last night at his home, 81 Dummer street, aged 41 years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Farrell; a wife, Ellen; four daughters, Mary, Bridget, Margaret and Annie and two sons, John J. and Philip. He was a popular member of Div. 28, A. O. H.

FUNERAL NOTICE

MARTIN—The funeral of the late Timothy Martin will take place tomorrow morning at eight o'clock from his home, 4 rear of 188 Adams street, and at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WHITTEHORN—Died, April 25, Miss Margaret Whittehorn. Funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home of J. Albert Evans, 87 Humphrey street. Relatives and friends invited. C. M. Young, undertaker.

Banish Spring Humors

Impure or effete matters accumulated in the blood during the winter cause in

The spring such disfiguring and painful troubles as boils, pimples, and other eruptions, also weakness, loss of appetite, that tired feeling.

The best medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. These ingredients are the very remedies that successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make and yields a larger profit.

Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today, in the usual liquid form or in the chocolated tablets known as Sarsatabs. 100 Doses One Dollar.

OPEN TO ALL

THE SUN classified columns are open to all at the small cost of one cent a word for three insertions. An advertisement placed in The Sun today will be printed in over 16,000 papers, aggregating nearly 50,000 papers in three days.

An advertisement in The Sun brings immediate returns. That's where circulation counts. If in doubt, try it.

RAILROAD MERGER

No Great Opposition to Governor Draper's Plan

BOSTON, April 27.—Although there was no decided opposition to Gov. Draper's solution of the railroad merger controversy by the organization of a holding company for the stock of the Boston & Maine railroad now being held outside the state, the legislative committee on railroads today failed to obtain any definite plan or bill for the chartering of such a company. It was expected at the state house today that the committee will later ask the attorney-general to draw a bill in conformity with the governor's conceptions after which the measure will be submitted to a general discussion at another hearing. The hearing today showed that all the parties which have agitated the railroad merger question either for or against it were practically unanimous in endorsing the latest proposition but they wanted many restrictions.

Just as the hearing was closing Rev. Norman White asked vice-president T. E. Byrnes of the New Haven road, who was present, what restrictions his company would agree to in order that the stock of the Boston & Maine might be brought back to Massachusetts and if the company would be willing to submit to such restrictions. Mr. Byrnes deftly parried the questions by stating that he was present at the hearing to protect the interests of the road and was not there to suggest a solution of the question. The New Haven does not want its rights restricted but it believes that the governor's suggestion is a step in the right direction, as it would prevent other interests coming into the state and taking control.

TURKISH EMBASSY

Has Not Received Official Confirmation of Latest Developement

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Official confirmation of the proclamation of a new sultan in Turkey has not been received at the Turkish embassy in this city nor an announcement of the elevation of Mehemmed Reschad Effendi either. The press despatches of the day are accepted, however, as accurate.

Throughout diplomatic circles the general impression is that the enthroning of Mehemmed means a new era for the Ottoman empire. The decree for reform and the adoption of a constitutional government could never be realized in its fulness it is felt as long as Abdul Hamid was in power. With the reform movement freed from the obstacles put in its way by the reactionaries who wielded power in Constantinople, it is urged that a new day has dawned for Turkey.

Turkish officials speak of the new sultan as possessing an able mind, correct in his manner of living, kind and with inclinations that will make him a constitutional sovereign.

The deposition of Abdul was not unexpected, notwithstanding his apparent strong hold on the people of Turkey, and no regret is expressed that he is to give up office. The opportunity now is for the Young Turks to establish a permanent law-abiding form of government, which if it metes exact justice to all classes will have the support of the governments of the world. This is the generally expressed view in Washington. The international effect on Turkey of the regime will be as important as the local effect. As to intervention from outside governments, all depends on the manner in which the Young Turks take hold of affairs. Under a careful administration they ought to be able to put Turkey in a position where she can hold her own among the nations of Europe and give to the various nationalities, races and religions the blessings of constitutional law and a regular form of stable government which the empire has sadly lacked. The results from an international viewpoint are likely to be very broad if the Young Turks carry out to a successful issue their well laid plans. For instance, it will deprive the states of Europe of any pretext for continual intervention and in all probability will mean the drawing closer of English influence in the Levant as against that held by Germany.

But as much as anything else to be desired in Turkey is the administration of a regime which will be a guarantee for a complete restoration of law and order throughout the sultan's dominion. This the students of Turkish politics feel may be brought about by the Young Turks providing always of course that they undertake their work with a sincere purpose of doing their very best for all citizens and avoiding the suspicion of selfish desire in the working out of the reforms proposed by the constitution. Not less than other needs it is pointed out is the guarantee of the freedom of worship in contrast with the fanaticism of Mohammedism which the deposed sultan instead of checking permitted to become rampant.

So far as Dr. Barton has been able to learn the Young Turks are pledged to carry out this line of progress.

Discussing the board's interest in Turkey the clergyman said:

"So far as our work is concerned the change in government is favorable. We never felt quite sure under the old regime as to the basis under which our work stood. Concessions granted by the government were often withdrawn within a very short time."

Speaking of the progressive spirit of the Young Turks, Dr. Barton said that all through the empire Ottoman clubs have been formed by the younger element. These clubs have held meetings weekly for the purpose of discussing such topics as constitutional government, the history of historical governments and the responsibility of the governed to the constitution. Everywhere a spirit of intelligent advance has been shown and Christians and Moslems have united in studying enlightened forms of government. The teachers at the college controlled by the American board have been repeatedly called on to address Christians and Moslems at these Ottoman clubs, explaining the governments of various natives and instructing the members in constitutional history.

The American's board's great hope is that the young Turk will be enabled to establish firmly the new regime.

Dr. Barton believes that the Young Turk party when established finally in power will be able to curb and restrain properly the two elements that are now causing the disorder in Asia Minor, namely the revolutionary Armenians and the fanatical and reactionary Moslems. The Armenians with their omnipresence ideas of an Armenian nation and a revolution against Ottoman rule have been responsible for much of the trouble that has occurred in Asia Minor while the reactionary and fanatical Moslems have resorted to violent methods partly to harass the Armenians and partly at rage because their sources of revenue through official corruption under the old regime are now cut off. The board officials however look to the Young Turks to put down such disorders. It is also believed that the sheik-ul-islam, the head of the Mohammedan religion, will also have a great influence in restoring peace in the disturbed districts. As the ecclesiastical head of nearly 250,000,000 Moslems throughout the world the sheik-ul-islam wields great power. He is now allied with the Young Turk party and if he should declare throughout the Mohammedan world, especially throughout Turkey, that the persecution and massacre of Christians must cease there is little doubt in the minds of the American board officials that a healthier era would dawn in the districts where bloodshed and violence have reigned for many days.

Commenting on the report of Rev. Herbert A. Gibbons, one of the teachers at St. Paul's institute, at Tarsus, on the massacres in Central Turkey, Rev. William Strong, editorial secretary of the American board, said:

"The graphic report of the massacre at Adana by a reliable eye-witness shows the situation there to be more terrible than the earlier despatches indicated. It also makes clearer some points of concern. It appears that the seditious activity of the Armenian nationalists was the provoking cause; that while the outbreaks started with a mob it soon became organized," reinforced and apparently encouraged by Turkish officials and so-called Turkish soldiers. It would seem that affairs in Adana were at least so far related to those at Constantinople that the attitude of the sultan's party at the capital was reflected in the timidity of the military officer and the activity of the vali. The service of the missionaries and mission buildings and grounds in sheltering refugees and preventing worse slaughter is apparent. The pitiable needs of the homeless, the orphaned and the injured make their own appeal for relief."

MISSION BOARD OFFICERS EXPECT BETTER CONDITIONS

BOSTON, April 27.—While the officers of the American board of foreign missions look for more favorable conditions in the Ottoman empire in the future as a result of the change of regime at Constantinople, they believe that whatever progress may be made will be the result of the constitution, and the Young Turk administration rather than through any effort on the part of the new sultan, today proclaimed sultan under the name of Mehemmed V. Such is the opinion expressed today by Rev. Dr. Barton, secretary of the board, who has correspondents in every part of the Turkish dominions and who himself has travelled extensively throughout the empire. In explanation of his views of the situation, Dr. Barton said, that the new sultan is only two years younger than his deposed brother. He has had no opportunity to learn anything about the world at large, about other powers or even about his own empire.

The constitution and the Young Turk administration are looked to, however, for the upbuilding of better conditions throughout the empire. Since July 14, when the constitution was first proclaimed there has been freedom of press, travel, expression and worship, and a declared freedom of conscience.

TO MAKE SURVEY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—The board of United States Army engineers which was recently appointed by the war department to make a survey of the construction of a continuous inland waterway along the Atlantic coast, leave this city tomorrow on a tour of inspection.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

CHAINED WOMEN

Were Expelled by London Police

LONDON, April 27.—Four woman suffragists succeeded in getting into the lobby of the commons this afternoon. They at once fastened themselves by chains to statues. The police, profiting by previous experience, are now provided with metal-cutting implements and today they quickly cut the chains and expelled the four women from the building.

OUT OF GAME

ROGER BRESNAHAN MET WITH INJURY

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Roger Bresnahan, catcher and manager of the St. Louis Nationals, will be unable to play ball for several days because of injury suffered in the tenth inning of yesterday's game with Pittsburg. Bresnahan was hurt internally when he slid into the plate, colliding with Gibson of Pittsburg.

WESTON'S WALK

PEORIA, Ill., April 27.—Edward Payson Weston today left Ghard, thirty miles south of Springfield, for St. Louis.

CARNEGIE GIVES $75,000

NEW YORK, April 27.—The New York University council, at its regular meeting yesterday, accepted a gift from Andrew Carnegie in honor of the successful work for twenty-five years in bacteriology and pathology performed by the Carnegie Medical Laboratory.

The gift, amounting to $75,000, will be applied to the extension of the present Carnegie laboratory building. Announcement was made also of a gift of $2000 by the widow and daughters of Dr. Glover C. Arnold surgery prize, the annual income of the fund to be awarded each year to the member of the graduating class of the university and Bellevue Hospital Medical college who shall stand the highest in surgery.

TO INCORPORATE COMPANY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—The bill to incorporate the Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric company, came from a committee today, and was placed on the house calendar without the amendment which would prohibit the company from carrying stock of the Providence Gas Co. and the Narragansett Electric Lighting Co.

Only three amendments proposed to the committee were recommended today. One limits the capital stock to $6000, another the bond issue to the same amount and the third allowing the new corporation to acquire property of another corporation is sanctioned by an eight-tenths vote of the stockholders of that corporation.

7-20-4

P. H. G. SULLIVAN'S

10c Cigar

Present output upwards of 12,000,000 per annum. Money's worth to the consumer tells the story. Factory, Manchester, N. H.

BURIAL PLACE

Of FitzRandolph Has Been Found

PRINCETON, April 27.—The university and townspeople were much interested yesterday in the discovery of the remains of three bodies on the site of the new Sage dormitory. While digging for the foundation of the building workmen unearthed first the bones that are almost certainly known to be those of Nathaniel FitzRandolph, one of the founders of the university. The two other skeletons are unidentified.

For some time the university authorities have been trying to fix the spot where FitzRandolph was buried, and the records pointed to the locality of the Sage dormitory site, so the discovery was not unexpected.

The first skeleton found is supposed to be that of FitzRandolph because the records show that he was buried close to a tree which was removed this week. The remains lay within a few yards of this spot. It was also known that there are other bodies near this place, but thus far it has been impossible to find out whose they were. The records at hand do not give these facts.

Nathaniel FitzRandolph gave to the college the site on which Nassau hall stands. He died soon after the beginning of the university, probably about 1760. There was nothing left in the grave to aid in a certain identification.

The university will mark the spot where the bones were found.

President Wilson last night gave out this statement in regard to the discovery of the skeletons:

The site of the new dormitory crosses a portion of an ancient private burying ground in which the location of the graves had become uncertain. In excavating for the foundation and cellar of the building the authorities of the university have taken occasion to remove the remains uncovered very carefully and they will be reinterred under a portion of the building specially arranged for the purpose.

The only grave certainly known is that of Nathaniel FitzRandolph, over whose remains a special tablet is to be placed commemorative of his great generosity to the college. The authorities of the university have been guided in the matter as much as possible by such scant records as are extant.

Descendants of FitzRandolph gave to Princeton the magnificent gateway which marks the main entrance of the campus on Nassau street.

NEW ASSISTANT TREASURER

NEW YORK, April 27.—The counting of cash at the sub-treasury, customary when a new United States assistant is appointed, was finished on Saturday and yesterday Charles S. Terry, the new head of the institution, took formal possession and gave a receipt for $214,852,760.75. The principal items in this total are $118,629,725.50 United States gold coin, 77,995,019 standard silver dollars and $21,936,330 United States gold certificates.

SLAGLE OF BALTIMORE

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburg baseball team, announced today that he had waived claim to James Slagle, former centrefielder of the Chicago Nationals. Slagle's contract had been sold to Boston and that club had in turn tried to send him to Baltimore of the Easterns when Pittsburg interposed a protest. Its withdrawal will result in the retirement of Slagle to the minor league team.

Don't Be Deceived

If you have tried other papers of doubtful circulation and failed to get results, that is no reason why you should condemn all newspapers. There are some honest newspapers with actual bona fide circulations. THE SUN, for instance, now prints over 16,000 copies daily. Is it any wonder SUN advertisers get quick results?

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF

Household Furnishings

AT LOWEST PRICES, AND ARE SOLE AGENTS IN LOWELL FOR THE CELEBRATED

Crescent Range

PETER DAVEY

134 MARKET STREET

Furniture Dealer — Undertaker — Funeral Director

Telephone Connection 79-2

Carroll Bros.

Plumbers, Steam Fitters and Sheet Metal Workers

36 MIDDLE ST. TELEPHONE 1650

LATEST

MARY WATKINS SUES

Was Put Out of the Mount Olivet Church

NEW YORK, April 27.—James Edward Taylor, the negro letter carrier who was held to be "unfinancial" when he tried to get into the meeting of Hamilton lodge, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, one night four years ago and whose forcible ejection and re-entrance, the latter with the assistance of an injunction, brought on a lodge row which has resulted in half a dozen damage suits, came to the front again yesterday, this time in connection with the late disturbances in the Mount Olivet Baptist church in West Fifty-third street.

Yesterday Brother Taylor was defendant in a suit for $2,000 damages for false arrest brought by Sister Mary Watkins of 6 West 132d street, who alleges that as chairman of the board of trustees of Mount Olivet Brother Taylor was responsible for her ejection from the Sunday morning service on February 21, 1908, at which time a few policemen assisted the Rev. Matthew W. Gilbert, the pastor, to say the opening prayer unhindered.

The case was on yesterday before Chief Justice O'Dwyer and a jury in the city court and most of the congregation was there. To simplify matters only five witnesses were selected from each side, Brother Taylor being supported by the pastor, who said he ordered the removal of the disturbing element, and by Policeman Wagner, who said he carried Sister Watkins out at the request of the pastor. The jury had been struggling with the evidence for about an hour when 4 o'clock was reached, so Justice O'Dwyer ordered a sealed verdict.

News of the discord in Mount Olivet has reached the press through police channels before now, but the real cause of it all, as related by the chairman of the board of trustees, has been locked up in the bosoms of the Rev. Dr. R. S. McArthur, the Rev. Dr. Leighton Williams, the Rev. Dr. Frank M. Goodchild, the Rev. Dr. Johnson and former Justice Edward S. Clinch, composing an arbitration committee appointed by the Baptist clergy of Manhattan to attempt to harmonize Mount Olivet. Brother Taylor said that the committee decided in favor of Pastor Gilbert when confronted with two marriage licenses made out for one deacon.

This deacon caused the trouble, Brother Taylor said. To quell the disorder raised by the deacon's faction the police took out nineteen persons and all but six were put under bonds to keep the peace. Sister Watkins was discharged and she brought suit. So did three others, some of whom included the pastor and Brother Joshua B. Wood in their complaints and got the pastor and the two brothers locked up for a time. Everything is harmonious at Mount Olivet now.

ATTORNEY WM. H. BENT PUTTING THE MAYOR'S SECRETARY, W. C. MACBRAYNE, THROUGH A SEVERE CROSS-EXAMINATION AT THE HEARING YESTERADY

THE HOTEL MEN

Continued

Supt. Moffatt Cross-Examined

When the hearing was adjourned yesterday afternoon Supt. Moffatt was being cross-examined by counsel for the respondents. Counsel for the prosecution offered no evidence under charge 42, which refers to the citizenship of Commissioner Hanson. Charges 35, 36, 38 and 39 were also abandoned. Counsel for the prosecution refused to abandon several others that counsel for respondents said should be abandoned, for specified reasons; and the mayor when called on for a ruling, sustained his own counsel. The charges that have been abandoned are as follows:

35. That you voted to appoint and also authorized persons to act as special police officers who, at the time of their appointment, were not citizens of Lowell, contrary to section 2, of rule 39, of the rules and regulations of the police department of the city of Lowell.

(For specifications see appointment of Charles A. Morris, Alexander Barnwart, Frederick R. Ervin, George Pangborn.)

36. That you voted to assign certain police officers to act specially in the enforcement of the liquor law when you knew or ought to have known that these same officers had been removed from the liquor squad where they had formerly served, because of the evidence of their neglect and incapacity disclosed in the proceedings before Mayor James B. Casey in the matter of the removal of a former board of police.

(For specifications see report of said proceedings before Mayor Casey pertaining to the official conduct of Thomas R. Atkinson, Alexander Duncan and William H. Grady.)

38. That because of politics or favoritism and not for just causes, you permitted and authorized Superintendent Moffatt to remove and transfer certain officers without their consent from the routes and places of employment, where they had been assigned, to other and less desirable positions, contrary to chapter 210 of the acts of 1906, and contrary to the best interests of the police department.

(For specifications see lists of transfers in possession of Superintendent Moffatt.)

39. That you permitted and authorized Superintendent Moffatt to promote certain police officers contrary to rule 3 of the rules and regulations of the police department of the city of Lowell and contrary to the best interests of said department.

(For specifications see promotion of Officers Downey, Atkinson, Duncan and McCloughrey.)

42. That you are legally incapacitated from holding your office as a member of the board of police of the city of Lowell because you are an alien by birth and have never been naturalized as a citizen or legally qualified to be a member of either of the two leading political parties, as required by section 3 of chapter 100 of the revised laws.

PLAINTIFF WON

Was Given a Verdict of $2994.55

FALL RIVER, April 27.—The jury in the case of Arkwright mills, vs. H. B. Claflin Co. of New York, brought in a verdict in the superior court today for the plaintiff in $2994.56, the full amount of the claim with interest. The point at issue in the case was whether cloth woven from "blue bender" cotton grown in the bends of the Mississippi valley, was good cloth provided that the fabric showed a bluish tinge which could not be bleached pure white. The mill claimed that the cloth was of poorer texture and therefore sued for its value which the Claflin Co. had withheld because of the color in the fabric. The case has been followed with interest by cotton manufacturers because it involves a point of law never before tested in the courts.

ADMIRAL MILLER

DIED AT THE HOME OF HIS NEPHEW

EAST ORANGE, N. J., April 27.—Rear Admiral Joseph Nelson Miller died Sunday after a long illness at the home of his nephew, Robert M. Ogden of 493 Central avenue, this city. Mrs. Miller was with him when he died. The other survivors are Mr. Ogden and Henry R. Miller, a brother, who is assistant postmaster at Keokuk, Ia. The funeral services, which were private, took place in East Orange this afternoon. The body will be taken to Washington, where burial will be made with naval honors in Arlington cemetery.

Rear Admiral Miller was born in Springfield, O., on Nov. 22, 1836. He entered the navy at the age of 15. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was commander of the ironclad Passaic and took part in the engagement at Fort Sumter. In charge of the same vessel he was also in the Fort McAllister fight. As captain of the Monadnock he was in both attacks on Fort Fisher. He became a commander in 1870, captain in 1881, commodore in 1894 and rear admiral in 1897.

In 1875 Commander Miller with the Tuscarora made deep sea soundings of the Pacific from Hawaii to Australia. As commander of the Pacific squadron he hoisted the flag of the United States over Honolulu when the Hawaiian islands were annexed to this country. From 1888 to 1891 he was captain of the Brooklyn navy yard. In the first year of his admiralty he was one of the representatives of the United States at the jubilee of Queen Victoria. He organized the Naval Reserves of the Pacific coast in the early part of the Spanish-American war and on his 62d birthday, after the close of that war, he was retired.

Rear Admiral Miller was married in November, 1887, to Miss Helen Wills of Baltimore. They had no children.

COURT TENNIS GAMES

LONDON, April 27.—The covered court tennis championship contests are now in progress at the Queens club. At today's play Rhodes of Boston beat Watts in the gentlemen's singles.

In the mixed doubles Mr. Rhodes and Miss Tulloch beat A. D. Previs and Miss Booth by 2—1.

E. H. HARRIMAN

To Give 23,000 Acres for Park

MONTCLAIR, N. J., April 27.—Governor Fort, in a speech before the Montclair Civic association, in the Montclair club hall last night, while discussing the water supply problem, suggested the establishment of a State park and reservoir in the northern part of the state. The governor said that in his opinion the state should get possession of a tract of about 200,000 acres in the northern section that is owned by the Harriman, Hewitt and Hamilton estates. He said a magnificent park could be laid out there and a reservoir built that would supply all the larger cities of the state.

E. H. Harriman owns about 45,000 acres of the land to which Governor Fort referred. The governor said he talked over the matter with Mr. Harriman and that the latter had promised to donate 23,000 acres of his land to the state, provided the state could get possession of the rest of the tract desired. Mr. Harriman had remarked, said the governor, that the tract in question was "only 25 cents from New York."

The governor spoke at considerable length on his project, and the suggestions made by him were enthusiastically received by his audience.

It is estimated that Harriman's donation would run in value from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

MR. ROOSEVELT

Ready to Move to a New Camp

NAIROBI, British East Africa, April 27.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son had sufficient rest today from the fatigue connected with their first shooting trips and their journey from Kapiti Plains station to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Athi river to go out shooting this morning for small game. They secured a grants gazelle and a hartebeeste.

All the members of the party are busy today sorting out their baggage and making it up into loads and otherwise preparing to start on more extended hunting expeditions. J. Alden Loring and Major Means came into Kapiti Station this morning from the Pease ranch and set to work making up loads from the baggage there. They looked tired owing to the fatigue of the last few days and the depressing effects of the climate.

Part of the Roosevelt camp already has been established at the Pease ranch, the remainder of the caravan will move over to this point tomorrow morning.

The Roosevelt party decided today to remain for one week at the Pease ranch, and with this stay in view a number of cases of stores were sent into the American camp today.

The smallpox among the porters of the Roosevelt caravan has been checked.

TO REDRAFT BILL

Bearing on the Philippine Tariff

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The ways and means committee of the house met today to consider the Philippine tariff bill introduced recently by Rep. Payne (N. Y.), and which was the object of a special message from the president. A sub-committee, consisting of Reps. Payne (N. Y.), Hill (Conn.), Boutelle (Ill.), Clark (Mo.), and Underwood (Ala.), was appointed to redraft the bill. Col. Colton of the Philippine customs service appeared before the committee to explain certain features of the measure which was prepared largely by him. The sub-committee will have its first meeting tomorrow.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

AT THE FUNERAL OF MISS ROSE ETTA DOWD

The funeral of Miss Rose Etta Dowd took place yesterday from her home, 5 rear of 104 Lawrence street, and a high mass of requiem was sung at St. Peter's church by Rev. Fr. Heffernan. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Haggerty, rendered the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Mr. James E. Donnelly sang "Pie Jesu" and at the conclusion of mass Miss Nano Gallagher sang "De Profundis." As the remains were being borne from the church the choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The bearers were Messrs. John Donohoe, James Kennedy, Joseph Rourke, George Morris, Leo Morris and Thomas Golden. There were friends present from Boston, Somerville, Andover, Lawrence, Haverhill, Acton and Bedford. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Heffernan officiated at the grave. The interment was in charge of Thomas J. McDermott.

Among the floral tributes were the following: Pillow inscribed "Rest Sweet Rest," Mrs. Rose and family; pillow inscribed "United in Heaven," Miss Mary Ward; wreath on base inscribed "Thy Will Be Done," Miss Flora Terrian; spray of pinks, Mrs. Willetts; wreath of roses, Miss Margaret Morris and Leo Morris; dial of roses and lilies inscribed "Too Sad Hour," employes of Bigelow Carpet Co.; spray of lilies, Misses Dolan; spray of pinks, Miss Margaret Allen; spray of pinks, Miss Catherine Gaudet; spray of pinks, Master Thomas Barden; spray of tea roses, Miss Alice Devine; spray of pinks, Miss Clark and Miss Canole; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. McDermott.

Deceased was a well known young resident of St. Peter's parish and was prominent in church affairs. She had a wide circle of friends whose sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

CITY HALL NEWS

The common council will meet in regular session this evening, but no special meeting of the board of aldermen has been called.

The committee on licenses will meet and will visit the new [illegible] storehouse in the rear of the city farm.

Joseph Mullin today [illegible] the contract for 500 bushels of [illegible] the health department and 300 bushels for the fire department.

The school board will meet this evening.

The street committee will meet on Thursday.

MUST PAY TAX

City Solicitor Gives His Opinion to Assessors

City Solicitor Duncan today gave the following opinion bearing on taxation of Y. M. C. A. property:

Office of City Solicitor,
Lowell, Mass., April 27, 1909.

Board of Assessors, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: In reply to your request for an opinion as to whether certain real estate, belonging to the Young Men's Christian Association in Lowell is exempt from taxation, I submit the following:

As I understand it the property in question is located on Hurd street, adjoining the property at present owned and occupied by said association for the purposes for which it was organized. Without considering whether this last property so owned and occupied is exempt, but for the moment assuming that it may be, the question is, what is the status of property belonging to but not occupied by said association, but rented to another party, the proceeds from said rental being used to further the purposes of the association. The only statute under which exemption of this property can be claimed, if at all, is section 5 of chapter 12 of the revised laws, which provides that the personal property of literary, benevolent, charitable and scientific institutions and of temperance societies incorporated within this commonwealth, the real estate owned and occupied by them or their officers for the purposes for which they are incorporated and real estate purchased by them with the purpose of removal thereto * * * shall be exempt from taxation.

A number of similar cases have been decided in this commonwealth under statutes similar to above section 5, among which is the case of trustees of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd v. the City of Boston, 120 Mass., 212, in which the facts were briefly, that the plaintiff, a religious and charitable institution built upon its land a lodging house, in which rooms were rented to tenants and the proceeds devoted to the charitable uses of the institution named in its charter. It was argued that the use of the proceeds of the rentals for the purposes of the organization brought the property within the scope of the statute, but the court held otherwise and decided that the property was not exempt from taxation.

In this present case the newly acquired property of the Young Men's Christian Association is not occupied by the association or its officers, nor does it appear that it will be in the immediate future, and if it ever is, the whole complexion of the property may be changed before that time and it may be that the building as it now stands will never be so occupied. The present purpose of the association is to rent it and devote the proceeds of such rental to the objects of the association, which purpose it seems to me under the case in 120 Mass., 212, above cited, leaves it a proper subject for taxation.

Further, if there be a purpose to ultimately use the property for the association itself or its officers, it would still appear under the decision in the case of the Boston Society of Redemptionist Fathers v. City of Boston, 129 Mass., 178, that it is not exempt, for in that case the court decided that the fact that a benevolent or charitable institution intends at some indefinite future time to occupy land owned by it for the purpose for which it was incorporated, does not exempt the land from taxation under the statutes.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that said property is a proper subject of taxation by the City of Lowell and is not exempt under section 5 of chapter 12 of the revised laws.

Very truly yours,
Wm. W. Duncan,
City Solicitor.

FIVE CENT FARE BILL

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—Senator Wagner today called up his Coney Island five cent fare bill which was defeated in the senate last week had the vote reconsidered and the bill was then passed by the senate by a vote of 30 to 15.

FELL TO DEATH

Man Dropped Distance of 480 Feet

NEW YORK, April 27.—While several hundred persons in Madison Square were watching the human flies at work high up on the Metropolitan Life building yesterday, Thomas Mortimore took the longest drop to death in the annals of sky-scraper building.

Mortimore fell from the thirty-fourth floor—several stories above the gigantic clock—to the sidewalk, a distance of about 480 feet.

As the structural workers quit for the day—they always do that when one of their mates falls—they said they had never heard of such a long drop. Mortimore, of course, was killed instantly. He was a shapeless mass on the sidewalk when the first bystander plucked up courage enough to approach his body.

Contractor Alfred Parsons, who goes up to the loftiest heights himself, assigned Mortimore, who was a foreman of riggers, to put a scaffold about the windows of the thirty-fourth floor. Then Parsons joined Charles Richards, another rigger, who was at work on the thirty-first floor. Just after the contractor got there the people in the square saw a tiny figure drop over the edge of the scaffold, shoot downward and strike the stone balustrade of the thirty-first floor.

Here it seemed to poise for a fraction of a second, then it fell over and, with a sheer drop, came the rest of the way to Twenty-fourth street.

Only Richards, of all those at work on the building, saw the body strike his floor, then plunge downward again. He walked quietly over to the contractor and said:

"Mr. Parsons, Tom has gone down."

Parsons, not understanding, said absently, "Yes; all right." Then noticing Richards' blanched face, he exclaimed: "Good God! Not to the street!"

"Yes, to the street," said Richards, and the men, holding each other, peered over the edge of the balustrade to the point where a crowd was gathering.

There was nothing to do but send the body to the morgue and notify his relatives. No one knew his exact address, but they believed he lived in Sixty-ninth street, near Third avenue. He had a wife and several children. Before he got into structural work he had been, like many others of his craft, a seaman on a sailing vessel, and had climbed to high places in many parts of the world.

THE FEDERAL BALL

Arrangements have been completed for the annual ball of the employes of the Federal Shoe Co. in Associate hall tonight, and indications point to a successful party. Mr. Daniel W. Shanahan and Mr. Frank Roche, two valuable employes of the establishment, are general manager and floor marshal, respectively, of the function.

The lucky holder of a coupon for a diamond ring that was to be given free at the conclusion sale of last week has not yet been found. The holders are requested to bring their coupons to the store as announced as tobacco tags. 710 is the favored number that will take the diamond ring.

GENTLEMAN'S WATCH found. Owner can have by proving property and paying for this ad., at 8 Dane st., N. Baron.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

NO NEW COOPER TRIAL

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 27. Judge Hart today over-ruled the motion for a new trial in the Cooper murder case and an appeal was taken to the Tennessee supreme court.

SENATOR SCOTT

Addressed Senate on Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, April 27.—"Mr. President, I do not wish the senate called to order," said Senator Scott upon beginning his speech on the tariff today when Vice President Sherman undertook to maintain quiet in the chamber. "I did not expect this argument to change a vote," added Mr. Scott, "and consequently I am entirely indifferent whether senators retire to the lobbies or indulge in conversation because I do not care whether they listen to my remarks or not."

"The chair does care," replied Mr. Sherman.

Mr. Scott's remarks were listened to by many senators who gave him strict attention.

UNITED AMERICAN MECHANICS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—Plans for entertaining the national council of the order of United American Mechanics at a three days' session here beginning Aug. 24, were discussed today at the 170th annual convention of the Rhode Island branch of the order.

National Councillor John M. Hornbacker of Scranton, Pa., ex-national councillor, Charles F. Speare, of Boston, and ex-national councillor, A. M. F. Bicknell of Woonsocket attended today's session.

The reports showed a slight numerical and financial increase of the state branch. The election of officers came in the afternoon.

IT IS BOUND TO STRIKE YOU

sooner or later that your teeth need the attention of a dentist to keep them in order, to keep them from decaying and to keep them so they will last while life lasts if you care for them in time. If you have neglected them we can replace them by fine bridge work, made and inserted in a scientific manner. Our crown and bridge work is the perfection of the dental art. Examination and information free. OBTUNDINE SYSTEM OF PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. A. J. GAGNON,
466 Merrimack St.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

$6,000,000 SUIT

Was Decided in Favor of the United Fruit Co.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The supreme court decided yesterday in favor of the United Fruit Co. a suit brought against it by the American Banana Co., which sought to procure $6,000,000 under the Sherman anti-trust law because of damages said to have been done by combinations of the United Co. with other companies. The Banana Co., whose plantation is in Panama, complained that in July, 1903, Costa Rica was in control where the plantation is located, and Costa Rican soldiers, instigated by the United Co., seized a portion of the complainant's property and has continued to forcibly occupy the plantation with much resulting damage. It was asserted that the United Co. through combination has so arranged with growers that the complainant company cannot purchase the bananas for export. The United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, which tried the case held that whatever damage had been done had been due to the acts of the Costa Rican government and not to the United Fruit Co. This opinion was confirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals and today by the supreme court.

WOMAN ARRESTED

Is Charged With Being Fugitive From Justice

Nellie Goff, who has been living in this city for about a week, was arrested from a house in Andover street yesterday by United States Marshal Bancroft of Boston and Inspector Martin Maher, of the local police, on a warrant charging her with being a fugitive from justice.

It is alleged that while the woman was in Portland, Me., she sent prohibitory matter through the United States mails. The federal officers having charge of the district in which Portland is located after working some time on the case secured clues which it is alleged incriminated the Goff woman, but when the officers went to place her under arrest it was found that she had left Portland.

Her description was telegraphed throughout New England and New York state and yesterday it was found that she was stopping at a house in Andover street, this city. Marshal Bancroft came to Lowell yesterday and with the assistance of Inspector Maher the woman was arrested.

She was taken to Boston yesterday afternoon and will later be taken to Portland.

BRUTAL MURDERS

Committed by Gang of Female Cut-throats

ST PETERSBURG, Apr. 27.—A band of female cut-throats that many months past has been committing a series of brutal murders, was discovered and arrested yesterday in the village of Kurchino, thirty miles from St. Petersburg. The principal culprits are a mother and her two daughters who kept a tavern. Assisted by other women in the village they murdered travelers who stopped at the inn for the night, disfigured the bodies beyond recognition and then threw them into a rapidly flowing stream that passed near the inn. Many of these corpses were found but the distance of the village was so great that suspicion never centered there.

TAX ON IMMIGRANTS

Is Proposed in Amendment to the Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—Mr. Overman, (N. C.) offered an amendment to the tariff bill in the senate yesterday by which he proposes to place a head tax of twelve dollars on each immigrant coming into the United States. Mr. Overman discussed his amendment by unanimous consent.

"It means not only revenue for the treasury," he said, "but also a select class of immigrants and therefore it protects labor."

Mr. Overman estimated that the head tax on aliens which he proposed would bring to the government six to ten millions of dollars of revenue.

LOEB HAS PLAN

To Stop Smuggling in This Country

NEW YORK, April 27.—Prompted by the recent uncovering of attempts to smuggle quantities of costly wearing apparel for women into the country by means of so-called "sleeper" trunks, Collector of the Port Wm. Loeb yesterday issued an order which it is believed will check such attempts in the future. According to the new rule all left over baggage found on the steamer of any incoming steamer or on board any steamer after twenty-four hours after the time of the vessel's arrival must be sent to the United States Appraisers' stores. Heretofore such baggage and merchandise has been allowed to remain on the docks indefinitely and smugglers claimed to their advantage their knowledge of the fact, leaving unclaimed for the trunks they were trying to smuggle in and securing the first favorable opportunity to obtain possession of them unmolested.

CASE DISMISSED

Was Brought Against Great Northern R. R.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The case of the government against the Great Northern railroad, in which that company was fined $5000 for granting rebates on shipments of sugar for the American Sugar Refining Co. was yesterday dismissed by the supreme court of the United States at the instance of the company. The case involved the same points that were involved in the New York Central case recently decided in favor of the government in which the fine imposed was $108,000.

Scott's Emulsion
is a wonderful help to the expectant as well as the nursing mother.
All Druggists

JOHNNY EVERS

To Rejoin the Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO, April 27.—After many earnest requests from the members of the Chicago Nationals, Manager Chance included, for him to join his team Johnny Evers, the Cubs' star second baseman, who had announced early in the year that he would not play ball this season, is to rejoin his teammates and get into the fray May 1. The return of Evers will no doubt strengthen the Cubs. His great playing at second base for the last three years has materially aided the Cubs in winning the banner three times in succession. Last season he led his teammates in batting throughout the whole season. Evers is something more than the second baseman of the world's champions. He is a great help to Manager Chance, because he needs little or no advice from his superior in a game and is constantly taking the initiative and accomplishing things that no manager would have the time or opportunity to order. It was Evers who discovered Merkle's fatal solecism in the celebrated game in New York last fall. In a game that looked irretrievably lost Evers, with hair trigger thinking, noticed that Merkle, who should have run to second base, turned aside and bolted for the clubhouse because a man on third had crossed the plate. The same thing is done frequently, but Evers knew that it transgressed the rules and appealed to the umpires, who saw the justice of the claim.

YOUNG FEUDIST

Is Charged With Killing His Father

IRVINE, Ky., April 27.—Both the mother and grandmother of Beech Hargis, the young man on trial for killing his father, Judge James Hargis, the Breathitt county feudist, testified that the father was extremely cruel to his son. Beech Hargis said that when he shot his father the latter was chasing him and that the shot was fired in self defense. Mrs. Hargis has placed her entire fortune at the disposal of her son for the defense.

$50,000 DAMAGE

Was Caused by a Fire at Plymouth

PLYMOUTH, April 27.—Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused yesterday by a fire in the power house of the Plymouth Electric Lighting Co. at the corner of Leyden and Water streets. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought that it may have been due to defective insulation. The building was not badly damaged, the chief loss coming through the injury to the generators and switchboards. The company supplies light and power to the towns of Plymouth, Duxbury and Kingston. It was thought that it would be possible to put part of the lights in commission by tonight.

SUPREME COURT

Says Railroad Company Must Settle

WASHINGTON, April 27.—That a city can compel a railroad company to bridge its street crossings when the street has been established subsequent to the laying of the railroad tracks was as it can when the tracks follow the laying out of the street was in effect held by the supreme court of the United States yesterday in deciding favorable to the city the case of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba R. R. Co. and the Great Northern R. R. Co. vs. the city of Minneapolis.

It was announced by Chief Justice Fuller of the supreme court.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The president yesterday made the following nominations:

Consul, Edward E. Nathan, Pennsylvania, at Mersina, Turkey; A. Dudley Smith, North Carolina, at Patras, Greece.

Worcester at Lawrence.
Brockton at Haverhill.
Lynn at New Bedford.

American League

New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Washington.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Detroit at Cleveland.

National League

Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Pittsburg at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cincinnati.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

The Young Champions defeated the Y. M. C. A. juniors of the tremendous score of 22 to 2. The features of the game were the pitching of Segal and the batting of Bernstein for the winners and the clever fielding of Mack for the losers.

The Young Champions want games with strong 14 or 15 year old teams, the Orioles or Mammoths preferred. Manager S. E. Rostler, 642 Middlesex street.

The Young Harvards would like to challenge any team under 13 years of age. The lineup is as follows:

H. Soklesky, c; M. Fineberg, p; A. Swartz 1b; E. Snider, 2b; M. Gerson, ss; I. Harris, 3b; L. Weiss, lf; S. Silverblat, cf; J. Cohn, rf.

Send all challenges to E. K. Snider, 29 Daly street, manager.

The Union Blues would like to challenge the Daly Stars or the altar boys. Send all challenges through this paper.

The Holston Stars would like to challenge any team in the city under 13 years of age. The lineup is as follows:

Little Chief, Thunder Cloud Murphy, p; Pig Head Kenney, c; Bandit Campbell, 1st b; Austin Lalley, 2d b; Grave Yard Sweeney, ss; Miser Grove, 3d b; Pie Face Neurige, rf; Punk Forges, center-field, Hickory, lf.

Address all challenges to Miser Kenney, South street, or through this paper.

The Fulton A. C. would like a game with any 16-year-old team in the city for Saturday, May 1, 1909.

The lineup is as follows: Conley, c; Murphy, p; L. Connors, 1b; Kilbride, 2b; Josey Curley, ss; Frank Jordan, 3b; Gallagher, lf; Dempsey, cf; Delaney, rf. Send all challenges to John Murphy, the lanky Yankee pitcher, 9 Fulton street or through the Lowell Sun.

The Gleasnore Jrs. defeated the Buffaloes of the South common Saturday afternoon on the former's grounds in a hard fought 12 inning game by the score of 9 to 7. We would like to meet any team under 14 years of age for a quarter Fall. The Centrals or Indians preferred. Our Mascot is Peter Regan, Jr. Send all challenges to Capt. Edward Donahoe, 62 Chambers street, city.

The Mammoths defeated the Mt. Grove Jrs. Saturday by a score of 11 to 5. The Mammoths would like to play any team in the city under 15 years of age.

The Tyngsboro team defeated the Lowell 8 in its first game of the season, by a score of 10 to 6. The Tyngsboros would like a game with any strong team in the city, for Saturday, May 1. Address William P. Proctor, North Chelmsford.

The Orients and the Carson A. C. will play on the South common Saturday afternoon for a purse of $10.

The Mammoths defeated the Mt. Grove Juniors by a score of 11 to 5. The Mammoths would like to play any team in the city under 15 years of age. Send all challenges to Frederick Schonborn, 101 Crawford street, Lowell.

The P. R. Warren baseball team would like to arrange a game for Saturday, May 1, with any of the strong amateur teams in Lowell or vicinity. Address Manager Baseball Team, Warrenville.

The Palmer second team would like games with any 13 year old team in the city. Send all challenges to H. Forguys, 181 South street.

The Buffaloes defeated the Heroes by the score of 14 to 12 the 17th of April, and defeated the Beavers by the score of 14 to 4 the 19th of April, and lost to the Young Butlers Saturday in a twelve inning game by the score of 8 to 7.

The Buffaloes would like to challenge any team in the city, at the age of 15. Send all challenges to John Miskell, 15 Pollard street, or through this paper.

The Saganores would like to arrange a game for next Saturday with any of the strong amateur teams of the city. Dixwells, Lowell 8, or Leroys preferred. Challenge through this paper.

ONLY THREE HITS

And Lowell Team Loses Another Game

FALL RIVER, April 27.—Despite the raw weather, Fall River and Lowell played a snappy game yesterday, the locals winning 4 to 2. Neither pitcher was hit hard, Fall River getting the lead in the seventh on a single, a sacrifice and battery errors. Fullerton's fielding was a feature. The score:

FALL RIVER

| | ab | r | bh | po | a | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Messenger, lf | 4 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| Weaver, ss | 3 | 0 | 0 | 3 | 5 | 0 |
| Austin, rf | 3 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 0 | 1 |
| Nothnaa, 1b | 4 | 0 | 0 | 12 | 3 | 0 |
| Devine, cf | 3 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 |
| Nichols, 2b | 3 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| McDermott, 3b | 1 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 0 |
| Toomey, c | 3 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| Fullerton, p | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 8 | 0 |
| Totals | 27 | 4 | 4 | 27 | 22 | 1 |

LOWELL

| | ab | r | bh | po | a | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Ball, lf | 2 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Beauchamp, 2b | 4 | 0 | 1 | 2 | 4 | 0 |
| Howard, cf | 3 | 0 | 0 | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Uniac, ss | 4 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Pickett, rf | 2 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 |
| Cox, 1b | 2 | 1 | 1 | 8 | 0 | 0 |
| Bonner, 3b | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Boyle, c | 2 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 |
| Musil, p | 3 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 1 |
| Totals | 25 | 2 | 3 | 21 | 10 | 1 |

| | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Fall River | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 1 | *—4 |
| Lowell | 0 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0—2 |

Three base hit—Cox. Sacrifice hits—McDermott, Weaver. Stolen bases—McDermott, Devine, Nichols. Left on bases—Fall River 3, Lowell 2. First base on errors—Fall River 1. Hit by pitcher—McDermott, Ball. Struck out—By Fullerton 2, by Musil 2. Passed balls—Boyle 2. Time—1.24. Umpire—Buckley.

DIAMOND NOTES.

At Fall River today.

Don't forget the big show tomorrow. Buck's Best band will blow music.

Smith, Lowell's new catcher, will probably go behind the bat in tomorrow's opening game.

The salt sea air was a little strong for the Tigers for a starter. But they'll strike their gait soon.

First Baseman Cox is starting out like a race horse, but with the stick and on the initial bag.

N. E. LEAGUE STANDING

| | Won | Lost | P. C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fall River | 2 | 0 | 100.0 |
| Haverhill | 2 | 0 | 100.0 |
| New Bedford | 1 | 0 | 100.0 |
| Brockton | 1 | 1 | 50.0 |
| Lynn | 1 | 1 | 50.0 |
| Lowell | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |
| Worcester | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |
| Lawrence | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |

N. E. LEAGUE RESULTS

At Fall River—Fall River 4, Lowell 2.

At Lawrence—Brockton 1, Lawrence 0.

At Haverhill—Haverhill 7, Worcester 2.

At New Bedford—New Bedford-Lynn postponed; cold weather.

AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING

| | Won | Lost | P. C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Detroit | 5 | 2 | 71.4 |
| New York | 6 | 3 | 66.7 |
| Boston | 5 | 4 | 55.6 |
| Philadelphia | 5 | 4 | 55.6 |
| St. Louis | 4 | 5 | 44.4 |
| Cleveland | 4 | 5 | 38.4 |
| Washington | 2 | 7 | 22.2 |

AMERICAN LEAGUE RESULTS

At Boston—Boston 1, New York 0.
At Cleveland—Detroit 1, Cleveland 2.
At Chicago—Chicago 1, St. Louis 0.
At Washington—Philadelphia 3, Washington 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

| | Won | Lost | P. C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Boston | 7 | 2 | 77.8 |
| Chicago | 6 | 1 | 66.0 |
| Cincinnati | 4 | 3 | 57.1 |
| Philadelphia | 4 | 3 | 57.1 |
| Pittsburg | 5 | 5 | 50.0 |
| New York | 3 | 4 | 42.9 |
| Brooklyn | 2 | 5 | 28.6 |
| St. Louis | 1 | 8 | 11.1 |

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

At New York—Boston 3, New York 2.

At St. Louis—Pittsburg 1, St. Louis 0 (12 innings).

At Cincinnati—Chicago 8, Cincinnati 2.

At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 8, Brooklyn 5.

GAMES TODAY

New England League

Lowell at Fall River.

FRANKIE NEIL

WAS NEARLY KNOCKED OUT BY MORAN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27.—Frankie Neil of San Francisco, fought 12 hard rounds with Owen Moran of England here last night. No decision was given, but Neil was outclassed from the start when he went through the ropes from a left hand drive by Moran. Time and again Neil looked as if he would be knocked out, but he was game and came back with a rush.

Moran finished without a scratch, but his opponent was badly cut about the face. The bout were to have fought at 124 pounds, but Moran refused to weigh-in and lost his forfeit. Neil weighed 121 and Moran looked to be many pounds heavier.

It was a whirlwind fight from beginning to end, both lads continually rushing. Moran, however, was able to use his left with success through Neil's guard and he several times put the latter against the ropes. Neil played for Moran's ribs and stomach, and in the clinches was handy with both hands. In the fourth Neil was almost out but came back fresh in the fifth. In the last three rounds Moran hammered Neil savagely, but could not get the decision (sic).

ABE ATTELL WON

COLUMBUS, O., April 27.—Abe Attell, of California, champion featherweight boxer, this night outclassed Billy Mackey of Providence, R. I., in eight rounds of a ten round bout. He knocked Mackey down four times in the eighth round, when the police stopped the bout.

COAST DEFENSE EXERCISES

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Dates for the joint army and militia coast defense exercises to be held this summer have been selected by the militia division of the war department. The New England states are:

Maine, Aug. 2 to 7; New Hampshire, June 12 to 17; Massachusetts, Aug. 14 to 21; Rhode Island, June 20 to 27; Connecticut, July 17 to 24.

THE FIRST GAME

Edsons vs. Bartletts Saturday Morning

The grammar school league opens Saturday and the Edsons will cross bats with the Bartlett school team on the South common at 3.30. The Edson school boys have selected Frank Roane for captain of the team and he claims it will put up a strong battle. Mr. John Condon, janitor of the school is the coach. He is an old time ball player himself and understands the game from A to Z. It was through his great work that the team captured the pennant for the last two years. Captain Roane played on the team last year and made a record for himself. He will pitch the opening game.

The lineup for Saturday is as follows:

T. Breen, c; Frank Roane, p; John Roane, 1st; L. Panton, ss; James O'Day 2d; Frank Waymon, 3b; George Kerwin, lf; John Miskell, cf; W. Donohue, rf.

TEXTILE SCHOOL NOTES

Manager Michelson of the 1909 football eleven has arranged a schedule with some of the strongest preparatory schools in New England, the first game of the season to be played with Andover on the 29th of September. The following is the schedule:

Sept. 29, Andover at Andover.
Oct. 2, Exeter at Exeter.
Oct. 9, St. Johns at Lowell.
Oct. 13, St. Marks at Lowell.
Oct. 16, Tufts 2nd at Medford.
Oct. 20, Groton at Groton.
Oct. 23, M. I. T. '12 at Lowell.

Tomorrow the baseball team will cross bats with the strong Cushing Academy at Ashburnham. Last season the Textile team lost to the academy boys by a score of 3 to 2.

The engineering department is about to install a 20 K. W. turbine and generator which will be ready for use in about two weeks, and also an alternating current switch board which will be used for both experimental purposes and service.

The exhibit of textile machinery at the Mechanics building in Boston opened yesterday and quite a few of the students attended it. This exhibit is under the auspices of the National Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and is a yearly event.

A number of the seniors taking the design and woolen courses are weaving cloth with which to make a graduation suit. Several students in last year's senior class tried this idea and some very attractive suitings were woven. Three of them bought a quantity of high grade wool and put in through the various dyeing, carding, spinning, weaving and finishing processes and used it as their thesis for graduation.

10,000 STARVING

Armenians Besieged by 50,000 Moslems

ALEXANDRETTA, Asiatic Turkey, April 27.—Refugees who have made their escape from Deurtyul, which is a small town not far from Alexandretta, bring most alarming accounts of the situation there. They affirm that 10,000 Armenians are beleagured by 50,000 Moslems. The besieged are half starving, and the conditions within the walls of the city are pitiful. It is certain that there are no Americans in that place.

TOWN IN FLAMES

BEIRUT, April 27.—The town of Hadjin, about 100 miles to the north of Alexandretta, where the residents had withstood the assaults of the fanatics for the past week, was in flames Sunday. According to reports received here several of the quarters escaped, and up to midnight Sunday all the Americans were safe. At this place there are five American women missionaries.

Latakia, in Syria, has been relieved, thanks to the unceasing efforts of the American consul-general at Beirut, Gabriel B. Reynolds, who secured the co-operation of the French cruiser Jules Ferry, which arrived at Latakia yesterday morning. Thousands of refugees have been pouring into Latakia, and the presence of the French warship there will have much influence in controlling the situation. The refugees are mostly women and children, many of the male members of the families having been killed. The consul-general has also succeeded in inducing the local authorities to take measures for the relief of the people, and they are responding sympathetically and energetically.

HAD SALT RHEUM FOR FOUR YEARS

Began Like a Ringworm on Hand—Though Treated, Washing Irritated It and It Spread Over Arm and Face—Kept Growing Worse.

CURED TWO YEARS AGO BY CUTICURA

"A little over six years ago I had a sore come on my hand. I consulted a doctor. He told me it was a ringworm. It kept on getting worse so I went to another doctor. He called it salt rheum. I kept on taking his treatment for some time but every washday my hand would break out and be worse. It continued to spread till it got over my whole hand and up my arm, also on my face. I suffered with the disease about four years when a friend of mine told me to try Cuticura. I got two cakes of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. When I had used them up, I was cured and I haven't seen the least sign of the humor since. Mrs. Linda Winslow, Wyalusing, Penn., July 13, 1908."

FACE BADLY BRUISED

And Cut by Fall. Now Healed without a Scar by Use of Cuticura.

"On January 31 I fell from a wagon, landing on my face and head against the curb and gutter. I was about the worst looking person that ever had a face. After about two hours' careful washing I got the blood stopped and the dirt off and my face pretty well covered with Cuticura Ointment. You may know that I was pretty well skinned up by the fact that both lips were cut inside and out and the skin on my nose and both cheek bones cut. Part of my face was healed over in a week and the scales came off and while the cheek is still sore there are no marks to prove that I was ever scratched. I would also say that I use the Cuticura Soap for shaving and my face is always soft. W. H. Dean, Newark, Del., February 24, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), or, in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of (60) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

WILLIAM AUSTIN

THE INVENTOR OF THE FIRST AUTOMOBILE EVER MADE

A correspondent of The Sun sends in the following account of the life of a Lowell inventor who died recently at Winthrop:

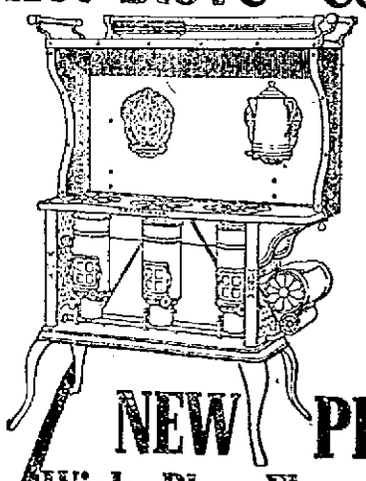

The inventive genius of Mr. William W. Austin, who recently died at his home in Winthrop, began to develop when he was about ten years of age. His mother had died and his father was left with five children. William was placed in the care of the writer's father, in what was then North Wrentham (now Norfolk) and that was where he was "farmed out." Winter evenings the fire was kept in the old kitchen fireplace for him to make the molds and melt up all the old pieces of pewter he could find, to make flat irons, cents and spoons. His kit of tools consisted of a jack knife and a little iron jipper. Before he was twelve years old he made a pair of wooden oxen and yoked them together. In his farm life he had every advantage a country boy could have and was never kept from school when it was in session. His father wished him to stay on the farm until he was 17 and then he was apprenticed to learn the trade of a blacksmith. He was married when he was 24. In 1860 he invented the steam carriage and rode to Wrentham on his first trip, frightening many horses. What he has done will be acted upon by other minds. It is not usually the real inventor that reaps the harvest. His married life was very happy and the death of his wife, 11 years ago was a great sorrow to him. They lie in the cemetery at Wrentham in the brick graves that were made by his own hands. The fact that his machine, the first auto carriage ever invented, has been in this city for years and that Austin for a time resided here gives a local interest to the story of his life.

M. N. L.

POLICE OFFICER KILLED

WORCESTER, April 27.—Silas D. Hemenway, a police officer, was fatally injured last night in a runaway accident. He was 49 years old and leaves a widow.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room.

NEW PERFECTION
Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

besides being the perfect stove for summer use is just as efficient for year 'round use. Does anything any other stove will do. It is built just like the modern steel coal range, with a CABINET TOP that makes it possible to keep food warm after it is cooked. Made in three sizes. Sold either with or without Cabinet Top. If not at your dealer's write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp a substantial, strongly made and handsome lamp. Burns for hours with a strong, mellow light. Just what you need for evening reading or to light the dining-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

TAYLOR FELL FIRST

Washington Gray of Concord Saw Him Fall

A New Hampshire Survivor of Old Sixth Makes Affidavit That Taylor Was First to Fall in Baltimore — He was a Member of Company C, Mechanic's Phalanx of Lowell

According to Washington Gray of Concord, N. H., the tablet in the Ladd and Whitney monument is properly inscribed, and Charles A. Taylor was the first to fall in Baltimore.

Following is Mr. Gray's affidavit:

Narrative of the killing of Charles A. Taylor, Sixth Massachusetts Volunteers, in the streets of Baltimore, April 19, 1861:

Washington D. Gray, born July 18th, 1840, enlisted in Company C, Mechanic's Phalanx, of Lowell, April 16, 1861. Left Boston with the regiment April 17th, about seven p. m. When we arrived at Baltimore, three horses were hitched to cars and drew off two ahead. Brought the Phalanx in lead, Captain Follansbee, Major Watson was there. The man in charge of the horses was not inclined to hitch. Major Watson compelled him to. After the man hitched, he wouldn't start the horses, but kept touching them with his whip and they would only jump right up and down, but wouldn't draw enough to pull your hat off. A man came around the corner of the depot and told Captain Follansbee to unload, saying, "Get out as soon as God will let you. Follow me," leading us into a trap. The trap was a bridge over a canal or something, with all the planks loosened, and the beams, too. But they were too anxious, and tipped up some of the planks, which warned us. From the rear came the order, "about face." We had to step lively to get out of the trap. That brought Captain Follansbee to the rear. Then we came down and made one turn. Somebody of our regiment came and spoke to Captain Follansbee, giving some sign. He ordered Captain Follansbee to follow. Before turning on to Pratt street Charles A. Taylor was shot down. We turned on Pratt street, I think to the right. Taylor was in the rear ranks of Company D. The "about face" brought us in the rear of Company D. Taylor was near to me in rank in front of me. Captain Hart's company was in front of Phalanx. Rear rank of Company C when faced about brought me directly in rear of Company D. We got badly mixed up on Pratt street, but before we rejoined the regiment, we got back in proper formation. I saw Taylor drop, and my opinion is the shot came from a window. It was the first shot I heard. There had been no firing before this. Before that it was bricks and other missiles. After we turned on Pratt street another was shot. I think that the commissary's name was Lieutenant Parker, but I am not sure. Perhaps I have forgotten his name. I was detailed as his assistant after we had gone into camp at the Relay House. I made trips to Baltimore by railroad every morning, and back at night, to buy bread for the regiment. The man who furnished the bread was a northern man. I do not remember his name. We became very friendly and he gave me a good deal of attention and showed me all over Baltimore. One day we were driving through Pratt street and when we turned the corner he showed me where the first man that was shot was picked up and carried into a house, which he pointed out. A father and son picked him up, (he told me their names, but I have forgotten) and carried him into their own house, and had considerable opposition in so doing, from the mob, who continued to beat him with bricks, etc., and to kick him. Taylor had an overcoat, blanket, belt, gun and cartridge box. I heard Taylor in Boylston hall, apply to Captain Follansbee to join his company, and he told him that his company was full, and took him to Captain Hart, who was short of men, and Captain Hart said to him: "I have no uniform for you, but I will get one if we don't have to move from here before morning. But I will get you a blanket and overcoat, gun, belt and cartridge box." And he did.

I saw Taylor quite a number of times on the trip, and he appeared like a nice young man. I saw him at the Girard House in Philadelphia, when we laid on the floor to get some rest, refuse several times to take liquor, and there is no question in regard to his identity. When he fell he was not more than fifteen feet from me.

(Signed) Washington Gray.

Witnesses:

(Signed) Harrie E. White, Samuel C. Marden.

Concord, N. H., April 20, '09.

Personally appeared before me this date the foregoing affiant and witnesses and subscribed to and made oath to their statement.

(Seal)

(Signed) Frank Battles, Notary Public.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Ward and Vokes with their company of dancers and singers entertained a large audience at the opera house last night. The title of the musical comedy was "The Promoters," and the two stars had ample opportunity to hand out jokes in their own inimitable way. The stage settings were very fine, and the costuming of the company could not have been better. The chorus work was very satisfactory and the specialties introduced were above the average. The piece itself was not up to the usual Ward and Vokes selections, but nevertheless it gave satisfaction and the audience was perfectly satisfied. Lucy Daly did some very clever dancing and her sister, Josie, who was seen here for the first time, was most pleasing in her dances. Our old friend Lew Kelly was all to the good and was given a great reception. The ladies' band was heard in several selections and the entertainment was enjoyed, although it was the opinion that it did not reach the standard of former Ward and Vokes productions.

FAUST AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Paul Cazeneuve and his splendid company of French players come to the Opera House Friday night, April 30, presenting Faust. The play is well staged and costumed, the electrical effects being particularly good. Mr. Cazeneuve gives a splendid performance, and the supporting company is most satisfactory and efficient. Seats are now on sale.

MONTANA

"Montana" is the newest play from the pen of the young actor-author, Harry D. Carey, and this young playwright has never written a prettier story nor has a more capable cast ever presented one of Mr. Carey's plays than the one to be seen at the Opera House Saturday, May 1st. It is a well known fact that "Montana" was one of the greatest successes ever scored by a western play in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago, for press and public proclaimed it the masterpiece of them all. This is "Montana's" only appearance in Lowell this season.

CARTER & SHERBURNE'S UNUSUAL OFFER

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Carter & Sherburne to a Sun man who dropped into their store, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and, although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and everyone has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"We are still selling the specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance."

HATHAWAY THEATRE

There's a good show at Hathaway's theatre this week. There's a little of everything and something to laugh at all the time. Don't forget that this is the final week of vaudeville this season at this theatre and just for that you cannot afford to miss the show this week. Out of so great a variety of things interesting and amusing you'll be sure to find something that will strike you just right. If you don't it's up to you to take something for that tired feeling.

Perhaps you would like Edwards Davis. He's got a little piece that he wrote himself and he named it "All Rivers Meet at the Sea." He is supported by a good company and the playlet is a very clever one. Of course you can't see the rivers meeting, harmonizing and frolicking at the sea, but that's none of your business. If you can't stretch your imagination a little bit it isn't Edwards Davis' fault. If there's any appreciation in your makeup you'll like it and you'll come away thinking that Edwards Davis was a dern bright fellow to think the thing all out by his lonesome. There's a woman in the case and she's been awfully abused by a "very devil" of a man and if you don't feel bad for her that's a sign that there's something the matter with your sad irons. Mr. Davis has to work himself up to poetic fury at times and if you don't forgive him for that you're a mean old thing.

And now, "lest we forget, lest we forget," let us say a word about Prof. Wormwood and his trained animals. This animal act of his is one of the biggest things of its kind in vaudeville. You see the professor has spent some seventy odd years training those awful wild things. He was in Africa one time and the animals got to know him so well that they called him by name. He was more popular in the jungle than Teddy Roosevelt will ever be, because Teddy can't talk the jungle language and Prof. Wormwood can, and besides, Teddy is afflicted with jungle [illegible] and there's big hairy things down there that won't stand for that. When Prof. Wormwood came back from the jungle he brought some of his most intimate friends along with him and should you go to the Hathaway's this week and should you note a family resemblance in the [illegible] just keep it to yourself. Don't fail to see Prof. Wormwood's animals. He has several baboons and they do all sorts of things even to riding bicycles. There are little simians and big [illegible] Great Dane dog and other [illegible] and see 'em and take the [illegible] along.

The Robert-DeMont company, two men and a woman, give the [illegible] acrobatic novelty of the sea[illegible]

The Lorraine quartet [illegible] melodies. The four men sing better than any quartet here this season. The singers are 1st tenor, [illegible] second tenor, Fred Kalcott; [illegible] W. Manners, and baritone, [illegible] day. Elsie Harvey, who [illegible] had an excellent dancing [illegible] found two new companions [illegible] [illegible] as a result. James [illegible] Cooper, "chattering chums," [illegible] endless lot of tongue chat [illegible] laughs with it. Warren [illegible] "opened" the bill [illegible] and does some good [illegible]

GIRL RETURNS HOME

Her Trip to Boston Laid to a Childish Whim

NEW YORK, April 27.—Adele Boas, the whimsical 13-year-old daughter of Arthur E. Boas, a wealthy thread manufacturer, is with her parents and relatives in the West 80th street residence; the mystery of her disappearance on Friday last has been dispelled. The case resolves itself into nothing more than a naive childish escapade with no other explanation than a sudden desire to see the world, Boston in particular, and a wish to be independent and to work for a living.

But with a cut finger and dishevelled clothes and apparently fatigued, Adele's parents are sure that she realizes that there are pleasanter experiences than going forth alone to a strange city in response to call for adventures. Yet aside from the natural reaction that has set in she is little the worse for her wandering. Dr. August G. Seibert, the Boas family physician, spent half an hour with the girl last evening and announced afterward that she was in perfect health. He said her trip was merely the result of a childish whim.

"She is growing," he said, "and she was seized with one of those inexplainable notions children have, and followed the fancy. She had been thinking of going to Boston for some time. For two weeks she had been saving her money for the trip."

With the first shock of the meeting with her parents over, the child told more of her movements in Boston. The position she had in a restaurant there was to have brought her $2.50 a week with board and lodging.

Identified on the Train

Saturday night and Sunday she spent in the room which she had rented. Her money by this time was practically exhausted—all but enough to get back to New York—and yesterday morning she decided to return. She went to the South station and was approached by an elderly man.

"The police are looking all over for you, Adele Boas," he said.

"My name is not Boas," she replied defiantly and boarded the train for New York, only to be identified at Stamford, Conn., after she had tried in vain to dodge the persistent questioners, even resorting to the ruse of speaking broken English.

The first clew to the missing girl came yesterday morning when Mrs. E. M. Upton telephoned from Charlestown, Mass., and said she had seen a girl answering the description of Miss Boas while on a train between Boston and New York. Mrs. Upton did not make it plain to the police whether the train was en route to Boston or coming to New York.

Police Put on the Alert

But with this to work on, the Boston police were notified and later Mr. Boas received a telephone message from Adolph Helther, a Boston bookbinder, who told of having seen a girl answering the description of Adele, boarding a train for New York. This started so much police machinery in motion that it was impossible for the girl to pass unnoticed.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

[illegible] each week [illegible] something new [illegible] program [illegible] latest films [illegible] first time in Lowell [illegible] ment presents the latest [illegible] of all the leading film makers [illegible] this gives a [illegible] the ideas of the [illegible] widely in many cases. In addition to the pictures there are illustrated songs and views of the world which also are frequently changed and variety is ever the spice of the Academy program. The shows run daily from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10:30, with a continuous performance on Saturday and the price of admission is always five cents, and admission includes a good seat. The reserved seats are five cents extra.

THEATRE VOYONS

One of the feature pictures at the Theatre Voyons today, "A Fighting Chance," affords the spectator a fine chance of witnessing the rugged scenery of the Rocky Mountains. "A Drive for Life" is a very successful auto picture with a thrilling and perfectly probable story. The actors all carry their parts well and everything is perfect. Comedy is always pleasing and "[illegible] Successful Bluff" provides just the right thing to send the audience away perfectly happy. The songs are good, notably "My Pony Boy," a big hit in "Miss Innocence," and "In the Days of Long Ago," a beautiful ballad.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. To the devisees, legatees, and all other persons interested in the estate of [illegible] Staples, late of Lowell, in said county, deceased, testate:

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration with the will annexed on the estate of said deceased, not already administered, to Blanche S. [illegible] of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on her official bond, or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-[illegible] day of April, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by [illegible] or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this [illegible] day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine.

[illegible] Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. [illegible] Commissioners on Railroads [illegible] will give a hearing to parties interested [illegible] petition [illegible] from the [illegible] for [illegible] stock of the Boston & Maine [illegible] at room No. [illegible] Tuesday, April 27, at 10 [illegible] Harry P. Morse, Chairman, [illegible] Clerk of the Commission.

STAR THEATRE

Two acts being presented by Miss Lillian Leslie, eccentric character woman who is as funny as the day is long and Jim Carroll, one of the best black-face comedians on the stage, are on the bill at the Star theatre for today and tomorrow. Besides these features there are pictures of Henri Renaud, the Nashua mill hand, winner of the big Marathon race, and the race, talking pictures, motion pictures and illustrated songs. The new talking picture is the "Mad Miner." Hear the singing orchestra render "Gee, I wish I had a girl."

Amateurs will be part of the big show tonight.

LOST AND FOUND

SUM OF MONEY lost Saturday noon, between Sunlight Shoe store, Central st. and Keene st. Reward at 82 Prescott st. G. L. B.

ELKS SLEEVE BUTTON and Elks tooth lost between 12 and 1, between Chalifoux bldg. and Putnam's Dining Room, Sunday. Reward at Central Club. C. H. Frost.

PURSE FOUND with small sum of money, in Colonial bldg., last Wednesday. Call at 142 Concord st.

LADY'S SOLID GOLD WATCH with a 1908 expert medal for markmanship, attached as a fob, lost. Return to Mr. Cld Dennison, Care American Hide and Leather Co. and receive reward.

PEARL ROSARY lost last Saturday afternoon, Merrimack sq. The finder will be rewarded by returning to The Sun Office.

SHELL POCKETBOOK found containing a sum of money and souvenir medal. Owner can have by proving property at 579 E. Merrimack st.

HAND BAG lost containing sum of money, rosary and dance ticket. Finder return to 85 Worthen st. Liberal reward

FOX TERRIER lost Monday afternoon. Reward to finder at 222 Moody street.

SUM OF MONEY lost Sunday between Fifth Ave. and St. Patrick's church. Reward at 85 Salem St.

WANTED

SECOND HAND FURNITURE of any kind wanted. We pay the best price. 241 Middlesex st. Call or send postal.

NOTICE—Money wanted. Will give $25 for the use of $400 for six months, with interest at six per cent., with good security. Inquire at Sun Office.

BOARD WANTED in Catholic family, two girls, aged 4 and 6, good locality. Address M., Sun Office.

BOARDERS and ROOMERS wanted at the Columbia, 179 Middlesex st.

TWO SMALL CHILDREN wanted to care for by the week. Address Mrs. Williams, R. F. D., No 2, Lowell, Mass.

SPECIAL NOTICES

THE LEIGHTON, Salisbury Beach, is open for the season. M. L. Mohn, Prop.

KEEP AWAY—Comb tenders on strike in Wilton, N. H.

WE WILL PAPER YOUR ROOM with one of the latest spring patterns for $1.75. Outside and inside painting at low prices. Send postal, H. J. McCarthy, 641 Broadway.

LACE CURTAINS laundered, 40 cents a pair. Satisfaction guaranteed. Mrs. C. Palmgren, 27 Meadowcroft st., off Moore st.

ROGERS' INDIAN BLOOD REMEDY—The worst cases of blood diseases have yielded to this remedy. 18 Prescott st. Up one flight.

IF YOU HAVE the least idea of buying a piano, call at W. F. Trumbell's rooms tomorrow. He will save you $50. 101 Westford st.

QUINCY HOUSE, 53 Lee st., Lowell, Mass. To the general public: You may think as many do, that on account of the exceedingly low rates that the house is second class, but such is not the case, everything is good and very homelike, and we give you our word that the board and rooms here are in fact better than most of the high priced hotels. Nothing to equal it can be found in Lowell for the price charged. Our untiring efforts to see to the comfort of our guests are greatly appreciated. Kindly soliciting your patronage, we remain, very truly, Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor.

WE ARE SELLING out the Boston Furniture Co. stock at half price. Bornstein & Quinn, 181 Middlesex st.

MATERNITY NURSE, 656 Gorham st.

IF YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY on harness and carriage trimmings come to Roy's, cor. Market and Palmer sts. Work done by Joseph Hebert.

MERRITT'S BOOK STORE—The place to buy or sell books, magazines, etc., 277 Middlesex st.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU, all kinds of reliable help furnished. Give us a call. W. C. Brooks, 32 Hildreth building. Phone 2192.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS—Razors, scissors and knives sharpened in first class shape, at Harry Gonzales, 128 Gorham st. Tel. 952-2.

THE SUN IN BOSTON—The Sun is on sale every day at both news-stands of the Union station in Boston. Don't forget this when taking your train for Lowell.

MONEY TO LOAN

NOTES OF SALARIED PEOPLE and others bought without security, easy payments. Offices in 65 principal cities. Don't be deceived by misleading advertisements, investigate actual terms of others, then save money by trading here. D. H. Tolman, Room 48, 45 Merrimack st.

One Per Cent.

Loans Per Month with or without security: salaried people, merchants, boarding house keepers and others. Will lend you any reasonable amount of money at 1 per cent. per month. No borrower should pay more. Loans made on furniture, pianos, etc., on short notice. COMMISSIONS PAID. All business strictly confidential.

Merrimack Loan Co

ROOM 3, 81 MERRIMACK ST.

Hours: 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Monday and Saturday until 9 p. m.

Lowell Dye House Co.

321 CENTRAL STREET

Nearly Opposite Lowell Opera House

Ladies' and gentlemen's clothing [illegible] cleansed and pressed in the most skilful manner.

Men's Suits cleansed and pressed, $1.50, giving them every appearance of new. Dry Cleansing a specialty.

Also Nashua Dye House, 15 and 17 Canal St., Nashua, N. H., and Mystic Dye House, 18 and 20 Montvale Ave., Woburn, Mass.

We do one of the largest dye house business in New England.

Perkins & Goodwin

Phone 2470

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

HOUSE 11 ROOMS for sale. Bath, hot and cold water, gas furnace, 10,000 ft. land, large barn and carriage house. Inquire 87 South Highland st.

8-ROOM HOUSE for sale in North Chelmsford, on Highland ave., attic, bath, gas, water, cement cellar, large shed, newly painted, good condition, 3 minutes' walk from car line. 5c fare from Lowell. Write Homeseeker, Sun Office.

6259 SQUARE FEET OF LAND on E street for sale at your own price, if sold at once. Inquire 792 Gorham st., upstairs.

SPLENDID two-tenement house for sale, excellent location. Will give somebody bargain, quick cash or easy payments, also a nice cottage very cheap. More information, P. O. Box 1017, Lowell.

REAL SPRING BARGAINS—Cosy cottage, orchard, garden, poultry houses, car line, very cheap. Dandy two-tenement near North common, easy terms. 2 nice cottages together for price of one. Cottage and 2-tenement for price of one. Modern 2-tenement 6-room flats, just finished. 6½ acres, cottage, barn, poultry, fruit, real bargain. 1½ acres cottage, barn, poultry, fruit, cosy bargain. 1-2 acre, 6-room cottage, 15 minutes' walk to city hall. Several desirable investments in blocks, best renting locations. For a quick, quiet trade place your property for sale with M. J. Sharkey, Insurance and Real Estate, 22 Central st., room 25. Tel. 2229-3.

HOUSE OF 9 ROOMS and pantry, one acre of land, for sale. Address Box 356, Chelmsford Centre.

EIGHT TENEMENT BLOCK for sale, all rented. Income $756 year. Located near depot. Aged owner will take $300 down. Two-family house near Ennell st. Gas, bath, open plumbing, hardwood floors. Large lot of land. Take $200 down. Linus, 267 Central st., Room 55.

AN INVESTMENT PROPERTY paying a big percentage on Arch st. for sale. Excellent corner lot and always rented. It will pay you to investigate this property. The price will be right. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

17 ROOM HOUSE near Dodge st. for sale. 3500 feet of land. A good property in a good location. Rents for $360 a year. Will sell for $4100. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

8 ROOM HOUSE with bath and furnace heat, near the court house, for sale. Could be made into investment property if desired. Will sell for $4500. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

10 ROOM HOUSE in Belvidere for sale. Bath and steam heat. Fireplace, set tubs, laundry. Excellent location. A substantially built residence. $5600. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

FOR SALE

In Chelmsford, some nice places, large and small, at the right prices.

Nice place on Westford st., good 8-room house, large lot of land. Price only ........................ $3200

Near Westford st., 6-room cottage house. Price ................... $1250

On Varnum ave., a nice place for the right prices.

Good 24-room lodging house. Price $800

Near Navy Yard mills, good 8-room house and shed, 1 acre land, all in first class repair. Price ...... $1500

In Centralville, 4-tenement block, always rented. Will be sold at a bargain. Your own price and terms.

G. L. HUBBARD

Telephone 2163. 44 Central St.

HELP WANTED

AN EXPERIENCED SALESMAN wanted to sell groceries at wholesale. Address Q., Sun Office.

EXPERIENCED CLERKS wanted for Monday evenings and Saturday afternoons and evenings, at Gregoire's, Lowell's Greatest Millinery Store.

AGENTS WANTED—25 boys or girls, to sell staple article, necessary in every home. Big premiums or cash. J. Durand, 251 Central st.

EXPERIENCED WOMAN COOK wanted at 6 Brookings st.

AGENTS WANTED at once, to handle new household specialty; big profits; easy sales; repeat orders. I. B. Lowell Co., Box 84.

AN OLD WOMAN wanted to do light housework and care for two little girls. Apply 88 Common st.

MAN WASHER wanted for laundry work. Apply 412 Suffolk st.

TEMPERATE YOUNG MAN wanted, about 22, to join experienced man as equal partner, opening first class butter, cheese and egg store, $150 required. Experience unnecessary, state age when answering. Address A. F. B., Sun Office.

ALL 'ROUND COOK wanted at once. Apply 129 Tremont st.

GOOD MACHINIST wanted for laundry work. Inquire 159 Cushing st.

MIDDLE AGED WOMAN wanted to do chamber work. Apply Lowell Inn, Central st.

KITCHEN GIRL and meat cook wanted. Apply 8 Dutton st.

CARRIAGE PAINTERS wanted at once. Call at 493 Chelmsford st.

FLYER SPINNERS on worsted wanted. Comb tenders and card room hands. Apply Hillsborough Mills, Wilton, N. H.

MARRIED COUPLE wanted to occupy double rooms furnished for light housekeeping. Part payment taken in housework. References given and required. Inquire J. Durand, 251 Central st. Tel. 1314-3.

YOUNG MEN wanted to prepare for post office clerk, carrier, and railway mail clerk positions. Good pay, short hours, pleasant work. Particulars free. Springfield School for Mail Service, Springfield, Mass.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS wanted. Salary $800 to $1400. No "layoffs." Examination for Lowell, May 15th. Common education sufficient. Candidates prepared free. Write immediately for full particulars. Franklin Institute, Dept. 73A, Rochester, N. Y.

CARPENTERS

T. B. Beecher of the Interstate Association in Conn., wants 30 more first-class non-union carpenters to work in New Britain. Union men quit work, refusing to handle material bought outside of New Britain. Wages 41c per hour, 8-hour day; steady work all the year. Apply with tools, to J. W. Allen, New Britain, Conn.

Will Paper Your Room for $2.00

We will paper your room, furnishing the paper and border to match, and hang the same in a first class manner for $2.00. Inside and outside painting, whitewashing, etc. Will cheerfully give an estimate on any work you intend to have done.

BAKER

The New Racket Phone 1072-4
503 MIDDLESEX ST.

C. E. SPONY

Ladies' Hair Dressing Parlors

All Kinds of Hair Work Manufactured

Scalp treatment, chiropody, electric face massage, shampooing and manicuring. We buy hair combings.

ROOM 2, ASSOCIATE BUILDING, Lowell, Mass.

TO LET

FURNISHED ROOMS to let. Nice, light, clean and quiet, double or single. Bath and all conveniences. Tom Kershaw, 29 Kirk st.

4 ROOMS AND SHED to let. Inquire 77 Bartlett st.

STORE TO LET May 1st, cor. Broadway and Willie st. Inquire O'Brien's drug store.

4-ROOM TENEMENT to let, on Fletcher st., near Broadway. Rent $6. Apply to Henry Miller & Son, 7 Merrimack st.

HOUSE OF 13 ROOMS to let, in Centralville, after May 1. Bath, furnace heat, shed and yard. Apply to Henry Miller & Son, 7 Merrimack st.

AN UP-TO-DATE TENEMENT to let with hot and cold water, furnace heat and nice garden. Inquire 530 Rogers street.

FURNISHED ROOMS to let for light housekeeping en suite. 6 Stackpole st.

NICE SUNNY ROOMS to let with board, home cooking, everything first-class, at 404 Bridge st.

BAKERY TO LET—Large store with all fixtures and tools. Apply 459 Broadway.

PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO, together with 4-room tenement and bath room, to let; all in first class condition, at the corner of West Sixth and Ennell sts., with entrances on both streets. Near St. Louis' church. Apply to Frank A. Hamelin, Tailor, cor. Cabot and Merrimack sts.

SUITE OF ROOMS in the Harrington building will be vacated May 1st. Three splendid rooms with large front room on Central st. Inquire at The Sun office.

CHAMBER TO LET—Steam heated, bay window; also side room, cheap. 43 Hurd st.

TENEMENT OF 7 ROOMS to let. Bath, pantry, set tubs, furnace heat. 5 minutes' walk from square. 133 Stackpole st.

NEW FLATS OF 5 ROOMS to let on Stackpole st., bath, open plumbing electric lights, modern improvements. Rent $15. Apply 384 High st.

NICE TENEMENT of five rooms, in first class repair to let, 332 Fletcher st. C. A. Roberts. Tel. 88-1.

MODERN FLAT in new house at cor. Gorham and Central sts., to let. Hot and cold water, open plumbing; set wash trays. All windows equipped with shades. Apply F. W. Barrows, 656 Gorham st.

5-ROOM TENEMENT with pantry to let at 44 Barclay st. Apply Phillips Schutz Furniture Co., 332 Middlesex st.

FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED rooms to let for light housekeeping. Steam heat, electric light. 75 East Merrimack st.

NICE TENEMENT of five rooms to let at 68 Chambers st. Inquire of Collins & Hogan, Central st.

ROOMS TO LET. Inquire 375 Gorham st.

TO LET

| | |
|---|---|
| 5 rooms, Central st. | $10.00 |
| 5 rooms, Adams st. | 10.00 |
| 3 rooms, Suffolk st. | 7.00 |
| 5 rooms, Watson st. | 8.00 |
| 4 rooms, Middlesex st. | 10.00 |
| 5 rooms, Tilden st. | 8.00 |
| 5 rooms, Union st. | 8.00 |
| 4 rooms, Appleton st. | 10.00 |
| 9 rooms, Central st. | 15.00 |
| 5 rooms, School st. | 8.00 |
| 6 rooms, Cottage st. | 8.00 |
| 5 rooms, Cushing st. | 10.00 |
| 6 rooms, Whipple st. | 8.00 |

Apply 468 Central Street

FOR SALE

BUREAU and BOOKCASE combined; also 2 large window sashes for hen house or hot bed, for sale. Inquire 87 South Highland st.

GOOD, SECONDHAND CONCORD WAGON for sale. Mackenzie's Carriage Shop, 592 Broadway.

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER for sale; total adder; also 3-foot show case and counters. 137 Middle st.

CHEST OF CARPENTER'S TOOLS for sale. Inquire 18 Ludlam st.

COLUMBIA CYLINDER GRAPHOPHONE for sale, many records, almost new. Also beautiful rosewood, German imported concertina, very cheap. Call 7 to 8 evenings. 601 Merrimack st., room 3.

VARIETY STORE for sale, on account of sickness; doing good business. Inquire 121 Lilley ave.

FOUR GOOD ACCLIMATED HORSES, 2 nice young, fresh family cows for sale. Rear 56 Franklin st.

HOUSE LOTS for sale from 2 cents to 10 cents a foot, within the city limits. Inquire 1128 Bridge st.

BAXTER BOILER and ENGINE, six horse power, for sale. Can be seen working at 55 Adams st. Must be sold at once.

GOOD FAMILY COW and two Angora goats for sale. Inquire at 513 Pleasant st., Dracut.

SAFES FOR SALE—Two secondhand safes in good condition, at a bargain. Address Box Z, Sun Office.

"CHARTER OAK" REFRIGERATOR, large size, for sale at a bargain. In excellent condition, suitable for boarding house, store or camp. Call at 1087 Middlesex st. or telephone 282-2.

Back at the Old Stand

110 Central Street

SPAULDING SISTERS' CAFE

They who feed you right.

SITUATIONS WANTED

SITUATION WANTED as fireman; first class license. Manuel B. Vieira, 482 Worthen st.

SITUATION WANTED—First class paperhanger and painter wants work. J. T. Smith, 9 Fifth st.

SITUATION WANTED—Young woman fully experienced in kitchen work wants position. Address B. D. E., Sun Office.

NEAT SMART GIRL wants house or table work. Good kitchen help. Ascension Home, Rear 438 Bridge st.

HOUSEKEEPER (working), or housework wanted. Likes children. Wages moderate. Ascension Home, Rear 438 Bridge st.

SITUATION WANTED by a good, capable woman to care for an invalid or do light housework. Address J. D., Sun Office.

SITUATION WANTED by a Protestant woman as housekeeper; care of an invalid or institutional work. Address N., Sun Office.

MISCELLANEOUS

DRINK GLORIA for health; sold everywhere.

LIMBURG, chimney expert. Chimneys swept and repaired. Residence, 1128 Bridge st. Tel. 243.

MOTHERS [illegible] kills lice on children, and all insects, cures dandruff and itching scalp, prevents falling hair. Harmless. 25c only, at Falls & Burkinshaw's, 418 Middlesex st.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED, badges and door plates made to order at Harry Gonzales, 128 Gorham st. Tel. 952-2.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Cash Loans

$10 and upwards

Secured quickly and quietly.

Housekeepers and workingmen you can secure money from us without publicity at the very lowest rates. These things, combined with courtesy and consideration, will give you more solid satisfaction and contentment of mind than you think, and if the company you do business with will not live up to this policy or arrange your loan to suit you as well as themselves, then it's time for you to change. Come in. No Red Tape. Our methods are entirely different from any other concern of money lenders. We don't ask you to tie up to a long-time complicated contract.

Call, write or phone the American Loan Co.

AGENTS,

Room 10, Hildreth Bldg.,

45 Merrimack St.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was 15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The New York police the other day fired upon autoists who drove over an aged man and passed on with increased speed. They were right in firing but they did not hit any of the men in the auto. They evidently require larger practice.

THE SULTAN SHOULD GO

It will be a great benefit to the world if the old sultan of Turkey be driven from power and a ruler chosen in his place who will accommodate himself to the progress of the hour. The sultan has been pulling against the advance of eastern civilization for many years and it is to be hoped the present upheaval will result in a policy that will accord more with the steady advancement which is characteristic of almost every other nation on the globe.

THE MAYOR VS. POLICE BOARD

An examination of the charges made by Mayor Brown against the police board shows that they have practically all been obtained from a close scrutiny of the police records; that they are mostly technical and unimportant in character. It is plain, therefore, that when Mayor Brown made a virulent attack upon the board in his inaugural address, he had at that time practically nothing to sustain his sweeping charges.

In order to make some show of even feebly supporting those charges he had to throw himself into the arms of his political opponents as if crying, "save me! save me!"

But for the mass of stuff read from the records of the department, His Honor's case against the police board would have been confined to hot air, and even with all the rehashed reports, there is so very little to sustain any charge against the board, that it practically amounts to nothing. Thus has the great, stormy and menacing mountain brought forth a very diminutive mouse.

SENATOR ALDRICH'S SHAMELESS COURSE

Senator Aldrich can have anything he wants from the trusts. He appears to be more subservient to their interests than the veriest trust magnate in the land. He is the vindicator, the procurator and defender of the trusts. The tariff rates that have been condemned as being only for the benefit of oppressive trusts he singles out as most essential to the well being of the people.

Aldrich is now paying on behalf of the republican party the debt which that party owes for its reelection to power.

In return the trusts will enjoy the privilege of plundering the people for four years more. Hides are to go back on the protected list and even wood pulp, which the house, after a thorough investigation put upon the free list, is likely to be taxed. Aldrich is the most shameless tariff extremist that has yet appeared on the scene. He has outdone Dingley. He has repudiated the avowed purpose of the republican party in its ante election pledges and stretched the platform declaration in favor of the trusts.

This revision upward instead of downward is treacherous, a breach of faith, a republican betrayal of the masses and one which will grant the trusts a new license to plunder the people. It is time President Taft came out to protest against such an outrage upon the country as the Aldrich bill would impose; time he interposed to prevent the standpatters from intensifying rather than reducing the tariff evils from which the people complain. Will he do it? The country anxiously awaits his action. If Roosevelt were in his place, he would be heard from in no uncertain voice. Can it be that we have gone from bad to worse?

THE MERRIMACK AS A SEWERAGE OUTLET

The state board of health has submitted an elaborate report on the pollution of the Merrimack among other rivers, depicting it from Lowell to the sea in all respects as an open sewer.

Particular attention is given to a matter that is of vital importance to our city. It is that of having sewers empty upon the dry bed of the river at Lowell in summer, and flow along, giving out odors that cannot fail to spread disease.

This state of affairs is justly to be condemned and should be remedied as soon as the bed of the river dries up.

It appears that the agitation against the pollution of New England rivers is assuming such proportions, that legislative action looking to a remedy will soon be provided. The city of Lowell at least should arrange to prevent the emptying of sewers upon dry rocks in the bed of the river. There should be a deep channel formed in the middle of the river bed, so that it would at no time be wholly dried up. Into the channel should empty the sewers which now empty near the river edge or along the mill buildings fronting on the river.

If the Merrimack is bad, the lower Concord is a great deal worse, as it is choked with an accumulation of mud and filth. Both rivers are sorely in need of purification, and no doubt, a change in that direction would prevent many outbreaks of disease; but financially we are not prepared now to meet the expenses of such a change.

The best way to effect it is to begin gradually to lessen the pollution and after a term of years, stop altogether the emptying of sewage into the rivers.

It is alleged that there are various ways of disposing of sewage without having it carried off by rivers. These methods however are in the first place expensive, and unless reports be incorrect, many of them are ineffective.

This sewerage problem in its various phases is one of the most important confronting our city at the present time. Nothing brings better results to a city than sewers. They promote good health and increase the taxable property.

It will do no harm and may do much good to conduct an occasional experiment in disposing of sewage in other ways than by emptying it into the rivers.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Announcement is made of the wedding of Frank H. Grey, Harvard, '06, formerly of Arlington, and Miss Retta M. Spelley, until recently a member of Henry M. Savage's theatrical companies. The marriage took place at Southern Pines, N. C. Mr. Grey made a study of music while at Harvard, taking courses under Prof. John K. Paine, Frederick Converse, and others. He composed some tunes for two Pi Eta shows.

Rev. Mary Miars, pastor of the Quaker church at Lynn, has resigned, and in June she will start for the west, visiting her parents at Wilmington, O., on the way. She has been pastor of the Friends' church at Lynn for 11 years. She is a graduate of Earlham academy, Richmond, Ind.

E. H. Harriman, the financier, has decided upon a long vacation abroad. His recent extended trip through the west made such heavy demands upon his time that he did not get the rest that he had hoped for.

The annual course at Yale university of Lyman Beecher lectures on preaching (or other topic appropriate to the work of the ministry), founded in 1871 by the late Henry W. Sage, is being given this year by Rev. Herbert Hensley Henson D. D., canon of Westminster and rector of St. Margaret's, Westminster, London, on "The Liberty of Prophesying."

Dr. W. T. Grenfell, the Labrador missionary, has just been appointed a magistrate by the Canadian government.

Substantial progress has been made by the Dartmouth college committee having the New Gym fund in charge since the beginning of the vacation. At present some $50,000 has been pledged and $35,000 of it has been paid. The organization among the alumni previous to 1883 has been perfected and responses are coming in well. With $100,000 in pledges and $50,000 in cash, the committee will confer with the trustees of the college with a view to beginning work on construction this spring, so that the building will be ready for next spring.

A bronze tablet showing a bust portrait of Mrs. Craigie, the writer whose pen name was John Oliver Hobbes, has been presented to Barnard college by some of the author's friends and admirers, among whom are Richard Watson Gilder and Joseph Choate. Dedication ceremonies, presided over by Silas Brownell, chairman of the board of trustees of the college, will be held on Wednesday. An address will be made by Mr. Choate, followed by a short lecture by Rt. Rev. John J. Wynne, editor of the Catholic Herald.

Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to England, has accepted the office of honorary chancellor of Union university, New York, and in that capacity will deliver the annual chancellor's address at the Union college commencement on June 9. Dr. Alexander, pastor of the University place Presbyterian church of New York city, and president ad-interim of Union college, was the chairman of the committee of the board of trustees which had the selection of an honorary chancellor in charge. It is expected that Mr. Choate will take part in the other commencement exercises, in view of the fact that President-elect Charles A. Richmond of Albany will be inducted into office at that time. It is the custom for the college to confer a degree on the honorary chancellor, but what degree will be given Mr. Choate has not been made public.

Dr. John Burnet, professor of Greek at St. Andrew's university since 1892, and vice president of the Classical Association of Scotland, has been offered the professorship of Greek at Harvard university.

An invitation is given to college students by Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, and other educators, to compete for the prize essays offered by Hart, Schaffner & Marx to encourage the study of business subjects. The competition for 1909 is now under way and will end the coming June. Subjects for 1910 have just been suggested by the committee, as follows:

1. The effect of labor unions on international trade.
2. The best means of raising the wages of the unskilled.
3. A comparison between the theory and the actual practice of protectionism in the United States.
4. A scheme for an ideal monetary system for the United States.
5. The true relation of the central government to trusts.
6. How much of J. S. Mills' economic system survives?
7. A central bank as a factor in a financial crisis.

The contestants are divided into two classes. Class A includes any American without restriction. Class B includes only those who, at the time of competing, are undergraduates of any American college. A first prize of $600 and a second prize of $400 are offered for the best studies presented by class A. A first prize of $300 and a second prize of $200 are offered for the best studies presented by class B. Any member of class B, however, may compete for the prizes of class A.

Men or women who have not had a college training are eligible to compete under Class C, to which a prize of $500 is offered for the best essay, and for which the following subjects are suggested:

1. The most practicable scheme for beginning a reduction of the tariff.
2. The value of government statistics of wages in the last ten or fifteen years.
3. Opportunities for expanding our trade with South America.
4. The organization of the statistical work of the United States.
5. Publicity and form of trust accounts.

The winning essays will be published in book form at the discretion of the committee, which, in addition to Professor Laughlin, consists of Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia university; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace Wright, New York city, and Edwin F. Gay, Harvard university. The papers are to be handed in by June, 1910

McGauvran Bros.

LOWELL'S LEADING

Piano and Furniture Movers

Furniture and Crockery Packed by Experienced Men

STORAGE

OFFICE, 5 BRIDGE STREET

Opp. Transfer Station

Office Tel. 49 Residence Tel. 1035-1

Allan Line "Royal Route"

SHORTEST, SMOOTHEST AND MOST PICTURESQUE

Montreal and Quebec to Liverpool, Glasgow and Havre, via the majestic St. Lawrence river, affords three days' sailing in sheltered seas, through almost indescribable grandeur of scenery. Palatial turbine steamers, swift non-vibrating and odorless. Route especially recommended to delicate or timid persons. Rates moderate. Illustrated booklets sent on application.

Denis Murphy, 18 Appleton Street

H. & A. Allan, 110 State St., Boston

JOHN J. O'CONNELL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR,

Telephone Connection

1010 Central St. Davis Sq.

JAMES E. O'DONNELL

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Hildreth Building, Lowell, Mass.

ST. THOMAS' SALVE

—FOR—

Piles, Old Sores and Skin Diseases

—FOR SALE—

At All Up-to-Date Drug Stores

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

ELECTRIC and COMBINATION FIXTURES

At Manufacturer's Prices

—AT—

DERBY & MORSE'S

64 Middle Street, Lowell, Mass.

WILLIAM RIGG

The well known and reliable piano and furniture mover will attend to all orders large or small, promptly, in or out of town, and he also makes packing a specialty. Order by tel or postal, or in person at 11 Prescott st. P. S.—Edward McGauvran is employed in charge of packing.

Fresh Clams Every Day

At the Lowell Inn. Fresh fish direct from the Boston wharves. Lobsters fresh from the traps. Meats fresh and wholesome. Call and see us. LOWELL INN, busiest place in Central street.

Wall Paper

—AT—

97 APPLETON ST.

75 YEARS OLD

SENATOR CHAUNCEY DEPEW OBSERVED BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, April 27.—A great birthday cake, aglitter from 75 candles and garnished with an equal number of new pennies, was presented to Senator Chauncey M. Depew last night at a dinner in honor of his 75th birthday at the Montauk club, Brooklyn. He has been the guest of honor on 17 similar occasions.

Sen. Depew was the only speaker, a custom which has been rigidly observed at his birthday dinners.

SENT TO ASYLUM

YOUTH HAD CONFESSED TO SEVERAL ROBBERIES

HAVERHILL, April 27.—A temporary and perhaps permanent respite from the consequences of nearly a dozen burglaries and breaks, to which the police say he has confessed, was granted yesterday to 19 year old Leslie N. Anderson, when Judge Fuller ordered his commitment to the Danvers insane asylum. The judge's order was based upon a report by physicians that Anderson was mentally irresponsible. Whether yesterday's action will result in a cessation of the case against Anderson is not known.

The arrest of the young man less than a fortnight ago following a series of small burglaries and thefts, to each of which the police connect Anderson, was a great surprise to those who knew him. The boy bore an excellent reputation.

A RATE WAR

BETWEEN EASTERN TRUNK LINES AT HAND

WASHINGTON, April 27.—A rate war among the eastern trunk lines is nearly inevitable in the opinion of the interstate commerce commission. Thus far, the trouble extends only to rates on import traffic, west-bound, but the likelihood is that it will extend, before a great while, to domestic traffic.

The trouble was precipitated some time ago by the Boston & Maine railroad in wiping out a differential of one cent a hundred pounds on import traffic, west-bound, which had existed for years between Boston and the ports of New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia. It was not expected that the trunk lines generally would meet the second reduction made by the Boston & Maine, but a day or two ago the Chesapeake & Ohio reduced its rate from Norfolk to meet the Boston & Maine's rate. The Chesapeake & Ohio rate goes into effect May 24.

PENSION SCHEME

FOR BOSTON AND MAINE EMPLOYES DISCUSSED

Secretary C. H. Bedell of the Boston and Maine pension committee says that much doubt and misunderstanding of the pension bill now before the legislature was cleared away at the recent meeting of the B. & M. Agents' association by the clear explanation of the provisions of the measure by Assistant Solicitor General Hale of the Boston & Maine company. A committee of the employes was present and many of them asked questions in regard to details of the measure.

At the close of Mr. Hale's address, the employes committee and Mr. Hale were tendered a vote of thanks. The pension plan was unanimously endorsed as for the best interests of all concerned.

Among some of the erroneous impressions which were corrected was the one which has gained some ground to the effect that the pension bill was virtually a scheme on the part of the company to cut the wages of employes to obtain money to pay their worn-out servants,—an impression which was easily dispelled by the convincing arguments of Mr. Hale.

Another fallacious idea which has gained credence in some quarters is to the effect that the railroad company could profit greatly by the handling of the funds of the Pension Fund association, whereas the fact is that all assessments are handled by the trustees of the association, the company not profiting one iota thereby.

THE AUTO FUND

Is Close to the $8000 Mark

Just $1587 more is needed to make up the guarantee fund of $10,000 necessary to insure the proposed automobile carnival during Labor day week. At the meeting of the finance committee of the Lowell Automobile club to be held in the board of trade rooms tonight, it is expected that the secretary will be able to report that the contributions have been swelled to $10,000.

Nearly $500 has been collected since Saturday and up to date $8413 has been guaranteed.

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club left Boston on the midnight train for New York where he is to meet the advisory board of the American Automobile Manufacturers association, relative to the two stock car races to be held here. He will return to Lowell on Wednesday.

On Sunday the Musicians union, at a regular meeting, voted to proffer the services of a band of 75 musicians for a concert to be given in aid of the guarantee fund. P. J. Burleigh would be the leader of this band. The finance committee will do nothing about the offer unless it is found out that the $10,000 is not forthcoming from regular subscription.

The following additional contributions were reported last night:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lowell Gas Light Co. | $250.00 |
| John Russell | 25.00 |
| W. A. Mack Co. | 15.00 |
| Robert F. Marden | 10.00 |
| Harry Raynes | 10.00 |
| N. D. Spyropoulos | 5.00 |
| Houpis Fruit Co. | 5.00 |
| Merrimack Shoe Shine Parlor | 5.00 |
| George Cougoules & Co. | 5.00 |
| George Voboli s | 5.00 |
| A. Johnson | 5.00 |
| E. G. Sopfios | 5.00 |
| R. A. Griffiths | 5.00 |
| William Wrigley | 5.00 |
| Louis Gefteas | 4.00 |
| B. Glavis | 2.00 |
| George Eliopoulos | 2.00 |
| M. Iatros | 2.00 |
| Elias Houpis | 2.00 |
| H. Domaras | 1.00 |
| M. Samaris | 1.00 |
| H. Loures | 1.00 |
| H. Houpis | 1.00 |
| Christos Chopelas | 1.00 |
| Dr. D. Mitsakos | 1.00 |

AT AUCTION

BOSTON PROPERTY OF FISH TRUST TO BE SOLD

BOSTON, April 27. — The Boston property of A. Booth & Co., the so-called fish trust, which has its headquarters in Chicago and numerous branches throughout the country and Canada, will be sold at auction on May 24, by order of Judge Dodge of the United States circuit court here. The sale will be conducted by Wm. J. Chalmers and Maurice P. Shaw, receivers of the corporation.

The property in this city consists of wharf rights and lease hold estate in Boston and real estate, wharves, elevators, machinery and other equipment in East Boston.

It is understood that similar sales of the company's property in other states and Canadian provinces will occur during May.

COURT MIDDLESEX, F. OF A.

The regular meeting of Court Middlesex, Foresters of America, was held last night in Foresters' hall, Chief Ranger John H. Condon in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Two candidates were initiated and final arrangements were made for the social party which is to be held in the near future. The auditors made their report for the quarter, showing a gain in finances and membership. The trustees reported the goods and effects of the court in excellent condition. Interesting remarks on the court affairs and the order were made by the chief ranger, P. C. R. P. F. Kennedy, who has held the office of auditor for a number of years, tendered his resignation on account of other duties occupying his time. A rising vote of thanks was extended him for the manner in which he had performed his duties.

U. S. ARMY ENGINEERS

NEWPORT, R. I., April 27.—The board of United States army engineers which was recently designated by the war department to make a survey for the construction of a continuous waterway, inland where practicable, along the Atlantic coast, will meet at the Crown hotel, Providence, next Wednesday morning.

OUR CHALLENGE!

CARTER & SHERBURNE DECLARE THAT HEM-ROID WILL CURE ANY CASE OF PILES.

By authority of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, Carter & Sherburne, Lowell, Mass., guarantee that Hem-Roid, an internal tablet remedy, will cure any kind of piles, no matter how bad.

Dr. Leonhardt is the celebrated specialist who discovered that the cause of piles is internal, and in giving his remedy to the public, said: "Hem-Roid will be sold only under a guarantee that it will cure any case."

$1 for 21 days' treatment. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y., prop. Write for booklet.

An Asparagus Bed

Should be a part of every family garden. This week we offer a splendid lot of

New Jersey Asparagus Roots

FREE FROM RUST

BARTLETT & DOW

216 Central Street.

MILK PRODUCERS

Met and Perfected an Organization

The Middlesex North milk producers have organized and are now in a position to protect themselves against what they call injustice to farmers. The organization which was proposed at a meeting held earlier in the month was completed at a meeting held at Odd Fellows hall in Centralville yesterday afternoon.

Walter E. Morris of Billerica presided and was elected president. E. S. Howe of this city was chosen secretary and treasurer. L. W. Wheeler of Westford, chairman of the committee on by-laws, reported a draft of by-laws that was adopted.

They provide that the name of the organization shall be the Middlesex North Farmers' Protective association, the object of which shall be "mutual protection against injustice in the enforcement of laws dealing with the production and sale of milk." The initiation fee was set at $1, with the understanding that the members will stand ready to give further financial support if it is required.

The following committee was appointed to bring in new members: F. L. Fletcher, Chelmsford; S. P. Pike, Tewksbury; George Bancroft, Tyngsboro; L. W. Wheeler, Westford; C. P. Greenwood, Billerica; R. S. Fox and Enoch Mills, Dracut; Charles Skelton, Carlisle.

The membership paper that will be circulated in the several towns for signatures will read as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the Middlesex North Farmers' Protective association, hereby protest against what we deem to be the unfair, unjust and wrongful prosecution of milk producers for the selling or having in possession for sale milk which is below the standard set by law, where such milk is pure, unadulterated, natural product of the cow. For the purpose of protecting ourselves against such unfair, unjust and wrongful prosecution, we hereby pledge the amount of money set opposite our names, such money to be paid at such time and in such amounts as may be necessary to accomplish said purpose."

GIRL MAY DIE

She Was Attacked by a Dog

GLOUCESTER, April 27.—While at play with some playmates in a school yard on Main street in this city last night, Helen Ferguson, nine years of age, was attacked by a large St. Bernard dog and after being dragged all over the school yard by the animal was badly torn in several places by the animal's teeth. She was taken to her home and will probably die.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last evening, Helen, accompanied by four or five other girls, went into the yard of a school house on Main street to play.

A large St. Bernard dog was lying near the school steps and as the children commenced to gambol, the brute rose and, with a snarl, made a leap for the Ferguson child, grabbing her by the right leg. The animal hauled the girl all over the yard, pausing now and then to release his victim, but to bite her again about the face, arms and legs.

Several boys passing heard the child's cries and rushed into the yard. After a sharp battle with the dog, which they attacked with stones and clubs, they succeeded in driving the beast away.

Picking the Ferguson girl up, the boys carried her to her home on Trask street. Two physicians were hurriedly summoned, and after examining the child's bites pronounced her in a critical condition and stated that she would probably die.

The attack was reported to the chief of police, who detailed several officers to hunt for the dog, but he has not yet been found.

HE LEFT $50,000

But Somerville Man Died of Starvation

BOSTON, April 27.—Miss Elizabeth A. Waters of East Somerville said yesterday that she has learned through a telegram from Seattle that her brother, Charles Waters, formerly a resident of this city, had died there. He was 88 years old or more, and moved to the west 40 years ago on the crest of the boom. In earlier life he was in the grocery business and later in the wine business on State street.

According to the dispatch, Mr. Waters died from starvation, yet had bequeathed $50,000 to his sister. He is believed to have acquired large real estate holdings in Seattle. Miss Waters is active in Somerville in charitable work and was the founder of the Day street children's home, West Somerville.

PLANS MADE

FOR REORGANIZATION OF BANKRUPT FIRM

NEW YORK, April 27.—A plan for the rehabilitation of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani was announced yesterday by Irving L. Ernest, one of the attorneys for the failed brokers.

The plan provides for the formation of a co-partnership to take over the assets of the firm and issue notes maturing in a year and a half.

These notes to be given to creditors in part payment of their claims, the remainder to be paid them in the form of a cash dividend. Mr. Ernest was confident that this cash payment would approximate twenty per cent.

A meeting of the creditors will be called shortly for the purpose of formally endorsing the plan.

RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

FITCHBURG, April 27.—Vice Chairman Charles E. Ware of the board of trustees of the Burbank hospital, who, with Mayor M. Fred O'Connell, chairman of the board, has borne the brunt of the charges of misconduct recently brought against the institution, yesterday resigned his office as vice chairman and from the executive committee, although retaining his membership in the board. He gave no reason.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

EASY THE HEAD

That wears our English Derby; made in half sizes—that means double the number of sizes made in other derbies and twice the chances of fitting you perfectly without stretching or padding the hat—Smart shapes, fine quality, black and Spring colors,

$3.00

Low Shoes

FOR WARM DAYS

New lasts and the best of leathers carefully made. Young men's stylish shoes, pumps, two eyelet ties and oxfords—russet, black and shiny leather.

$2.50 to $4.00

Conservative straight lasts in shoes for the man who goes in for comfort. Russet, calf and kid,

$2.50 to $4.00

Hanan's Shoes

And we feature these as the best shoes made, russet and black, stylish and perfectly fitting,

$5.00 and $6.00

Fancy Hosiery

To go with low shoes—fine lisle and silk lisle in fifteen colors,

25c and 50c

2400 Pairs

Solid color fine hose—reseda, gray, helio, green, black and tan—the best thing we've ever shown,

2 Pairs for 25c

PUTNAM & SON CO.

166 Central Street

GENERAL AMES CAMP

Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, United Spanish War Veterans, met in regular session last night in Memorial hall. There was a large attendance of members and considerable business was acted upon during the course of the meeting. Three new members were mustered in and six applications for membership were received. Plans were discussed for the May party to take place early next month, and for Memorial day.

Edith Prescott Wolcott auxiliary also held a well attended meeting and transacted considerable routine business. Mrs. Jelly was in the chair. The auxiliary discussed plans for the events this spring.

PEOPLE WE KNOW

They are Lowell People, and What They Say is of Local Interest

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press: are published as facts, people become skeptical. One subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

S. Jones, living at 511 Bridge St., Lowell, Mass., says: "I am pleased to speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills as they have done me a wonderful amount of good. For years I had trouble with my kidneys being forced to get up several times during the night to pass the secretions. My back ached most of the time and I could not find any position that was comfortable. After trying several remedies with indifferent success, I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, and procured several boxes at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. Since using them my back has been strengthened and freed of pain and I have been in better health than before in years."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WORMS

are the "unknown" ailment from which so many pale, hollow-eyed, peevish children suffer.

KICKAPOO WORM KILLER

Candy Lozenges, will make them bright, happy, healthy—with normal appetite. Trial proves. All druggists.

KICKAPOO MEDICINE CO., Clintonville, Ct.

MIGHTIEST NIMROD OF THEM ALL

A Genius Who Combines Exploration, Hunting and Photography With a Life of Adventure

RICALTON AND A CHINESE DWARF

RICALTON WITH TWO OF HIS FRIENDS, CASHMERE GIANTS

RICALTON IN INDIA

ON THE WAY TO AN ELEPHANT HUNT

PHOTOS COPYRIGHTED BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD, N.Y.

THERE will be no peace for anything that crawls, creeps, crouches or flies in the African jungles this year. About the time that Theodore Roosevelt and his caravan train their guns in the greatest hunt of modern times another will be there with his cameras and guns to add interest to the invasion. This one is James Ricalton of South Orange, N. J., who is the dean of the camera kingdom of the world. This reads like an extract from Colonel Tody Hamilton's circus posters, but no ordinary phrases or sentences can give an adequate description of Ricalton's exploits.

Professor Ricalton has been in Africa before. He has been everywhere where there was anything doing. He has met and "taken" nearly every potentate, ruler, general and admiral of earth and the file of all nations. He has been on the firing line of great contests, in the midst of the carnage, inside and outside of the breastworks, on the mountain tops, in the valleys and on the sea.

An interesting character is this little, wiry Jerseyman—sixty years of age, slender in physique, modest in manner, with kindly blue eyes peeping through gold rimmed spectacles, speaking, to quote his own words, "no language but English, and very little of that." All distances are alike to him. He tramps as many miles in a day as a horse walks, carrying a thirty pound camera and tripod, for he scorns the snapshot apparatus. On the march he wears out young soldiers. He takes his place with the gunners in perilous artillery positions, lounges with the reserves waiting for battle and is in the dash of the onslaught when he is allowed. When the positions have been carried he sits down with the living and the dead with as much insouciance as he would sit at a dinner in his Jersey home.

When Edison wanted the right vegetable fiber to serve as a filament for his perfected incandescent lamp he sent Ricalton around the world to find it. The search took Ricalton into the remotest parts of Burma, China and India, and on this tour he experimented with more than 140 varieties of the bamboo. These travels made him the wonderful photographer that he is. It was Ricalton who made the pictures for the Stoddard lectures. They told the story when Stoddard's descriptive vocabulary gave out.

Ricalton sailed from Australia March 17 for Africa. He took his camera and gun, for as a hunter he is in the same category as Roosevelt, and in the opinion of some he is the more expert of the two. One object of Ricalton's mission is to stalk the fly which inoculates those whom it bites with the fatal sleeping sickness. He has a camera with a lens especially arranged for photographing the fly in action. Ricalton is a faunal naturalist as well as an entomologist. The stalking of this fly is a feat well calculated to test the hunter's skill and endurance. If anybody can do it Ricalton can. While in the dark continent Ricalton will be within reach of Roosevelt, and when not catching the tsetse fly on the wing he will take a hand in the hunt for game and train his camera on any brought down as well as on much that will get away.

Ricalton was at the front and on the flanks and in the rear during the Boer war, and he is familiar with the geography and topography of the country. There will be new stories and strange experiences and wonderful pictures when Ricalton has finished [illegible] into Africa on the heels of Roosevelt.

Every reader will recall the great Delhi durbar. Ricalton was there. Undazzled by its pomp and tinsel, he erected a scaffold in the center of the throng of jeweled princes and barbaric [illegible] and calmly took his pictures of the [illegible] pageant. The stories written of that event may have been overcolored, but the pictures of Ricalton were from life. People who saw those pictures know exactly what the durbar was. The lens was mightier than the pen.

He was the first foreigner to travel on foot through northern Russia. He walked 1,500 miles from Archangel to St. Petersburg. In all his travels, in all countries, he estimates that he has exposed 75,000 negatives. He believes that he has photographed every celebrity of his generation.

As a photographer in war Ricalton did with the lens what Munkaczy did with the brush. In the Philippines he was the only one in his business to get troops actually firing on the enemy. At the battle of Caloocan a soldier near him was shot down. Ricalton seized the rifle, picked up the cartridge belt and joined the skirmishers. At the siege of Tientsin he stood on the walls and photographed Americans who were dropped by Chinese bullets.

Favored by Nogi.

In the war between Russia and Japan Ricalton became a well known figure wherever there was danger and suffering.

When General Nogi's chief of staff answered by telephone the complaints of his perplexed commanders who had arrested "an indefatigable little man with a camera," he said, "If it is the American photographer Ricalton let him take photographs wherever he likes." General Nogi himself was friendly to the little man from Jersey, often sent him presents of fruit and frequently humorous messages. All the war correspondents were friends and admirers of the "little fanatic," as they dubbed Ricalton.

Writing to a friend in this country while he was watching the shells from the great siege guns in Manchuria, Ricalton said: "I have been trying to photograph the flying shells. They can be seen in flight, and I must make a stereograph to show one."

He kept at it until he had secured what he wanted. It was a marvelous picture, showing a 500 pound projectile thrown by an eleven inch coast defense mortar over the hills at the invisible Russian fleet. In order to get the proper range he was compelled to stuff his ears with cotton wool. Gunners who had neglected to take this precaution became deaf.

Camera Is King.

Ricalton's success with the camera brings to mind the important work done by his profession. The pictures of epoch making events are necessary in this age to complete the best descriptive work of the pen of great battles, splendid festivals, glittering pageants and the catastrophes of land and water. Without the aid of the camera the terrors of the earthquake at Messina could not have been adequately realized. It was the camera that focused the attention of the world on the awful flood of lava and the destruction of life about Vesuvius.

Only those who have made the subject a study have any conception of the manner in which great events are pictured, and only those engaged in the work know what dangers are frequently faced in order to obtain the results. The skilled photographer is a born explorer and an adventurer in the best sense of the word. The distances from Sahara to the polar circle, from Patagonia to Tibet, are all the same to him. To be stoned in China, arrested in the Forbidden Land, imprisoned in Siberia, captured in savage jungles, detained as a spy in times of war and turned down by officious underlings hedged about for a day with red tape—all of these, and more, are a part of his day's work. To accomplish his purpose he sleeps on the ground, in the cold or under drenching rains, faces disease from exposure and goes hungry. He wins his spurs on rocky roads.

Before the photographer became an essential in the collection of the great news events the correspondent had it all his way. Within less than a half century intelligent readers have learned that, while it is possible for the best trained correspondent to exaggerate now and then, the lens tells the truth always. The camera does not lie. Today the reliable correspondent and the photographer stand shoulder to shoulder.

The news photographer is an oddity. Nothing surprises him. Nothing makes him lose his nerve. His hand must be steady and his brain unclouded. He must be able to shoot, manage a caravan, adapt himself to perilous positions, eat and sleep wherever his hat falls, tramp and steal his way everywhere, ride anything that has four legs, barter and exchange goods, develop his plates on arid sands or in arctic ice and get the prints to the home office before the news becomes stale.

These are glittering generalities. Let us take some actual experience and adventures.

There was one of these knights of the camera who mounted an old elephant with his ladder camera under his arm and followed the governor of Ceylon in an elephant hunt. Another followed a swarm of eastern pilgrims to the holy sepulcher at Jerusalem. There he balanced himself on a swaying board slung from a balcony high above the heads of the crowds and made a picture of the populace and representatives from every Christian nation of the earth. One of the intrepid knights dashed four times up the side of Mont Pelee and took photographs of the volcano in action. Another crossed the boiling rapids of the Jhelum river by gliding along a cable made of a single rawhide rope, from which he was suspended by a loop of straps. Pictures of holy places in Palestine were taken by another, who rode through the country mounted on a mule. Yet another went with an exploring expedition to the farthest north and made photographs that no lens had ever recorded.

Triumphs of American Photographers.

It was an American photographer, E. R. Rose, who spent a fortnight in the Vatican, studying the revelations of papal life, from which he made pictures that were commended by artists and which gained for him a medal from Pope Pius X. similar to the medal presented by his holiness to the Prince of Wales. Accompanying the medal was a message from the pope, thanking the photographer for his work and bestowing upon him the papal blessing.

Another American photographer, Henry A. Strohmeyer, made more than a thousand photographs of the late President McKinley. Strohmeyer has traveled in every state in the Union. He took over 2,500 photographs of President Roosevelt. He followed the strenuous executive in all his dangers. One of the most striking of the collection was taken while the photographer stood on "Rocking Stone and the Drop of Despair." A misstep or an attempt to recover his camera had it fallen would have precipitated the photographer into a valley a mile below the spot on which he stood.

One of the youngest and most daring American photographers is Horace D. Ashton, who succeeded in breaking into the offices (in a legitimate way) of magnates in the Wall street district, where he was permitted to take photographs of leading financiers, who consented to face his lens. This young man has just passed the majority mark of life, but he is now following the head of the Panama canal work. Like all in his profession, his life is a varied one. One day he is photographing the members of a peace congress; the next he is pointing his camera at life in the slums. Then he is off to do a fashionable wedding; an hour later he is in a tunnel under one of the rivers of New York. One day he climbed the flagpole of a skyscraper, from which he made a birdseye view of the restless life of the great city beneath.

It is recalled that these knights sometimes pay their lives as a forfeit for their undertaking. H. F. MacKern died not long ago of jungle fever while taking photographs in the interior of Mexico. He was a famous photographer in the Boer war. He trekked all over the scenes of the war with a wagon and two horses.

A well known millionaire has become infatuated with the business. He has a $10,000 automobile in which he travels over Europe and in his own country as well, taking photographs, which are shipped to New York city and published throughout the country.

Wherever there is a cyclone, wherever a city is wiped out by conflagration, wherever there is a naval or military review, wherever there is a political convention, a great trial, a balloon flight, a riot, a horror, anything that appeals to the public interest, there is the man with the camera!

FRANK H. BROOKS.

SCHOLARS WHO HAVE PLAYED POLITICS

And Politicians Who Went Into University Life.

THE tender to Dr. Eliot of the mission to the court of St. James recalls some interesting data in connection with the diplomatic service of this country in which college men as well as others have figured.

Only one college president has been elected president of the United States—Garfield. Several have been appointed ministers or ambassadors.

One president of the United States founded a great institution of learning after he left the White House. The inscription over the grave of Jefferson, which he had previously directed should be placed there, shows that he was content to let his fame rest upon two events, that he was "the author of the Declaration of Independence and father of the University of Virginia." Madison and Monroe later aided in fostering the great institution.

Long before Taft had any idea of reaching his present place he was dean of the Cincinnati Law school, and he was a lecturer there while on the bench.

There are two college professors in President Taft's cabinet—Jacob McGavock Dickinson, secretary of war, and James Wilson, secretary of agriculture. The former was a professor in the Vanderbilt university. He has recently represented the interests of the United States in important litigation of an international character, and at the time of his appointment to the cabinet he was general counsel for the Illinois Central Railroad company. Before Secretary Wilson went into the cabinet (he was appointed by President McKinley) he was a professor of the Iowa Agricultural college.

When President Cleveland quit political life he retired to his home in Princeton and was a lecturer in Princeton university and was also advisory counsel for one of the great life insurance companies of New York.

When Robert Edward Lee, the idol of the Confederate cause, laid down his sword he went to Lexington, Va., and became president of Washington (now Washington and Lee) college, where he remained until his death. Peace had her victory.

Others who had been honored in halls of learning went to political honors. James Russell Lowell was twice ambassador. In 1877 he was sent to Spain and transferred three years later to the court of St. James. In 1855 he was Smith professor of French and Spanish languages and professor of belles lettres in Harvard.

Before he was appointed minister to Turkey, in 1897, James Burrill Angell had been professor in modern languages and literature at Brown university, president of the University of Vermont from 1866 to 1871 and then president of the University of Michigan. In 1896 he was appointed a member of the deep water commission.

Andrew Dickson White, who was professor of history and English literature in the University of Michigan and then president of Cornell (1867), was sent to St. Petersburg as an attache of the American legation, after which he was appointed minister to Germany from 1879 to 1881. At another time he was United States commissioner to Santo Domingo. Previous to these appointments he was a state senator from the Syracuse (N. Y.) district.

Carroll D. Wright was the first commissioner of the United States bureau of labor, in 1885. He first appeared in political life as a Republican presidential elector in 1876. In 1879 he was lecturer on phases of the labor question, ethically considered, at Lowell institute in Boston. In 1881 he was university lecturer on the factory system in Harvard. He was also president of the collegiate department of Clark university in Worcester, Mass.

William L. Wilson, who prepared the Mills tariff bill in 1888, was professor of Latin at Columbia university in 1865-71. At the time of his election to congress he was president of the West Virginia university.

Jacob Gould Schurman, professor of philosophy in Cornell in 1886 and president of that institution in 1892, went to the Philippines in 1899 as chairman of the Philippine commission, having been appointed by President McKinley.

Thomas Jonathan ("Stonewall") Jackson went to the field after he was professor of natural science and instructor of military tactics in the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va.

Edward Everett was an example of the scholar in politics. From the chair of Greek literature in Harvard in 1814 he went to the governor's chair of Massachusetts in 1834. In 1841 he was appointed minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain. After his return he was chosen president of Harvard and remained in that place from 1845 till 1849. He was in the cabinet of President Fillmore as secretary of state. In 1854 he was a United States senator from Massachusetts. In 1860 he was nominated for vice president on the Constitutional Union ticket.

David Jayne Hill of New Jersey was minister to Switzerland in 1903. Previous to his appointment to that post he was a professor and afterward president of Bucknell university. In 1888 he was president of Rochester university, and in 1898 he was appointed first assistant secretary of state.

Edward John Phelps of Vermont, who was sent by President Cleveland to the court of St. James, was president of the American Bar association in 1880 and at the time of his appointment as representative to Great Britain he was Kent professor of law in Yale, which place he held until his death, for while he was absent as minister the chair at Yale was kept vacant. In 1893 he was senior counsel for the United States in the Bering sea arbitration.

John Eaton of New Hampshire became president of Sheldon Jackson college, at Salt Lake, in 1895, after he had been commissioner of the United States bureau of education from 1871 to 1886.

Champ Clark, member of the lower house of congress from Missouri and now leader of the minority in the house, was president of Marshall college, West Virginia, in 1873-4.

The militant leader of the reform movement in Connecticut, Dr. Flavel Sweeten Luther, is president of Trinity college. Seth Low gave up the presidency of Columbia university to become mayor of New York city, and he is actively engaged in civic matters at the present time. Governor Charles Hughes of New York was professor of law in Cornell university before he entered politics. The present mayor of Greater New York, George B. McClellan, was a member of the lower house of congress before he became mayor, and he is also a lecturer in Princeton. George Bancroft was [illegible] St. Petersburg in 18[illegible] [illegible] at Britain in 1889.

James Monroe, J. Q. Adams, Martin Van Buren and James Buchanan were ministers at the court of St. James. [illegible] was also minister to France, and Jefferson represented this country as minister to France. Each became president of the United States.

ASA JAY.

DR. CHARLES WILLIAM ELIOT.

FACTS IN FLASHES.

Forests cover one-tenth of the surface of the world and one-quarter of Europe.

Two thousand yards was the utmost range of the fifty-two hundredweight guns used at the battle of Trafalgar.

It is calculated that by 1950 there will be no coal left in Britain within [illegible] feet of the surface.

Seventy thousand tons of cork are [illegible] yearly for bottling beer and mineral waters in England.

The longest recorded hair from a [illegible] head is [illegible] feet, but a hair [illegible] long has been noted in a [illegible].

[illegible] gallons out of every hundred of London's water supply come from the Thames and twenty-five gallons from the Lea.

Cabbage, like all vegetables which have been cultivated from remote times, is believed to be of European origin.

An air gun of large size, working on the principle of the pneumatic hammer, has been devised for killing animals in a humane manner.

THE 8-HOUR LAW

Was Passed to be Engrossed by the House

BOSTON, April 27.—The House spent two and a half hours yesterday on motions to reconsider votes of Friday.

In the first place Representative Duane of Waltham moved reconsideration of the vote whereby his bill for direct nominations in the 5th Middlesex senatorial district was rejected last Friday and the adverse report of the committee on election laws accepted. On a roll call reconsideration prevailed, 112 to 87. The question then recurred on the motion to substitute. Here again Representative Duane won out and his bill was substituted for the adverse committee report, 112 to 85.

Representative Hall of North Adams moved reconsideration of the rejection of the bill to regulate the practice of osteopathy. Friday last, practically without discussion, and with comparatively few members in the house, this measure was rejected without division. When Representative Hall made his motion to reconsider Representative Cushing of Boston objected. The house was spending too much time in reconsidering matters, he observed, and if the present pace was maintained the legislature would be in session next summer.

Representative Weeks of Everett, however, insisted that the House should reconsider. The bill had not been given that consideration which its importance warranted. Not only should the rejection be reconsidered, he said, but the house should pass the measure along.

Eight-Hour Bill Advanced

On a rollcall the motion to reconsider prevailed. The question then recurred on ordering the bill to a third reading and after a general debate in which the bill was favored by Messrs. Weeks, Hall, Elmore, Stearns, Brown and Montague, and opposed by Messrs. Callahan, Oliver and Riley, the bill was ordered to a third reading, 84 to 71.

The house discussed the eight-hour bill about an hour and finally passed it to be engrossed.

This measure, sponsored by Representative Fay of Boston, provides that laborers, mechanics and workmen engaged on public work shall not be "permitted" to work more than eight hours in any one day. The present law says they shall not be "required" to work longer.

Mr. Fay had an amendment in to exempt the state printer from the proposed act during the legislative session and in the fall when getting the ballots ready. Representative Dorman, opposing the Fay bill, offered a substitute measure to permit overtime work but providing that the employe shall receive double compensation therefor.

The Fay bill was opposed by Representative Bishop of Newton. It was favored by Representative Parks of Fall River, Mildram of Boston, White of Brookline and Carmody of Worcester. Representative Dorman of Lynn spoke for his bill, and this was favored by Representative Moore of Duxbury.

On a voice vote the house adopted the Fay amendment in favor of the state printer, rejected the Dorman substitute, and, as amended, ordered the Fay bill to be engrossed without a division.

TAINTED BEEF LAW

Was Attacked in Lower Branch of the Legislature

BOSTON, April 27.—The law enacted in 1908, providing that the carcasses of cattle infected "to any degree" with tuberculosis or any other disease could not be sold in Massachusetts, was vigorously assailed at the public hearing on Gov. Draper's message of March 25, held yesterday before the joint judiciary committee at the state house. Chairman Spalding presided and prominent veterinarians, health officials and butchers and dealers in livestock voiced their opinions.

It was charged that the enforcement of the law worked to the detriment of the commercial interests. Ex-Atty. Gen. Herbert Parker presented an amendment to last year's bill at the opening of the hearing, which he believed would clarify the existing situation in the beef industry as a result of Atty. Gen. Malone's interpretation of the statute.

Discussing the amendment which he offered, Mr. Parker said that it strikes out the prohibition upon the sale of meat "which has come to its death in any manner or by any means otherwise than by slaughter or killing while in a healthy condition," and prohibition of the sale of meat of cattle" as described in section 1" and substitutes a prohibition on meat that "is found to be infected by disease or so diseased as to be unfit for food."

New Section to Beef Law

It also adds a new section, which reads as follows: "Any carcasses of animals, or any parts or products of the same, may be offered for sale, sold or otherwise disposed of for food, when authorized or permitted by the rules and regulations of the chief of the cattle bureau, made and approved in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 and 7 of chapter 90 of the revised laws, as amended by chapter 116 of the acts of 1902. Provided, however, that no carcass, part or product thereof, of any animal, in any degree affected or infected with tuberculosis, shall be offered for sale, or sold for food, within the commonwealth.

This last clause, Mr. Parker pointed out, absolutely prohibits the sale in Massachusetts of any part of the carcass of an animal which is in any degree infected with tuberculosis, and while eminent authorities hold that the flesh of such animals may be eaten with perfect safety, still there is a very strong sentiment against its use, and the interests which he represents are willing to make this sacrifice to meet the wishes of the public, if the legislature deems it wise.

Would Follow the Federal Law

Chairman Spalding asked why perfectly good beef should be destroyed, and Mr. Parker said there is no reason for it except the misconception the public at present entertains relative to diseased beef. Senator Spalding suggested that it might be well for the commonwealth to follow exactly the federal statute, with an additional proviso that meat which is in any degree affected or infected shall not be offered for sale. Mr. Parker said he had no objection.

Mr. Parker, who appeared for Mr. Hapgood, president of a large slaughtering concern in Brighton, said that the act of 1908 makes a serious interference with legitimate enterprise, as it requires a too rigorous condemnation of property. He believed that the state may well place its own law in accord with the federal enactments, which have been found thorough, effective and adequate.

Dr. Burr of the Boston board of health, who has had 20 years' experience at the Brighton abattoir, said that what was wanted was immediate relief from the present interpretation of the law. He said that the number of cattle killed at Brighton during April, 1908, was 2511, and of that number 15, or 6238 pounds, were condemned. In the last four weeks there were 1146 killed, and out of that number 42, or 26,405 pounds, were condemned. He said that the proportion of hogs condemned was even greater.

Old Law Defended

Dr. Austin Peters, cattle commissioner, suggested that the best way to relieve the present situation was to repeal section 1 of chapter 329 of the acts of 1908, or the whole chapter, and then have a commission to codify the existing cattle inspection laws.

Ex-Atty. Gen. Albert E. Pillsbury unqualifiedly declared that there is no need whatever for any change in the law, as it does not at present prevent the sale of meat that is pure and wholesome, notwithstanding the opinions of the eminent attorneys who have declared that it does. In his opinion, there is no manner in which the law can be construed as Messrs. Parker, Malone and Storey have construed it, as the word "disease" in the second clause, which manifestly is an important word, is rendered of no effect under their construction.

Sec. J. Lewis Ellsworth of the state board of agriculture said that the interpretation put upon the law of 1908 is working a great hardship all over the state, animals being condemned which are perfectly wholesome to eat. J. A. Hathaway of Brighton compared the small number of cattle he was killing at present, as compared with former business, and said he was sending the greater part of his beef to England.

Loose Inspection Condemned

Warren C. Jewett of Worcester, representing the state grange, said the persons whom he represented were opposed to the present construction put upon the law as to cattle, which would seriously hit the beef and cattle industry of the state.

Representative Quigley of Holyoke said that he desired to bring in veterinarians in support of his contention that there should be a more rigid inspection of beef. He objected to the loose manner in which state inspectors are not allowed to put the seal of Massachusetts on infected cattle.

Representative Quigley said that he would furnish the committee with a copy of his bill now before the rules committee. In reply to Senator Birch of Millford he said that what he was after was perfect harmony between the state and federal inspectors.

Whitfield Tuck of Winchester thought that the committee should not consider solely the commercial phase of the present situation. They should think also of the people who didn't want to get the meat of a sick cow, which cow had been sold because she was sick.

I Just Love the Cakes Mama Bakes in our new

Glenwood

"Makes Cooking Easy"

Plain "Mission Style."

No filigree or fancy nickel.

A room saver too—like the upright piano.

M. F. Gookin Company,
85 Market St., Lowell.

WILL IS OPPOSED

Relatives Seek Estate of Mrs. Noble

MANSFIELD, April 27.—There is to be a contest of the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth P. Noble of this town, who died April 2 at the age of 84, leaving a fortune estimated at from $500,000 to $800,000.

Mrs. Noble left generous sums of money to charitable and other public organizations in New York, Boston and other places, while her relatives, nearly all of whom are said to be poor, were bequeathed only from $50 to $5000 apiece as a rule.

Several of the relatives are to contest the will on the ground that Mrs. Noble was mentally incompetent when the document was drafted. The will is dated Dec. 7, 1901, when Mrs. Noble was in her 86th year.

Mrs. Noble had no children of her own. Her husband, a wealthy New York business man, died 30 years ago and left her all his money. He is said to have been in the coal business. About 20 years ago Mrs. Noble came to Mansfield and moved into a handsome house deeded to her by her brother, Henry Kinsell, located on South Main street near Park row. Here she lived alone with her maid up to the time of her death.

Practically the only relatives Mrs. Noble has living are nieces and nephews and grand-nieces and grand-nephews. None of these live in Mansfield but are scattered all over the United States. Among the principal ones mentioned in the will are: Catherine A. McClellan of New York, but now in Florida, niece; Annie S. Embley of New York, niece; Elizabeth M. Johnson of Milford, niece; Lucy M. Smith of Malden, niece; Robert Kinsell of Washington, D. C., nephew; Nellie Kinsell of St. Louis, grand-niece; Dudley Kinsell of Oakland, Cal., grand-nephew; Onega K. Swartz of St. Louis, Mo., grand-niece; Benjamin Kinsell of Dallas, Texas, grand-nephew; Geo. H. Stoddard of Somerville, grand-nephew; Victor H. Stoddard of Melrose, and Frederick A. Stoddard of Melrose, grand-nephew.

The largest bequest received by any one of these was $8000. Practically all the others were under $5000 or $4000, while some were as low as $50, it is said. In addition to the above named Mrs. Helen Hooper of Lexington received $1000 and Miss Annie Thompson of Lynn $500. Hattie Carpenter, who was Mrs. Noble's maid, was deeded a tenement house on Union street and several thousand dollars.

THINK IT OVER

But don't think too long. A 25c shaving mug, a cake of Colgate's shaving soap and a good rubber brush, all for 25c. Howard, the druggist, 197 Central street. (College boys go to Cream soda Co.)

If you are savingly inclined,
You stretch your dollars to the limit.
At Coburn's you will find
More truth than poetry in it.

HARRISON'S

"Town and Country PAINT

Will keep your house in good looks longer and for less cost than any other.

All Regular Shades $1.69 a Gal.

C. B. COBURN CO.

63 MARKET ST.

IS CHAMPION

MAX LUTTBEG DEFEATED ALBERT WASSON

CHICAGO, April 27.—Max Luttbeg of Kansas City won the lightweight wrestling championship of America by defeating Albert Wasson of St. Louis in the final match at the lightweight tournament at the Illinois A. C. last night.

The preliminaries having taken up so much time the principals agreed to wrestle one fall to a finish for the title. Luttbeg took the fall in 25 minutes after an exciting tussle with a half nelson and bar arm hold. Wasson was awarded second money.

Ernest Linberg of Chicago won third money by winning from Arthur in a one fall match with a scissors and body hold.

FIRE STARTED

IN THE WAYS OF BATTLESHIP FLORIDA

NEW YORK, April 27.—Some excitement was created in the New York navy yard in Brooklyn today when fire was discovered working under the bows of the splendid new battleship Florida which is under construction there. Investigation showed that the ways had caught fire probably from a hot rivet dropped by one of the workmen. An orderly who discovered the fire and a sentry used a chemical extinguisher to such good effect that a fire engine on arrival had nothing to do. Work was resumed as usual on the battleship. The damage was trifling.

CAPT. BENSON

WAS MEANS OF STOPPING FILIBUSTERING EXPEDITION

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Captain Benson of the cruiser Albany, who has been in Central American waters under instructions from this government to watch developments in that territory, is was learned here was the means of stopping an alleged filibustering expedition in command of Capt. John Molssant, an American, which was about to cross from Nicaragua into Salvator. Details have not yet been received. The expedition, it is alleged, was to start under cover of night. Captain Benson threatened to open fire, it is said, if the supposed filibusters made any move.

COL. STANFORD

TO REPRESENT UNITED STATES AT CONFERENCE

NEWPORT, R. I., April 27.—Lieut. Col. James C. Sanford, U. S. A. corps of engineers will sail on May 1 as the representative of the United States to the annual meeting of the permanent international association of navigation congresses which is to be held at Brussels on May 17. He will act as the delegate of the American commission, the members of which are Brigadier General Raymond, retired; Lieut. Hodges, corps of engineers at Panama; E. L. Corthell and John Bogart, civil engineers of New York.

Plans for the next international navigation congress will be formulated at this meeting which will be attended by delegates from most of the countries of the world. The congress is held at intervals of about three years, and at its sessions questions concerning inland and maritime navigation are considered and other matters connected with the improvement of waterways discussed.

TRE CENTENARY

OF THE BIRTH OF OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—In connection with the centenary of the birth of Oliver Wendell Holmes which will be celebrated appropriately at Harvard university tonight, the exhibition of the various editions of the author's works manuscripts and other memorabilia was visited today by hundreds of persons. At tonight's exercises President Eliot of Harvard will preside and among the literary guests expected are Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Julia Ward Howe, Judge Robert Grant, George W. Cable, Florence Earle Coates of Philadelphia, Prof. Arlo Bates of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Prof. Thomas R. Lounsberry of Yale.

FOR BABY'S SAKE
USE
Comfort
ANTISEPTIC TOILET Powder

Then his skin will be free from itching, chafing, scalding, rashes, and all soreness. The original and best baby powder.

Be sure you get "COMFORT" POWDER. Box with Baby's Head and Trained Nurse.

PATHETIC STORY

Of Illness of Adlai Stevenson

CHICAGO, April 27. — A pathetic story of Adlai Stevenson's illness at a hospital here, has just come to light. During the time the former vice president lay ill from the effects of an operation, his sister, Mrs. McCaughey of Sioux City, Ia., died, and two days later his brother William of Bloomington, Ill., also passed away.

Fearing the effect of this news on the patient's mind and fearing more the danger of accidental disclosure, his Chicago friends decided to send for his wife and to have her tactfully tell him of one of the deaths.

When he recovered from the shock of this it was decided he should be informed of the other. Mrs. Stevenson arrived Sunday morning and performed her delicate task, telling her husband only of the death of his brother.

In the afternoon Federal Judge Kohlsat visited the distinguished patient, but his conversation could not draw the mind of the afflicted man from his grief. Mr. Stevenson spoke to the judge of the great blow that the news of his brother's death had been to him. Supposing the sick man knew of both the deaths, Judge Kohlsat naturally remarked:

"Yes, indeed; it must have been a severe shock, coming along with the death of your sister."

That was the former vice president's first inkling of the second tragedy.

SURPRISE PARTY

AT RESIDENCE OF MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN WARD

There was a surprise party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ward, last night, by the employes of the Dumas Co., in honor of their daughter Evelyn, who has just completed one year of married life. The shower of tins came one by one, and a verse appropriate to the article given was also recited. Each verse was original and among those present were the following: Miss Nellie Chitty, Miss Margaret Martin, Miss Sadie Braden, Miss Genevieve Smith, Mrs. J. Johnson, Miss Mollie Doherty, Miss Mabel Ferguson, Miss May Mclaughlin, Mrs. F. Foster, Mr. Martin Wyke, Mr. Wm. Edge, Mr. Thomas Edg, Miss Adelaide Sullivan, Miss Jones, Mrs. J. Smith, Miss Minnie Damon, Miss Spilaine and the Misses Bertha and Amilda Cote. Those responsible for the musical part of the program were: Miss Genevieve Smith, who gave a number of selections on the piano; solos, Miss Spilaine and Miss Mollie Doherty; jokes were given by Mrs. J. Johnson. Seasonable refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Ward proved to be most genial and hospitable hosts.

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS

BOSTON, April 27.—Two police inspectors left Boston today for Shreveport, La. to bring back to this city, Alexander B. Hugh who is under arrest in the Louisiana city. Hugh is wanted here for the alleged passing of worthless checks.

The Boston police officials say that the man is wanted in Brockton and Worcester and several cities and towns in Connecticut and New orkY state on similar charges.

FRENCH COOKING DEMONSTRATION LECTURE

The Lowell Gas Light company comes very near being up to the minute in most things, and particularly in looking after the interests of the Lowell public and all the public. Under its auspices and at its expense, Miss Carolyn Putnam Webber, through the aid of an interpreter, will give one of her cooking demonstration lectures before the French people of the city. Place, Boisvert hall, corner Ennell and West Sixth streets; time, Thursday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock. No admission fee and everyone more than welcome. The menu for the evening is as follows:

BONNE SOUPE AUX POIS
IMPERIAL STICKS
STEAK DE BOEUF A LA HENRIETTE
SAUCE HENRIETTE
RAMEKINS A LA STUYVESANT
SAUCE AUX TOMATES
PUFF AUX POTATES
SHORTCAKE AUX PECHES NOTTINGHAM

SCHOONER IS FREE

HYANNIS, April 27.—The schooner Alaska which grounded at the eastern entrance to the harbor during a gale Sunday night released herself from her precarious position early today and proceeded under her own sail to an anchorage in the inner harbor. It was not believed that the vessel was damaged very severely.

Mr. Joseph P. Ginty writes that Barnum and Bailey's circus starts on the road Wednesday, April 27th. After a run of five weeks in the Coliseum, Chicago, Ill., the circus goes from Chicago to Champaign, Ill., and then to Bloomington, Ill., then to St. Louis, Mo., for a week's stay. Mr. Ginty is a musician with the circus.

SKULL CRUSHED

Police Are Looking for Man's Son

NEW YORK, April 27.—The body of Thomas Browne, aged 60, was found in the kitchen of his home in Brooklyn today where he had been murdered some time during the night. His skull was crushed, probably with a stone. The police began to search for Edward Browne, his son, with whom he had a disagreement on Saturday.

$15,000 OFFER

FOR BOUT BETWEEN GOTCH AND HACKENSCHMIDT

SEATTLE, Wash., April 27.—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition was offered $15,000 for a finish "go" between Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt for the wrestling championship of the world. Sixty per cent of the gate receipts, guaranteed not to be less than $15,000 together with a half interest in the picture rights and the traveling and training expenses, are used as the bait to blind the eyes of the wrestlers to the offer of $25,000 from Australia which is said to have been made.

A WATER GUN

TO BE USED TO STOP AUTO SCORCHING

HAMMOND, Ind., April 27.—The police of this town have devised a new plan to quench the ardor of the auto scorcher whose favorite stretch for speedway is Calumet avenue. Midway along this thoroughfare is a field telephone, installed and worked by an officer, who will send information to the farthest end of the approach of a violator of the speed ordinance.

Here will be established a water gun with a three inch nozzle and one hundred pounds pressure to the inch. It is claimed that on the refusal of the chauffeur to stop when ordered a stream will be turned upon him with a force sufficient to hit him out of the machine without inflicting serious injury.

BALTIMORE WOMAN

HAS ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The original manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner" has been located by the Francis Scott Key Memorial association, which is endeavoring to obtain possession of it. While it is improbable that the owner of this precious relic, a Baltimore woman, will consent permanently to part with it, the association hopes to be able to borrow the manuscript to place on exhibition at the old Key mansion in Georgetown, D. C.

CHILD IS DEAD

SHE SURVIVED HER MOTHER JUST ONE WEEK

EAST PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27. —Surviving her mother just a week, 13-year-old Sara Clinton, died here today of burns received. At that time the child's clothing caught fire from the kitchen stove and while she was rushing to aid her daughter, the mother, Mrs. Salina M. Clinton, dropped dead.

COTTON FUTURES

NEW YORK, April 27.—Cotton futures opened easy. May 10.55; June —; July, 10.42; April, 10.28; Sept., oct. 10.18; Oct., 10.16; Nov., —; Dec. 10.15; Jan. 10.09; Feb., —; March oct., 10.09.

Neuralgic Anodyne for RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA ACHES and PAINS

Try NEURALGIC ANODYNE for any pain or ache, no matter how severe and the result won't disappoint you.

It's human nature to procrastinate. Everyone knows that NEURALGIC ANODYNE will almost perform miracles in times of painful distress, and yet at such times many people will not have it on hand.

If you haven't NEURALGIC ANODYNE in the house, get a bottle right now. It is for sale everywhere, and a large bottle only costs 25 cents.

It cures neuralgia, rheumatism, pains in the chest or back, stomach pains, dysentery, coughs, nervous headaches, and all aches and pains. It is an absolute necessity in every household. The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

LIVELY RACE

AND HONORS WENT TO THE "KID"

Editor Sun:

A very exciting and enjoyable "Marathon" race was witnessed by a number of spectators on Appleton and Chelmsford streets last evening. The contest was due to an argument that arose in the Boston fish market, when Charles Allen made the assertion that he could "beat" any one in the market. One of the other clerks said that John McQuade, known at the market as the "kid," could give him a trimming and they made a wager on the result.

It was just 6.45 and the "course" was named as up Appleton to Chelmsford and conclude at the proprietor's residence in Norcross street. The contest started with both men on the scratch. It was followed by the other employes of the shop in teams, including the will close tomorrow.

stakeholder. It was nip and tuck until the corner of Cambridge and Chelmsford streets was reached, when the "old man" succumbed and was taken in one of the teams to the barn. The "kid" continued and finished in fine condition. He received a great ovation and a good bit of change, while all Charlie got was a great guying.

Upon telephoning to the market today, the writer was informed that Charlie reported for work early and not so fully convinced as he was yesterday that the boy runner can best him.

Yours truly,
Tom Mahoney.

ST. PETER'S MISSION

St. Peter's church, auditorium and basement, was crowded again last evening at the second night's services in the women's mission. Rev. Fr. Robert, C. P., preached a powerful sermon on "Mortal Sin." The children who are making the mission made their confession this afternoon and their mission

Lowell, Tuesday, April 26, 1909

A. G. Pollard Co.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

OUR OFFERING OF

NEW SPRING WOOLENS

69c a Yard for $1.00 to $1.50 Grades

Includes all the most popular novelty goods made by one of the biggest and best mills. Every good shade and new weave you have seen is represented. Plain and fancy panamas, serges, mannish suitings, English mixtures, shadow stripes and checks — strictly all wool and full 50 or 54 inches wide.

We offer some 15,000 yards of short lengths and part pieces for your choosing.

We invite your attention to our Window Show, Merrimack Street.

REMEMBER—$1.00 TO $1.50 DRESS GOODS ONLY

69c Yard

Palmer Street, Right Aisle

You're Interested in Wunderhose

Children's .....4 pairs for $1.00
Ladies' .....3 pairs for $1.00
Men's Half Hose.....4 pairs for $1.00

And the makers assure you that the dollar's worth of either size will wear three months without darning at heel or toe, or they'll replace any worn ones you send to them.

We are the sole sellers of these good stockings for this section. Let us show them to you at the Men's or Ladies' Hosiery Sections.

East Section, Left Aisle—West Section, Left Aisle

ON SALE TODAY

Laces At Less Than Half Price

There are 350 pieces of Fine Torchon, Linen and Valenciennes, Edgings and Insertions for all kinds of trimmings, all new patterns, fresh from the importers. Laces that wash and will wear. The reductions are most attractive.

Torchon Laces—fine quality, edges and insertions to match, 5c and 8c value at ..... 3c Yard

Fine Torchon Laces—all new patterns, very fine quality, all widths, 10c and 12½c values at ..... 5c Yard

All Linen Laces—nice fine quality, from one inch to four inches wide, very handsome patterns, 10c to 15c value at ..... 5c Yard

Sale in Our Basement Bargain Department

Palmer Street, Basement

LIVED IN LOWELL

Mother and Daughter Married to the Same Man

DENVER, April 27.—Mrs. Luella Nicholson, widow of William Curtis, a railroad employe of Ayer, Mass., and divorced wife of Edward Booth, a Boston man, is now being held in the city jail, together with her husband, Edward Nicholson, and her daughter, Sadie Nicholson. Meanwhile the police are confronted with a matrimonial dilemma. Nicholson is said to be the husband of both Mrs. Luella and Sadie.

The trio were arrested Saturday night at their temporary residence, 260 South Broadway, where they, in company with the landlady, had been engaged in a hand-to-hand fight. At police headquarters the elder Mrs. Nicholson gave an inkling that led to revelations concerning the married lives of her husband, her daughter and herself which Chief of Police Armstrong declares are unriyaled for intricacy.

Mrs. Nicholson's Story

Mrs. Luella Nicholson, as she states her story, is a Massachusetts woman. She married, when 16 years old, William Curtis, then an employe of the Nashua & Fitchburg railroad. The couple had been wedded not more than two years when Curtis was discharged. Quarrels followed and the young mother was frequently left alone for days with their baby, the 8-month-old Sadie. In 1893 he was killed by a Nashua & Fitchburg train near Ayer.

Mrs. Curtis moved soon after to Lowell and worked in the mills. In 1898 she went to Boston, where she met Edward Booth and they were married. The couple lived in Boston for five years and a son Harry was born. Then Mrs. Curtis-Booth discovered that Booth had a wife in Boston. The marriage was annulled.

Leaving Harry in Boston with friends the disappointed woman went with Sadie to Chicago. There she encountered William Van Rossen, whom she wedded. She sent to Boston for Harry and there promised to be some happiness for the young woman. But when she and her third husband left Chicago for Denver, domestic felicity was again menaced and later destroyed by the present husband, who maintains that the much wedded woman threatened death to both herself and her husband if she did not obtain a divorce and marry him. The decree was gotten. Nicholson and Mrs. Curtis-Booth-Van Roesen were then married. Incidentally Nicholson is a cousin of Jesse James, the famous bandit.

Sadie's Three Husbands

Meanwhile Sadie had grown up and the son, Harry, had been sent to an orphanage at Van Rossen's instigation. Nicholson, who is said to have already had a wife in Cheyenne, became enamored of Sadie and when she married William Chesney is said to have forced the couple by threats to divorce. The same is reported as the fate of the girl and her two ensuing husbands, Ed Bolander and Charles Yarbrough.

Then, after chasing his stepdaughter to Raton, N. M., he is charged with marrying her. This was before he had been divorced from his first wife or from his bride's mother. What appears to be the stepfather, husband, and the stepdaughter-wife went to California for a honeymoon and then returned to Denver, where they were arrested on account of the chance fight.

Mrs. Nicholson, the elder, claims to have two brothers in Massachusetts. Her son Harry, she thinks, is in or about Boston, adopted from an asylum by a private family. She has been kept from searching for the boy, who is now 14 years old, by her last two husbands, who would not support him.

Another Bridegroom Waiting

Later information apprises the police of the fact that Mrs. Luella Nicholson if she had not been arrested Saturday night would have again been married Sunday afternoon. She acknowledged freely that she had had an appointment with a man, the name of whom she refused to divulge, to meet him at a designated place and there be wedded.

The daughter, whose two children, Luella and Walter, are in confinement with her, was also acquainted with the state of affairs and states that her mother was forced by threats of the husband and stepfather to undertake the step, Nicholson calculating that if she should again marry she would also be guilty of bigamy and therefore not be in a position to prosecute as she had intimated she would do.

The accused man claims to be a native of Kentucky, where he has influential relatives, whom, he says, will assist him when they hear of his predicament.

TO SIGNAL MARS

Prof. Pickering Has Been Offered Sum of $10,000,000

BOSTON, April 27.—William Henry Pickering, professor of astronomy at Harvard university, yesterday received a telegram from Fort Worth, Tex., proposing that if the professor would go to Texas to superintend extensive experiments for signalling to the planet Mars, $10,000,000 would be raised for the purpose. The telegram was signed by The Star and The Telegram, the two leading newspapers in Fort Worth.

Prof. Pickering said last night that he would heartily enter into any experiments of this kind, but that he would advise those who made the offer to wait until additional and more conclusive evidence as to life on Mars had been procured before spending so large a sum on experiments which might prove of little value. He has not yet replied to the telegram.

Advocates Observatory

Prof. Pickering said he would counsel those behind the movement to establish an observatory of the highest possible efficiency in some favorable location in western Texas, where he and other astronomers could carry on extended observations of the planet within the next few years. This could be done, he said, for a very small part of the immense sum, which it is proposed to expend on the undertaking. Those observations, the professor said, might yield information such as would warrant further and more costly steps, namely, the building of enormous reflectors by means of which the sun's light could be reflected with sufficient intensity to reach through the 45,000,000 miles between the earth and Mars and attract the attention of the planet's inhabitants.

In discussing the matter Prof. Pickering said:

"The brevity of the telegram does not permit me to say from what sources the money for the experiments is coming—the telegram was signed only with the names of the newspapers.

"However, I don't feel that we know enough about the planet as yet to spend much money in signaling to possible inhabitants. But the planet will shortly come around into a position of exceptional advantage for observation. As it moves about its orbit it comes into a position where it is nearer the earth than any other time of the year. Its average mean distance from the earth in the last several years was approximately 15,000,000 miles.

Mars Coming Nearer

"But next fall—or rather, late next summer, the planet will swing round to a position only 35,000,000 miles from the earth. If an observatory of efficiency is in working order in the clear atmosphere of the west Texan hills about that time, some very surprising observations and records might be procured. If the observations found in that way warranted going on with the work, there would still be plenty of time for expending the large sums necessary to build the immense multiple reflectors.

"Our knowledge of Mars is not so very extended as yet. We all know that there are lakes there and canals connecting them in some places. In many respects these canals seem to be artificial; for instance, they are straight in their lines of construction, and at their junction with the lakes have formations and constructions which, by all the laws of the world in which we live, are artificial and not of natural construction of growth.

"That is one of the things which an observatory such as I suggest might determine—whether or not these canals are natural or artificial; whether they are really straight or merely appear so because of the inconceivable distance through which we see them."

"Doctor's Daughter"

Talk on the Stomach

The stomach and digestive organs are many times the cause of some disease which might have been prevented if these organs had performed their natural functions, and the great variety of symptoms which arise from a disordered condition of the stomach and liver, cause many people to think that they have some awful disease, the consequence of which is, that they do nothing for their stomach, but doctor for some other trouble. A poor acting stomach and liver will cause headache, backache, nervous troubles, distress after eating, bloating, sour stomach, heart pressure, insomnia, loss of flesh, constipation and may other disagreeable feelings. If you are a sufferer of any trouble and your stomach or liver is out of order correct these troubles first, get the benefit of the food you eat, and your other troubles will many times correct themselves. Stomach-Rite, the combined stomach and liver remedy has an unequaled record of many remarkable cures to its credit, and when you need a stomach remedy, get the best, a remedy that gives results, not promises, that's Stomach-Rite. One 50 cent box will quickly convince you the true worth of this medicine. There is nothing just as good, insist on Stomach-Rite.

Very truly yours,
DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

ASKS FREEDOM

Woman Says She Was Illegally Jailed

BOSTON, April 27.—Molly Clark, alias Minnie Williams, petitioned the supreme court yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus against Sheriff Seavey for her release out of Charles street jail. She is being held there in default of bail upon an indictment for larceny. She was claimed to have worked the badger game and got $2200 from Maxine Bellville and on James Barrett when she got $275.

Her claim to her freedom is based upon the ground that she was once put in jeopardy upon the whole indictment and that while the government sought to elect to try her only on the charge of larceny from Barrett and then consented to a verdict of not guilty on it, the election to try only that count came too late. Hence, in effect, she claims the whole indictment was disposed of and her release should have been ordered.

She was brought to trial on March 17 in the superior court. The jury was empanelled. The indictment was read to it. Then the prosecuting attorney elected to proceed on only the count concerning Barrett. Later the government consented to a verdict of not guilty on that. She claims the whole indictment was put before the jury, and that she was in legal contemplation on trial upon it and put in jeopardy, and cannot be tried over again on the remaining count relating to Bellville's $2200. An order of notice was issued returnable today.

GREAT TRADE

BETWEEN U. S. AND NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Trade between the United States and its non-contiguous territories will aggregate approximately 150 million dollars in the fiscal year which ends with June next, against approximately 70 millions in 1899, a decade earlier. For the eight months for which the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor has complete figures the shipments of merchandise from the United States to its non-contiguous territories—Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands, Guam, Midway Islands, and Tutuila—amounted to 43½ million dollars, and the shipments of merchandise from those territories to the United States amounted to 53½ million dollars. These figures relate only to merchandise. The value of the native gold shipped from Alaska to the United States in the period in question was 16¾ million dollars or more than twice the purchase price of Alaska.

The shipments of merchandise from the non-contiguous territories to the United States for the eight months ending with February, 1909 (52½ million dollars), show an increase of about 2 million dollars over the corresponding period of 1908, and 5½ million dollars over the corresponding period of 1907. The merchandise shipped from the United States to the non-contiguous territories in the same period (43½ million dollars) shows a decrease of about a half million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of 1908, but an increase of about three-quarters of a million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of 1907.

This slight decrease in the shipments to the non-contiguous territories in 1909, as compared with 1908, is due in part at least to the fall in prices of certain classes of articles sent to those territories. Prices of many manufacturers have ranged somewhat lower in the eight months ending with February, 1909, than those of the corresponding periods of 1908 and 1907, and as a consequence this fall in prices has given a lower total of values even in cases where the quantity shipped was greater. In manufactures of iron and steel, which form an important item in the shipments to Alaska, prices are less than those of 1908 and 1907; in cotton manufactures, which form an important item in the shipments to Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines, prices are also less than those of the immediately preceding years.

The value of merchandise shipped from the United States to Alaska during the period in question was $9,130,452, against $10,694,364, in the corresponding months of the immediately preceding year. The value of the merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States in the same period was $12,165,553, against $10,472,747 in the corresponding months of the preceding year. The principal articles forming the 9¼ million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Alaska in the period under consideration were: Iron and steel manufactures, $1,162,761, against $1,971,269 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products, $1,508,236, against $1,434,448 in the same months of last year; breadstuffs, $437,266; manufactures of wool, $468,545; manufactures of cotton, $551,553; fruits and nuts, $316,158; leather and manufactures thereof, $225,805; mineral oils, $270,725; spirits, wines, and liquors, $504,153; vegetables, $372,952; and wood and manufactures thereof, $138,869. The 12 million dollars' worth of merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States included: Canned salmon, $5,659,739; fish, other than salmon, $668,109; copper ore, $105,008; furs and fur skins, $435,434; and whalebone, $158,942. Of the 12 million dollars' worth of merchandise coming from Alaska, $5,667,535 entered at the port of San Francisco, $5,055,312 at Seattle, and $359,577 at Tacoma. Of the merchandise sent to Alaska, $7,774,828 went out through the customs district of Puget Sound, and $507,462 went out through San Francisco.

Of the $11,150,119 worth of merchandise sent to the Hawaiian Islands in the eight months under consideration, breadstuffs amounted to $1,240,588, against $1,070,374 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; cotton manufactures $1,119,777, against $884,435 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; iron and steel manufactures, $1,653,676, against $1,256,209 in the same months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products $486,720; mineral oil, $342,183; spirits, wines and liquors, $377,605; and wood and manufactures thereof, $650,860. Of this total 7 1-4 million dollars worth went out of San Francisco, a little over 1 1-2 million dollars worth out of Puget Sound, and nearly 2 million dollars worth out of New York. Of the $22,647,780 worshipped from the Hawaiian Islands to the United States, sugar amounted to $20,937,649, against $19,819,428 in the same months of last year; canned fruits, $728,323, against $572,420 in the same months of last year; fruits, green, ripe, or dried, $149,216, against $102,302 in the same months of last year; coffee, $129,999, against $49,961 in the same months of last year; rice, $174,390; and wood and manufactures thereof, $55,109. Of this 23 1-2 million dollars worth of merchandise sent from the Hawaiian Islands, about 10 millions went to San Francisco and about 12 millions to New York and Philadelphia, chiefly the former.

Of the $15,827,939 worth of merchandise sent to Porto Rico, breadstuffs amounted to $1,299,656, against $1,182,563 in the same months of last year; cotton manufactures to $2,594,178, against $1,800,378 in the same months of last year; manufactures of iron and steel, $2,015,081, against $2,208,130 in the same months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products, $1,633,094, against $1,598,539 in the corresponding months of last year; rice, $2,214,166, against $2,195,515 in the same months of the preceding year; wood and manufactures thereof, $805,230; vegetables, $316,806; spirits, wines and liquors, $122,477; and mineral oil, $222,986. The $10,736,057 worth of merchandise sent from Porto Rico to the United States in the period under consideration included: Sugar, $5,643,576, against $6,761,235 in the corresponding months of last year; cigars, $2,950,827, against $2,195,184 in the corresponding months of last year; leaf tobacco, $820,096, against $1,139,981 in the same months of last year; fruits and nuts, $707,509; coffee, $5468, against $9354 in the same months of 1908 and $14,514 in the same months of 1907. Nearly all of the trade of Porto Rico with the United States passes through the port of New York.

Of the $6,874,826 worth of merchandise sent from the United States to the Philippine Islands during the eight months ending with February, 1909, iron and steel manufactures amounted to $1,502,037, against $2,329,322 in the corresponding months of last year; explosives, including dynamite, cartridges, gunpowder, etc., $724,572, against $452,023 in the same months of last year; cotton manufactures, $497,235, against $571,926 in the corresponding months of 1908; mineral oils, $571,708, against $622,057 in the same months of preceding year; meat and dairy products, $278,456; spirits, wines, and liquors, $91,760; manufactures of tobacco, $88,074; and leather and its manufactures, $296,849. The $7,070,132 worth of merchandise sent from the Philippines to the United States included: Manila hemp, $4,938,742, against $4,726,598 in the corresponding months of last year, a fall of nearly 2 million dollars in the value, although the quantity actually increased by several thousand tons; sugar, $1,504,604, against $313,809 for the same months of last year; cocoanut meat, copra, etc., $199,672; cocoanut oil, $177,409; chemicals, $58,879; and straw hats, $18,444.

Of the 9¼ million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Alaska in the period under consideration, 4¼ million was manufactures ready for consumption, and 4¾ million was in foodstuffs. Of the 11 million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Hawaii for the period under consideration 6½ million was manufactures ready for consumption and nearly 3 millions foodstuffs. Of the 15¼ million dollars' worth sent to Porto Rico practically 8 million was manufactures ready for consumption and a little more than 6 million foodstuffs. Of the 6¾ million dollars value sent to the Philippines 4½ million was manufactures ready for consumption and 1½ million foodstuffs.

FALLING HAIR is the forerunner of baldness. If you wish to prevent it, start in now to use and see how quickly the new hairs will begin to come in; good strong healthy ones too. The old hairs will stop falling out, and dandruff, the cause of baldness, will disappear. Then you will have a head of hair to be proud of.

Hay's Hair Health

IS NOT A DYE.

$1 AND 50c. BOTTLES, AT DRUGGISTS.

Hay's Hurtina Soap cures Eczema, red, rough and chapped hands, and all skin diseases. Keeps skin fine and soft, 25c. druggists. Send 2c. for free books, "The Care of the Skin," "The Care of the Hair."

Philo Hay Spec. Co., Newark, N. J.

FALLS & BURKINSHAW

WOMEN OUSTED

Clerk of the U. S. Circuit Court Opposed Judges

BOSTON, April 27.—The announcement was made yesterday of the resignation of Mrs. Lillian C. Tucker, deputy clerk of the U. S. circuit court, and the discharge of her sister, Miss Edith Rollins, employed as a clerk in the court, by Clerk Alexander H. Trowbridge.

Mrs. Tucker has been in the service of the court for about 25 years, entering the office when scarcely more than 15 years old. With the late John G. Stetson as clerk, she rose steadily, being appointed deputy in 1903.

Last September, on the death of Benjamin J. Bradlee, the chief deputy clerk, she succeeded to his position with the attendant salary of $2500. As deputy clerk she had a large part of the work of the office to carry on.

Thought Salary Too Much

Mr. Trowbridge, in an interview yesterday afternoon, stated that he had requested and received her resignation Nov. 16 last. He had objected to a woman receiving the salary of $2500, which Mr. Bradlee had had, and though he had made application for its payment it was only on the recommendation of the judges of the court and contrary to his own ideas, especially in view of the insufficiency of funds in the office. At the time, he added, an official in the office of the attorney general at Washington, to whom he made the application, stated that the payment of such a salary to a woman was quite unprecedented.

In addition to the disagreement over the matter of salary, he said there had been other troubles. Mrs. Tucker, he admitted, had great ability and the quality of her work had been excellent but as she was ambitious to the last degree and highly popular with the judges she tended, he said, to assume authority which did not belong to her as deputy clerk, so that he himself was unable to accomplish anything or have his recommendations approved by the court unless they were approved by her.

GOVERNOR'S SON

Will Continue to Work in Mill

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 27.—Despite the fact that a reconciliation between Bristow Draper and his father, the governor, has been effected, the young man will not return to Hopedale. He will continue to work in the cotton mill here, where for the past year, since his marriage with Queenie Sanford, he has labored as a common spinner for $7.50 per week.

By the side of beautiful Lake Champlain stands the little cottage where the heir to the Draper millions found true happiness with the wife for whom he gave up all else, and the bright eyed baby boy, whose dimples and smiles triumphed over parental sternness. Here he will make his home. Bristow Draper no longer works as a common spinner for a $7.50 wage, for his own ability has won him recognition and promotion.

Both Mrs. Draper and her husband were anxious that the young man should go to college and take up a profession, preferably the law. He entered Harvard in accordance with their wishes, but it was not long before he announced to his parents that he had made up his mind to go to work. The father was disappointed, but a position was offered the young man in the mills at Hopedale.

Bristow Draper donned overalls and went to work in the machine shop. He did not go in as a machinist, he started at the very bottom of the ladder. It was not long before the boy, who was only 20 at the time he entered the shops, had made a mark.

He was treated just as were the other men in the shops. He labored with the rest from 7 in the morning until 6 at night.

When young Draper wed Queenie Sanford, the popular actress, there came the banishment which has just been recalled.

NUN KILLED

SHE WAS RUN OVER BY A HEAVY TRUCK

NEW YORK, April 27.—There is grief in the Dominican convent of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary in East 63d street, over the death of Sister Angela, who was run over by a truck in Third ave., late yesterday. Sister Angela, who, before taking the veil, was Miss Margaret O'Manning of Troy, N. Y., was out for a stroll with her sister Loretta, whom she had not seen for a number of years, when the accident occurred.

The younger woman was able to escape being knocked down by the unmanageable horse, but the nun, embarrassed by her heavy clothing, could not save herself. Both wheels of the truck passed over her, causing instant death. The body was taken to the convent between rows of children who loved the nun and who stood aside bareheaded and wept.

The driver of the truck, Isidor Wolf, was placed under arrest charged with homicide.

A SUICIDE

MRS. SPENCER KILLED HERSELF WITH A RIFLE

ORLEANS, Vt., April 27.—The second suicide in two weeks in this vicinity occurred yesterday when Mrs. Wallace Spencer, aged 50 years, sent a rifle bullet through her heart, immediate death resulting. Mrs. Spencer, who lived near Brownington, suffered a shock about a year ago, since which she has been in poor health. Sunday night she suffered considerable but felt better yesterday morning and helped do a big washing. After dinner her husband left the house to transact a small business matter with a neighbor and during this momentary absence Mrs. Spencer went into the pantry and took her life.

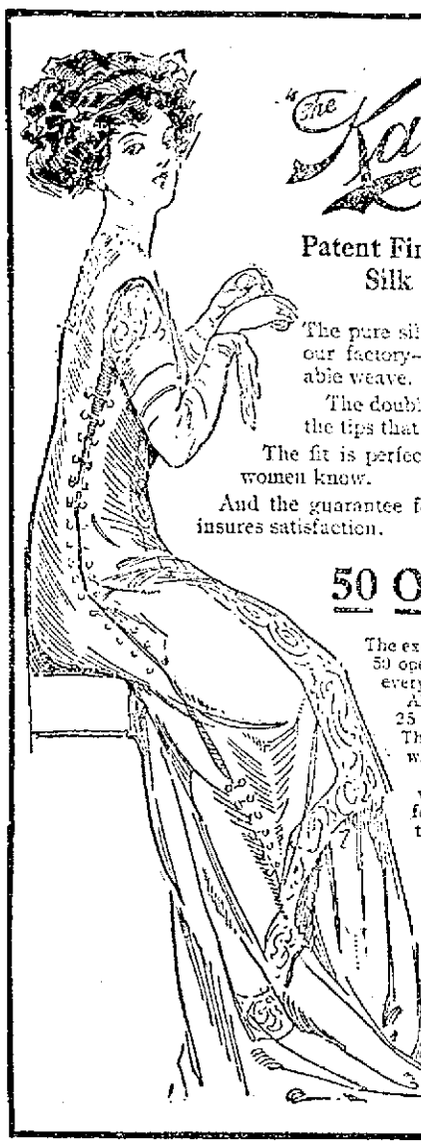

She is survived by her husband and two sons.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frank Dwight of Dorchester and Miss Edith Louise Staples of this city were married yesterday at high noon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. H. Staples, 119 Stevens street. Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, pastor of the First Congregational church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Dwight, a sister of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. James Webster, Jr., and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Edward F. Staples. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony by the D. L. Page Co., and the couple left for a wedding tour. Their home will be in Plymouth, Mass.

"The Kayser"

Patent Finger-Tipped Silk Gloves

The pure silk fabric is made in our factory—made in our durable weave.

The double tips are famous as the tips that outwear the gloves.

The fit is perfection, as millions of women know.

And the guarantee found in every pair insures satisfaction.

50 Operations

The exquisite finish is due to 50 operations, through which every Kayser glove goes.

All this has come through 25 years of experience. There are no other gloves which compare with them.

These are the gloves which all women want, for they cost no more than the common.

So look in the hem—see that "Kayser" is there. That is the only way to be sure of the genuine.

Short Silk Gloves
50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25

Long Silk Gloves
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50

JULIUS KAYSER & CO.
MAKERS
NEW YORK

WERE NOL PROS'D

Boston Normal School Cases Disposed Of

BOSTON, April 27.—Dist. Atty. Hill yesterday nol pros'd the indictments against the Geo. W. Carr Co. and John J. McAllister, Roger Tansey and Nicola Gentile, based on alleged violations of the law in building the foundation of the new normal school in Huntington avenue. The indictments were found by the grand jury in August, 1906, at the instance of the late Dist. Atty. Moran. These are the first of the Moran special cases that Mr. Hill has thrown out. Several others have been resubmitted to the grand jury and new indictments were obtained.

The men named were charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of Boston in having used three bags of cement in a batch of concrete instead of four bags. The company was charged with building the foundation of a building of concrete without the authority of the building commissioners and the board of appeal.

BILLERICA

A stubborn brush fire broke out in the Shawsheen district in East Billerica Sunday night and had gained considerable headway before being discovered. The Billerica Centre fire department was notified and after promptly responding got down to work on the flames. Owing to the start that the fire had it took the firemen considerable time to get it under control. About 30 acres were burned over. A quantity of cord wood was also destroyed.

Two canoes and two dory boats, owned by people who frequent the Concord river during the summer time have been reported missing. One of the canoes had been stored in a boat house in North Billerica and when the owner went to look for it last week found that it was missing. The other boats belonged to campers on the Bridle road. The matter has been reported to the police.

BENEFIT FOR SCHAEFER

NEW YORK, April 27.—Billiard enthusiasts and admirers of Jake Schaefer, "the wizard of the cue" who is critically ill at Denver, Colo., played benefit games and took up collections for the former champion, in practically all the larger cities throughout the country last night. Men prominent in other sports gave their support to the testimonial liberally.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Nervous Women

will find that Nature responds promptly to the gentle laxative effects, and the helpful tonic action of

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

Two 2 grain Quinine Capsules a Cup of Hot Water and one

Blackburn's CascaRoyal-Pills

Will Check a Cold in a Few Hours.

SIMPLEX Vacuum Cleaner

Operated by hand. Price $25 delivered. Rentals, $3.50 per day.

W. T. S. Bartlett
653-669 MERRIMACK ST.
The Uptown Hardware Store

TRUE'S ELIXIR

The Best Worm Medicine

For children and adults. Purely vegetable. In use since 1851. Reliable stomach remedy and laxative.

55 cts., 50 cts., $1.00—At all dealers

BAY STATE DYE WORKS

Have you had any work done with us since we installed our new machinery? If you have not you should give us a trial, for we do all kinds of dyeing, cleansing and pressing, as well as feathers, ribbons and all kinds of ladies' garments, dyed, cleansed and pressed by the most improved methods. All work promptly attended to.

BAY STATE DYE WORKS
54 Prescott Street
D. J. LEARY, Proprietor

Summer Prices For COAL

Buy Early and Get the Best

E. A. Wilson & Co.

4 Merrimack Square—700 Broadway—15 Tanner Street

REMEMBER THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR TO GET THAT

Gas Stove, Ice Chest, Refrigerator, Tin Roof Conductor, or Gutters Repaired.

Special attention given to furnace and stove work

C. F. Hoisington & Son
141 Market St. Tel. Connection
All orders promptly attended to.

TRAINS TO AND FROM BOSTON

SOUTHERN DIV.

| To Boston. Lve | Arr. | From Boston. Lve. | Arr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 5.46 | 6.50 | 8.30 | 7.20 |
| 6.37 | 7.41 | 7.55 | 8.55 |
| 6.44 | 7.53 | 8.15 | 9.01 |
| 6.49 | 7.30 | 9.00 | 9.35 |
| 7.01 | 8.30 | 10.00 | 10.37 |
| 7.23 | 8.55 | 10.31 | 11.34 |
| 07.31 | 8.50 | 11.30 | 12.07 |
| 7.44 | 8.35 | 12.00 | 12.56 |
| 8.55 | 9.40 | 1.00 | 1.57 |
| 09.27 | 10.25 | 2.00 | 3.02 |
| 9.33 | 10.19 | 3.00 | 3.37 |
| 10.45 | 11.40 | b3.31 | 5.02 |
| 11.58 | 12.20 | a4.14 | 6.36 |
| 12.13 | 1.00 | 5.00 | 5.57 |
| 1.45 | 2.30 | b5.21 | 6.28 |
| 2.41 | 3.33 | 5.35 | 6.25 |
| 3.47 | 4.40 | b5.51 | 7.05 |
| 4.05 | 5.30 | a6.1- | 7.30 |
| 5.20 | 6.15 | 7.30 | 8.08 |
| 6.10 | 7.19 | 8.30 | 9.08 |
| 6.28 | 7.10 | 10.30 | 11.34 |
| 7.52 | 8.55 | 11.20 | 12.15 |

WESTERN DIV.

| To Boston. Lve. | Arr. | From Boston. Lve. | Arr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6.50 | 7.55 | a7.00 | 8.10 |
| 8.04 | 8.56 | 9.05 | 10.35 |
| 9.50 | 10.50 | 10.55 | 11.52 |
| 10.59 | 11.55 | 11.50 | 12.58 |
| 12.00 | 1.08 | 2.15 | 3.20 |
| 3.10 | 4.14 | 3.30 | 4.30 |
| 4.23 | 5.25 | 4.59 | 5.56 |
| 6.06 | 6.12 | 6.02 | 7.02 |
| 7.00 | 8.00 | 6.35 | 7.46 |
| 8.56 | 10.53 | 9.35 | 10.31 |
| | | 11.25 | 12.21 |

*Runs to Lowell Saturdays only. a Via Lawrence Junction.
b Via Bedford.
c Via Salem Jct.
z Via Wilmington Junction.

SUNDAY TRAINS

WESTERN DIVISION

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 8.30 | 9.24 | 5.00 | 9.08 |
| 12.10 | 1.15 | 12.00 | 1.56 |
| 3.59 | 6.09 | 2.15 | 3.23 |
| 5.45 | 7.09 | 3.30 | 4.40 |
| 8.00 | 10.02 | 5.57 | 6.35 |
| | | 8.40 | 9.42 |

SUNDAY TRAINS

SOUTHERN DIVISION

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6.49 | 7.50 | 9.00 | 10.00 |
| 7.22 | 8.05 | 10.00 | 10.37 |
| 8.46 | 9.49 | 11.30 | 12.07 |
| 3.50 | 10.16 | 1.00 | 1.57 |
| 10.30 | 11.33 | 5.00 | 6.02 |
| 2.25 | 3.27 | 7.30 | 8.08 |
| 5.13 | 6.00 | 8.30 | 9.08 |
| 6.25 | 7.10 | 9.00 | 10.02 |
| 7.52 | 8.35 | 10.20 | 11.35 |

LOCAL NEWS

You want printing: Tobin's Printery.

Hicks, eye expert, 137 Central street.

Dr. Walker, dentist, Central block.

Undertaker Finnegan, Davis sq. Tel.

Interest begins Saturday, May 1, at The Central Savings Bank.

When placing insurance consult J. F. Donohoe, Donovan building. Tel.

Teeth extracted without pain by the Obtundine system of painless dentistry, Dr. Gagnon, 166 Merrimack street.

The trade journals are taking notice of Humphrey O'Sullivan's scheme of advertising the Merrimack Clothing store in the Boston papers. The Fourth Estate is among the journals that takes special notice of this departure.

Lowell Institution for Savings, 18 Shattuck street, was incorporated in 1829 and this month completes its 80th year. It has paid its depositors 169 consecutive dividends and over $8,000,000 in interest. This is a record worth consideration. Deposits begin to draw interest Saturday, May 1.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Proprietor—JULIUS CAHN—Mgr.

FRIDAY, April 30
M. Paul Cazeneuve and Company, Presenting
"FAUST"
(In French)
Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c. Seats on sale.

Saturday, May 1 Matinee Night
Henry D. Carey, in the Thrilling Western Drama
"MONTANA"
A Complete Scenic Production
Matinee prices, 10c to 25c. Evening prices, 15c, 25c, 35c and 50c. Seats on sale.

HATHAWAY'S
CLOSING WEEK OF VAUDEVILLE
MR. EDWARD EDWARDS
In "All Rivers Meet at the Sea"
ELSIE HARVEY and HER BOYS
JAMES and LUCIA COOHER
J. WARREN KEANE
LONG ACRE QUARTET
ROBERT DUMONT TRIO
HATHASCOPE
WORMWOOD'S DOGS and MONKEYS
Matinees at 2.30. Evenings at 8.15
Ladies' Orchestra Seats, Matinees, 10c
Pianos from M. Steinert Co.

The Great Turbine Steel Steamships
Harvard and Yale
will resume Service for the Season on the All-the-Way-by-Water Route of the Metropolitan Line between Boston and New York
on Monday, May 3rd. Leave Boston and New York 5 P. M. every day—15 hours direct between the two Cities. Tickets via the Metropolitan Line to New York and to points beyond will be on sale at all regular Railroad and Steamboat Ticket Offices in the East and throughout the United States. Ask for tickets via the Metropolitan Line.

Academy of Music
HIGH CLASS MOTION PICTURES
NEW ILLUSTRATED SONGS
Performances 2 to 5 and 7 to 10.30 p. m. Continuous performance Saturday, 2 to 10.30 p. m. Admission 5c, with a Good Seat, Reserved Seats 5c Extra.

Theatre Voyons
Today
A Drive for Life
Jack's Successful Bluff
A Fighting Chance
The Day and the Man
"In the Days of Long Ago," and "My Pony Boy," are the songs.
TEN CENTS—THAT'S ALL

A BUNCH OF KEYS, lost in postoffice. Reward if returned to office, at 125 Perry st.

CAPABLE WOMAN, wanted at once for light general housework. References required. Reply before Saturday. Address B, Sun office.

5-ROOM TENEMENT to let, clean, sunny, dry cellar, city water, nice view, bay house, also 12,600 feet land for garden. $5. Carl Palm, 21 Johnson st, off Varnum avenue.

A WOMAN FOR WASHING and scrubbing wanted. Inquire at S. Cohen 319 Howard st.

1 TOP STITCHER, 2 BACK STAYERS wanted, on Wickwire Wilson Post machines, apply Federal Shoe Co. Dix st.

TURKISH NEWS

Continued

SULTAN IS DEPOSED

IN FAVOR OF BROTHER

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—Abdul Hamid II has been deposed as sultan of the Turkish empire. Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, his brother, will be proclaimed his successor, probably by 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The deposition will be through the regular form prescribed by the tenets of the Mohammedan faith. It is understood that the sheik-ul-islam, the head of the church, will issue the decree of deposition.

The news of the deposition of Abdul Hamid and the selection of his brother to succeed him caused great excitement throughout Constantinople.

Crowds at once began to gather in the principal squares and thoroughfares and around the imperial palace of Yildiz in anticipation of the proclamation of a new sultan.

A TERRIBLE MASSACRE

IN VILAYET OF ADANA

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—The following account of the disorders at Adana has been received here by telegraph from the Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, a missionary:

"The entire vilayet of Adana has been visited during the past five days by a terrible massacre of Armenians, the worst ever known in the history of the district. The terror has been universal and the government is powerless to check the disorders. Adana, the capital of the province, has been the storm center.

Conditions have been unsettled for some time past and there has been animosity between Turks and Armenians owing to the political activity of the latter and their open purchasing of arms.

"Early last Wednesday while I was in the market I noticed that the Armenians were closing their shops and hurrying to their homes. An Armenian and a Turk had been killed during the night and the corpses were paraded through their respective quarters. The sight of the dead inflamed the inhabitants and crowds began to gather in the streets armed with sticks, axes and knives. A few young Armenians assembled in the center of the covered market and began firing revolver shots into the air. By 1 a. m. the crowd had begun the looting of shops.

"The military commander of Adana was by my side in the market when the firing began. He had not the courage to disperse the mob; he returned to his residence and did not venture out for two days.

"William Chambers, field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and myself proceeded to the Konak and found a howling mob demanding arms with which to kill the Giaours. We then went to the telegraph office to summons the British consul. On the steps of the building we saw three dead Armenians. Their bodies had been mutilated. While we were in the telegraph office a mob burst into the room where we were and killed two Armenians before our eyes. The unfortunate ones were supplicating the protection of the vali when they were struck down.

"We managed to make our way into the next room where we made representations to the vali. This official said he could do nothing. He was afraid of his own life and he made no attempt to protect us. Somehow we managed to get to the interior of the Konak where we remained at the side of the government officials for the next 48 hours. That afternoon the situation grew distinctly worse. The Armenians withdrew to their quarter of Adana which is situated on a hill and converted their houses into fortresses. Here the fighting went on for two days, the Armenians beating off their Turkish assailants.

Wednesday evening Major Daughty-Wylie, the British vice consul at Mersina arrived at Adana and established headquarters in the house of a dragoman of a wealthy Greek resident, where many refugees had been received. The wife of the British consul who was brought into Adana under fire on Thursday, attended personally to many wounded women and children.

"Adana was a hell. The bazaars were looted and set on fire. There was continuous shooting and killing in every part of the town, and fires raged in many quarters. Moslems from the neighborhood began pouring into the city and notwithstanding our vehement protests the vali distributed arms to these men, alleging that they were Turkish reserves.

"Major Daughty-Wylie at the head of troops which he compelled the vali to supply, went to the railroad end of the town and was successful in preventing the villagers from coming into Adana. Later while the major was attempting to pacify the town he was shot and disabled.

"Missionaries of the Central Turkey mission had assembled for a district conference in the center of Adana on the day of the outbreak. They received and protected hundreds of refugees in the American seminary for girls and courageously endeavored to pacify the warring elements.

"On Thursday Daniel M. Rogers and Harry Maurer, American missionaries, were killed under treacherous circumstances.

"On Friday the Armenians yielded since when there has been little murdering.

"Adana is in a pitiable condition. The town has been pillaged and destroyed and thousands of homeless people here are without means of livelihood. It is impossible to estimate the number of killed. The corpses lie scattered through the streets. Friday when I went out I had to pick my way between the dead to avoid stepping on them. Saturday morning I counted a dozen cart-loads of Armenian bodies in one-half hour being carried to the river and thrown into the water. In Turkish cemeteries graves are being dug wholesale.

"The condition of the refugees is pitiable and heart-rending. Not only are there orphans and widows beyond number but a great many, even the babies, are suffering from severe wounds.

"The situation in Adana itself is unspeakable. On Friday afternoon 250 so-called Turkish reserves without officers seized a train at Adana and compelled the engineer to convey them to Tarsus where they took part in the complete destruction of the Armenian quarter of that town, which is the best part of Tarsus. Their work of looting was thorough and rapid. It is said that they spread with kerosene and fired the great historic Armenian church at Tarsus, the most important building in the city. They demolished marble statues and shattered historic tablets. Everything portable was carried away, but the church itself resisted the attempts to burn. Fortunately few persons were killed here. This was owing to the proximity of the American college where 4000 destitute and homeless persons had sought and found shelter.

REV. H. A. GIBBONS

IS A YOUNG MINISTER

BOSTON, April 27.—Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, the missionary who has telegraphed the details of the Adana massacre, is a teacher in St. Paul's institute at Tarsus, a college maintained by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. Rev. Thomas D. Christie, who has been a missionary of the board since his graduation from Andover theological institute in 1877 is its president.

Rev. Mr. Gibbons is a young man, having been graduated from Bowdoin college only recently. After graduation he went to Paris to pursue further studies and the understanding is that he was engaged as a teacher by President Christie while abroad. A daughter of President Christie was the wife of D. Minor Rogers who was killed at Adana.

LAST NIGHT'S EVENTS

IN TURKISH CAPITOL

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—The deposition of Sultan Abdul Hamid appears now to be certain and the 101 guns saluting Mahemmed Reschad Effendi as the new ruler of the empire probably will be heard before the next selamlik on Friday. The dignitaries of the church care as little for Abdul Hamid as does the committee of union and progress, but the higher clergy are seeking to curb the agitation of the enthusiasts of the Mohammedan league. Senators and deputies who have inquired among the Ulemas find them in different degrees favorable to the sultan's removal. A caucus of senators and deputies yesterday determined to make an effort to compel him to abdicate under the ecclesiastical law, by the terms of which a decree may be issued by the Sheik-Ul-Islam, the highest authority of Mohammedanism next o the sultan, pronouncing the sultan incapable of ruling.

The grounds upon which the issuance of a canonical rescript will be demanded are that the sultan's supremacy is harmful to the church, contrary to the sacred law and unjust to the Turkish people. The program as agreed upon at the caucus is that a demand shall be made for the abdication of Abdul Hamid simultaneously from the highest court of the church, from the national assembly and from the military chiefs. The sultan will be offered a palace and liberal allowances.

The parliamentary leaders wish to discuss this program at a public sitting before they approach the Sheik-Ul-Islam on the subject, for it is with this man, who lives a secluded life of a mysterious, semi-holy character, in the popular belief, that the difficulty lies. He is not likely to act without giving serious consideration to this important matter, taking counsel with the principal Ulema and seeking the opinion of the wisest and most powerful men in the church.

The constitutionalists have no wish to oppose ecclesiastical authority nor to undertake the tasks of progress without the support of a majority of the wise men, and if they strongly oppose the abdication of the sultan, it would hardly be insisted upon at present, although this is regarded as the simplest course, to avoid further complications with Abdul Hamid.

Mahemmed Reschad Effendi, the heir apparent to the throne, who would probably be selected for the accession, has lived practically a prisoner for 25 years in the large palace and gardens not far from the Yildiz Kiosk. Since the July revolution, however, he has often been in the streets of Constantinople, looking from the carriage windows upon the scenes in the thoroughfares which must have been strangely interesting to him. He is gray haired and not very strong, to judge from his appearance. He is 65 years of age and well educated, although inexperienced in the affairs of the world.

Yesterday afternoon witnessed the final act in the siege of the Yildiz. General Scheffket, commander of the constitutionalists, overawing the Albanians into surrender. This force, which was composed of 20,000 men, was stationed in the imperial palace. The Albanians were not disarmed in the morning on Saturday, but they persistently refused to lay down their arms. General Scheffket sent up a strong force of Macedonians and six field guns were placed in a prominent position above the palace. Other guns were disposed on the neighboring hills, while troops commanded all the approaches.

The red flag continued, however, to float defiantly until 2 o'clock, when the watchers saw it dropping slowly down the flag pole, making place for the white token of surrender. A few minutes later a crowd of Albanians were seen pouring down the dusty road, according to Reschadieh, where they were fastened together with ropes and conducted under escort to the headquarters of the commission of inquiry. The prisoners included the ex-ministers, pages, secretaries and practically the entire male staff of the palace, as well as the famous Fuehrer, the sixth protector of the sultan. The commander was arrested in the hills at Galata and severely handled and subjected to indignities.

The Salonikins showed great severity. Many of the arrests, it is said, could be with being reactionaries, have been brutally treated. The vengeful search continues even in the European countries. It is estimated now that at least 10,000 prisoners are in the hands of the Salonikins. Those liable to severe punishment, such as the rebellious Saloniki chasseurs, have been securely roped. Among the civilians arrested are: Mourad Bey, editor of the Mizan; Abdurrahman Effendi, assistant minister of finance, and several high officials of the Porte. A number of reactionary newspapers have been suppressed.

Fresh battalions continue to arrive from the country districts. They came in yesterday, marched to the palace of justice where the parliament was sitting and saluted the representatives of the new government. Many of the soldiers went to the mosques yesterday to pray.

Most of the American tourists have left the city. Ambassador Leishman, who has received many telegrams inquiring whether it is safe to come to Constantinople, has replied to these that such course would be inadvisable, as the city is under martial law. Nevertheless, several Americans reached here yesterday, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Moore.

The condition of Frederick Moore, the American correspondent, who was shot while watching the fighting on Saturday, is causing anxiety. His wound may prove to be more serious than at first supposed. The surgeons in attendance will not be able for two or three days to give a definite opinion as to whether his spine is injured.

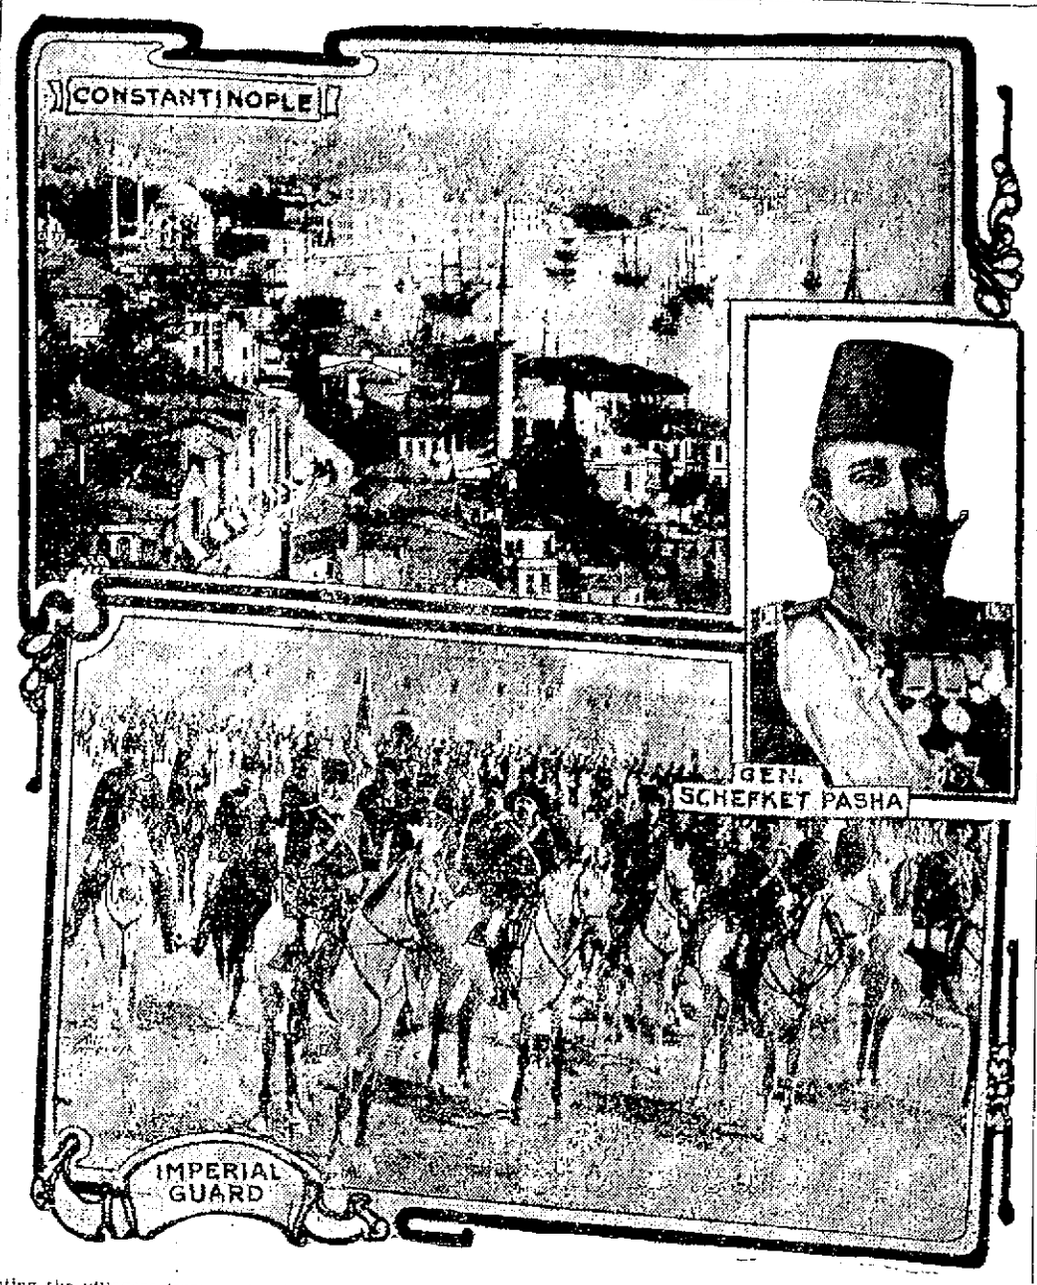

Alexander Girgalou, first dragoman of the American embassy, who also was wounded by a stray bullet, is improving. He was able yesterday to go from his residence to the hospital to have his wound dressed, and it is expected will be well in a fortnight.

Booth, the London Daily Graphic artist and correspondent, is able to sit up in bed, and was engaged in sketching street scenes.

Tewfik Pasha, the grand vizier, and the other members of the cabinet, resigned yesterday, but their resignations were not acted upon. Tahir Pasha, one of the commanders of the Yildiz garrison, has been degraded and dismissed from the army. Numerous other officials of the palace have been dismissed, while many women of the sultan's harem, with their families, have been sent away.

The senate and chamber of deputies, in joint session, requested the ministers to remain in office for some days longer.

Gen. Scheffket last night issued a proclamation, announcing that the instigators of the recent crimes, including those who have been guilty of stirring up a feeling of discontent, will be exterminated as the worst enemies of the country, in accordance with Sheriat and the unanimous wish of the nation, and that measures will be taken to prevent the propagation of the subversive ideas. The proclamation concludes with the assurance that peace will be maintained and the people will remain tranquil.

WEISS IN COURT

Was Charged With Disturbing the Peace

Max Weiss, the second hand clothing dealer who has come into the limo light because of the fact that he has an overcoat hanging outside of his store which is stolen periodically, was in police court again this morning, but this time instead of being the complainant in the case, he is a defendant, he and Abraham Deshefsky, of Boston, having been arrested for disturbing the peace.

The cases were called for trial this morning but on the request of counsel they were postponed till Thursday.

Weiss and the Boston man got into an argument at the corner of Middlesex and Howard streets last night and had succeeded in attracting quite a large crowd when Patrolman Frank Donovan put in an appearance and sent both men to the police station. As is usual each man blames the other and the case is so mixed up that there is sure to be something doing when the cases are heard Thursday.

Locked Out in the Cold

"Won't you open dat door and let me in, I'm out here freezing cold to the skin," was the refrain which John Gillis was singing outside his house on the Tremont & Suffolk corporation about ten minutes after one o'clock this morning when Special Officer John Mahan put in an appearance. Gillis was under the influence of liquor and was placed under arrest.

In court this morning he explained that owing to the fact that he has an artificial limb he has had considerable difficulty in securing work and went out to North Chelmsford last night to look for a job. He arrived in Lowell shortly before eleven o'clock and managed to connect with a couple of "four masted" schooners before closing time. He then wended his way towards his domicile. He rang the bell but received no response. He rang it again and again, and then again and he kept on ringing but his wife refused to open the door. He said: "I ring the bell but she would not open the house so I was waiting around for her to open the house."

He was sentenced to four months in jail, from which decision he appealed and was held for the superior court.

Milk Below the Standard

John Constantopolous entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with having milk below the standard in his possession. In fact the milk was very poor, analysis showing that there was but 9.92 per cent. of solids while the standard is 12.15 per cent. He was fined the usual amount, $15.

Drunken Offenders

Mary A. Kelley was in for the third time within two months and she will spend the next four months in jail.

Four first offenders were each fined $2 and four simple drunks were released before the opening of the court.

BADLY INJURED

Girl Was Testing Rope Fire Escape

WELLESLEY, April 27.—By the breaking of a rope fire escape, Miss Jeanette Tandy of Vevay, Ind., a sophomore at Wellesley college, fell two stories striking on her back and head and sustaining serious injuries. She was taken to the hospital conscious and suffering great pain.

The accident happened in Stone hall, one of the college dormitories, about 8 a. m. Within the past year every room in the college has been equipped with rope fire escapes and it is compulsory on every student to make at least one descent by the rope under the direction of one of the captains of the college fire brigade. This morning Miss Tandy under the direction of Miss Julia Locke, a senior, the captain of the Stone hall fire brigade, started to make the descent by the rope from the second floor. The fire escape was hung on the inside of the building near the staircase. Miss Tandy, who is rather heavy, had just swung over the railing on the second floor when the rope broke and she fell to the bottom floor some thirty feet below. She struck on her back and the back of her head. She was conscious when picked up but appeared to be in great pain. She was taken immediately to the Wellesley hospital. The extent of her injuries has not been determined although it is believed that she was badly hurt.

RACES TODAY

WON BY AVALANCHE II. OVER NOTED HORSES

NEWMARKET, April 27.—The first spring two-year-old stakes of ten sovereigns each with two hundred sovereigns added, distance four furlongs, was run here today and won by Avalanche II. East Pool was second, and LeCroisette third. Among the fifteen starters were H. P. Whitney's Oversight and C. Carroll's Truckee.

BENHALL'S WINE OF OLIVES
For the thin, pale, tired, or sufferers from dyspepsia. Makes both fat and muscle, and aids digestion in a remarkable way. Gives health and strength to the weak.
Prepared by BENHALL OLIVE CO., Lowell, Mass. For Sale by Leading Druggists.

"Hello," 1485 please. "Is this Keyes' Auction Room?" "Yes sir." "Have you any upright pianos in your furniture sale Thursday?" "Yes, there are three nice ones." "What else is there?" "Oh! there is a roll top desk, several brass beds, leather couch, lot of carpets and art squares, piazza chairs and fancy rockers, square pianos and organs, camp chairs and settees, and there are four elegant pieces of antique furniture." "Better come down and look them over." "Are you open in the evening?" "Yes sir." "What time does the sale commence Thursday?" "At 1.30 sharp." "Thank you, good-bye."

SOOTHING WASH CURES ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen Compound Solves a Vexing Medical Problem

One of the most vexing problems in all medicine appears at last to have been solved by the most simple of all remedies. Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded with thymol, glycerine and other mild healing liquids, tones up the healthy skin while killing and ultimately removing the eczema germs.

This compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription, has now so thoroughly proven its efficacy that druggists recommend it unhesitatingly.

The Sheriff of Franklin Co., Frankfort, Ky., Mr. W. R. Graham, writes: "My twelve-year-old daughter had been suffering with an aggravated form of eczema for more than two years. We had her under the care of the best physicians here. Upon getting no relief, we were induced to try D. D. D. Prescription.

"She was entirely relieved. It has now been more than one year since she ceased the use of the Remedy, and no sign of the trouble has appeared."

We recommend D. D. D. Prescription to all sufferers from eczema. Carter & Sherburne, Fallis & Burkinshaw and Ellingwood & Co.

WALTER E. GUYETTE. Auctioneer
Office, Rooms 77-78 Central Block. Tel. 2415.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
OF A COTTAGE HOUSE, NO. 14 PENN AVE., OFF LINCOLN STREET, LOWELL, SATURDAY, MAY 1, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

I will offer for sale by the order of the mortgagee, at the appointed time, a cottage house and about 2200 square feet of land more or less situated within seven minutes' walk from Gorham street. The property comprises a six-room house, bath room, gas, city water, electric drop light, etc. The house is in perfect repair inside and out, only recently the present owner added a large piazza running the whole side of the house. There are six fruit trees that will bear this year. If you are looking for a little home in a good location, where it requires but little money, be sure and attend this sale. It is just what you want.

Terms: $200 to be deposited with the auctioneer as soon as sold, and other terms at sale.

By order of LOWELL CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee.
By William D. Brown, Treasurer.

GEN. BABCOCK

NEW YORK, April 27.—Brig. Gen. Breckenbridge Babcock, U. S. A., retired, died on board the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, which arrived here today from Bremen. Gen. Babcock's death occurred yesterday from Bright's disease. His body was brought to port on the steamer. Mrs. Babcock and their son Franklin accompanied the general to Europe some time ago in the hope that the trip might improve the general's health.

Gen. Babcock was born in Louisiana in 1843. He served in New York regiments during the civil war and emerged with the rank of major. He was appointed to the regulars from Connecticut as a second lieutenant in '64, and finally attained the rank of brigadier general in 1903, being retired at his own request in the same year. During the Spanish-American war he was a brigadier general of volunteers.

I Wish to Announce
to the general public that I am prepared to do plastering, whitening and whitewashing and general jobbing of all kinds in this line. Reasonable prices and satisfaction guaranteed.
JAMES LARGY
23 RICHMOND STREET, CITY

EAT CORNED BEEF, CABBAGE, PORK AND ONIONS FOR DINNER

Do you crave for a good old fashioned New England boiled dinner?

Corned beef and cabbage and pork and beets and onions and turnips?

There may be a few readers of the Sun who will turn up their noses and sniff contemptuously, but if they do it's because they have never faced the good old kind like mother used to make.

But there are thousands of people in this world who won't eat a New England boiled dinner because they can't digest it.

And these people ought to know at once that Mi-o-na tablets, the quick acting and guaranteed cure for indigestion, will put the stomach in such a clean and perfectly healthy condition in a few days that they will be able to eat and digest a New England boiled dinner or any other kind of a dinner.

Carter & Sherburne sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box and they guarantee it to cure indigestion, catarrh of the stomach or any chronic or acute stomach trouble or money back.

Mrs. Susan Rea, says: "For months I endured the pains and agony of the stomach that I could not digest and my appetite got bad. I doctored without relief or success until I used a treatment of Mi-o-na. This remedy cured my trouble entirely and I can, since using Mi-o-na partake of any kind of food that I wish." 30 Pratt St., Pontiac, Mich.

Mi-o-na is a wonder worker. It instantly stops distress after eating; turns a sour stomach into a sweet one; stops belching and heartburn. Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

THE WEATHER

Showers and warmer tonight. Wednesday showers, followed by clearing in the afternoon or night; light easterly to southerly winds increasing and becoming westerly Wednesday.

THE LOWELL SUN

7 O'CLOCK

ESTABLISHED 1878 — LOWELL MASS. TUESDAY APRIL 27 1909 — PRICE ONE CENT

EXTRA

FOUND TWO FIRES

In Different Parts of the Same Building

The discovery of two fires in different parts of the three story tenement block at the corner of Coolidge and Chesver streets this afternoon, leads Chief Hosmer, of the local fire department, to think that the fires may have been of incendiary origin. But for the early discovery of the different fires the block might have been destroyed and fatalities might have resulted.

When the department arrived on the scene there were two lively blazes in progress, one in a closet on the second floor of the building and the other in the hallway on the third floor.

Chemical lines were laid and within a few minutes the fires were extinguished but not before the interior of the buildings in the vicinity were badly scorched.

The finding of the fires in different parts of the building caused Chief Hosmer to suspect that they might have been of incendiary origin and he immediately questioned inmates of the building and those who were early on the scene.

It is the intention of the chief to have the fire marshal come to this city in order to investigate the origin of the blazes.

The building is owned by G. Boynton.

GREAT SENSATION

CHICAGO, April 27.—Peter Van Vlissingen, whose confession a year or so ago that he had forged mortgages to the extent of $1,000,000 caused a sensation in Chicago where he had been known for twenty years as a leading real estate man exploded a bomb shell in the bankruptcy court here today when he stated that his confession a few months ago was antedated by four years by a confession made privately to men who held $400,000 of his spurious paper.

Van Vlissingen was brought back to Chicago from prison today to testify before Referee in Bankruptcy Frank Wean, who is attempting to locate the valid assets of the prisoners. Van Vlissingen declared that in 1904 he was compelled to confess to Maurice Rosenfeld, at that time a director in the now defunct Chicago National bank and Bernard Rosenberg, a real estate dealer, that mortgages held by them and valued at $400,000 had been forged.

"They discovered some irregularity in the paper that year," said the witness, "and came to my office. I admitted the forgeries and said:

"'I will go before the state's attorney, tell him just what I have related to you gentlemen about these wholesale forgeries, plead guilty and go to prison like a man.'"

"'We want our money,'" they said.

"'I can get it,'" I said, 'but I must dupe others as I have duped you men.'"

The witness said he promised to pay them from $1000 to $5000 a week. Altogether, he said, he paid them approximately $250,000.

"Did they promise not to expose you?"

"They came to my office regularly for the instalments, but said nothing more about my going before the state's attorney."

DEFENSE OPENS

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—The presence in the court house today of his parents and other members of his family seemed to cheer Chester Jordan as he settled himself to listen to the evidence in his trial for the murder of his wife. The Jordan family waited until the defense was about to begin before appearing and today they remained in an anteroom until the cross-examination of a couple of government witnesses had been concluded before coming into the court room. As there remained a few questions to be asked of some of the medical examiners, Dr. Thomas Durrell and Dr. Swan, both of Middlesex county, were recalled. The former admitted that he could not state positively the exact cause of the death of Mrs. Jordan, although he was fairly sure that the wounds on the head, strangulation and the cut found on the throat all combined to bring about the result.

"I am positive that Mrs. Jordan's death was caused by violence," said Dr. Durrell as he left the stand.

Dr. Swan, who followed, was asked a number of hypothetical questions regarding death by violence caused by blows on the brain, strangulation and cuts on the throat, but as a rule he was non-committal.

The declaration that the defense will call to the stand medical experts, who will controvert the evidence given by the prosecution's experts, was the feature of the opening for the defense which was made by Harvey H. Pratt when the session was resumed. Mr. Pratt, after explaining the different degrees of murder, and laying stress on the question of reasonable doubt and the presumption of innocence until a man is proven guilty, stated that Dr. William Councilman, of the Harvard Medical school would testify for the defense that Mrs. Jordan's death was not caused by blows on the head; that a fracture of the skull is of no importance unless the brain is affected and that such was not the case in this instance.

The claim of the government, that the murder was premeditated, Mr. Pratt said, had not yet been shown. He claimed that neither deliberation, premeditation nor atrocity had been proven. While speaking on this point he was interrupted by Dist. Atty. Higgins, who inquired of the court if the opening arguments were not being unduly prolonged, but Mr. Pratt was permitted to proceed.

"I shall ask the court," he said, "to instruct you that where no positive or definite cause of death has been shown the verdict must be in the second degree."

Mr. Pratt sketched briefly the life of Jordan, noting his birth in Indianapolis 28 years ago and stating that he did not like other boys, that he was an invalid for some years through an injury to his head, that he was backward in his studies, that he was subject to fits in his younger days and that a cousin committed suicide.

The climax of Mr. Pratt's opening came with his announcement that Jordan was suffering not only at the time of the death of his wife, but at the present time with epileptic insanity, a disease, according to Mr. Pratt, which renders a person incapable of knowing what he is doing or being responsible for his actions.

Mr. Pratt closed a few minutes later and introduced Dr. William T. Councilman of the Harvard medical school as the first witness.

Dr. Councilman said that he was unable to determine from an examination of the body of Mrs. Jordan the exact cause of death. He found no traces of strangulation, said that the marks on the head were not sufficient, while regarding the cut on the throat he could not determine whether it was made before or after death. He found no traces of blood in the Jordan home.

The government's theory regarding the cut in the throat was indicated in the cross examination when Dr. Councilman was asked whether he would look for blood when the head and shoulders were held over a tub and the throat cut while in that position. Dr. Councilman said that he would not.

THE EX-SULTAN

Is Reported to be Dead

LONDON, April 27.—A despatch received from Constantinople by a news agency says that rumors are current in the Turkish capital that Abdul Hamid is dead. The troops who are said to have taken him from the palace last night found him unconscious on the floor in an inner home of the harem.

POLAND WATER

For Sale by
GEO. A. WILLSON & CO.
F. and E. BAILEY & CO.

LOWELL INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS
INCORPORATED
1829
THE OLD LOWELL SAVINGS BANK
INTEREST BEGINS
MAY 1
18 SHATTUCK ST.

THE HOTEL MEN

Called as Witnesses at the Police Board Hearing

The respondents opened their side of the police board hearing this morning and among the witnesses summoned were local hotel men.

When the hearing was resumed this forenoon Supt. Moffatt, who was being cross-examined by Mr. Burke when the hearing adjourned last evening, was recalled.

Mr. Moffatt was asked relative to the sandwich law cases; the two in which juries disagreed and the others that were thrown out by the district attorney.

Asked if he had given the hotel men the true interpretation of the law, Mr. Moffatt said: "I think not—I do not know now what the true interpretation of the law is."

Mr. Moffatt said he gave to the hotel men the interpretation given by Fred N. Wier, former district attorney and ex-police commissioner. Asked as to the condition of the police force at the present time, as to discipline, activity and ability to perform required duties, Supt. Moffatt said that the department is in fine shape; discipline good and everything is harmonious.

As to the enforcement of the liquor laws in Lowell during the year 1908, Mr. Moffatt said that they were more rigidly enforced than ever before in the history of the department, and he said that the licensed places so far as he know were all living up to the law.

Asked as to the work of the present police board, he said it had devoted two or three times as much time to the work of the department than any other police board of which he had any knowledge.

As to the honesty, earnestness and sincerity of the present police commissioners in the performance of their duties, Mr. Moffatt said, speaking from his experience and association with them, that he believed them to be thoroughly honest and sincere.

Mr Moffatt's cross examination through with, the defence started in on its case. The hotel men were present and were sworn.

Henry W. Garrity of the Old Washington Tavern was the first witness.

"Were you called to the mayor's office with others, in February?" asked Mr. Burke.

"I was."

"Did you know of anything to bring about, or that might have brought about, that invitation that you got to come to the mayor's office?"

"I did not know of anything."

"Did you hear the mayor say anything about the summonses that were sent out by the police board to the hotel men?"

"I did not. I was late in arriving."

Asked what was said about the sandwich law, he said that the mayor gave as his opinion that a man who called at a hotel on Sundays or holidays and ordered a sandwich, that the man ought to be entitled to as many drinks as he might feel that he required.

Mayor Brown sought to shake Mr. Garrity in his testimony relative to the sandwich, asking him if what the mayor said wasn't to the effect that a man who resorted to a hotel for food, in good faith, was entitled to drink. Mr. Garrity said the word sandwich was used. He was interested in the sandwich law and he remembered very well what was said concerning it. He said the mayor likened a man going into a hotel for a sandwich to a man going into a restaurant. If a man went into a restaurant and bought a sandwich he would be entitled to buy as many cups of coffee as he desired and he thought the man who bought a sandwich in a hotel was entitled to one, two or more glasses of beer.

Mr. Garrity said he had not been granted a license for this year. He testified to the closing of his hotel between 10 a. m. and 12 m. on Sundays. He said the hotel was not closed, but that no drink was served between those hours. He was requested by the police commissioners to dispense with the sale of drinks during those hours.

Proprietor Cushing

Edward T. Cushing of the Richardson hotel was the next witness. He was asked first relative to the appointments of his hotel and then as to the conference between the hotel men and the mayor.

He said that it was an entire surprise to him when he was invited to come to the mayor's office. The mayor he said, asked him if he had received his summons from the police board for a hearing before that body. He said he had the summons with him and gave it to the mayor.

As to what the mayor had to say about sandwiches and beer, Mr. Cushing said the mayor said that a guest reporting to a hotel in good faith for food, ought to be entitled to one, two or three glasses of beer. By food he said, the mayor meant sandwiches. The mayor said that he was often made a meal of a sandwich.

Cross examined by counsel for prosecution Mr. Cushing told, in considerable detail, the location of the dining rooms at his hotel, entrances, etc. He was asked a number of questions relative to the testimony given against his hotel in past years. He said he had not yet been granted his license for this year. Asked when he was granted his license last year he said he could not remember the exact date but it was earlier than this.

A recess of ten minutes was taken, and when the hearing was resumed Mr. Cushing, in reply to a question by counsel for prosecution, said he was notified yesterday by Mr. Bent to attend the hearing today.

Mayor's Speeches

Dr. Wm. H. Gallagher was the next witness. He said he knew Mayor Brown very well. He heard the mayor deliver campaign speeches, and from the top of the lunch cart at the corner of Paige and Bridge streets he said he heard the mayor say that he would not stand for liquor licenses going to the agents of breweries and wholesalers, and that he would remove the police board for granting them licenses.

Asked when his attention was first called to the fact that he would be called to testify as to what Mr. Brown said from the top of the lunch cart, he said he did not know just when. It was to Mr. Bent he spoke relative to it. He said he told Mr. Bent that he could not give the mayor's exact words, but that he could give the substance of it.

Asked by counsel for the prosecution if he knew that Mr. Gregg had been going about soliciting persons to come to the hearing to testify as to what they had heard the mayor say during the season of his campaign, witness said he didn't know anything about it.

Witness said that the mayor from the top of the lunch cart said, among other things, that a minister who went to one of the police commissioners to talk about the liquor traffic and hotel business was told to go to a place "where he couldn't shovel snow."

It came to pass that counsel for the prosecution learned that Dr. Gallagher was going to New Bedford this afternoon and when he asked him who was going with him the doctor told him it was none of his business.

Gregg Testifies

Alfred John Walker Gregg was the next witness. He said he knew Mayor Brown and heard his campaign addresses.

He, too, heard the lunch cart speech. "What did you hear him say?" asked counsel for prosecution.

"I heard him say that he would remove the police board for granting licenses to agents of breweries and wholesalers," said witness.

Cross-examined by counsel for the prosecution, witness said he is now in business in New Bedford. Asked if he had been engaged by Mr. Bent as a professional witness, Mr. Gregg said he had not.

"I will not call him a spotter," said counsel for the prosecution.

"You better not," said Mr. Gregg.

Witness said he had talked with Mr. McGarvey of Bridge street relative to the lunch cart speech. He said, however, that he did not ask him to testify at the hearing, but he did ask him if he remembered what the mayor had said during his delivery of the lunch cart speech.

Witness said he was not receiving any recompense for his services at the hearing, as witness.

Asked by the mayor if he solicited business from liquor dealers, witness said he did not solicit business from anybody.

Asked by the mayor to repeat other things that the mayor said from the top of the lunch cart, witness repeated several unimportant things.

Reporter's Story

Joseph L. Cronin of the Courier-Citizen identified reports in his paper as reports made by him of speeches made by the mayor during his campaign; two speeches made on the night of Dec. 2, 1908, in which he was quoted as saying that a reorganization of the police department was necessary; that the superintendent of police and police board members were out against him, and that a "clean sweep of the department should be made from the top down."

Mr. Cronin identified another report of a speech made by Mr. Brown on the night of Dec. 3, 1908 and made at the junction of Lakeview and Lilley avenues. In this speech he was quoted as saying that the police department was in need of reorganization and that the department was badly in need of a new superintendent.

John S. Haynes, a Gorham street florist, testified that on Jan. 16, a police officer went to him and told him he could not sell flowers on Sunday.

He said that on the following day he spoke with the mayor over the telephone, and told the mayor he had been ordered not to sell flowers on Sunday. He said he told the mayor he was a news agent and the mayor told him to open up as usual. He said the mayor told him that he, the mayor, would have to go down and take charge of the police department himself.

Cross-examined by counsel for the prosecution witness said it was Officer Giroux who called and told him he could not sell flowers on Sunday. He said the officer told him he would have to close up right on Sunday.

Afternoon Session

Martin W. Halloran, proprietor of the Arlington hotel, was the first witness called when the hearing was resumed at 2.15.

Relative to the conference with the mayor, witness corroborated the testimony of previous witnesses relative to what the mayor said relative to a sandwich constituting a meal, and the comparison between the man going to a restaurant and ordering a sandwich and coffee and the man going to a hotel and ordering sandwich and beer.

Mr. Halloran was questioned as to the appointments of his hotel and he described them. There was nothing positively interesting.

Hugh F. Mellen of the St. Charles hotel was the next witness.

Mr. Mellen said he didn't know anything about the conference with the mayor at the latter's office until he was telephoned to appear at the mayor's office. Mr. Mellen said he gave over to the mayor the summons which he had received from the police board to attend a hearing on the complaint that he had violated the condition of his license. He did not get the summons back and he supposed it was still in the possession of the mayor. He said he was closed so far as his bar was concerned, for 24 days, and that it meant a loss to him of about $2000.

His testimony was corroborative of that given by others of the hotel men who attended the meeting between the mayor and hotel men.

Owen J. Carney

Owen J. Carney, of the Waverly hotel testified relative to the meeting between the mayor and the hotel men. His testimony was of the same order as that given by other hotel men.

Thomas Ramsay of the Belvidere hotel was the next witness. He said he attended the conference between the mayor and hotel men. With reference to the mayor's purpose to call the meeting he did not know, but he gave to the mayor the summons which he had received to attend the hearing before the police board.

His idea of the mayor's version of the sandwich was the same as other hotel keepers.

John G. King of the Park hotel testified. He said he had received a telephone call from Mr. MacBrayne, the mayor's private secretary, to attend the conference, between the mayor and the hotel men.

Relative to the conference, he said he thought it was the mayor's purpose to find out if there was any difference in the way business had been conducted from the time he became mayor to the time covered by the complaint.

Continued to page three

A GREAT EVENT

Class Initiation of Div. 8, A. O. H.

One of the greatest events in Hibernian circles ever witnessed in the city took place last night when thirty members were initiated into the ranks of Division 8, A. O. H. The three degrees were exemplified by the degree team of Division 19 of Waltham in charge of President James J. Harold. The Waltham party numbering about 35 men came to this city in a special electric car that attracted considerable attention when it reached the square. The men were met by the committee on arrangements named by Div. 8 and were escorted to A. O. H. hall where the members of Division 8, to the number of 300, and many visiting brothers were on hand to greet them.

The business meeting was conducted by President John C. Rourke and there were in attendance many prominent and old members of the division who have not attended a meeting for a long time. President Rourke thanked the members for the grand showing and also expressed his gratitude to the Waltham men for the interest they took in the class initiation by consenting to come here and work the degree. He then turned over the conduct of the initiation to President Harrold of Waltham and his degree staff and the exemplification was pronounced by all the best they had ever seen. Among those who were "put through" were many leading citizens. After the initiation the visiting members were banqueted in the rooms formerly occupied by the Spindle City Wheelmen, plates being set for 75.

All Run Down? Pale? Nervous?

All run down, easily tired, thin, pale, nervous? And do not know what to take? Then go direct to your doctor. Ask his opinion of Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. No alcohol, no stimulation. A blood purifier, a nerve tonic, a strong alterative, an aid to digestion. Let your doctor decide.

J.C. AYER CO.

THE BABBITT CO.
OPTOMETRISTS.
Expert Work—Reasonable Prices
Eyesight Specialists in Attendance. Any Lens Duplicated. Try Our Prices.
81 Merrimack st., Cor. John (Over Lawler's)

CURTIN & SPILLANE
Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters
Estimates Cheerfully Given
26 ANDOVER ST. Tel. 2429

The Best Housewife

Demands that her home shall be cleaned with a Vacuum Cleaner.

Every bit of dirt is sucked up into the cleaner and taken out of the house to be destroyed.

We have a Vacuum Cleaner by the day.

Lowell Electric Light Corp.
50 CENTRAL STREET

CAMPAIGN FOR BOYS

Movement for Development of Street Arabs

Two most interesting meetings in connection with the educational campaign for boys now being conducted in Boston and vicinity by philanthropic workers of national reputation were held in this city this afternoon, the first at the Normal school, and the second at High school hall. The speakers were Mr. John E. Gunckel, of Toledo, O., president of the Newsboys' association, and a worker among boys of national reputation; Miss Jane Day, a discipline nurse in cases of extreme physical, mental and moral wreckage of children and homes; Leonard P. Ayres, who is in charge of the Backward Children investigation of the Russell Sage foundation; Lee F. Hammer, field secretary of the Playground Association of America and Inspector of Public School athletics; and Mr. Burt Hall, truant commissioner of Milwaukee, Wis.

Miss Jane Day

The Normal school meeting was attended by all the pupils and teachers and was held at two o'clock, Principal Dargin presiding. All the speakers illustrated their remarks with stories and incidents that were most entertaining, while Messrs. Hall and Gunckel were particularly humorous. The first speaker introduced was Miss Jane Day, who spoke on her particular line as a home visitor. She explained that the home visitor is the disinterested party. She points out the way to the parent, the teacher and the child. She believed in plain, practical work in the homes, the sentimental worker, she said, did more harm than the person who did no work at all. She related at length her experiences with a little Russian Jew boy who was developed into a useful citizen, who unmindful of what became of his mother back in Russia when he first came to this country, was taught to develop himself and become of benefit to those at home. She traced the steps in the transformation of this urchin in a most fascinating manner concluding by telling of a letter which he wrote to his mother some time afterward of which three pages were in English to show that he had learned the language of the new country, three pages in Russian to show that he had not forgotten the tongue of his fatherland and three in Yiddish, the language which she understood. The earning capacity of the child, she said, is the standard by which the child is measured in most poor families. The work of the home visitor is to make this subordinate to the moral welfare and the laws of the country. The boy must be developed and still not alienated from his family. She described some of the homes where a child never sees a toy to play with and never has an opportunity to study. The influence of the teacher, she said, on the home, is great and the home visitor impresses upon the teacher the conditions that exist in the home, thus pointing out the manner in which she must treat the child. The children of the tenements respond very quickly to kindness and sympathy and they should be extended kindness and sympathy. The speaker gave many strikingly homely incidents of home happenings, showing where the child is handicapped by his parents and his surroundings and pointing the way to remedy this drawback to his future.

Mr. Burt Hall

At the conclusion of Miss Day's remarks Principal Dargin stated that the next speaker was not down on the program but as soon as he learned that he was in Boston he insisted on him coming to Lowell. He then introduced Mr. Burt Hall, truant commissioner of Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. Burt Hall spoke in part as follows:

You are not all going to have the experiences that Miss Day has had in New York but there is that in the calling of a teacher that is sacred next to that of motherhood. It is so easy for the teacher to get the wrong impression of the pupil.

I remember a young boy in Milwaukee, who was constantly in trouble because he insisted on drawing caricatures of the teachers and yet today he is one of the greatest artists in Milwaukee. He is a Russian Jew and I find that the boys of that race respond quickly to kindness and sympathy. A teacher should study her pupil a little. Stay by the job until its finish."

Leonard P. Ayres, in charge of the investigation of backward children of the Russell Sage foundation, was next introduced, and he spoke on educational economics, taking up the subject of backward children. In the lower grades there are always more than in the upper. He then showed by means of a chart the ideal conditions relative to membership in the different grades and conditions as they exist in Boston, Somerville, Camden, N. J., showing that there are more children there than should be and not as many as there should be in the higher grades. Camden, N. J., presented the worst conditions in this respect. There are too many "repeaters," as they are called, children who fail to get promoted. In the average American city, only one in ten goes through the high school.

Mr. Ayres then presented a chart showing the number of backward children in the schools of Lowell. In this city there are 22 per cent. retarded children; in Medford the retarded children are 7 per cent.; in Boston, 18; New York, 32; Philadelphia, 37; Camden, 46. In Memphis among the colored children the percentage is 76. Lowell carries three children through the high school to one for Boston. The problem of the retarded children affects perhaps 6,000,000 children and we spent $2,700,000 in a repetition of education for these children. What a world of good could be done in higher education with that money. We are endeavoring more to throw light on these conditions with a view to remedying them. The situation needs more light and less heat.

Mr. John Gunckel of Toledo, O., president of the Newsboys' Association, was then introduced. He said that this is a strenuous campaign, so strenuous that he has not had time to grow his head. (The speaker is baldheaded.)

He told in a most entertaining manner of the first newsboys' Christmas dinner, 17 years ago, and the work of developing newsboys and street urchins. In Toledo he has 80 officers from among the boys who go about the city watching the other boys, to see that they go to school or to work. Every boy must come into the association smiling, and once a member, always a member. There are no dues or assessments. At each Christmas about 75 boys get a suit of clothes. Some people say there are many things that a boy must not do, but they go home to a good dinner and leave the boy on the street. "Stop your gazing at the stars and go and get busy! That's my motto," said Mr. Gunckel.

At the conclusion of the meeting at the Normal school, the speakers repaired to the High school hall, where another meeting was held at 4.30 o'clock.

JOHN C. ROURKE.
President, Div. 8, A. O. H.

In the many toasts, luncheon was served to the local members, and a most enjoyable program was rendered. There were songs by John J. Doherty, Thomas Shirley, Daniel Roarke, H. Burke and several others, remarks by John W. McEvoy, J. J. O'Connor, County President John F. Donnelly of Cambridge and President Rourke of Division 8. The latter gave a brief history of the division and gladdened the hearts of the members by stating that at present Division 8 has 250 members in good standing and is the second division in Middlesex county, first place being occupied by Division 12 of Melder.

He also said that the division has a fund of $3000 and the receipts last evening amounted to more than $200. The exercises closed with the singing of "God Save Ireland" led by President Rourke and Brother Frank McNulty. The committee in charge of the evening's affair and to whom much credit is due for its success consisted of President Rourke, Daniel F. Kelly and Michael Ryan. The Waltham party left for home on their special car at 11.45. Other visiting brothers were present from Boston and Woburn.

HEAD LACERATED

THOMAS GOLDEN WAS THROWN FROM WAGON

Thomas Golden of Fulton street, Centralville, while driving through Broadway this afternoon was thrown from his wagon near the corner of School street and sustained a laceration of the head. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to St. John's hospital.

INTEREST BEGINS SATURDAY, MAY 1
—AT—
THE CENTRAL SAVINGS BANK
58 CENTRAL STREET

6 O'CLOCK

GROCERS CONVENE

Annual State Convention Opened This Afternoon

David Gerow of This City Presides Over Convention--Many Delegates Present — Banquet to Follow Business Session

The annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers association opened this afternoon in Odd Fellows Temple with a large attendance, including delegates from Boston, Lawrence, Haverhill, E. Weymouth, Medford, Worcester, Springfield, and other places, the importance of the matters to be discussed drawing an unusually large delegation.

The convention was formally called to order by Mr. Edward Fitzpatrick, president of the Lowell Grocers association, who turned the convention over to Mr. David Gerow, of this city, president of the state organization.

President Gerow in his address said: "This is the 5th annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers association. I am deeply conscious of the honor conferred upon me one year ago and am proud, also, that in this, my home city, this convention is held.

"During the year now closed, we have tried in every possible way to aid members of the association and incidentally all grocers; we have not made a great show for outside effect, but have proceeded along well defined lines trying to gain and hold the confidence and respect of retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers, one and all.

"We have added to our fund despite unusual adverse conditions, and are now preparing for an exposition that will, from present indication, place our association on a self supporting basis. Until that is accomplished, we cannot hope for the largest measure of success. There are many things we would do, things that ought to be done, that must remain unattempted until our treasury fund warrants the expenditure necessary.

"We have kept in close touch with those departments of our state government that enforce the laws that vitally affect us. We have kept a close watch upon all legislation and have helped to kill many a bill that would, if enacted into law, hamper and harass us unduly and unnecessarily.

We have joined with our brethren in sister associations in advocating just measures and are proud that something has been accomplished; not only have we helped secure the enactment of a law placing grocers on the preferred list in case of death of a debtor, but have also laid the foundation for other measures that by united effort may be made laws one year hence.

I refer especially to the bill making married women jointly responsible with their husbands for debts due for groceries and provisions, and the bill requiring the license of grocery and provision dealers. This latter bill, if enacted into law, would enable local boards of health to prevent the unfair competition of those who, amid dirt and filth, disperse disease and contamination to the hurt of the legitimate, self-respecting dealer.

Quite recently there has come to my notice what seems to me to be an attempt to make dealers commit a crime. Certain persons with short measure bottles have visited our stores and asked us to sell them a pint or quart of vinegar, as the case may be, well knowing that said bottle would not contain the amount asked for. In one case when told by the grocer that he had no pint measure, the answer was: "Guess at it, as near as you can."

We believe that every dealer selling short weight goods should be prosecuted to the full limit of the law, but we object emphatically to those schemes to cause a technical violation of law by an honest grocer.

Dr. Harrington, late secretary of the state board of health, stated to a committee of our association that if any of his agents indulged in any such practices, he would remove him immediately. Any department that sanctions such action on the part of its agents is unworthy of our confidence and deserving of severest condemnation.

The one thing needed today in Massachusetts, is a concert of action on the part of all the grocery organizations in the state. This organization represents the entire commonwealth. It is the center head to which all other associations should come for advice and suggestion, for conference upon all matters of trade importance.

I suggest that each local grocers' association in the state by vote authorize its president and secretary to meet at stated times with the executive committee of this association. I am sure that from these conferences, good would come, not only to our members, but to the members of every association in the state.

By getting together and joining forces for the accomplishment of certain specific reforms, great good will result. This is an idea I have long had in mind and I urge it with the full belief that it will create an interest and arouse an enthusiasm that will count largely for our benefit.

What we need in association work is the co-operation and interest of every grocer. A few may do the work but could do it a good deal better if they had the active assistance of the hundreds who stand aloof. Why this lack of interest? The little time and extra effort required is a good investment.

I hope the grocers of Massachusetts will show, during the coming year, a more determined and enthusiastic interest in this association and in all Grocers' associations. With members and with effort, we can make the grocer the power he ought to be. No dealer has more influence; all that is needed is that his influence be made manifest.

If we have not accomplished all that we hope for during the past year, we have been untiring in our efforts. Every member of the executive committee is deserving of especial praise and I thank them for their loyal support at all times.

Let us make the year 1909 memorable in the history of this association; a banner year rich in the accomplishment of desired reforms.

I ask you to enlist today for a service that means benefit to every grocer in Massachusetts.

The officers of the state association are:

President, David Gerow of Lowell.

Secretary, Arthur T. Farmer of North Abington.

Treasurer, James E. Taylor of Lynn.

Vice-presidents—A. T. Farmer, No. Abington; H. W. Mansfield, South Braintree; A. E. Jewell, Worcester; F. E. Hunt, Haverhill; O. B. Parks, Westfield; F. L. Drury, Fitchburg; Geo. H. Garfield, Brockton; Leonard Rhodes, Boston; E. S. Randall, Medford.

Executive committee—Fred. Humphrey, East Weymouth; W. K. Hutchinson, Arlington; V. Harry Fairey, Brockton; W. B. Ferry, Milford; F. W. Meridam, Roxbury; Alanson Gray, Lowell; W. C. Walker, Wakefield.

Organizer—Frederick Humphrey, E. Weymouth.

Exposition Committee—David Gerow, chairman, Lowell; A. C. Doucet, secretary, 69 North Market street, Boston; A. T. Farmer, treasurer, North Abington; Jos. W. K. Hutchinson, Arlington; H. W. Mansfield, South Braintree; W. C. Walker, Wakefield.

Associate Members of Exposition Committee—E. E. Folsom, Brockton Public Market, Brockton; J. C. Shepard, Gloucester; W. W. Graves, Malden; G. A. Strout, Newtonville; T. A. Smith, Orleans; W. H. Berry, Berry Bros., Quincy; Louis J. Ball, L. J. Ball Co., Springfield; H. Q. Presbrey, Presbrey Bros., Taunton; S. E. Farnsworth, Westboro; C. N. Chapin, Worcester; H. H. Phelps, Worcester; Nahum Reed, Whitman; Gamaliel P. Atkins, Newton; Chase & Richardson, Haverhill.

The matter of annual reports was then taken up and followed by discussions on different subjects pertaining to the welfare of the trade.

At the conclusion of the business session this afternoon a banquet will be held in the banquet hall at which President Fitzpatrick will be the toastmaster, and addresses will be made by State President Gerow, Mayor Brown, Hon. George Carter, former mayor of Chelsea; Prof. Hugh Molloy of the normal school, and others.

Standing Committees

Legislative—Frederick Humphrey, East Weymouth; W. K. Hutchinson, Arlington.

Legislative Council A. C. Doucet.

Progress—V. Harry Fairey, Brockton; W. C. Walker, Wakefield; Alanson Gray, Lowell.

Grievances—W. B. Ferry, Milford; J. E. Tarbox, Lynn; F. W. Meridam, Roxbury.

Pure Food—O. B. Parks, Westfield; Frederick Humphrey, East Weymouth; F. W. Meridam, Roxbury.

Special Committees

Convention—David Gerow, Frederick Humphrey, Alanson Gray, W. K. Hutchinson, F. W. Meridam.

Nominations—W. K. Hutchinson, Alanson Gray, V. Harry Fairey.

Resolutions—W. B. Ferry, J. E. Tarbox, W. C. Walker.

FUNERALS

MALONE—The funeral of Elizabeth Malone took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 64 Union street, and was largely attended. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, under direction of M. H. McDonough & Sons.

McDERMOTT—The funeral of Hannah McDermott took place yesterday afternoon from the rooms of Peter H. Savage. The bearers were Daniel and William Regan, Patrick Killoy and Michael Roarke. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Curtin read the committal prayers.

WILBY—The funeral of Robert Pevey Wilby took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 66 Washington street. There were many floral tributes. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, under direction of M. H. McDonough & Sons.

MANN—The funeral of Carlton Mann took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 5 Foster street, Rev. H. S. Trueman officiating. There was singing by Mrs. Shepard, and there were many floral offerings. Burial was in the Edson cemetery, under direction of Higgins Bros.

SMITH—The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Smith took place Saturday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James N. Greig, at 76 Bellevue street. Rev. Charles T. Billings officiated. The bearers were Hugh Manning, Edward Page, Alexander Greig, Sr., and Arthur W. Davis. Burial was in the Edson cemetery, under the direction of J. A. Weinbeck.

SABRE—The funeral of John B. Sabre took place yesterday afternoon from the residence, 255 Hildreth street. Rev. J. T. Carlyon officiated. The bearers were Thos. Regan, Hazen Stickney, Ralph D. Plumstead and Francis W. Cragin, all of Post 120, G. A. R. The services of the G. A. R. were held at the residence. The body was sent to Chazy, N. Y., for burial. J. A. Weinbeck was in charge.

VAUGHAN—The funeral of the late James W. Vaughan took place yesterday afternoon from the warerooms of Peter Davey and proceeded to St. Peter's church, where at 2.15 o'clock funeral services were held, Rev. Fr. Burns officiating. The bearers were: Thomas F. Plunkett, Edward O. Boyle, John J. Donnelly, and John J. Dailey. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Peter Davey.

TRACY—The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary M. Tracy took place this morning from her home, 281 Concord street, and was largely attended. There was a number of people from out of town, among them being Dr. and Mrs. Conroy of Andover, Mrs. Rose Whalen and family, Miss Katie Tracy and Miss Mary Fallon of Lawrence. The cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church where a solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I., celebrant, Rev. Fr. McRory, O. M. I., deacon, Rev. Fr. O'Brien, O. M. I., sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Charles P. Smith, sang the Gregorian mass and during services appropriate selections were rendered, Mrs. Walker presiding at the organ. Despite the request of the family that no flowers be sent, there was a profusion of beautiful tributes, including wreath inscribed "Wife" from husband; standing cross inscribed "Mother" from the sons; wreath inscribed "Mary" from John Rogers and family; standing lyre with purple ribbon inscribed "Grandma" from the grandchildren; standing heart of red pinks with white ribbon inscribed "At Rest" from Mr. and Mrs. John Durkin; basket of white roses and pinks from Mrs. Lyons and Margaret Brady. The bearers were Edward F. McCullough, John J. James, R. Bernard J., Michael F. and George Tracy, all sons of deceased. At the grave Rev. Fr. McRory, O. M. I., read the committal prayers, and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned desire to express their sincere thanks to their many relatives and friends, who, by words of sympathy, tried to lessen their grief caused by the death of their daughter and sister, Rose Etta Dowd. To those who sent floral offerings they are also deeply grateful.

Mrs Rose Dowd and family.

DEATHS

FARRELL—John M. Farrell, a well known resident of St. Patrick's parish died last night at his home, 81 Dummer street, aged 41 years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs Mary Farrell; a wife, Ellen; four daughters, Mary, Bridget, Margaret and Annie and two sons, John J. and Philip. He was a popular member of Div 2 A. O. H.

FUNERAL NOTICE

MARTIN—The funeral of the late Theodore Martin will take place tomorrow morning at eight o'clock from his home, 4 rear of 188 Adams street, and at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WHITEHORN—Died, April 25, Miss Marcena Whitehorn. Funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home of J. Albert Evans, 57 Humphrey street. Relatives and friends invited. C. M. Young, undertaker.

Banish

Spring Humors

Impure or effete matters accumulated in the blood during the winter cause in

The spring such disfiguring and painful troubles as boils, pimples, and other eruptions, also weakness, loss of appetite, that tired feeling.

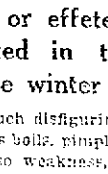

The best medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. These ingredients are the very remedies that successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make and yields a larger profit.

Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today, in the usual liquid form or in the chocolated tablets known as Sarsatabs. 100 Doses One Dollar.

OPEN TO ALL

THE SUN classified columns are open to all at the small cost of one cent a word for three insertions. An advertisement placed in The Sun today will be printed in over 16,000 papers, aggregating nearly 50,000 papers in three days.

An advertisement in The Sun brings immediate returns. That's where circulation counts. If in doubt, try it.

RAILROAD MERGER

No Great Opposition to Governor Draper's Plan

BOSTON, April 27.—Although there was no decided opposition to Gov. Draper's solution of the railroad merger controversy by the organization of a holding company for the stock of the Boston & Maine railroad now being held outside the state, the legislative committee on railroads today failed to obtain any definite plan or bill for the chartering of such a company. It was expected at the state house today that the committee will later ask the attorney-general to draw a bill in conformity with the governor's conceptions after which the measure will be submitted to a general discussion at another hearing. The hearing today showed that all the parties which have agitated the railroad merger question either for or against it were practically unanimous in endorsing the latest proposition but they wanted many restrictions.

Just as the hearing was closing Rev. Norman White asked vice-president T. E. Byrnes of the New Haven road, who was present, what restrictions his company would agree to in order that the stock of the Boston & Maine might be brought back to Massachusetts and if the company would be willing to submit to such restrictions. Mr. Byrnes deftly parried the questions by stating that he was present at the hearing to protect the interests of the road and was not there to suggest a solution of the question. The New Haven does not want its rights restricted but it believes that the governor's suggestion is a step in the right direction, as it would prevent other interests coming into the state and taking control.

TURKISH EMBASSY

Has Not Received Official Confirmation of Latest Developement

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Official confirmation of the proclamation of a new sultan in Turkey has not been received at the Turkish embassy in this city nor an announcement of the elevation of Mehemmed Reschad Effendi either. The press dispatches of the day are accepted, however, as accurate.

Throughout diplomatic circles the general impression is that the enthroning of Mehemmed means a new era for the Ottoman empire. The decree for reform and the adoption of a constitutional government could never be realized in its fulness it is felt as long as Abdul Hamid was in power. With the reform movement freed from the obstacles put in its way by the reactionaries who wielded power in Constantinople, it is urged that a new day has dawned for Turkey.

Turkish officials speak of the new sultan as possessing an able mind, correct in his manner of living, kind and with inclinations that will make him a constitutional sovereign.

The deposition of Abdul was not unexpected, notwithstanding his apparent strong hold on the people of Turkey, and no regret is expressed that he is to give up office. The opportunity now is for the Young Turks to establish a permanent law-abiding form of government, which if it metes exact justice to all classes will have the support of the governments of the world. This is the generally expressed view in Washington. The international effect on Turkey of the regime will be as important as the local effect. As to intervention from outside governments, all depends on the manner in which the Young Turks take hold of affairs. Under a careful administration they ought to be able to put Turkey in a position where she can hold her own among the nations of Europe and give to the various nationalities, races and religions the blessings of constitutional law and a regular form of stable government which the empire has sadly lacked. The results from an international viewpoint are likely to be very broad if the Young Turks carry out to a successful issue their well laid plans. For instance, it will deprive the states of Europe of any pretext for continual intervention and in all probability will mean the drawing closer of English influence in the Levant as against that held by Germany.

But as much as anything else to be desired in Turkey is the administration of a regime which will be a guarantee for a complete restoration of law and order throughout the sultan's dominion. This the students of Turkish politics feel may be brought about by the Young Turks providing always, of course that they undertake their work with a sincere purpose of doing their very best for all citizens and avoiding the suspicion of selfish desire in the working out of the reforms proposed by the constitution. Not less than other needs it is pointed out is the guarantee of the freedom of worship in contrast with the fanaticism of Mohammedism which the deposed sultan instead of checking permitted to become rampant.

MISSION BOARD OFFICERS EXPECT BETTER CONDITIONS

BOSTON, April 27.—While the officers of the American board of foreign missions look for more favorable conditions in the Ottoman empire in the future as a result of the change of rulers at Constantinople, they believe that whatever progress may be made will be the result of the constitution, and the Young Turk administration rather than through any effort on the part of the new sultan, lately proclaimed sultan under the name of Mehemmed V. Such is the opinion expressed today by Rev. Dr. Barton, secretary of the board, who has correspondents in every part of the Turkish dominions and who himself has travelled extensively throughout the empire. In explanation of his views of the situation, Dr. Barton said, that the new sultan is only two years younger than his deposed brother. He has had no opportunity to learn anything about the world at large, about other powers or even about his own empire.

The constitution and the Young Turk administrators are looked to, however, for the upbuilding of better conditions throughout the empire. Since July 14, when the constitution was first proclaimed there has been freedom of press, travel, expression and worship, and a declared freedom of conscience. So far as Dr. Barton has been able to learn the Young Turks are pledged to carry out this line of progress.

Discussing the board's interest in Turkey the clergyman said:

"So far as our work is concerned the change in government is favorable. We never felt quite sure under the old regime as to the basis under which our work stood. Concessions granted by the government were often withdrawn within a very short time."

Speaking of the progressive spirit of the Young Turks, Dr. Barton said that all through the empire Ottoman clubs have been formed by the younger element. These clubs have held meetings weekly for the purpose of discussing such topics as constitutional government, the history of historical governments and the responsibility of the governed to the constitution. Everywhere a spirit of intelligent advance has been shown and Christians and Moslems have united in studying enlightened forms of government. The teachers at the college controlled by the American board have been repeatedly called on to address Christians and Moslems at these Ottoman clubs, explaining the governments of various natives and instructing the members in constitutional history.

The American's board's great hope is that the young Turk will be enabled to establish firmly the new regime.

Dr. Barton believes that the Young Turk party when established finally in power will be able to curb and restrain properly the two elements that are now causing the disorder in Asia Minor, namely the revolutionary Armenians and the fanatical and reactionary Moslems. The Armenians with their omnipresence ideas of an Armenian nation and a revolution against Ottoman rule have been responsible for much of the trouble that has occurred in Asia Minor while the reactionary and fanatical Moslems have resorted to violent methods partly to harass the Armenians and partly at rage because their sources of revenue through official corruption under the old regime are now cut off. The board officials however look to the Young Turks to put down such disorders. It is also believed that the sheik-ul-islam, the head of the Mohammedan religion, will also have a great influence in restoring peace in the disturbed districts. As the ecclesiastical head of nearly 250,000,000 Moslems throughout the world the sheik-ul-islam wields great power. He is now allied with the Young Turk party and if he should declare throughout the Mohammedan world, especially throughout Turkey, that the persecution and massacre of Christians must cease there is little doubt in the minds of the American board officials that a healthier era would dawn in the districts where bloodshed and violence have reigned for many days.

Commenting on the report of Rev. Herbert A. Gibbons, one of the teachers at St. Paul's institute, at Tarsus, on the massacres in Central Turkey, Rev. William Strong, editorial secretary of the American board, said:

"The graphic report of the massacre at Adana by a reliable eye-witness shows the situation there to be more terrible than the earlier despatches indicated. It also makes clearer some points of concern. It appears that the seditious activity of the Armenian nationalists was the provoking cause; that while the outbreaks started with a mob it soon became organized, reinforced and apparently encouraged by Turkish officials and so-called Turkish soldiers. It would seem that affairs in Adana were at least so far related to those at Constantinople that the attitude of the sultan's party at the capitol was reflected in the timidity of the military officer and the activity of the mob. The service of the missionaries and mission buildings and grounds in sheltering refugees and preventing worse slaughter is apparent. The pitiable needs of the homeless, the orphaned and the injured make their own appeal for relief."

TO MAKE SURVEY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—The board of United States army engineers which was recently appointed by the war department to make a survey of the construction of a continuous inland waterway along the Atlantic coast, leave this city tomorrow on a tour of inspection.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" columns.

CHAINED WOMEN

Were Expelled by London Police

LONDON, April 27.—Four women suffragists succeeded in getting into the lobby of the commons this afternoon. They at once fastened themselves by chains to statues. The police, profiting by previous experience, are now provided with metal-cutting implements and today they quickly cut the chains and expelled the four women from the building.

OUT OF GAME

ROGER BRESNAHAN MET WITH INJURY

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Roger Bresnahan, catcher and manager of the St. Louis Nationals, will be unable to play ball for several days because of injury suffered in the tenth inning of yesterday's game with Pittsburg. Bresnahan was hurt internally when he slid into the plate, colliding with Gibson of Pittsburg.

WESTON'S WALK

PEORIA, Ill., April 27.—Edward Payson Weston today left Girard, thirty miles south of Springfield, for St. Louis.

CARNEGIE GIVES $75,000

NEW YORK, April 27.—The New York University council, at its regular meeting yesterday, accepted a gift from Andrew Carnegie in honor of the successful work for twenty-five years in bacteriology and pathology performed by the Carnegie Medical Laboratory.

The gift, amounting to $75,000, will be applied to the extension of the present Carnegie laboratory building. Announcement was made also of a gift of $2000 by the widow and daughters of Dr. Glover O. Arnold surgery prize, the annual income of the fund to be awarded each year to the member of the graduating class of the university and Bellevue Hospital Medical college who shall stand the highest in surgery.

TO INCORPORATE COMPANY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—The bill to incorporate the Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric company, came from a committee today, and was placed on the house calendar without the amendment which would prohibit the company from carrying stock of the Providence Gas Co. and the Narragansett Electric Lighting Co.

Only three amendments proposed to the committee were recommended today. One limits the capital stock to $6000, another the bond issue to the same amount and the third allowing the new corporation to acquire property of another corporation is sanctioned by an eight-tenths vote of the stockholders of that corporation.

10c Cigar

Present output upwards of 17,000,000 per annum. Money's worth to the consumer tells the story. Factory, Manchester, N. H.

BURIAL PLACE

Of FitzRandolph Has Been Found

PRINCETON, April 27.—The university and townspeople were much interested yesterday in the discovery of the remains of three bodies on the site of the new Sage dormitory. While digging for the foundation of the building workmen unearthed first the bones that are almost certainly known to be those of Nathaniel FitzRandolph, one of the founders of the university. The two other skeletons are unidentified.

For some time the university authorities have been trying to fix the spot where FitzRandolph was buried, and the records pointed to the locality of the Sage dormitory site, so the discovery was not unexpected.

The first skeleton found is supposed to be that of FitzRandolph because the records show that he was buried close to a tree which was removed this week. The remains lay within a few yards of this spot. It was also known that there are other bodies near this place, but thus far it has been impossible to find out whose they were. The records at hand do not give those facts.

Nathaniel FitzRandolph gave to the college the site on which Nassau hall stands. He died soon after the beginning of the university, probably about 1760. There was nothing left in the grave to aid in a certain identification.

The university will mark the spot where the bones were found.

President Wilson last night gave out this statement in regard to the discovery of the skeletons:

The site of the new dormitory crosses a portion of an ancient private burying-ground in which the location of the graves had become uncertain. In excavating for the foundation and cellar of the building the authorities of the university have taken occasion to remove the remains uncovered very carefully and they will be reinterred under a portion of the building specially arranged for the purpose.

The only grave certainly known as that of Nathaniel FitzRandolph, over whose remains a special tablet is to be placed commemorative of his great generosity to the college. The authorities of the university have been guided in the matter as much as possible by such scant records as are extant.

Descendants of FitzRandolph gave to Princeton the magnificent gateway which marks the main entrance of the campus on Nassau street.

NEW ASSISTANT TREASURER

NEW YORK, April 27.—The counting of cash at the sub-treasury, customary when a new United States assistant is appointed, was finished on Saturday and yesterday Charles S. Terry, the new head of the institution, took formal possession and gave a receipt for $34,852,769.75. The principal items in this total are $148,629,725.50 United States gold coin, 77,995,019 standard silver dollars and $21,936,330 United States gold certificates.

SLAGLE OF BALTIMORE

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburg baseball team, announced today that he had waived claim to James Slagle, former centrefielder of the Chicago Nationals. Slagle's contract had been sold to Boston and that club had in turn tried to send him to Baltimore of the Easterns when Pittsburg interposed a protest. Its withdrawal will result in the retirement of Slagle to the minor league team.

Don't Be Deceived

If you have tried other papers of doubtful circulation and failed to get results, that is no reason why you should condemn all newspapers. There are some honest newspapers with actual bona fide circulations. THE SUN, for instance, now prints over 16,000 copies daily. Is it any wonder SUN advertisers get quick results?

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF

Household Furnishings

AT LOWEST PRICES, AND ARE SOLE AGENTS IN LOWELL FOR THE CELEBRATED

Crescent Range

PETER DAVEY

134 MARKET STREET

Furniture Dealer — Undertaker — Funeral Director

Telephone Connection 79-2

Carroll Bros.

Plumbers, Steam Fitters and Sheet Metal Workers

36 MIDDLE ST. TELEPHONE 1650

LATEST

MARY WATKINS SUES

Was Put Out of the Mount Olivet Church

NEW YORK, April 27.—James Edward Taylor, the negro letter carrier who was held to be "unfinancial" when he tried to get into the meeting of Hamilton lodge, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, one night four years ago and whose forcible ejection and re-entrance, the latter with the assistance of an injunction, brought on a lodge row which has resulted in half a dozen damage suits, came to the front again yesterday, this time in connection with the late disturbances in the Mount Olivet Baptist church in West Fifty-third street.

Yesterday Brother Taylor was defendant in a suit for $2,000 damages for false arrest brought by Sister Mary Watkins of 6 West 133d street, who alleges that as chairman of the board of trustees of Mount Olivet Brother Taylor was responsible for her ejection from the Sunday morning service on February 21, 1908, at which time a few policemen assisted the Rev. Matthew W. Gilbert, the pastor, to say the opening prayer unhindered.

The case was on yesterday before Chief Justice O'Dwyer and a jury in the city court and most of the congregation was there. To simplify matters only five witnesses were selected from each side, Brother Taylor being supported by the pastor, who said he ordered the removal of the disturbing element, and by Policeman Wagner, who said he carried Sister Watkins out at the request of the pastor. The jury had been struggling with the evidence for about an hour when 4 o'clock was reached, so Justice O'Dwyer ordered a sealed verdict.

News of the discord in Mount Olivet has reached the press through police channels before now, but the real cause of it all, as related by the chairman of the board of trustees, has been locked up in the bosoms of the Rev. Dr. R. S. McArthur, the Rev. Dr. Leighton Williams, the Rev. Dr. Frank M. Goodchild, the Rev. Dr. Johnson and former Justice Edward S. Clinch, composing an arbitration committee appointed by the Baptist clergy of Manhattan to attempt to harmonize Mount Olivet. Brother Taylor said that the committee decided in favor of Pastor Gilbert when confronted with two marriage licenses made out for one deacon.

This deacon caused the trouble, Brother Taylor said. To quell the disorder raised by the deacon's faction the police took out nineteen persons and all but six were put under bonds to keep the peace. Sister Watkins was discharged and she brought suit. So did three others, some of whom included the pastor and Brother Joshua B. Wood in their complaints and got the pastor and the two brothers locked up for a time. Everything is harmonious at Mount Olivet now.

ATTORNEY WM. H. BENT PUTTING THE MAYOR'S SECRETARY, W. C. MACBRAYNE, THROUGH A SEVERE CROSS EXAMINATION AT THE HEARING YESTERADY

THE HOTEL MEN

Continued

Supt. Moffatt Cross-Examined

When the hearing was adjourned yesterday afternoon, Supt. Moffatt was being cross-examined by counsel for the respondents. Counsel for the prosecution offered no evidence under charge 42, which refers to the citizenship of Commissioner Hanson. Charges 35, 36, 38 and 39 were also abandoned. Counsel for the prosecution refused to abandon several others that counsel for respondents said should be abandoned, for specified reasons; and the mayor when called on for a ruling, sustained his own counsel. The charges that have been abandoned are as follows:

35. That you voted to appoint and also authorized persons to act as special police officers who, at the time of their appointment, were not citizens of Lowell, contrary to section 2, of rule 59, of the rules and regulations of the police department of the city of Lowell.

(For specifications see appointment of Charles A. Merrill, Alexander Banwart, Frederick R. Ervin, George Pangborn.)

36. That you voted to assign certain police officers to act specially in the enforcement of the liquor law when you knew or ought to have known that these same officers had been removed from the liquor squad where they had formerly served, because of the evidence of their neglect and incapacity disclosed in the proceedings before Mayor James B. Casey in the matter of the removal of a former board of police.

(For specifications see report of said proceedings before Mayor Casey pertaining to the official conduct of Thomas R. Atkinson, Alexander Duncan and William H. Grady.)

38. That because of politics or favoritism and not for just causes, you permitted and authorized Superintendent Moffatt to remove and transfer certain officers without their consent from the routes and places of employment, where they had been assigned, to other and less desirable positions, contrary to chapter 210 of the acts of 1906, and contrary to the best interests of the police department.

(For specifications see lists of transfers in possession of Superintendent Moffatt.)

39. That you permitted and authorized Superintendent Moffatt to promote certain police officers contrary to rule 3 of the rules and regulations of the police department of the city of Lowell and contrary to the best interests of said department.

(For specifications see promotion of Officers Downey, Atkinson, Duncan and McCloughrey.)

42. That you are legally incapacitated from holding your office as a member of the board of police of the city of Lowell because you are an alien by birth and have never been naturalized as a citizen or legally qualified to be a member of either of the two leading political parties, as required by section 3 of chapter 106 of the revised laws.

PLAINTIFF WON

Was Given a Verdict of $2994.55

FALL RIVER, April 27.—The jury in the case of Arkwright mills vs. H. B. Claflin Co. of New York, brought in a verdict in the superior court today for the plaintiff in $2994.56, the full amount of the claim with interest. The point at issue in the case was whether cloth woven from "blue bender" cotton grown in the bends of the Mississippi valley, was good cloth provided that the fabric showed a bluish tinge which could not be bleached pure whole. The mill claimed that the cloth was of poorer texture and therefore sued for its value which the Claflin Co. had withheld because of the color in the fabric. The case has been followed with interest by cotton manufacturers because it involves a point of law never before tested in the courts.

ADMIRAL MILLER

DIED AT THE HOME OF HIS NEPHEW

EAST ORANGE, N. J., April 27.—Rear Admiral Joseph Nelson Miller died Sunday after a long illness at the home of his nephew, Robert M. Ogden of 195 Central avenue, this city. Mrs. Miller was with him when he died. The other survivors are Mr. Ogden and Henry R. Miller, a brother, who is assistant postmaster at Keokuk, Ia. The funeral services, which were private, took place in East Orange this afternoon. The body will be taken to Washington, where burial will be made with naval honors in Arlington cemetery.

Rear Admiral Miller was born in Springfield, O., on Nov. 22, 1836. He entered the navy at the age of 15. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was commander of the ironclad Passaic and took part in the engagement at Fort Sumter. In charge of the same vessel he was also in the Fort McAllister fight. As captain of the Monadnock he was in both attacks on Fort Fisher. He became a commander in 1870, captain in 1881, commodore in 1894 and rear admiral in 1897.

In 1875 Commander Miller with the Tuscarora made deep sea soundings of the Pacific from Hawaii to Australia. As commander of the Pacific squadron he hoisted the flag of the United States over Honolulu when the Hawaiian islands were annexed to this country. From 1888 to 1891 he was captain of the Brooklyn navy yard. In the first year of his admiralty he was one of the representatives of the United States at the jubilee of Queen Victoria. He organized the Naval Reserves of the Pacific coast in the early part of the Spanish-American war and on his 62d birthday, after the close of that war, he was retired.

Rear Admiral Miller was married in November, 1897, to Miss Helen Wills of Baltimore. They had no children.

COURT TENNIS GAMES

LONDON, April 27.—The covered court tennis championship contests are now in progress at the Queens club. At today's play Rhodes of Boston beat Watts in the gentlemen's singles.

In the mixed doubles Mr. Rhodes and Miss Tulloch beat A. D. Preble and Miss Booth by 2—1.

E. H. HARRIMAN

To Give 23,000 Acres for Park

MONTCLAIR, N. J., April 27.—Governor Fort, in a speech before the Montclair Civic association, in the Montclair club hall last night, while discussing the water supply problem, suggested the establishment of a State park and reservoir in the northern part of the state. The governor said that in his opinion the state should get possession of a tract of about 200,000 acres in the northern section that is owned by the Harriman, Hewitt and Hamilton estates. He said a magnificent park could be laid out there and a reservoir built that would supply all the larger cities of the state.

E. H. Harriman owns about 45,000 acres of the land to which Governor Fort referred. The governor said he talked over the matter with Mr. Harriman and that the latter had promised to donate 23,000 acres of his land to the state, provided the state could get possession of the rest of the tract desired. Mr. Harriman had remarked, said the governor, that the tract in question was "only 25 cents from New York."

The governor spoke at considerable length on his project, and the suggestions made by him were enthusiastically received by his audience.

It is estimated that Harriman's donation would run in value from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

MR. ROOSEVELT

Ready to Move to a New Camp

NAIROBI, British East Africa, April 27.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son had sufficient rest today from the fatigue connected with their first shooting trips and their journey from Kapiti Plains station to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Athi river to go out shooting this morning for small game. They secured a grants gazelle and a hartebeeste.

All the members of the party are busy today sorting out their baggage and making it up into loads and otherwise preparing to start on more extended hunting expeditions. J. Alden Loring and Major Means came into Kapiti Station this morning from the Pease ranch and set to work making up loads from the baggage there. They looked tired owing to the fatigue of the last few days and the depressing effects of the climate.

Part of the Roosevelt camp already has been established at the Pease ranch, the remainder of the caravan will move over to this point tomorrow morning.

The Roosevelt party decided today to remain for one week at the Pease ranch, and with this stay in view a number of cases of stores were sent into the American camp today.

The smallpox among the porters of the Roosevelt caravan has been checked.

TO REDRAFT BILL

Bearing on the Philippine Tariff

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The ways and means committee of the house met today to consider the Philippine tariff bill introduced recently by Rep. Payne (N. Y.), and which was the object of a special message from the president. A sub-committee, consisting of Reps. Payne (N. Y.), Hill (Conn.), Boutelle (Ill.), Clark (Mo.), and Underwood (Ala.), was appointed to redraft the bill. Col. Colton of the Philippine customs service appeared before the committee to explain certain features of the measure which was prepared largely by him. The sub-committee will have its first meeting tomorrow.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

AT THE FUNERAL OF MISS ROSE ETTA DOWD

The funeral of Miss Rose Etta Dowd took place yesterday from her home, 5 rear of 104 Lawrence street, and a high mass of requiem was sung at St. Peter's church by Rev. Fr. Heffernan. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Haggerty, rendered the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Mr. James E. Donnelly sang "Pie Jesu" and at the conclusion of mass Miss Nano Gallagher sang "De Profundis." As the remains were being borne from the church the choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The bearers were Messrs. John Donohoe, James Kennedy, Joseph Rourke, George Morris, Leo Morris and Thomas Golden. There were friends present from Boston, Somerville, Andover, Lawrence, Haverhill, Acton and Bedford. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Heffernan officiated at the grave. The interment was in charge of Thomas J. McDermott.

Among the floral tributes were the following: Pillow inscribed "Rest, Sweet Rest," Mrs. Rose and family; pillow inscribed "United in Heaven," Miss Mary Ward; wreath on base inscribed "Thy Will Be Done," Miss Flora Terrian; spray of pinks, Mrs. Willette; wreath of roses, Miss Margaret Morris and Leo Morris; shut of roses and lilies inscribed "The Sad Hour," employes of Bigelow Carpet Co.; spray of lilies, Misses Donnelly; spray of pinks, Miss Margaret Allen; spray of pinks, Miss Catherine Golden; spray of pinks, Master Thomas Barden; spray of tea roses, Miss Alice Devine; spray of pinks, Misses Ford and Miss Canole; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. McDermott.

Deceased was a well known young resident of St. Peter's parish and was prominent in church affairs. She had a wide circle of friends whose sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

CITY HALL NEWS

The common council will meet in regular session this evening for the special purpose of the [illegible] now has been called.

The committee on licenses [illegible] afternoon will visit the new [illegible] storehouse in the rear of the [illegible]

Joseph Mullin today [illegible] contract for 500 bushels [illegible] health department and [illegible] for the fire department.

The school board will [illegible] evening.

The street committee will meet on Thursday.

MUST PAY TAX

City Solicitor Gives His Opinion to Assessors

City Solicitor Duncan today gave the following opinion bearing on taxation of Y. M. C. A. property:

Office of City Solicitor,
Lowell, Mass., April 27, 1909.

Board of Assessors, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: In reply to your request for an opinion as to whether certain real estate, belonging to the Young Men's Christian Association in Lowell is exempt from taxation, I submit the following:

As I understand it the property in question is located on Hurd street, adjoining the property at present owned and occupied by said association for the purposes for which it was organized. Without considering whether this last property so owned and occupied is exempt, but for the moment assuming that it may be, the question is, what is the status of property belonging to but not occupied by said association, but rented to another party, the proceeds from said rental being used to further the purposes of the association. The only statute under which exemption of this property can be claimed, if at all, is section 5 of chapter 12 of the revised laws, which provides that the personal property of literary, benevolent, charitable and scientific institutions and of temperance societies incorporated within this commonwealth, the real estate owned and occupied by them or their officers for the purposes for which they are incorporated and real estate purchased by them with the purpose of removal thereto * * * shall be exempt from taxation.

A number of similar cases have been decided in this commonwealth under statutes similar to above section 5, among which is the case of trustees of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd v. the City of Boston, 120 Mass., 212, in which the facts were briefly, that the plaintiff, a religious and charitable institution built upon its land a lodging house, in which rooms were rented to tenants and the proceeds devoted to the charitable uses of the institution named in its charter. It was argued that the use of the proceeds of the rentals for the purposes of the organization brought the property within the scope of the statute, but the court held otherwise and decided that the property was not exempt from taxation.

In this present case the newly acquired property of the Young Men's Christian Association is not occupied by the association or its officers, nor does it appear that it will be in the immediate future, and if it ever is, the whole complexion of the property may be changed before that time and it may be that the building as it now stands will never be so occupied. The present purpose of the association is to rent it and devote the proceeds of such rental to the objects of the association, which purpose it seems to me under the case in 120 Mass., 212, above cited, leaves it a proper subject for taxation.

Further, if there be a purpose to ultimately use the property for the association itself or its officers, it would still appear under the decision in the case of the Boston Society of Redemptionist Fathers v. City of Boston, 125 Mass., 118, that it is not exempt, for in that case the court decided that the fact that a benevolent or charitable institution intends at some indefinite future time to occupy land owned by it for the purpose for which it was incorporated, does not exempt the land from taxation under the statute.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that said property is a proper subject of taxation by the City of Lowell and is not exempt under section 5 of chapter 12 of the revised laws.

Very truly yours,
Wm. W. Duncan,
City Solicitor.

FIVE CENT FARE BILL

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—Senator Wagner today called up his Coney Island five cent fare bill which was defeated in the senate last week but the vote reconsidered and the bill was then passed by the senate by a vote of 30 to 15.

FELL TO DEATH

Man Dropped Distance of 480 Feet

NEW YORK, April 27.—While several hundred persons in Madison Square were watching the human flies at work high up on the Metropolitan Life building yesterday, Thomas Mortimore took the longest drop to death in the annals of sky-scraper building.

Mortimore fell from the thirty-fourth floor—several stories above the gigantic clock—to the sidewalk, a distance of about 480 feet.

As the structural workers quit for the day—they always do that when one of their mates falls—they said they had never heard of such a long drop. Mortimore, of course, was killed instantly. He was a shapeless mass on the sidewalk when the first bystander plucked up courage enough to approach his body.

Contractor Alfred Parsons, who goes up to the loftiest heights himself, assigned Mortimore, who was a foreman of riggers, to put a scaffold about the windows of the thirty-fourth floor. Then Parsons joined Charles Richards, another rigger, who was at work on the thirty-first floor. Just after the contractor got there the people in the square saw a tiny figure drop over the edge of the scaffold, shoot downward and strike the stone balustrade of the thirty-first floor.

Here it seemed to poise for a fraction of a second, then it fell over and, with a sheer drop, came the rest of the way to Twenty-fourth street.

Only Richards, of all those at work on the building, saw the body strike his floor, then plunge downward again. He walked quietly over to the contractor and said:

"Mr. Parsons, Tom has gone down."

Parsons, not understanding, said absently: "Yes; all right." Then noticing Richards' blanched face, he exclaimed: "Good God! Not to the street?"

"Yes, to the street," said Richards, and the men, holding each other, peered over the edge of the balustrade to the point where a crowd was gathering.

There was nothing to do but send the body to the morgue and notify his relatives. No one knew his exact address, but they believed he lived in Sixty-ninth street, near Third avenue. He had a wife and several children. Before he got into structural work he had been, like many others of his craft, a seaman, on a sailing vessel, and had climbed to high places in many parts of the world.

THE FEDERAL BALL

Arrangements have been completed for the annual ball of the employes of the Federal Shoe Co. in Associate hall tonight and indications point to a successful party. Mr. Daniel W. Shanahan and Mr. Frank Roche, two valuable employes of the establishment, are general manager and floor marshal, respectively, of the function.

The lucky holder of a coupon for a diamond ring that was to be given free at the Cook method sale of last week has not yet been found. The holders are coming in droves to show their coupons and they are as numerous as tobacco tags. 710 is the favored number that will take the diamond ring.

GENTLEMAN'S WATCH found. Owner can have by proving property and paying for this adv., at 8 Dane st., N. Baron.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

NO NEW COOPER TRIAL

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 27.—Judge Hart today over-ruled the motion for a new trial in the Cooper murder case and an appeal was taken to the Tennessee supreme court.

SENATOR SCOTT

Addressed Senate on Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, April 27.—"Mr. President, I do not wish the senate called to order," said Senator Scott upon beginning his speech on the tariff today when Vice President Sherman undertook to maintain quiet in the chamber. "I did not expect this argument to change a vote," added Mr. Scott, "and consequently I am entirely indifferent whether senators retire to the lobbies or indulge in conversation because I do not care whether they listen to my remarks or not."

"The chair does care," replied Mr. Sherman.

Mr. Scott's remarks were listened to by many senators who gave him strict attention.

UNITED AMERICAN MECHANICS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—Plans for entertaining the national council of the order of United American Mechanics at a three days' session here beginning Aug. 24, were discussed today at the 170th annual convention of the Rhode Island branch of the order.

National Councillor John M. Hornbacker of Scranton, Pa., ex-national councillor, Charles F. Speare, of Boston, and ex-national councillor, A. M. F. Bicknell of Woonsocket attended today's session.

The reports showed a slight numerical and financial increase of the state branch. The election of officers came in the afternoon.

IT IS BOUND TO STRIKE YOU

sooner or later that your teeth need the attention of a dentist to keep them in order, to keep them from decaying and to keep them so they will last while life lasts if you care for them in time. If you have neglected them we can replace them by fine bridge work, made and inserted in a scientific manner. Our crown and bridge work is the perfection of the dental art. Examination and information free. OBTUNDINE SYSTEM OF PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

DR. A. J. GAGNON,
466 Merrimack St.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

NIGHT EDITION

SULTAN A PRISONER

In Hands of Young Turks Taken to Asia Minor

Deposed in Favor of His Brother--A Salute of 101 Guns Announced to People of Constantinople Change in Sultanate—Fresh Outbreak of Fanaticism at Adana

The young Turks have scored a complete coup in deposing the sultan and sending him a prisoner to Asia Minor.

Abdul Hamid III, sultan of Turkey, was today deposed from the throne of the Ottoman empire by his subjects for his interference with the progress of popular government under constitution granted by him last July, and the brother, Mehemmed Reschad Effendi now occupies the throne.

This change was decided upon by the national assembly without a dissenting voice and it was carried out with the utmost rapidity. The sultan is now a prisoner in the hands of the Young Turks and carefully guarded by his captors.

The formal decree removing Abdul Hamid from all power over the Turkish empire was issued by the sheik-ul-islam, the head of the church, in the regular form prescribed by the tenets of the Mohammedan faith.

The city of Constantinople is alive with excitement and throngs of the populace fill the streets. A number of arrests have been made but the change of sovereigns has been effected without disorder of any kind.

A salute of 101 guns announcing the end of the reign of Abdul Hamid and the beginning of that of Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, was fired at half past two o'clock this afternoon.

SULTAN IS A PRISONER

LONDON, April 27.—A despatch received here by the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Constantinople, says that troops under the command of Young Turk officers entered the sultan's palace last night and took his majesty prisoner. Later, closely guarded, he was removed to the Cheraghan palace of the Bosphorous.

SULTAN TAKEN TO ASIA MINOR

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—It is reported here that the sultan has been removed from the imperial palace and conveyed across the Bosphorous to a point in Asiatic Turkey.

SALUTE TO THE PEOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—A salute of 101 guns fired at half past two o'clock this afternoon announced to the waiting populace of Constantinople the change in the sultanate.

FRESH OUTBURST OF FANATICISM

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—There was a fresh outburst of fanaticism and murder last night at Adana accompanied by looting and incendiarism. The situation is critical.

50 TURKISH OFFICERS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—Fifty Turkish officers have been arrested at Erzeroum by their troops and dispatched under escort to Trebizond.

The exact significance of this action is not yet clear but it is feared that it means the beginning of the revolt of the provincial troops against the young Turk officers.

The written declaration of the sheik-ul-islam authorizing the dethronement of Abdul Hamid reached parliament house at ten minutes past ten o'clock. Five minutes later parliament pronounced the deposition of Abdul Hamid and at 10.50, forty minutes after the receipt of the decision of the head of the church the national assembly invited Mehemmed Reschad Effendi to succeed to the throne.

THE NEW SULTAN DESCRIBED BY FRIEND

LONDON, April 27.—A person who is well acquainted with Mehemmed Reschau Effendi, the new sultan of Turkey, gives the following sketch of the brother of Abdul Hamid.

"He is tall and well proportioned but inclined to stoop. His features are regular but he has a hooked nose like that of Abdul. His eyes are blue and his hair and beard are light red. His manners are gracious and easy and he is exceedingly generous and kind. He is not at all fanatical but he is sincerely religious. He plays well on the piano and he is a great admirer of classical music.

"Like the deposed sultan, the new ruler of Turkey is a good draftsman and he sketches well. He has two wives and several children, three of whom are boys. His wives are both highly educated and are the daughters of distinguished pashas. They dress at home in the French fashion."

Continued to last page.

COAST DEFENSE EXERCISES

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Dates for the joint army and militia coast defense exercises to be held this summer have been selected by the militia division of the war department. The New England dates are:

Maine, Aug. 2 to 11; New Hampshire, June 12 to 17; Massachusetts, Aug. 14 to 21; Rhode Island, June 20 to 27; Connecticut, July 15 to 24.

ORDER OF GOLDEN CROSS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27.—Routine business matters were the only subjects of interest under discussion at the 24th annual session of the grand commandery of Rhode Island, United Order of the Golden Cross, held here today. Subordinate commanderies of this jurisdiction were present.

Officers were elected later in the afternoon.

MINE OWNERS

SCRANTON, Pa., April 27.—An agreement between the anthracite mine owners and the mine workers will be signed at a meeting to be held in the Reading Terminal building in Philadelphia on Thursday afternoon unless present plans fail. The tri-district convention of the union mine workers met in the court house here this afternoon to act on the proposition already agreed on by the representatives of the men. The agreement expected to be signed in Philadelphia provides for the removal of another period for another three years of the old agreement with a few concessions to the miners.

Scott's Emulsion
is a wonderful help to the expectant as well as the nursing mother.
All Druggists

HAS NO SCHOOL

But He Received Sum of $380

ORANGE, N. J., April 27.—Having tried hard for the last eight months to provide a job for Edwin S. Brady, one of its principals, that would be somewhere near commensurate with the salary it was forced to pay him, the board of education has at last given it up and the principal in question will receive $380 of the taxpayers' money without giving any services in return for it. He was principal of the night school, but the night school all winter was a feeble institution at best and on account of lack of attendance the board has directed that it be closed.

Brady was principal of the Cleveland street school last year, but for reasons that the board deemed sufficient it decided not to reappoint him, naming Stanley C. Dukeshire in his place. Brady had a host of friends among parents and he made such a fight that the board reconsidered its action and appointed him principal at a salary of $1900, though not naming the school he was to take charge of. The contract had been made with Dukeshire by that time and he was placed in charge of the Cleveland street school. In order to give Brady a berth the night school plan was hit upon, but the population of Orange is not the kind that takes readily to the night school.

Brady's $380 represents two months salary from now till the end of the school year, or June 30.

It was suggested that in order to make himself useful Brady might take a school census, but he refused on the ground that he was named as a principal and as a principal only would he serve the city.

STOLE A SAFE

Robbers Found They Could Not Open It

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., April 27.—Early yesterday morning an automobile party came here and told the authorities that while they were stopped for repairs out near O. H. P. Belmont's place a wagon was driven hastily out of a patch of woods near there and out across the Hempstead plains at a fast rate. They reported it, they said, because the action was so suspicious.

Yesterday morning the explanation was obtained. Some time Sunday night burglars after obtaining a crowbar and some other tools from a blacksmith's shop broke into the Meadowbrook hotel, kept by Paul Lonzer. They loaded into a wagon a safe which must have taken four men to handle, the cash register, a slit machine and some whiskey and cigars.

When the robbery was reported deputy sheriffs went in the direction the wagon had gone and in a clump of woods they found the cash register and the slot machine broken open and empty.

The safe was there also. It hadn't been robbed, but the men had battered it so that it will take an expert to open it. Mr. Lonzer says there is about three hundred dollars in it.

The robbers evidently became frightened when they heard the automobile. On the line of flight across the plains the deputy sheriffs found some of the whiskey bottles that had been jolted out of the wagon and broken.

STOCK MARKET

Today's Quotations on Active Stocks

The following are the closing quotations of today's stock market for active stocks:

Sederquist, Barry & Co., Hildreth Bldg.

NEW YORK STOCKS

| | |
|---|---|
| Atkinson | 103½ |
| Am. Cotton Oil | 55⅝ |
| Am. Car Foundry | 50 |
| Amalgamated | 75⅝ |
| Am. Sugar | 132⅝ |
| Am. Ice | 39¾ |
| Am. Smelt. & Ref. Co. | 88¾ |
| Anaconda | 44¾ |
| Brooklyn Rapid Transit | 76¾ |
| Can. Pac | 175¾ |
| Chesapeake & Ohio | 61⅞ |
| Colorado Fuel | 37⅝ |
| Consolidated Gas | 136¾ |
| Distillers' Securities | 31⅝ |
| Erie 1st | 46½ |
| Gt. Northern pfd. | 118½ |
| Gt. Western | 5 |
| Illinois Central | 144⅝ |
| Int. Steam Pump. | 35⅜ |
| Interboro Railway pfd. | 44⅝ |
| Missouri Pac | 73⅝ |
| Missouri, Kansas & T. | 43¼ |
| No. Pac | 142⅜ |
| National Lead | 87¾ |
| New York Central | 129½ |
| Norfolk | 91 |
| Ont. & Western | 48¾ |
| Penn. | 135¾ |
| Pac. Mail | 29⅝ |
| Pressed Steel Car | 37½ |
| People's Gas | 115⅝ |
| Rock Island | 29 |
| Rock Island pfd. | 70 |
| Reading | 143⅞ |
| So. Pac | 119⅛ |
| So. Railway | 28⅜ |
| Tenn. Copper | 40¾ |
| U. S. Steel | 53¾ |
| U. S. Steel pfd. | 115 |
| Union Pac | 186½ |
| Wabash | 18½ |
| Wabash pfd | 45½ |

BOSTON STOCKS

| | |
|---|---|
| Am. Pneumatic | 5 |
| Am. T. & T. | 140½ |
| Boston Con. | 11½ |
| Butte | 27⅞ |
| Cent. | 50 |
| Greene, Can. | 10 |
| La Salle | 15⅛ |
| Isle Royale | 32½ |
| Mass. Electric | 14¾ |
| Mass. Electric pfd. | 77¼ |
| Mass. Gas | 84 |
| Mass. Gas pfd | 93⅝ |
| North Butte | 56¾ |
| Osceola | 124 |
| Old Dominion | 30½ |
| Parrott | 31 |
| Quincy | 88 |
| Shannon | 15½ |
| Trinity | 13½ |
| United Fruit ex-rights | 105 |
| U. S. Smelter | 44 |
| U. S. Smelter pfd | 48½ |
| Utah | 39¼ |
| Woolen pfd | 109¼ |

*Ex-dividend.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

THE HAINS TRIAL

The Work of Securing the Jury Was Resumed Today

FLUSHING, N. Y., April 27.—When court convened today with ten jurors in the box for the trial of Captain Peter Hains, jr., charged with the killing of William E. Annis, it was expected that the two jurors remaining to be chosen would be secured during the day. It was announced that should the jury box be filled a reasonable time before the usual hour for adjournment the state would immediately present its case. District Attorney Dwight declared that his opening address would be brief.

Peter Hains, third son of the captain who has not seen his father since the captain's arrest seven months ago, is now on his way to New York where he will join his grandmother, Mrs. Peter Hains, sr., and come with her to Flushing.

The jury was completed at the afternoon session of the court here today. The twelfth and last juror was Jacob Kneike, 25 years of age, a garment cutter of Germania Heights.

ONLY THREE HITS

And Lowell Team Loses Another Game

FALL RIVER, April 27.—Despite the raw weather, Fall River and Lowell played a snappy game yesterday, the locals winning 4 to 2. Neither pitcher was hit hard, Fall River getting the lead in the seventh on a single, a sacrifice and battery errors. Fullerton's fielding was a feature. The score.

FALL RIVER

| | ab | r | bh | po | a | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Messenger, lf | 4 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| Weaver, ss | 3 | 0 | 0 | 3 | 5 | 0 |
| Austin, rf | 3 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 0 | 1 |
| Solbraa, 1b | 4 | 0 | 0 | 13 | 3 | 0 |
| Devine, cf | 3 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 |
| Nichols, 2b | 3 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| McDermott, 3b | 1 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 0 |
| Toomey, c | 3 | 0 | 0 | 4 | 1 | 0 |
| Fullerton, p | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 8 | 0 |
| Totals | 27 | 4 | 1 | 27 | 22 | 1 |

LOWELL

| | ab | r | bh | po | a | e |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Ball, lf | 2 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Beauchamp, 2b | 4 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 4 | 0 |
| Howard, cf | 3 | 0 | 0 | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Uniac, ss | 4 | 0 | 0 | 4 | 0 | 0 |
| Pickett, rf | 2 | 1 | 0 | 3 | 0 | 0 |
| Cox, 1b | 2 | 1 | 1 | 8 | 0 | 0 |
| Bonner, 3b | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Boyle, c | 3 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 |
| Musil, p | 3 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 4 | 1 |
| Totals | 25 | 2 | 3 | 21 | 10 | 1 |

Fall River 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 1 *—4
Lowell 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2

Three base hit—Cox. Sacrifice hits—McDermott, Weaver. Stolen bases—McDermott, Devine. Nichols. Left on bases—Fall River 3, Lowell 2. First base on errors—Fall River 1. Hit by pitcher—McDermott, Ball. Struck out—By Fullerton 2, by Musil 2. Passed balls—Boyle 2. Time—1.24. Umpire—Buckley.

DIAMOND NOTES.

At Fall River today.

Don't forget the big show tomorrow. Buck's Best band will blow music.

Smith, Lowell's new catcher, will probably go behind the bat in tomorrow's opening game.

The salt sea air was a little strong for the Tigers for a starter. But they'll strike their gait soon.

First Baseman Cox is starting out like a race horse, but with the stick and on the initial bag.

N. E. LEAGUE STANDING

| | Won | Lost | P. C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fall River | 2 | 0 | 100.0 |
| Haverhill | 2 | 0 | 100.0 |
| New Bedford | 1 | 0 | 100.0 |
| Brockton | 1 | 1 | 50.0 |
| Lynn | 0 | 1 | 00.0 |
| Lowell | 0 | 1 | 00.0 |
| Worcester | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |
| Lawrence | 0 | 2 | 00.0 |

N. E. LEAGUE RESULTS

At Fall River—Fall River 4, Lowell 2.

At Lawrence—Brockton 1, Lawrence 0.

At Haverhill—Haverhill 7, Worcester 2.

At New Bedford—New Bedford-Lynn postponed; cold weather.

AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING

| | Won | Lost | P. C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Detroit | 8 | 3 | 72.7 |
| New York | 6 | 3 | 66.7 |
| Boston | 5 | 4 | 55.6 |
| Philadelphia | 5 | 4 | 55.6 |
| St. Louis | 4 | 8 | 40.0 |
| Cleveland | 4 | 7 | 36.4 |
| Washington | 2 | 7 | 22.2 |

AMERICAN LEAGUE RESULTS

At Boston—Boston 1, New York 0.
At Cleveland—Detroit 4, Cleveland 2.
At Chicago—Chicago 1, St. Louis 0.
At Washington—Philadelphia 3, Washington 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

| | Won | Lost | P. C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Boston | 5 | 3 | 62.5 |
| Chicago | 6 | 4 | 60.0 |
| Cincinnati | 7 | 5 | 58.3 |
| Philadelphia | 4 | 3 | 57.1 |
| Pittsburg | 5 | 5 | 50.0 |
| New York | 3 | 4 | 42.9 |
| Brooklyn | 3 | 5 | 37.5 |
| St. Louis | 1 | 8 | 33.3 |

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

At New York—Boston 3, New York 2.

At St. Louis—Pittsburg 1, St. Louis 0. (12 innings.)

At Cincinnati—Chicago 6, Cincinnati 3.

At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 6, Brooklyn 1.

GAMES TODAY

New England League

Lowell at Fall River.
Worcester at Lawrence.
Brockton at Haverhill.
Lynn at New Bedford.

American League

New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Washington.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Detroit at Cleveland.

National League

Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Pittsburg at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cincinnati.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

The Young Champions defeated the Y. M. C. A. juniors of the tremendous score of 22 to 2. The features of the game were the pitching of Segal and the batting of Bernstein for the winners and the clever fielding of Mack for the losers.

The Young Champions want games with strong 14 or 15 year old teams, the Orioles or Mammoths preferred. Manager S. E. Rostler, 842 Middlesex street.

The Young Harvards would like to challenge any team under 13 years of age. The lineup is as follows:

H. Soklesky, c; M. Fineberg, p; A. Swartz, 1b; E. Snider, 2b; M. Gerson, ss; I. Harris, 3b; L. Weiss, lf; S. Silverblat, cf; J. Cohn, rf.

Send all challenges to E. K. Snider, 29 Daly street, manager.

The Union Blues would like to challenge the Daly Stars or the altar boys. Send all challenges through this paper.

The Hobson Stars would like to challenge any team in the city under 13 years of age. The lineup is as follows:

Little Chief, Thunder Cloud Murphy, p; Pig Head Kenney, c; Bandit Campbell, 1st b; Austin Lalley, 2d b; Grave Yard Sweeney, ss; Miser Grove, 3d b; Pie Face Nenrige, rf; Punk Forges, center-field, Hickory, lf.

Address all challenges to Miser Kenney, South street, or through this paper.

The Fulton A. C. would like a game with any 16-year-old team in the city for Saturday, May 1, 1909.

The lineup is as follows: Conley, c; Murphy, p; L. Connors, 1b; Kilbride, 2b; Jesey Curley, ss; Frank Jordan, 3b; Gallagher, lf; Dempsey, cf; Delaney, rf. Send all challenges to John Murphy, the lanky Yankee pitcher, 9 Fulton street or through the Lowell Sun.

The Glenmore Jrs. defeated the Buffaloes of the South common Saturday afternoon on the former's grounds in a hard fought 12 inning game by the score of 9 to 7. We would like to meet any team under 13 years of age for a quarter ball. The Centrals or Indians preferred. Our Mascot is Peter Regan, Jr. Send all challenges to Capt. Edward Donahoe, 62 Chambers street, city.

The Mammoths defeated the Mt. Grove Jrs. Saturday by a score of 11 to 5. The Mammoths would like to play any team in the city under 15 years of age.

The Tyngsboro team defeated the Lowell S in its first game of the season, by a score of 10 to 6. The Tyngsboros would like a game with any strong team in the city, for Saturday, May 1. Address William P. Proctor, North Chelmsford.

The Orients and the Carson A. C. will play on the South common Saturday afternoon for a purse of $10.

The Mammoths defeated the Mt. Grove Juniors by a score of 11 to 5. The Mammoths would like to play any team in the city under 15 years of age. Send all challenges to Frederick Schonborn, 101 Crawford street, Lowell.

The P. R. Warren baseball team would like to arrange a game for Saturday, May 1, with any of the strong amateur teams in Lowell or vicinity. Address Manager Baseball Team, Warrenville.

The Palmer second team would like games with any 15 year old team in the city. Send all challenges to H. Forgays, 184 South street.

The Buffaloes defeated the Heroes by the score of 14 to 12 the 17th of April, and defeated the Beavers by the score of 14 to 4 the 19th of April, and lost to the Young Butlers Saturday in a twelve inning game by the score of 8 to 7.

The Buffaloes would like to challenge any team in the city at the age of 15. Send all challenges to John Miskell, 15 Pollard street, or through this paper.

The Sagamores would like to arrange a game for next Saturday with any of the strong amateur teams of the city. Dixwell, Lowell S, or Lecors preferred. Challenge through this paper.

HAD HEMORRHAGE

YOUNG MAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AT HOSPITAL

A man about 25 years of age and suffering from a hemorrhage of the lungs was this morning removed in the ambulance from the Bridadur Chambers, corner of Worcester and Worthen streets, to St. John's hospital. He is in a precarious condition and at the time of writing was unconscious.

Very little could be learned as to the identity of the young man, other than that he gave the name of Conway before becoming unconscious.

He was a stranger at the Bridadur Chambers and how it happened to be in the hallway is not known by the matron of the building. One of the occupants of the building found the man lying in the hallway, blood flowing from his mouth. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital.

Broke His Leg

Ephraim Rondeau, a pupil of the Green grammar school in Merrimack street, while playing in the school yard this morning, fell and broke his leg. The ambulance was summoned and the boy was taken to the Lowell hospital. He resides at 2 Racine place, off Hall street.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

THE FIRST GAME

Edsons vs. Bartletts Saturday Morning

The grammar school league opens Saturday and the Edsons will cross bats with the Bartlett school team on the South common at 9.30. The Edson school boys have selected Frank Roane for captain of the team and he claims it will put up a strong battle. Mr. John Condon, janitor of the school is the coach. He is an old time ball player himself and understands the game from A to Z. It was through his great work that the team captured the pennant for the last two years. Captain Roane played on the team last year and made a record for himself. He will pitch the opening game.

The lineup for Saturday is as follows:

T. Breen, c; Frank Roane, p; John Roane, 1st; L. Panton, ss; James O'Day 2d; Frank Waymon, 3b; George Kerwin, lf; John Miskell, cf; W. Donohue, rf.

TEXTILE SCHOOL NOTES

Manager Michelson of the 1909 football eleven has arranged a schedule with some of the strongest preparatory schools in New England, the first game of the season to be played with Andover on the 29th of September. The following is the schedule:

Sept. 29, Andover at Andover.
Oct. 2, Exeter at Exeter.
Oct. 9, St. Johns at Lowell.
Oct. 13, St. Marks at Lowell.
Oct. 16, Tufts 2nd at Medford.
Oct. 20, Groton at Groton.
Oct. 23, M. I. T. '12 at Lowell.

Tomorrow the baseball team will cross bats with the strong Cushing Academy at Ashburnham. Last season the Textile team lost to the academy boys by a score of 3 to 2.

The engineering department is about to install a 30 K. W. turbine and generator which will be ready for use in about two weeks, and also an alternating current switch board which will be used for both experimental purposes and service.

The exhibit of textile machinery at the Mechanics building in Boston opened yesterday and quite a few of the students attended it. This exhibit is under the auspices of the National Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and is a yearly event.

A number of the seniors taking the design and wooten courses are weaving cloth with which to make a graduation suit. Several students in last year's senior class tried this idea and some very attractive suitings were woven. Three of them bought a quantity of high grade wool and put in through the various dyeing, carding, spinning, weaving and finishing processes and used it as their thesis for graduation.

10,000 STARVING

Armenians Besieged by 50,000 Moslems

ALEXANDRETTA, Asiatic Turkey, April 27.—Refugees who have made their escape from Deurtyul, which is a small town not far from Alexandretta, bring most alarming accounts of the situation there. They affirm that 10,000 Armenians are beleaguered by 50,000 Moslems. The besieged are half starving, and the conditions within the walls of the city are pitiful. It is certain that there are no Americans in that place.

TOWN IN FLAMES

BEIRUT, April 27.—The town of Hadjin, about 100 miles to the north of Alexandretta, where the residents had withstood the assaults of the fanatics for the past week, was in flames Sunday. According to reports received here several of the quarters escaped, and up to midnight Sunday all the Americans were safe. At this place there are five American women missionaries.

Latakia, in Syria, has been relieved, thanks to the unceasing efforts of the American consul-general at Beirut, Gabriel B. Reyndal, who secured the co-operation of the French cruiser Jules Ferry, which arrived at Latakia yesterday morning. Thousands of refugees have been pouring into Latakia, and the presence of the French warship there will have much influence in controlling the situation. The refugees are mostly women and children, many of the male members of the families having been killed. The consul-general has also succeeded in inducing the local authorities to take measures for the relief of the people, and they are responding sympathetically and energetically.

HAD SALT RHEUM FOR FOUR YEARS

Began Like a Ringworm on Hand—Though Treated, Washing Irritated It and It Spread Over Arm and Face—Kept Growing Worse.

CURED TWO YEARS AGO BY CUTICURA

"A little over six years ago I had a sore come on my hand. I consulted a doctor. He told me it was a ringworm. It kept on getting worse so I went to another doctor. He called it salt rheum. I kept on taking his treatment for some time but every washday my hand would break out and be worse. It continued to spread till it got over my whole hand and up my arm, also on my face. I suffered with the disease about four years when a friend of mine told me to try Cuticura. I got two cakes of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. When I had used them up, I was cured and I haven't seen the least sign of the humor since. Mrs. Linda Winslow, Wyalusing, Penn., July 13, 1908."

FACE BADLY BRUISED

And Cut by Fall. Now Healed without a Scar by Use of Cuticura.

"On January 31 I fell from a wagon, landing on my face and head against the curb and gutter. I was about the worst looking person that ever had a face. After about two hours' careful washing I got the blood stopped and the dirt off and my face pretty well covered with Cuticura Ointment. You may know that I was pretty well skinned up by the fact that both lips were cut inside and out and the skin on my nose and both cheek bones cut. Part of my face was healed over in a week and the scales came off and while the cheek is still sore there are no marks to prove that I was ever scratched. I would also say that I use the Cuticura Soap for shaving and my face is always soft. W. H. Dean, Newark, Del., February 24, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

WILLIAM AUSTIN

THE INVENTOR OF THE FIRST AUTOMOBILE EVER MADE

A correspondent of The Sun sends in the following account of the life of a Lowell inventor who died recently at Winthrop:

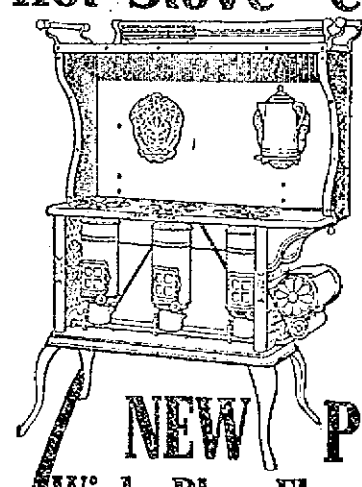

The inventive genius of Mr. William W. Austin, who recently died at his home in Winthrop, began to develop when he was about ten years of age. His mother had died and his father was left with five children. William was placed in the care of the writer's father, in what was then North Wrentham (now Norfolk), and that was where he was "farmed out." Winter evenings the fire was kept in the old kitchen fireplace for him to make the molds and melt up all the old pieces of pewter he could find, to make flat irons, cents and spoons. His kit of tools consisted of a jack knife and a little iron dipper. Before he was twelve years old he made a pair of wooden oxen and yoked them together. In his farm life he had every advantage a country boy could have and was never kept from school when it was in session. His father wished him to stay on the farm until he was 17 and then he was apprenticed to learn the trade of a blacksmith. He was married when he was 24. In 1860 he invented the steam carriage and rode to Wrentham on his first trip, frightening many horses. What he has done will be acted upon by other minds. It is not usually the real inventor that reaps the harvest. His married life was very happy and the death of his wife, 11 years ago was a great sorrow to him. They lie in the cemetery at Wrentham in the brick graves that were made by his own hands. The fact that his machine, the first auto carriage ever invented, has been in this city for years and that Austin for a time resided here gives a local interest to the story of his life.

M. N. L.

POLICE OFFICER KILLED

WORCESTER, April 27.—Silas D. Hemenway, a police officer, was fatally injured last night in a runaway accident. He was 49 years old and leaves a widow.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

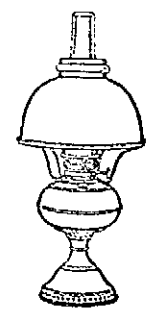

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room.

NEW PERFECTION
Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

besides being the perfect stove for summer use is just as efficient for year 'round use. Does anything any other stove will do. It is built just like the modern steel coal range, with a CABINET TOP that makes it possible to keep food warm after it is cooked. Made in three sizes. Sold either with or without Cabinet Top. If not at your dealer's write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp a substantial, strongly made and handsome lamp. Burns for hours with a strong, mellow light. Just what you need for evening reading or to light the dining-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

TAYLOR FELL FIRST

Washington Gray of Concord Saw Him Fall

A New Hampshire Survivor of Old Sixth Makes Affidavit That Taylor Was First to Fall in Baltimore — He was a Member of Company C, Mechanic's Phalanx of Lowell

According to Washington Gray of Concord, N. H., the tablet in the Ladd and Whitney monument is properly inscribed, and Charles A. Taylor was the first to fall in Baltimore.

Following is Mr. Gray's affidavit:

Narrative of the killing of Charles A. Taylor, Sixth Massachusetts Volunteers, in the streets of Baltimore, April 19, 1861:

Washington D. Gray, born July 18th, 1840, enlisted in Company C, Mechanic's Phalanx, of Lowell, April 16, 1861. Left Boston with the regiment April 17th, about seven p. m. When we arrived at Baltimore, three horses were hitched to cars and drew off two ahead. Brought the Phalanx in lead. Captain Follansbee, Major Watson was there. The man in charge of the horses was not inclined to hitch. Major Watson compelled him to. After the man hitched, he wouldn't start the horses, but kept touching them with his whip and they would only jump right up and down, but wouldn't draw enough to pull your hat off. A man came around the corner of the depot and told Captain Follansbee to unload, saying, "Get out as soon as God will let you. Follow me," leading us into a trap. The trap was a bridge over a canal or something, with all the planks loosened, and the beams, too. But they were too anxious, and tipped up some of the planks, which warned us. From the rear came the order, "about face." We had to step lively to get out of the trap. That brought Captain Follansbee to the rear. Then we came down and made one turn. Somebody of our regiment came and spoke to Captain Follansbee, giving some sign. He ordered Captain Follansbee to follow. Before turning on to Pratt street Charles A. Taylor was shot down. We turned on Pratt street, I think to the right. Taylor was in the rear ranks of Company D.

The "about face" brought us in the rear of Company D. Taylor was near to me in rank in front of me. Captain Hart's company was in front of Phalanx. Rear rank of Company C when faced about brought me directly in rear of Company D. We got badly mixed up on Pratt street, but before we rejoined the regiment, we got back in proper formation. I saw Taylor drop, and my opinion is the shot came from a window. It was the first shot I heard. There had been no firing before this. Before that it was bricks and other missiles. After we turned on Pratt street another was shot. I think that the commissary's name was Lieutenant Parker, but I am not sure. Perhaps I have forgotten his name. I was detailed as his assistant after we had gone into camp at the Relay House. I made trips to Baltimore by railroad every morning, and back at night, to buy bread for the regiment. The man who furnished the bread was a northern man. I do not remember his name. We became very friendly and he gave me a good deal of attention and showed me all over Baltimore. One day we were driving through Pratt street and when we turned the corner he showed me where the first man that was shot was picked up and carried into a house, which he pointed out. A father and son picked him up, (he told me their names, but I have forgotten) and carried him into their own house, and had considerable opposition in so doing, from the mob, who continued to beat him with bricks, etc., and to kick him. Taylor had an overcoat, blanket, belt, gun and cartridge box. I heard Taylor in Boylston hall, apply to Captain Follansbee to join his company, and he told him that his company was full, and took him to Captain Hart, who was short of men, and Captain Hart said to him: "I have no uniform for you, but I will get one if we don't have to move from here before morning. But I will get you a blanket and overcoat, gun, belt and cartridge box." And he did.

I saw Taylor quite a number of times on the trip, and he appeared like a nice young man. I saw him at the Girard House in Philadelphia, when we laid on the floor to get some rest, refuse several times to take liquor, and there is no question in regard to his identity. When he fell he was not more than fifteen feet from me.

(Signed) Washington Gray.

Witnesses:

(Signed) Harrie E. White,
Samuel C. Marden.

Concord, N. H., April 20, '09.

Personally appeared before me this date the foregoing affiant and witnesses and subscribed to and made oath to their statement.

(Seal)

(Signed) Frank Battles,
Notary Public.

GIRL RETURNS HOME

Her Trip to Boston Laid to a Childish Whim

NEW YORK, April 27.—Adele Boas, the whimsical 15-year-old daughter of Arthur E. Boas, a wealthy thread manufacturer, is with her parents and relatives in the West 80th street residence; the mystery of her disappearance on Friday last has been dispelled. The case resolves itself into nothing more than a naive childish escapade with no other explanation than a sudden desire to see the world, Boston in particular, and a wish to be independent and to work for a living.

But with a cut finger and dishevelled clothes and apparently fatigued, Adele's parents are sure that she realizes that there are pleasanter experiences than going forth alone to a strange city in response to call for adventures. Yet aside from the natural reaction that has set in she is little the worse for her wandering. Dr. August G. Seibert, the Boas family physician, spent half an hour with the girl last evening and announced afterward that she was in perfect health. He said her trip was merely the result of a childish whim.

"She is growing," he said, "and she was seized with one of those inexplainable notions children have, and followed the fancy. She had been thinking of going to Boston for some time. For two weeks she had been saving her money for the trip."

With the first shock of the meeting with her parents over, the child told more of her movements in Boston. The position she had in a restaurant there was to have brought her $2.50 a week with board and lodging.

Identified on the Train

Saturday night and Sunday she spent in the room which she had rented. Her money by this time was practically exhausted—all but enough to get back to New York—and yesterday morning she decided to return. She went to the South station and was approached by an elderly man.

"The police are looking all over for you, Adele Boas," he said.

"My name is not Boas," she replied defiantly and boarded the train for New York, only to be identified at Stamford, Conn., after she had tried in vain to dodge the persistent questioners, even resorting to the ruse of speaking broken English.

The first clew to the missing girl came yesterday morning when Mrs. E. M. Upton telephoned from Charlestown, Mass., and said she had seen a girl answering the description of Miss Boas while on a train between Boston and New York. Mrs. Upton did not make it plain to the police whether the train was en route to Boston or coming to New York.

Police Put on the Alert

But with this to work on, the Boston police were notified and later Mr. Boas received a telephone message from Adolph Helther, a Boston bookbinder, who told of having seen a girl answering the description of Adele, boarding a train for New York. This started so much police machinery in motion that it was impossible for the girl to pass unnoticed.

CARTER & SHERBURNE'S UNUSUAL OFFER

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Carter & Sherburne to a Sun man who dropped into their store, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and, although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and everyone has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"We are still selling the specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Ward and Vokes with their company of dancers and singers entertained a large audience at the opera house last night. The title of the musical comedy was "The Promoters," and the two stars had ample opportunity to hand out jokes in their own inimitable way. The stage settings were very fine, and the costuming of the company could not have been better. The chorus work was very satisfactory and the specialties introduced were above the average. The piece itself was not up to the usual Ward and Vokes selections, but nevertheless it gave satisfaction and the audience was perfectly satisfied. Lucy Daly did some very clever dancing and her sister, Josie, who was seen here for the first time, was most pleasing in her dances. Our old friend Lew Kelly was all to the good and was given a great reception. The ladies' band was heard in several selections and the entertainment was enjoyed, although it was the opinion that it did not reach the standard of former Ward and Vokes productions.

FAUST AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Paul Cazeneuve and his splendid company of French players come to the Opera House Friday night, April 30, presenting Faust. The play is well staged and costumed, the electrical effects being particularly good. Mr. Cazeneuve gives a splendid performance, and the supporting company is most satisfactory and efficient. Seats are now on sale.

MONTANA

"Montana" is the newest play from the pen of the young actor-author, Harry D. Carey, and this young playwright has never written a prettier story nor has a more capable cast ever presented one of Mr. Carey's plays than the one to be seen at the Opera House Saturday, May 1st. It is a well known fact that "Montana" was one of the greatest successes ever scored by a western play in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago, for press and public proclaimed it the masterpiece of them all. This is "Montana's" only appearance in Lowell this season.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

There's a good show at Hathaway's theatre this week. There's a little of everything and something to laugh at all the time. Don't forget that this is the final week of vaudeville this season at this theatre and just for that you cannot afford to miss the show this week. Out of so great a variety of things interesting and amusing you'll be sure to find something that will strike you just right. If you don't it's up to you to take something for that tired feeling.

Perhaps you would like Edwards Davis. He's got a little piece that he wrote himself and he named it "All Rivers Meet at the Sea." He is supported by a good company and the playlet is a very clever one. Of course you can't see the rivers meeting, harmonizing and frolicking at the sea, but that's none of your business. If you can't stretch your imagination a little bit it isn't Edwards Davis' fault. If there's any appreciation in your makeup you'll like it and you'll come away thinking that Edwards Davis was a darn bright fellow to think the thing all out by his lonesome. There's a woman in the case and she's been awfully abused by a "very devil" of a man and if you don't feel bad for her that's a sign that there's something the matter with your sad irons. Mr. Davis has to work himself up to poetic fury at times and if you don't forgive him for that you're a mean old thing.

And now, "lest we forget, lest we forget," let us say a word about Prof. Wormwood and his trained animals. This animal act of his is one of the biggest things of its kind in vaudeville. You see the professor has spent some seventy odd years training those awful wild things. He was in Africa one time and the animals got to know him so well that they called him by name. He was more popular in the jungle than Teddy Roosevelt will ever be, because Teddy can't talk the jungle language and Prof. Wormwood can, and, besides, Teddy is afflicted with jungle ego and there's big hairy things down there that won't stand for that. When Prof. Wormwood came back from the jungle he brought some of his most intimate friends along with him and should you go to the Hathaway's this week and should you note a family resemblance in the menagerie just keep it to yourself. Don't fail to see Prof. Wormwood's animals. He has several baboons and they do all sorts of things even to riding bicycles. There are little simians and big ones, a Great Dane dog and other things. Go and see 'em and take the children along.

The Robert-DeMont company, two men and a woman, give the liveliest acrobatic novelty of the season.

The Lorraine quartet have good melodies. The four men sing better than any quartet here this season. The singers are: 1st tenor, Jo. [illegible]; second tenor, Fred Hulcott; bass, J. W. Magers, and baritone, George Gilday. Elsa Harvey, who last season had an excellent dancing act, has found two new companions. The act suffers as a result. James and Lucia Cooper, "chattering chums," have an endless lot of tongue clatter and with laughs with it. Warren [illegible] "opens" the bill, has a classy [illegible] talk" and does some good work.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Three changes of program are made each week, thus giving the audiences something new almost daily. Each program consists of four reels of the latest films which are shown for the first time in Lowell. The management presents the latest creations of all the leading film manufacturers and thus gives a most pleasing variety, for the ideas of the manufacturers differ widely in many cases. In addition to the pictures there are illustrated songs and views of the world which also are frequently changed and variety is ever the spice of the Academy program. The shows run daily from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10.30, with a continuous performance on Saturday and the price of admission is always five cents, and admission includes a good seat. The reserved seats are five cents extra.

THEATRE VOYONS

One of the feature pictures at the Theatre Voyons today, "A Fighting Chance," affords the spectator a fine chance of witnessing the rugged scenery of the Rocky Mountains. "A Drive for Life" is a very successful auto picture with a thrilling and perfectly probable story. The actors all carry their parts well and everything is perfect. Comedy is always pleasing and "Lucy's Successful Bluff" provides just the right thing to send the audience away perfectly happy. The songs are good, notably "My Pony Boy," a big hit in "Miss Innocence" and "In the Days of Long Ago," a beautiful ballad.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the devisees, legatees, and all other persons interested in the estate of [illegible] E. Staples, late of Lowell, in said County, deceased, testate:

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration with the will annexed on the estate of said deceased not already administered, to Blanche S. Robinson of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on her official bond, or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-eighth day of April, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all devisees and legatees named in said will, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this [illegible] day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

J. J. Pickman, Attorney.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. The committee on railroads will give a hearing to parties interested in H. B. 1265, message from the governor suggesting creating a holding corporation for certain stock of the Boston & Maine railroad, at room No. 240, State House, on Tuesday, April 27, at 10.30 o'clock a. m. Harry P. Morse, Chairman. Roger Wolcott, Clerk of the Committee.

STAR THEATRE

Two acts being presented by Miss Lillian Leslie, eccentric character woman who is as funny as the day is long and Jim Carroll, one of the best blackface comedians on the stage, are on the bill at the Star theatre for today and tomorrow. Besides these features there are pictures of Henri Renaud, the Nashua mill hand, winner of the big Marathon race, and the race, talking pictures, motion pictures and illustrated songs. The new talking picture is the "Mad Miner." Hear the singing orchestra render "Gee, I wish I had a girl."

Amateurs will be part of the big show tonight.

LOST AND FOUND

SUM OF MONEY lost Saturday noon, between Sunlight Shoe store, Central st. and Keene st. Reward at 82 Prescott st. G. L. B.

ELKS SLEEVE BUTTON and Elks tooth lost between 12 and 1, between Chalifoux bldg. and Putnam's Dining Room, Sunday. Reward at Central Club. C. H. Frost.

PURSE FOUND with small sum of money, in Colonial bldg., last Wednesday. Call at 142 Concord st.

LADY'S SOLID GOLD WATCH with a 1908 expert medal for marksmanship, attached as a fob, lost. Return to Mr. Cid Dennison, Care American Hide and Leather Co. and receive reward.

PEARL ROSARY lost last Saturday afternoon, Merrimack sq. The finder will be rewarded by returning to The Sun Office.

SHELL POCKETBOOK found containing a sum of money and souvenir medal. Owner can have by proving property at 579 E. Merrimack st.

HAND BAG lost containing sum of money, rosary and dance ticket. Finder return to 85 Worthen st. Liberal reward.

FOX TERRIER lost Monday afternoon. Reward to finder at 222 Moody street.

SUM OF MONEY lost Sunday between Fifth Ave. and St. Patrick's church. Reward at 85 Salem St.

WANTED

SECOND HAND FURNITURE of any kind wanted. We pay the best price. 241 Middlesex st. Call or send postal.

NOTICE—Money wanted. Will give $25 for the use of $400 for six months, with interest at six per cent., with good security. Inquire at Sun Office.

BOARD WANTED in Catholic family, two girls, aged 4 and 6, good locality. Address M., Sun Office.

BOARDERS and ROOMERS wanted at the Columbia, 179 Middlesex st.

TWO SMALL CHILDREN wanted to care for by the week. Address Mrs. Williams, R. F. D., No. 2, Lowell, Mass.

SPECIAL NOTICES

THE LEIGHTON, Salisbury Beach, is open for the season, M. L. Molin, Prop.

KEEP AWAY—Comb tenders on strike in Wilton, N. H.

WE WILL PAPER YOUR ROOM with one of the latest spring patterns for $1.75. Outside and inside painting at low prices. Send postal, H. J. McCarthy, 641 Broadway.

LACE CURTAINS laundered, 40 cents a pair. Satisfaction guaranteed. Mrs. C. Palmgren, 27 Meadowcroft st., off Moore st.

ROGERS' INDIAN BLOOD REMEDY—The worst cases of blood diseases have yielded to this remedy. 18 Prescott st. Up one flight.

IF YOU HAVE the least idea of buying a piano, call at W. F. Trumbell's rooms tomorrow. He will save you $50. 101 Westford st.

QUINCY HOUSE, 53 Lee st., Lowell, Mass. To the general public: You may think as many do, that on account of the exceedingly low rates that the house is second class, but such is not the case, everything is good and very homelike, and we give you our word that the board and rooms here are in fact better than most of the high priced hotels. Nothing to equal it can be found in Lowell for the price charged. Our untiring efforts to see to the comfort of our guests are greatly appreciated. Kindly soliciting your patronage, we remain, very truly, Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor.

WE ARE SELLING out the Boston Furniture Co. stock at half price. Bornstein & Quinn, 181 Middlesex st.

MATERNITY NURSE, 656 Gorham st.

IF YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY on harness and carriage trimmings come to Roy's, cor. Market and Palmer sts. Work done by Joseph Hebert.

MERRITT'S BOOK STORE—The place to buy or sell books, magazines, etc., 277 Middlesex st.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU, all kinds of reliable help furnished. Give us a call. W. C. Brooks, 32 Hildreth building. Phone 2192.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS—Razors, scissors and knives sharpened in first class shape, at Harry Gonzales, 128 Gorham st. Tel. 952-2.

THE SUN IN BOSTON—The Sun is on sale every day at both news-stands of the Union station in Boston. Don't forget this when taking your train for Lowell.

MONEY TO LOAN

NOTES OF SALARIED PEOPLE and others bought without security, easy payments. Offices in 65 principal cities. Don't be deceived by misleading advertisements, investigate actual terms of others, then save money by trading here. D. H. Tolman, Room 48, 45 Merrimack st.

One Per Cent.

Loans Per Month with or without security:

salaried people, merchants, boarding house keepers and others. Will lend you any reasonable amount of money at 1 per cent. per month. No borrower should pay more. Loans made on furniture, pianos, etc. on short notice. COMMISSIONS PAID. All business strictly confidential.

Merrimack Loan Co

ROOM 3, 81 MERRIMACK ST.

Hours: 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Monday and Saturday until 9 p. m.

Lowell Dye House Co.

324 CENTRAL STREET

Nearly Opposite Lowell Opera House

Ladies and gentlemen's clothing dyed, cleansed and pressed in the most skillful manner.

Men's Suits cleansed and pressed, $1.50, giving them every appearance of new. Dry Cleansing a specialty.

Also Nashua Dye House, 15 and 17 Canal St., Nashua, N. H., and Mystic Dye House, 18 and 20 Montvale Ave., Woburn, Mass.

We do one of the largest dye house business in New England.

Perkins & Goodwin

'Phone 2470

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

HOUSE 11 ROOMS for sale. Bath, hot and cold water, gas, furnace, 10,000 ft. land, large barn and carriage house. Inquire 87 South Highland st.

8-ROOM HOUSE for sale in North Chelmsford, on Highland ave., attic, bath, gas, water, cement cellar, large shed, newly painted, good condition, 3 minutes' walk from car line. 5c fare from Lowell. Write Homeseeker, Sun Office.

6259 SQUARE FEET OF LAND on E street for sale at your own price, if sold at once. Inquire 792 Gorham st., upstairs.

SPLENDID two-tenement house for sale, excellent location. Will give somebody bargain, quick cash or easy payments, also a nice cottage very cheap. More information, P. O. Box 1517, Lowell.

REAL SPRING BARGAINS—Cosy cottage, orchard, garden, poultry houses, car line, very cheap. Dandy two-tenement near North common, easy terms. 2 nice cottages together for price of one. Cottage and 2-tenement for price of one. Modern 2-tenement 6-room flats, just finished. 6½ acres, cottage, barn, poultry, fruit, real bargain. 1½ acres cottage, barn, poultry, fruit, cosy bargain. 1-3 acre, 6-room cottage, 15 minutes' walk to city hall. Several desirable investments in blocks, best renting locations. For a quick, quiet trade place your property for sale with M. J. Sharkey, Insurance and Real Estate, 22 Central st., room 25. Tel. 2329-3.

HOUSE OF 9 ROOMS and pantry, one acre of land, for sale. Address Box 356, Chelmsford Centre.

EIGHT TENEMENT BLOCK for sale, all rented. Income $756 year. Located near depot. Aged owner will take $300 down. Two-family house near Ennell st. Gas, bath, open plumbing, hardwood floors. Large lot of land. Take $200 down. Linus, 267 Central st., Room 55.

AN INVESTMENT PROPERTY paying a big percentage on Arch st. for sale. Excellent corner lot and always rented. It will pay you to investigate this property. The price will be right. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

17 ROOM HOUSE near Dodge st. for sale. 3500 feet of land. A good property in a good location. Rents for $360 a year. Will sell for $1100. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

8 ROOM HOUSE with bath and furnace heat, near the court house, for sale. Could be made into investment property if desired. Will sell for $4500. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

10 ROOM HOUSE in Belvidere for sale. Bath and steam heat. Fireplace, set tubs, laundry. Excellent location. A substantially built residence. $5600. Eugene G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

FOR SALE

In Chelmsford, some nice places, large and small, at the right prices.

Nice place on Westford st., good 8-room house, large lot of land. Price only ........ $3200

Near Westford st., 6-room cottage house. Price ........ $1250

On Varnum ave., a nice place for the right prices.

Good 24-room lodging house. Price $800

Near Navy Yard mills, good 8-room house and shed, 1 acre land, all in first class repair. Price ...... $1500

In Centralville, 4-tenement block, always rented. Will be sold at a bargain. Your own price and terms.

G. L. HUBBARD

Telephone 2163. 44 Central St.

HELP WANTED

AN EXPERIENCED SALESMAN wanted to sell groceries at wholesale. Address Q., Sun Office.

EXPERIENCED CLERKS wanted for Monday evenings and Saturday afternoons and evenings, at Gregoire's, Lowell's Greatest Millinery Store.

AGENTS WANTED—25 boys or girls, to sell staple article, necessary in every home. Big premiums or cash. J. Durand, 251 Central st.

EXPERIENCED WOMAN COOK wanted at 6 Brookings st.

AGENTS WANTED at once, to handle new household specialty; big profits; easy sales; repeat orders. L. B. Lowell Co., Box 84.

AN OLD WOMAN wanted to do light housework and care for two little girls. Apply 88 Common st.

MAN WASHER wanted for laundry work. Apply 412 Suffolk st.

TEMPERATE YOUNG MAN wanted, about 22, to join experienced man as equal partner, opening first class butter, cheese and egg store, $150 required. Experience unnecessary, state age when answering. Address A. F. B., Sun Office.

ALL 'ROUND COOK wanted at once. Apply 129 Tremont st.

GOOD MACHINIST wanted for laundry work. Inquire 159 Cushing st.

MIDDLE AGED WOMAN wanted to do chamber work. Apply Lowell Inn, Central st.

KITCHEN GIRL and meat cook wanted. Apply 8 Dutton st.

CARRIAGE PAINTERS wanted at once. Call at 493 Chelmsford st.

FLYER SPINNERS on worsted wanted. Comb tenders and card room hands. Apply Hillsborough Mills, Wilton, N. H.

MARRIED COUPLE wanted to occupy double rooms furnished for light housekeeping. Part payment taken in housework. References given and required. Inquire J. Durand, 251 Central st. Tel. 1314-3.

YOUNG MEN wanted to prepare for post office clerk, carrier, and railway mail clerk positions. Good pay, short hours, pleasant work. Particulars free. Springfield School for Mail Service, Springfield, Mass.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS wanted. Salary $800 to $1400. No "layoffs." Examination for Lowell, May 15th. Common education sufficient. Candidates prepared free. Write immediately for full particulars. Franklin Institute, Dept. 73A, Rochester, N. Y.

CARPENTERS

T. B. Beecher of the Interstate Association in Conn., wants 30 more first-class non-union carpenters to work in New Britain. Union men quit work, refusing to handle material bought outside of New Britain. Wages [illegible] per hour, 8-hour day, steady work all the year. Apply with tools, to J. W. Allen, New Britain, Conn.

Will Paper Your Room for $2.00

We will paper your room, furnishing the paper and border to match, and have the work in a first class manner for $2.00. Inside and outside painting, whitewashing, etc. Will cheerfully give an estimate on any work you intend to have done.

BAKER

The New Racket Phone 1972-4
503 MIDDLESEX ST.

C. E. SPONY

Ladies' Hair Dressing Parlors

All Kinds of Hair Work Manufactured

Scalp treatment, chiropody, electric face massage, shampooing and manicuring. We buy hair combings.

ROOM 2, ASSOCIATE BUILDING, Lowell, Mass.

TO LET

FURNISHED ROOMS to let. Nice, light, clean and quiet, double or single. Bath and all conveniences. Tom Kershaw, 29 Kirk st.

4 ROOMS AND SHED to let. Inquire 77 Bartlett st.

STORE TO LET May 1st, cor. Broadway and Willie st. Inquire O'Brien's drug store.

4-ROOM TENEMENT to let, on Fletcher st., near Broadway. Rent $6. Apply to Henry Miller & Son, 7 Merrimack st.

HOUSE OF 12 ROOMS to let, in Centralville, after May 1. Bath, furnace heat, shed and yard. Apply to Henry Miller & Son, 7 Merrimack st.

AN UP-TO-DATE TENEMENT to let with hot and cold water, furnace heat and nice garden. Inquire 530 Rogers street.

FURNISHED ROOMS to let for light housekeeping en suite. 6 Stackpole st.

NICE SUNNY ROOMS to let with board, home cooking, everything first-class, at 404 Bridge st.

BAKERY TO LET—Large store with all fixtures and tools. Apply 165 Broadway.

PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO, together with 4-room tenement and bath room, to let; all in first class condition, at the corner of West Sixth and Ennell sts., with entrances on both streets. Near St. Louis' church. Apply to Frank A. Hamelin, Tailor, cor. Cabot and Merrimack sts.

SUITE OF ROOMS in the Harrington building will be vacated May 1st. Three splendid rooms with large front room on Central st. Inquire at The Sun office.

CHAMBER TO LET—Steam heated, bay window; also side room, cheap. 43 Hurd st.

TENEMENT OF 7 ROOMS to let. Bath, pantry, set tubs, furnace heat, 5 minutes' walk from square, 133 Stackpole st.

NEW FLATS OF 5 ROOMS to let on Stackpole st., bath, open plumbing, electric lights, modern improvements. Rent $15. Apply 384 High st.

NICE TENEMENT of five rooms. In first class repair to let. 332 Fletcher st. C. A. Roberts, Tel. 88-1.

MODERN FLAT in new house at cor. Gorham and Central sts., to let. Hot and cold water, open plumbing, set wash trays. All windows equipped with shades. Apply F. W. Barrows, 655 Gorham st.

5-ROOM TENEMENT with pantry to let at 44 Barclay st. Apply Phillips Schutz Furniture Co., 332 Middlesex st.

FURNISHED or UNFURNISHED rooms to let for light housekeeping. Steam heat, electric light. 75 East Merrimack st.

NICE TENEMENT of five rooms to let at 68 Chambers st. Inquire of Collins & Hogan, Central st.

ROOMS TO LET. Inquire 375 Gorham st.

TO LET

| | |
|---|---|
| 5 rooms, Central st. | $10.00 |
| 5 rooms, Adams st. | 10.00 |
| 3 rooms, Suffolk st. | 7.00 |
| 5 rooms, Watson st. | 8.00 |
| 4 rooms, Middlesex st. | 10.00 |
| 5 rooms, Tilden st. | 8.00 |
| 5 rooms, Union st. | 8.00 |
| 4 rooms, Appleton st. | 10.00 |
| 9 rooms, Central st. | 15.00 |
| 5 rooms, School st. | 8.00 |
| 6 rooms, Cottage st. | 8.00 |
| 5 rooms, Cushing st. | 10.00 |
| 6 rooms, Whipple st. | 8.00 |

Apply 468 Central Street

FOR SALE

BUREAU and BOOKCASE combined, also 2 large window sashes for hen house or hot bed, for sale. Inquire 87 South Highland st.

GOOD, SECONDHAND CONCORD WAGON for sale. Mackenzie's Carriage Shop, 592 Broadway.

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER for sale; total adder; also 3-foot show case and counters. 137 Middle st.

CHEST OF CARPENTER'S TOOLS for sale. Inquire 18 Ludlam st.

COLUMBIA CYLINDER GRAPHOPHONE for sale, many records, almost new. Also beautiful rosewood, German imported concertina, very cheap. Call 7 to 8 evenings. 601 Merrimack st., room 3.

VARIETY STORE for sale, on account of sickness; doing good business. Inquire 121 Lilley ave.

FOUR GOOD ACCLIMATED HORSES, 2 nice young, fresh family cows for sale. Rear 56 Franklin st.

HOUSE LOTS for sale from 2 cents to 10 cents a foot, within the city limits. Inquire 1128 Bridge st.

BAXTER BOILER and ENGINE, six horse power, for sale. Can be seen working at 56 Adams st. Must be sold at once.

GOOD FAMILY COW and two Angora goats for sale. Inquire at 513 Pleasant st., Dracut.

SAFES FOR SALE—Two secondhand safes in good condition, at a bargain. Address Box Z., Sun Office.

"CHARTER OAK" REFRIGERATOR, large size, for sale at a bargain. In excellent condition, suitable for boarding house, store or camp. Call at 1057 Middlesex st. or telephone 282-2.

Back at the Old Stand

110 Central Street

SPAULDING SISTERS' CAFE

They who feed you right.

SITUATIONS WANTED

SITUATION WANTED as fireman; first class license. Manuel R. Vieira, 152 Worthen st.

SITUATION WANTED—First class paperhanger and painter wants work. J. T. Smith, 5 Fifth st.

SITUATION WANTED—Young woman fully experienced in kitchen work wants position. Address E. D. E., Sun Office.

NEAT SMART GIRL wants house or table work. Good kitchen help. Ascension Home, Rear 128 Bridge st.

HOUSEKEEPER (working), or housework wanted. Likes children. Wages moderate. Ascension Home, Rear 128 Bridge st.

SITUATION WANTED by a good, capable woman to care for an invalid or do light housework. Address J. D., Sun Office.

SITUATION WANTED by a Protestant woman as housekeeper, care of an invalid or institutional work. Address X., Sun Office.

MISCELLANEOUS

DRINK GLORIA for health; sold everywhere.

LIMBURG, chimney expert. Chimneys swept and repaired. Residence, 1128 Bridge st. Tel. 34.

MOTHERS—Bent's Destroyer kills lice on children, and all insects; cures dandruff and itching scalp; prevents falling hair. Harmless. The only, at Falls & Burkinshaw's, 418 Middlesex st.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED, badges and door plates made to order at Harry Gonzales, 128 Gorham st. Tel. 952-2.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Cash Loans

$10 and upwards

Secured quickly and quietly.

Housekeepers and workingmen you can secure money from us without publicity, at the very lowest rates. These things, combined with courtesy and consideration, will give you more solid satisfaction and contentment of mind than you think, and if the company you do business with will not live up to this policy or arrange your loan to suit you as well as themselves, then it's time for you to change. Come in. No Red Tape. Our methods are entirely different from any other concern of money lenders. We don't ask you to tie up to a long-time complicated contract.

Call, write or phone 2808

American Loan Co.

AGENTS,

Room 10, Hildreth Bldg.,

45 Merrimack St.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was 15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The New York police the other day fired upon autoists who drove over an aged man and passed on with increased speed. They were right in firing but they did not hit any of the men in the auto. They evidently require target practice.

THE SULTAN SHOULD GO

It will be a great benefit to the world if the old sultan of Turkey be driven from power and a ruler chosen in his place who will accommodate himself to the progress of the hour. The sultan has been pulling against the advance of eastern civilization for many years and it is to be hoped the present upheaval will result in a policy that will accord more with the steady advancement which is characteristic of almost every other nation on the globe.

THE MAYOR VS. POLICE BOARD

An examination of the charges made by Mayor Brown against the police board shows that they have practically all been obtained from a close scrutiny of the police records; that they are mostly technical and unimportant in character. It is plain, therefore, that when Mayor Brown made a virulent attack upon the board in his inaugural address, he had at that time practically nothing to sustain his sweeping charges.

In order to make some show of even feebly supporting those charges he had to throw himself into the arms of his political opponents as if crying, "save me! save me!"

But for the mass of stuff read from the records of the department, His Honor's case against the police board would have been confined to hot air, and even with all the rehashed reports, there is so very little to sustain any charge against the board, that it practically amounts to nothing. Thus has the great, stormy and menacing mountain brought forth a very diminutive mouse.

SENATOR ALDRICH'S SHAMELESS COURSE

Senator Aldrich can have anything he wants from the trusts. He appears to be more subservient to their interests than the veriest trust magnate in the land. He is the vindicator, the procurator and defender of the trusts. The tariff rates that have been condemned as being only for the benefit of oppressive trusts he singles out as most essential to the well being of the people.

Aldrich is now paying on behalf of the republican party the debt which that party owes for its reelection to power.

In return the trusts will enjoy the privilege of plundering the people for four years more. Hides are to go back on the protected list and even wood pulp, which the house, after a thorough investigation put upon the free list, is likely to be taxed. Aldrich is the most shameless tariff extremist that has yet appeared on the scene. He has outdone Dingley. He has repudiated the avowed purpose of the republican party in its ante election pledges and stretched the platform declaration in favor of the trusts.

This revision upward instead of downward is treacherous, a breach of faith, a republican betrayal of the masses and one which will grant the trusts a new license to plunder the people. It is time President Taft came out to protest against such an outrage upon the country as the Aldrich bill would impose; time he interposed to prevent the standpatters from intensifying rather than reducing the tariff evils from which the people complain. Will he do it? The country anxiously awaits his action. If Roosevelt were in his place, he would be heard from in no uncertain voice. Can it be that we have gone from bad to worse?

THE MERRIMACK AS A SEWERAGE OUTLET

The state board of health has submitted an elaborate report on the pollution of the Merrimack among other rivers, depicting it from Lowell to the sea in all respects as an open sewer.

Particular attention is given to a matter that is of vital importance to our city. It is that of having sewers empty upon the dry bed of the river at Lowell in summer, and flow along, giving out odors that cannot fail to spread disease.

This state of affairs is justly to be condemned and should be remedied as soon as the bed of the river dries up.

It appears that the agitation against the pollution of New England rivers is assuming such proportions, that legislative action looking to a remedy will soon be provided. The city of Lowell at least should arrange to prevent the emptying of sewers upon dry rocks in the bed of the river. There should be a deep channel formed in the middle of the river bed, so that it would at no time be wholly dried up. Into the channel should empty the sewers which now empty near the river edge or along the mill buildings fronting on the river.

If the Merrimack is bad, the lower Concord is a great deal worse, as it is clogged with an accumulation of mud and filth. Both rivers are sorely in need of purification, and no doubt, a change in that direction would prevent many outbreaks of disease; but financially we are not prepared now to meet the expenses of such a change.

The best way to effect it is to begin gradually to lessen the pollution and after a term of years, stop altogether the emptying of sewage into the rivers.

It is alleged that there are various ways of disposing of sewage without having it carried off by rivers. These methods however are in the first place expensive, and unless reports be incorrect, many of them are ineffective.

This sewerage problem in its various phases is one of the most important confronting our city at the present time. Nothing brings better results to a city than sewers. They promote good health and increase the taxable property.

It will do no harm and may do much good to conduct an occasional experiment in disposing of sewage in other ways than by emptying it into the rivers.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Announcement is made of the wedding of Frank H. Grey, Harvard, '06, formerly of Arlington, and Miss Retta M. Spelley, until recently a member of Henry M. Savage's theatrical companies. The marriage took place at Southern Pines, N. C. Mr. Grey made a study of music while at Harvard, taking courses under Prof. John K. Kaine, Frederick Converse, and others. He composed some tunes for two Pi Eta shows.

Rev. Mary Miars, pastor of the Quaker church at Lynn, has resigned, and in June she will start for the west, visiting her parents at Wilmington, O., on the way. She has been pastor of the Friends' church at Lynn for 11 years. She is a graduate of Earlham academy, Richmond, Ind.

E. H. Harriman, the financier, has decided upon a long vacation abroad. His recent extended trip through the west made such heavy demands upon his time that he did not get the rest that he had hoped for.

The annual course at Yale university of Lyman Beecher lectures on preaching (or other topic appropriate to the work of the ministry), founded in 1871 by the late Henry W. Sage, is being given this year by Rev. Herbert Hensley Henson, D. D., canon of Westminster and rector of St. Margaret's, Westminster, London, on "The Liberty of Prophesying."

Dr. W. T. Grenfell, the Labrador missionary, has just been appointed a magistrate by the Canadian government.

Substantial progress has been made by the Dartmouth college committee having the New Gym fund in charge since the beginning of the vacation. At present some $80,000 has been pledged and $35,000 of it has been paid. The organization among the alumni previous to 1885 has been perfected and responses are coming in well. With $100,000 in pledges and $50,000 in cash, the committee will confer with the trustees of the college with a view to beginning work on construction this spring, so that the building will be ready for next spring.

A bronze tablet showing a bust portrait of Mrs. Craigie, the writer whose pen name was John Oliver Hobbes, has been presented to Barnard college by some of the author's friends and admirers, among whom are Richard Watson Gilder and Joseph Choate. Dedication ceremonies, presided over by Silas Brownell, chairman of the board of trustees of the college, will be held on Wednesday. An address will be made by Mr. Choate, followed by a short lecture by Rt. Rev. John J. Wynne, editor of the Catholic Herald.

Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to England, has accepted the office of honorary chancellor of Union university, New York, and in that capacity will deliver the annual chancellor's address at the Union college commencement on June 9. Dr. Alexander, pastor of the University place Presbyterian church of New York city, and president ad-interim of Union college, was the chairman of the committee of the board of trustees which had the selection of an honorary chancellor in charge. It is expected that Mr. Choate will take part in the other commencement exercises, in view of the fact that President-elect Charles A. Richmond of Albany will be inducted into office at that time. It is the custom for the college to confer a degree on the honorary chancellor, but what degree will be given Mr. Choate has not been made public.

Dr. John Burnet, professor of Greek at St. Andrew's university since 1892, and vice president of the Classical Association of Scotland, has been offered the professorship of Greek at Harvard university.

An invitation is given to college students by Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, and other educators, to compete for the prize essays offered by Hart, Schaffner & Marx to encourage the study of business subjects. The competition for 1909 is now under way and will end the coming June. Subjects for 1910 have just been suggested by the committee, as follows:

1. The effect of labor unions on international trade.
2. The best means of raising the wages of the unskilled.
3. A comparison between the theory and the actual practice of protectionism in the United States.
4. A scheme for an ideal monetary system for the United States.
5. The true relation of the central government to trusts.
6. How much of J. S. Mills' economic system survives?
7. A central bank as a factor in a financial crisis.

The contestants are divided into two classes. Class A includes any American without restriction. Class B includes only those who, at the time of competing, are undergraduates of any American college. A first prize of $300 and a second prize of $400 are offered for the best studies presented by class A; a first prize of $300 and a second prize of $200 are offered for the best studies presented by class B. Any member of class B, however, may compete for the prizes of class A. Men or women who have not had a college training are eligible to compete under Class C, to which a prize of $500 is offered for the best essay, and for which the following subjects are suggested:

1. The most practicable scheme for beginning a reduction of the tariff.
2. The value of government statistics of wages in the last ten or fifteen years.
3. Opportunities for expanding our trade with South America.
4. The organization of the statistical work of the United States.
5. Publicity and form of trust accounts.

The winning essays will be published in book form at the discretion of the committee, which, in addition to Professor Laughlin, consists of Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia university; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace Wright, New York city, and Edwin F. Gay, Harvard university. The papers are to be handed in by June, 1910.

McGauvran Bros.

LOWELL'S LEADING

Piano and Furniture Movers

Furniture and Crockery Packed by Experienced Men

STORAGE

OFFICE, 5 BRIDGE STREET

Opp. Transfer Station

Office Tel. 49 Residence Tel. 1033-1

Allan Line "Royal Route"

SHORTEST, SMOOTHEST AND MOST PICTURESQUE

Montreal and Quebec to Liverpool, Glasgow and Havre, via the majestic St. Lawrence river, affords three days' sailing in sheltered seas, through almost indescribable grandeur of scenery. Palatial turbine steamers, swift non-vibrating and odorless. Route especially recommended to delicate or timid persons. Rates moderate. Illustrated booklets sent on application.

Denis Murphy, 18 Appleton Street

H. & A. Allan, 110 State St., Boston

JOHN J. O'CONNELL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR,

Telephone Connection

1010 Central St. Davis Sq.

JAMES E. O'DONNELL

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Hildreth Building. Lowell, Mass.

ST. THOMAS' SALVE

—FOR—

Piles, Old Sores and Skin Diseases

—FOR SALE—

At All Up-to-Date Drug Stores

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

ELECTRIC and COMBINATION FIXTURES

At Manufacturer's Prices

—AT—

DERBY & MORSE'S

64 Middle Street, Lowell, Mass.

WILLIAM RIGG

The well known and reliable piano and furniture mover will attend to all orders large or small, promptly, in or out of town, and he also makes moving a specialty. Order by tel. or postal, or in Person at 13 Prescott st. P. S.—Edward McGauvran is employed in charge of packing.

Fresh Clams Every Day

At the Lowell Inn. Fresh fish daily from the Boston wharves. Lobsters fresh from the traps. Meals first class and wholesome. Call and see the LOWELL INN, busiest place in Central street.

Wall Paper

—AT—

97 APPLETON ST.

75 YEARS OLD

SENATOR CHAUNCEY DEPEW OBSERVED BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, April 27.—A great birthday cake, aglitter from 75 candles and garnished with an equal number of new pennies, was presented to Senator Chauncey M. Depew last night at a dinner in honor of his 75th birthday at the Montauk club, Brooklyn. He has been the guest of honor on 17 similar occasions.

Sen. Depew was the only speaker, a custom which has been rigidly observed at his birthday dinners.

SENT TO ASYLUM

YOUTH HAD CONFESSED TO SEVERAL ROBBERIES

HAVERHILL, April 27.—A temporary and perhaps permanent respite from the consequences of nearly a dozen burglaries and breaks, to which the police say he has confessed, was granted yesterday to 19 year old Leslie N. Anderson, when Judge Fuller ordered his commitment to the Danvers insane asylum. The judge's order was based upon a report by physicians that Anderson was mentally irresponsible. Whether yesterday's action will result in a cessation of the case against Anderson is not known.

The arrest of the young man less than a fortnight ago following a series of small burglaries and thefts, to each of which the police connect Anderson, was a great surprise to those who knew him. The boy bore an excellent reputation.

A RATE WAR

BETWEEN EASTERN TRUNK LINES AT HAND

WASHINGTON, April 27.—A rate war among the eastern trunk lines is nearly inevitable in the opinion of the interstate commerce commission. Thus far, the trouble extends only to rates on import traffic, west-bound, but the likelihood is that it will extend, before a great while, to domestic traffic.

The trouble was precipitated some time ago by the Boston & Maine railroad in wiping out a differential of one cent a hundred pounds on import traffic, west-bound, which had existed for years between Boston and the ports of New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia. It was not expected that the trunk lines generally would meet the second reduction made by the Boston & Maine, but a day or two ago the Chesapeake & Ohio reduced its rate from Norfolk to meet the Boston & Maine's rate. The Chesapeake & Ohio rate goes into effect May 24.

PENSION SCHEME

FOR BOSTON AND MAINE EMPLOYES DISCUSSED

Secretary C. E. Bedell of the Boston and Maine pension committee says that much doubt and misunderstanding of the pension bill now before the legislature was cleared away at the recent meeting of the B. & M. Agents' association by the clear explanation of the provisions of the measure by Assistant Solicitor General Hale of the Boston & Maine company. A committee of the employes was present and many of them asked questions in regard to details of the measure.

At the close of Mr. Hale's address, the employes committee and Mr. Hale were tendered a vote of thanks. The pension plan was unanimously endorsed as for the best interests of all concerned.

Among some of the erroneous impressions which were corrected was the one which has gained some ground of late to the effect that the pension plan was virtually a scheme on the part of the company to cut the wages of the employes to obtain money to care for their worn-out servants.—an impression which was easily dispelled by the convincing arguments of Mr. Hale.

Another fallacious idea which has obtained credence in some quarters is to the effect that the railroad company would profit greatly by the handling of the funds of the Pension Fund association, whereas the fact is that all assessments are handled by the trustees of the association, the company not profiting one iota thereby.

THE AUTO FUND

Is Close to the $8000 Mark

Just $1587 more is needed to make up the guarantee fund of $10,000 necessary to insure the proposed automobile carnival during Labor day week. At the meeting of the finance committee of the Lowell Automobile club to be held in the board of trade rooms tonight, it is expected that the secretary will be able to report that the contributions have been swelled to $10,000.

Nearly $800 has been collected since Saturday and up to date $8413 has been guaranteed.

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club left Boston on the midnight train for New York where he is to meet the advisory board of the American Automobile Manufacturers association, relative to the two stock car races to be held here. He will return to Lowell on Wednesday.

On Sunday the Musicians union, at a regular meeting, voted to proffer the services of a band of 75 musicians for a concert to be given in aid of the guarantee fund. P. J. Burleigh would be the leader of this band. The finance committee will do nothing about the offer unless it is found out that the $10,000 is not forthcoming from regular subscription.

The following additional contributions were reported last night:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lowell Gas Light Co. | $250.00 |
| John Russell | 25.00 |
| W. A. Mack Co. | 15.00 |
| Robert F. Marden | 10.00 |
| Harry Raynes | 10.00 |
| N. D. Spyropoulos | 5.00 |
| Houpis Fruit Co. | 5.00 |
| Merrimack Shoe Shine Parlor | 5.00 |
| George Couzoules & Co. | 5.00 |
| George Voboils | 5.00 |
| A. Johnson | 5.00 |
| E. G. Soplios | 5.00 |
| R. A. Griffiths | 5.00 |
| William Wrigley | 5.00 |
| Louis Gefteas | 4.00 |
| B. Glavis | 2.00 |
| George Eliopoulos | 2.00 |
| M. Iatros | 2.00 |
| Elias Houpis | 2.00 |
| H. Demaras | 1.00 |
| M. Samaris | 1.00 |
| H. Loures | 1.00 |
| H. Houpis | 1.00 |
| Christos Chopelas | 1.00 |
| Dr. D. Mitsakos | 1.00 |

AT AUCTION

BOSTON PROPERTY OF FISH TRUST TO BE SOLD

BOSTON, April 27. — The Boston property of A. Booth & Co., the so-called fish trust, which has its headquarters in Chicago and numerous branches throughout the country and Canada, will be sold at auction on May 24, by order of Judge Dodge of the United States circuit court here. The sale will be conducted by Wm. J. Chalmers and Maurice P. Shaw, receivers of the corporation.

The property in this city consists of wharf rights and lease hold estate in Boston and real estate, wharves, elevators, machinery and other equipment in East Boston.

It is understood that similar sales of the company's property in other states and Canadian provinces will occur during May.

COURT MIDDLESEX, F. OF A.

The regular meeting of Court Middlesex, Foresters of America, was held last night in Foresters' hall, Chief Ranger John H. Condon in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Two candidates were initiated and final arrangements were made for the social party which is to be held in the near future. The auditors made their report for the quarter, showing a gain in finances and membership. The trustees reported the goods and effects of the court in excellent condition. Interesting remarks on the court affairs and the order were made by the chief ranger, P. C. R. P. F. Kennedy, who has held the office of auditor for a number of years, tendered his resignation on account of other duties occupying his time. A rising vote of thanks was extended him for the manner in which he had performed his duties.

U. S. ARMY ENGINEERS

NEWPORT, R. I., April 27.—The board of United States army engineers which was recently designated by the war department to make a survey for the construction of a continuous waterway, inland where practicable, along the Atlantic coast, will meet at the Crown hotel, Providence, next Wednesday morning.

OUR CHALLENGE!

CARTER & SHERBURNE DECLARE THAT HEM-ROID WILL CURE ANY CASE OF PILES.

By authority of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, Carter & Sherburne, Lowell, Mass., guarantee that Hem-Roid, an internal tablet remedy, will cure any kind of piles, no matter how bad.

Dr. Leonhardt is the celebrated specialist who discovered that the cause of piles is internal, and in giving his remedy to the public, said: "Hem-Roid will be sold only under a guarantee that it will cure any case."

$1 for 24 days' treatment. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y., prop. Write for booklet.

An Asparagus Bed

Should be a part of every family garden. This week we offer a splendid lot of

New Jersey Asparagus Roots

FREE FROM RUST

BARTLETT & DOW

216 Central Street.

MILK PRODUCERS

Met and Perfected an Organization

The Middlesex North milk producers have organized and are now in a position to protect themselves against what they call injustice to farmers. The organization which was proposed at a meeting held earlier in the month was completed at a meeting held at Odd Fellows hall in Centralville yesterday afternoon.

Walter E. Morris of Billerica presided and was elected president. E. S. Howe of this city was chosen secretary and treasurer. L. W. Wheeler of Westford, chairman of the committee on by-laws, reported a draft of by-laws that was adopted.

They provide that the name of the organization shall be the Middlesex North Farmers' Protective association, the object of which shall be "mutual protection against injustice in the enforcement of laws dealing with the production and sale of milk." The initiation fee was set at $1, with the understanding that the members will stand ready to give further financial support if it is required.

The following committee was appointed to bring in new members: F. L. Fletcher, Chelmsford; S. P. Pike, Dewksbury; George Bancroft, Tyngsboro; L. W. Wheeler, Westford; C. P. Greenwood, Billerica; R. S. Fox and Enoch Mills, Dracut; Charles Skelton, Carlisle.

The membership paper that will be circulated in the several towns for signatures will read as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the Middlesex North Farmers' Protective association, hereby protest against what we deem to be the unfair, unjust and wrongful prosecution of milk producers for the selling or having in possession for sale milk which is below the standard set by law, where such milk is pure, unadulterated, natural product of the cow. For the purpose of protecting ourselves against such unfair, unjust and wrongful prosecution, we hereby pledge the amount of money set opposite our names, such money to be paid at such time and in such amounts as may be necessary to accomplish said purpose."

GIRL MAY DIE

She Was Attacked by a Dog

GLOUCESTER, April 27.—While at play with some playmates in a school yard on Main street in this city last night, Helen Ferguson, nine years of age, was attacked by a large St. Bernard dog and after being dragged all over the school yard by the animal was badly torn in several places by the animal's teeth. She was taken to her home and will probably die.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last evening, Helen, accompanied by four or five other girls, went into the yard of a school house on Main street to play.

A large St. Bernard dog was lying near the school steps and as the children commenced to gambol, the brute rose and, with a snarl, made a leap for the Ferguson child, grabbing her by the right leg. The animal hauled the girl all over the yard, pausing now and then to release his victim, but to bite her again about the face, arms and legs.

Several boys passing heard the child's cries and rushed into the yard. After a sharp battle with the dog, which they attacked with stones and clubs, they succeeded in driving the beast away.

Picking the Ferguson girl up, the boys carried her to her home on Trask street. Two physicians were hurriedly summoned, and after examining the child's bites pronounced her in a critical condition and stated that she would probably die.

The attack was reported to the chief of police, who detailed several officers to hunt for the dog, but he has not yet been found.

HE LEFT $50,000

But Somerville Man Died of Starvation

BOSTON, April 27.—Miss Elizabeth A. Waters of East Somerville said yesterday that she has learned through a telegram from Seattle that her brother, Charles Waters, formerly a resident of this city, had died there. He was 80 years old or more, and moved to the west 40 years ago on the crest of the boom. In earlier life he was in the grocery business and later in the wine business on State street.

According to the dispatch, Mr. Waters died from starvation, yet had bequeathed $50,000 to his sister. He is believed to have acquired large real estate holdings in Seattle. Miss Waters is active in Somerville in charitable work and was the founder of the Day street children's home, West Somerville.

PLANS MADE

FOR REORGANIZATION OF BANKRUPT FIRM

NEW YORK, April 27.—A plan for the rehabilitation of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani was announced yesterday by Irving L. Ernest, one of the attorneys for the failed brokers.

The plan provides for the formation of a co-partnership to take over the assets of the firm and issue notes maturing in a year and a half.

These notes to be given to creditors in part payment of their claims, the remainder to be paid them in the form of a cash dividend. Mr. Ernest was confident that this cash payment would approximate twenty per cent.

A meeting of the creditors will be called shortly for the purpose of formally endorsing the plan.

RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

FITCHBURG, April 27.—Vice Chairman Charles E. Ware of the board of trustees of the Burbank hospital, who, with Mayor M. Uref O'Connell, chairman of the board, has borne the brunt of the charges of misconduct recently brought against the institution, yesterday resigned his office as vice chairman and from the executive committee, although retaining his membership in the board. He gave no reason.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Wants" column.

EASY THE HEAD

That wears our English Derby; made in half sizes—that means double the number of sizes made in other derbies and twice the chances of fitting you perfectly without stretching or padding the hat—Smart shapes, fine quality, black and Spring colors,

$3.00

Low Shoes

FOR WARM DAYS

New lasts and the best of leathers carefully made. Young men's stylish shoes, pumps, two eyelet ties and oxfords—russet, black and shiny leather,

$2.50 to $4.00

Conservative straight lasts in shoes for the man who goes in for comfort. Russet, calf and kid,

$2.50 to $4.00

Hanan's Shoes

And we feature these as the best shoes made, russet and black, stylish and perfectly fitting,

$5.00 and $6.00

Fancy Hosiery

To go with low shoes—fine lisle and silk lisle in fifteen colors,

25c and 50c

2400 Pairs

Solid—color—fine hose—reseda, gray, helio, green, black and tan—the best thing we've ever shown,

2 Pairs for 25c

PUTNAM & SON CO.

166 Central Street

GENERAL AMES CAMP

Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, United Spanish War Veterans, met in regular session last night in Memorial hall. There was a large attendance of members and considerable business was acted upon during the course of the meeting. Three new members were mustered in and six applications for membership were received. Plans were discussed for the May party to take place early next month, and for Memorial day.

Edith Prescott Wolcott auxiliary also held a well attended meeting and transacted considerable routine business. Mrs. Jelly was in the chair. The auxiliary discussed plans for the events this spring.

PEOPLE WE KNOW

They are Lowell People, and What They Say is of Local Interest

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press: are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

S. Jones, living at 511 Bridge St., Lowell, Mass., says: "I am pleased to speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills as they have done me a wonderful amount of good. For years I had trouble with my kidneys being forced to get up several times during the night to pass the secretions. My back ached most of the time and I could not find any position that was comfortable. After trying several remedies with indifferent success, I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, and procured several boxes at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. Since using them my back has been strengthened and freed of pain and I have been in better health than before in years."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WORMS

are the "unknown" ailment from which so many pale, hollow-eyed, peevish children suffer.

KICKAPOO WORM KILLER

Candy Lozenges, will make them bright, happy, healthy—with normal appetite. Trial proves. All druggists.

KICKAPOO MEDICINE CO. Chicago, Ch

MIGHTIEST NIMROD OF THEM ALL

A Genius Who Combines Exploration, Hunting and Photography With a Life of Adventure

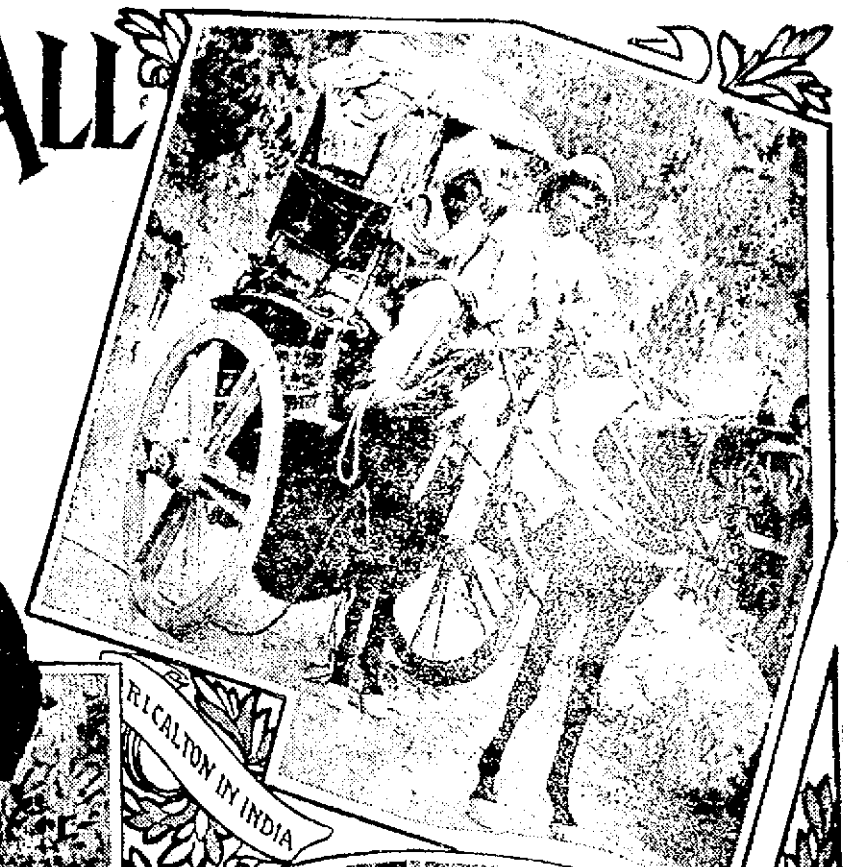

PHOTOS. COPYRIGHTED BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD, N.Y.

RICALTON AND A CHINESE DWARF

RICALTON WITH TWO OF HIS FRIENDS, CASHMERE GIANTS

RICALTON IN INDIA

ON THE WAY TO AN ELEPHANT HUNT

THERE will be no peace for anything that crawls, creeps, crouches or flies in the African jungles this year. About the time that Theodore Roosevelt and his caravan train their guns in the greatest hunt of modern times another will be there with his cameras and guns to add interest to the invasion. This one is James Ricalton of South Orange, N. J., who is the dean of the camera kingdom of the world. This reads like an extract from Colonel Tody Hamilton's circus posters, but no ordinary phrases or sentences can give an adequate description of Ricalton's exploits.

Professor Ricalton has been in Africa before. He has been everywhere where there was anything doing. He has met and "taken" nearly every potentate, ruler, general and admiral of earth and the file of all nations. He has been on the firing line of great contests, in the midst of the carnage, inside and outside of the breastworks, on the mountain tops, in the valleys and on the sea.

An interesting character is this little, wiry Jerseyman—sixty years of age, slender in physique, modest in manner, with kindly blue eyes peeping through gold rimmed spectacles, speaking, to quote his own words, "no language but English, and very little of that." All distances are alike to him. He tramps as many miles in a day as a horse walks, carrying a thirty pound camera and tripod, for he scorns the snapshot apparatus. On the march he wears out young soldiers. He takes his place with the gunners in perilous artillery positions, lounges with the reserves waiting for battle and is in the dash of the onslaught when he is allowed. When the positions have been carried he sits down with the living and the dead with as much insouciance as he would sit at a dinner in his Jersey home.

When Edison wanted the right vegetable fiber to serve as a filament for his perfected incandescent lamp he sent Ricalton around the world to find it. The search took Ricalton into the remotest parts of Burma, China and India, and on this tour he experimented with more than 140 varieties of the bamboo. These travels made him the wonderful photographer that he is. It was Ricalton who made the pictures for the Stoddard lectures. They told the story when Stoddard's descriptive vocabulary gave out.

Ricalton sailed from Australia March 17 for Africa. He took his camera and gun, for as a hunter he is in the same category as Roosevelt, and in the opinion of some he is the more expert of the two. One object of Ricalton's mission is to stalk the fly which inoculates those whom it bites with the fatal sleeping sickness. He has a camera with a lens especially arranged for photographing the fly in action. Ricalton is a faunal naturalist as well as an entomologist. The stalking of this fly is a feat well calculated to test the hunter's skill and endurance. If anybody can do it Ricalton can. While in the dark continent Ricalton will be within reach of Roosevelt, and when not catching the tsetse fly on the wing he will take a hand in the hunt for game and train his camera on any brought down as well as on much that will get away.

Ricalton was at the front and on the flanks and in the rear during the Boer war, and he is familiar with the geography and topography of the country. There will be new stories and strange experiences and wonderful pictures when Ricalton has finished his dash into Africa on the heels of Roosevelt.

Every reader will recall the great Delhi durbar. Ricalton was there. Undazzled by its pomp and tinsel, he erected a scaffold in the center of the throng of jeweled princes and barbaric warriors and calmly took his pictures of the bewildering pageant. The stories written of that event may have been overcolored, but the pictures of Ricalton were from life. People who saw these pictures knew exactly what the durbar was. The lens was mightier than the pen.

He was the first foreigner to travel on foot through northern Russia. He walked 1,500 miles from Archangel to St. Petersburg. In all his travels, in all countries, he estimates that he has exposed 75,000 negatives. He believes that he has photographed every celebrity of his generation.

As a photographer in war Ricalton did with the lens what Munkaczy did with the brush. In the Philippines he was the only one in his business to get troops actually firing on the enemy. At the battle of Caloocan a soldier near him was shot down. Ricalton seized the rifle, picked up the cartridge belt and joined the skirmishers. At the siege of Tientsin he stood on the walls and photographed Americans who were dropped by Chinese bullets.

Favored by Nogi.

In the war between Russia and Japan Ricalton became a well known figure wherever there was danger and suffering.

When General Nogi's chief of staff answered by telephone the complaints of his perplexed commanders who had arrested "an indefatigable little man with a camera," he said, "If it is the American photographer Ricalton let him take photographs wherever he likes." General Nogi himself was friendly to the little man from Jersey, often sent him presents of fruit and frequently humorous messages. All the war correspondents were friends and admirers of the "little fanatic," as they dubbed Ricalton.

Writing to a friend in this country while he was watching the shells from the great siege guns in Manchuria, Ricalton said: "I have been trying to photograph the flying shells. They can be seen in flight, and I must make a stereograph to show one."

He kept at it until he had secured what he wanted. It was a marvelous picture, showing a 500 pound projectile thrown by an eleven inch coast defense mortar over the hills at the invisible Russian fleet. In order to get the proper range he was compelled to stuff his ears with cotton wool. Gunners who had neglected to take this precaution became deaf.

Camera Is King.

Ricalton's success with the camera brings to mind the important work done by his profession. The pictures of epoch making events are necessary in this age to complete the best descriptive work of the pen of great battles, splendid festivals, glittering pageants and the catastrophes of land and water. Without the aid of the camera the terrors of the earthquake at Messina could not have been adequately realized. It was the camera that focused the attention of the world on the awful flood of lava and the destruction of life about Vesuvius.

Only those who have made the subject a study have any conception of the manner in which great events are pictured, and only those engaged in the work know what dangers are frequently faced in order to obtain the results. The skilled photographer is a born explorer and an adventurer in the best sense of the word. The distances from Sahara to the polar circle, from Patagonia to Tibet, are all the same to him. To be stoned in China, arrested in the Forbidden Land, imprisoned in Siberia, captured in savage jungles, detained as a spy in times of war and turned down by officious underlings hedged about for a day with red tape—all of these, and more, are a part of his day's work. To accomplish his purpose he sleeps on the ground, in the cold or under drenching rains, faces disease from exposure and goes hungry. He wins his spurs on rocky roads.

Before the photographer became an essential in the collection of the great news events the correspondent had it all his way. Within less than a half century intelligent readers have learned that, while it is possible for the best trained correspondent to exaggerate now and then, the lens tells the truth always. The camera does not lie. Today the reliable correspondent and the photographer stand shoulder to shoulder.

The news photographer is an oddity. Nothing surprises him. Nothing makes him lose his nerve. His hand must be steady and his brain unclouded. He must be able to shoot, manage a caravan, adapt himself to perilous positions, eat and sleep wherever his hat falls, tramp and steal his way everywhere, ride anything that has four legs, barter and exchange goods, develop his plates on arid sands or in arctic ice and get the prints to the home office before the news becomes stale.

These are glittering generalities. Let us take some actual experience and adventures.

There was one of these knights of the camera who mounted an old elephant with his ladder camera under his arm and followed the governor of Ceylon in an elephant hunt. Another followed a swarm of eastern pilgrims to the holy sepulcher at Jerusalem. There he balanced himself on a swaying board slung from a balcony high above the heads of the crowds and made a picture of the populace and representatives from every Christian nation of the earth. One of the intrepid knights dashed four times up the side of Mont Pelee and took photographs of the volcano in action. Another crossed the boiling rapids of the Jhelum river by gliding along a cable made of a single rawhide rope, from which he was suspended by a loop of straps. Pictures of holy places in Palestine were taken by another, who rode through the country mounted on a mule. Yet another went with an exploring expedition to the farthest north and made photographs that no lens had ever recorded.

Triumphs of American Photographers.

It was an American photographer, E. R. Rose, who spent a fortnight in the Vatican, studying the revelations of papal life, from which he made pictures that were commended by artists and which gained for him a medal from Pope Pius X. similar to the medal presented by his holiness to the Prince of Wales. Accompanying the medal was a message from the pope, thanking the photographer for his work and bestowing upon him the papal blessing.

Another American photographer, Henry A. Strohmeyer, made more than a thousand photographs of the late President McKinley. Strohmeyer has traveled in every state in the Union. He took over 2,500 photographs of President Roosevelt. He followed the strenuous executive in all his dangers. One of the most striking of the collection was taken while the photographer stood on "Rocking Stone and the Drop of Despair." A misstep or an attempt to recover his camera had it fallen would have precipitated the photographer into a valley a mile below the spot on which he stood.

One of the youngest and most daring American photographers is Horace D. Ashton, who succeeded in breaking into the offices (in a legitimate way) of magnates in the Wall street district, where he was permitted to take photographs of leading financiers, who consented to face his lens. This young man has just passed the majority mark of life, but he is now following the head of the Panama canal work. Like all in his profession, his life is a varied one. One day he is photographing the members of a peace congress; the next he is pointing his camera at life in the slums. Then he is off to do a fashionable wedding; an hour later he is in a tunnel under one of the rivers of New York. One day he climbed the flagpole of a skyscraper, from which he made a birdseye view of the restless life of the great city beneath.

It is recalled that these knights sometimes pay their lives as a forfeit for their undertaking. H. F. MacKern died not long ago of jungle fever while taking photographs in the interior of Mexico. He was a famous photographer in the Boer war. He trekked all over the scenes of the war with a wagon and two horses.

A well known millionaire has become infatuated with the business. He has a $10,000 automobile in which he travels over Europe and in his own country as well, taking photographs, which are shipped to New York city and published throughout the country.

Wherever there is a cyclone, wherever a city is wiped out by conflagration, wherever there is a naval or military review, wherever there is a political convention, a great trial, a balloon ascension, a riot, a horror, anything that appeals to the public interest, there is the man with the camera!

FRANK H. BROOKS.

SCHOLARS WHO HAVE PLAYED POLITICS

And Politicians Who Went Into University Life.

THE tender to Dr. Eliot of the mission to the court of St. James recalls some interesting data in connection with the diplomatic service of this country in which college men as well as others have figured.

Only one college president has been elected president of the United States—Garfield. Several have been appointed ministers or ambassadors.

One president of the United States founded a great institution of learning after he left the White House. The inscription over the grave of Jefferson, which he had previously directed should be placed there, shows that he was content to let his fame rest upon two events, that he was "the author of the Declaration of Independence and father of the University of Virginia." Madison and Monroe later aided in fostering the great institution.

Long before Taft had any idea of rearbing his present place he was dean of the Cincinnati Law school, and he was a lecturer there while on the bench.

There are two college professors in President Taft's cabinet—Jacob McGavock Dickinson, secretary of war, and James Wilson, secretary of agriculture. The former was a professor in the Vanderbilt university. He has recently represented the interests of the United States in important litigation of an international character, and at the time of his appointment to the cabinet he was general counsel for the Illinois Central Railroad company. Before Secretary Wilson went into the cabinet (he was appointed by President McKinley) he was a professor of the Iowa Agricultural college.

When President Cleveland quit political life he retired to his home in Princeton and was a lecturer in Princeton university and was also advisory counsel for one of the great life insurance companies of New York.

When Robert Edward Lee, the idol of the Confederate cause, laid down his sword he went to Lexington, Va., and became president of Washington (now Washington and Lee) college, where he remained until his death. Peace had her victory.

Others who had been honored in halls of learning went to political honors. James Russell Lowell was twice ambassador. In 1877 he was sent to Spain and transferred three years later to the court of St. James. In 1855 he was Smith professor of French and Spanish languages and professor of belles lettres in Harvard.

Before he was appointed minister to Turkey, in 1897, James Burrill Angell had been professor in modern languages and literature at Brown university, president of the University of Vermont from 1866 to 1871 and then president of the University of Michigan. In 1896 he was appointed a member of the deep water commission.

Andrew Dickson White, who was professor of history and English literature in the University of Michigan and then president of Cornell (1867), was sent to St. Petersburg as an attache of the American legation, after which he was appointed minister to Germany from 1879 to 1881. At another time he was United States commissioner to Santo Domingo. Previous to these appointments he was a state senator from the Syracuse (N. Y.) district.

Carroll D. Wright was the first commissioner of the United States bureau of labor, in 1885. He first appeared in political life as a Republican presidential elector in 1876. In 1879 he was lecturer on phases of the labor question, ethically considered, at Lowell institute in Boston. In 1881 he was university lecturer on the factory system in Harvard. He was also president of the collegiate department of Clark university in Worcester, Mass.

William L. Wilson, who prepared the Mills tariff bill in 1888, was professor of Latin at Columbia university in 1865-71. At the time of his election to congress he was president of the West Virginia university.

Jacob Gould Schurman, professor of philosophy in Cornell in 1886 and president of that institution in 1892, went to the Philippines in 1899 as chairman of the Philippines commission, having been appointed by President McKinley.

Thomas Jonathan ("Stonewall") Jackson went to the field after he was professor of natural science and instructor of military tactics in the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va.

Edward Everett was an example of the scholar in politics. From the chair of Greek literature in Harvard in 1814 he went to the governor's chair of Massachusetts in 1834. In 1841 he was appointed minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain. After his return he was chosen president of Harvard and remained in that place from 1845 till 1849. He was in the cabinet of President Fillmore as secretary of state. In 1851 he was a United States senator from Massachusetts. In 1860 he was nominated for vice president on the Constitutional Union ticket.

David Jayne Hill of New Jersey was minister to Switzerland in 1903. Previous to his appointment to that post he was a professor and afterward president of Bucknell university. In 1888 he was president of Rochester university, and in 1898 he was appointed first assistant secretary of state.

Edward John Phelps of Vermont, who was sent by President Cleveland to the court of St. James, was president of the American Bar association in 1880 and at the time of his appointment as representative to Great Britain he was Kent professor of law in Yale, which place he held until his death, for while he was absent as minister the chair at Yale was kept vacant. In 1893 he was senior counsel for the United States in the Bering sea arbitration.

John Eaton of New Hampshire became president of Sheldon Jackson college, at Salt Lake, in 1895, after he had been commissioner of the United States bureau of education from 1871 to 1886.

Champ Clark, member of the lower house of congress from Missouri and now leader of the minority in the house, was president of Marshall college, West Virginia, in 1873-4.

The militant leader of the reform movement in Connecticut, Dr. Flavel Swetten Luther, is president of Trinity college. Seth Low gave up the presidency of Columbia university to become mayor of New York city, and he is actively engaged in civic measures at the present time. Governor Charles Hughes of New York was professor of law in Cornell university before he entered politics. The present mayor of Greater New York, George B. McClellan, was a member of the lower house of congress before he became mayor, and he is also a lecturer in Princeton.

George Bancroft was never a college president or a professor in a college, but his history is one of the text books of universities and colleges. In 1845 he was secretary of the navy in Polk's administration and was appointed minister to Great Britain in 1846. John Lothrop Motley is in the same class, but as a man of letters who became associated with public affairs he deserves mention in this connection. He was secretary of the American legation at St. Petersburg in 1841, United States minister to Austria in 1857 and to Great Britain in 1869.

James Monroe, J. Q. Adams, Martin Van Buren and James Buchanan were ministers to Great Britain. Monroe was also minister to France, and Jefferson represented this country as minister to France. Each became president of the United States.

ASA JAY.

DR. CHARLES WILLIAM ELIOT.

FACTS IN FLASHES.

Forests cover one-tenth of the surface of the world and one-quarter of Europe.

Two thousand yards was the utmost range of the fifty-two hundredweight guns used at the battle of Trafalgar.

It is calculated that by 1930 there will be no coal left in Britain within 4,000 feet of the surface.

Seventy thousand tons of cork are used yearly for bottling beer and mineral waters in England.

The longest recorded hair from a woman's head is eight feet, but a hair twelve feet long has been noted in a man's beard.

Fifty-four gallons out of every hundred of London's water supply come from the Thames and twenty-five gallons from the Lea.

Cabbage, like all vegetables which have been cultivated from remote times, is believed to be of European origin.

An air gun of large size, working on the principle of the pneumatic hammer, has been devised for killing animals in a humane manner.

THE 8-HOUR LAW

Was Passed to be Engrossed by the House

BOSTON, April 27.—The house spent two and a half hours yesterday on motions to reconsider votes of Friday.

In the first place Representative Duane of Waltham moved reconsideration of the vote whereby his bill for direct nominations in the 5th Middlesex senatorial district was rejected last Friday and the adverse report of the committee on election laws accepted. On a roll call reconsideration prevailed, 112 to 87. The question then recurred on the motion to substitute. Here again Representative Duane won out and his bill was substituted for the adverse committee report, 112 to 83.

Representative Hall of North Adams moved reconsideration of the rejection of the bill to regulate the practice of osteopathy. Friday last, practically without discussion, and with comparatively few members in the house, this measure was rejected without division. When Representative Hall made his motion to reconsider Representative Cushing of Boston objected. The house was spending too much time in reconsidering matters, he observed, and if the present pace was maintained the legislature would be in session next summer.

Representative Weeks of Everett, however, insisted that the house should reconsider. The bill had not been given that consideration which its importance warranted. Not only should the rejection be reconsidered, he said, but the house should pass the measure along.

Eight-Hour Bill Advanced

On a rollcall the motion to reconsider prevailed. The question then recurred on ordering the bill to a third reading and after a general debate in which the bill was favored by Messrs. Weeks, Hall, Elmore, Stearns, Brown and Montague, and opposed by Messrs. Callahan, Oliver and Riley, the bill was ordered to a third reading, 84 to 71.

The house discussed the eight-hour bill about an hour and finally passed it to be engrossed.

This measure, sponsored by Representative Fay of Boston, provides that laborers, mechanics and workmen engaged on public work shall not be "permitted" to work more than eight hours in any one day. The present law says they shall not be "required" to work longer.

Mr. Fay had an amendment in to exempt the state printer from the proposed act during the legislative session and in the fall when getting the ballots ready. Representative Dorman, opposing the Fay bill, offered a substitute measure to permit overtime work but providing that the employe shall receive double compensation therefor.

The Fay bill was opposed by Representative Bishop of Newton. It was favored by Representative Parks of Fall River, Mildram of Boston, White of Brookline and Carmody of Worcester. Representative Dorman of Lynn spoke for his bill, and this was favored by Representative Moore of Duxbury.

On a voice vote the house adopted the Fay amendment in favor of the state printer, rejected the Dorman substitute, and, as amended, ordered the Fay bill to be engrossed without a division.

TAINTED BEEF LAW

Was Attacked in Lower Branch of the Legislature

BOSTON, April 27.—The law enacted in 1908, providing that the carcasses of cattle infected "to any degree" with tuberculosis or any other disease could not be sold in Massachusetts, was vigorously assailed at the public hearing on Gov. Draper's message of March 25, held yesterday before the joint judiciary committee at the state house. Chairman Spalding presided and prominent veterinarians, health officials and butchers and dealers in livestock voiced their opinions.

It was charged that the enforcement of the law worked to the detriment of the commercial interests. Ex-Atty. Gen. Herbert Parker presented an amendment to last year's bill at the opening of the hearing, which he believed would clarify the existing situation in the beef industry as a result of Atty. Gen. Malone's interpretation of the statute.

Discussing the amendment which he offered, Mr. Parker said that it strikes out the prohibition upon the sale of meat "which has come to its death in any manner or by any means otherwise than by slaughter or killing while in a healthy condition," and prohibition of the sale of meat of cattle" as described in section 1" and substitutes a prohibtion on meat that "is found to be infected by disease or so diseased as to be unfit for food."

New Section to Beef Law

It also adds a new section, which reads as follows: "Any carcasses of animals, or any parts or products of the same, may be offered for sale, sold or otherwise disposed of for food, when authorized or permitted by the rules and regulations of the chief of the cattle bureau, made and approved in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 and 7 of chapter 90 of the revised laws, as amended by chapter 116 of the acts of 1902. Provided, however, that no carcass, part or product thereof, of any animal, in any degree affected or infected with tuberculosis, shall be offered for sale, or sold for food, within the commonwealth.

This last clause, Mr. Parker pointed out, absolutely prohibits the sale in Massachusetts of any part of the carcass of an animal which is in any degree infected with tuberculosis, and while eminent authorities hold that the flesh of such animals may be eaten with perfect safety, still there is a very strong sentiment against its use, and the interests which he represents are willing to make this sacrifice to meet the wishes of the public, if the legislature deems it wise.

Would Follow the Federal Law

Chairman Spalding asked why perfectly good beef should be destroyed, and Mr. Parker said there is no reason for it except the misconception the public at present entertains relative to diseased beef. Senator Spalding suggested that it might be well for the commonwealth to follow exactly the federal statute, with an additional proviso that meat which is in any degree affected or infected shall not be offered for sale. Mr. Parker said he had no objection.

Mr. Parker, who appeared for Mr. Hapgood, president of a large slaughtering concern in Brighton, said that the act of 1908 makes a serious interference with legitimate enterprise, as it requires a too rigorous condemnation of property. He believed that the state may well place its own law in accord with the federal enactments, which have been found thorough, effective and adequate.

Dr. Burr of the Boston board of health, who has had 20 years' experience at the Brighton abattoir, said that what was wanted was immediate relief from the present interpretation of the law. He said that the number of cattle killed at Brighton during April, 1908, was 2511, and of that number 15, or 6238 pounds, were condemned. In the last four weeks there were 1146 killed, and out of that number 42, or 26,495 pounds, were condemned. He said that the proportion of hogs condemned was even greater.

Old Law Defended

Dr. Austin Peters, cattle commissioner, suggested that the best way to relieve the present situation was to repeal section 1 of chapter 329 of the acts of 1908, or the whole chapter, and then have a commission to codify the existing cattle inspection laws.

Ex-Atty. Gen. Albert E. Pillsbury unqualifiedly declared that there is no need whatever for any change in the law, as it does not at present prevent the sale of meat that is pure and wholesome, notwithstanding the opinions of the eminent attorneys who have declared that it does. In his opinion, there is no manner in which the law can be construed as Messrs. Parker, Malone and Storey have construed it, as the word "disease" in the second clause, which manifestly is an important word, is rendered of no effect under their construction.

Sec. J. Lewis Ellsworth of the state board of agriculture said that the interpretation put upon the law of 1908 is working a great hardship all over the state, animals being condemned which are perfectly wholesome to eat. J. A. Hathaway of Brighton compared the small number of cattle he was killing at present, as compared with former business, and said he was sending the greater part of his beef to England.

Loose Inspection Condemned

Warren C. Jewett of Worcester, representing the state grange, said the persons whom he represented were opposed to the present construction put upon the law as to cattle, which would certainly kill the beef and cattle industry of the state.

FOR BABY'S SAKE
USE
Comfort
ANTISEPTIC TOILET Powder
Then his skin will be free from itching, chafing, scalding, rashes, and all soreness. The original and best baby powder.
Be sure you get "COMFORT" POWDER.
Box with Baby's Head and Trained Nurse.

PATHETIC STORY

Of Illness of Adlai Stevenson

CHICAGO, April 27. — A pathetic story of Adlai Stevenson's illness at a hospital here, has just come to light. During the time the former vice president lay ill from the effects of an operation, his sister, Mrs. McCaughey of Sioux City, Ia., died, and two days later his brother William of Bloomington, Ill., also passed away.

Fearing the effect of this news on the patient's mind and fearing more the danger of accidental disclosure, his Chicago friends decided to send for his wife and to have her tactfully tell him of one of the deaths.

When he recovered from the shock of this it was decided he should be informed of the other. Mrs. Stevenson arrived Sunday morning and performed her delicate task, telling her husband only of the death of his brother.

In the afternoon Federal Judge Kohlsat visited the distinguished patient, but his conversation could not draw the mind of the afflicted man from his grief. Mr. Stevenson spoke to the judge of the great blow that the news of his brother's death had been to him. Supposing the sick man knew of both the deaths, Judge Kohlsat naturally remarked:

"Yes, indeed: it must have been a severe shock, coming along with the death of your sister."

That was the former vice president's first inkling of the second tragedy.

SURPRISE PARTY

AT RESIDENCE OF MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN WARD

There was a surprise party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ward, last night, by the employes of the Domas Co., in honor of their daughter Evelyn, who has just completed one year of married life. The shower of tins came one by one, and a verse appropriate to the article given was also recited. Each verse was original and among those present were the following: Miss Nellie Chitty, Miss Margaret Martin, Miss Sadie Braden, Miss Genevieve Smith, Mrs. J. Johnson, Miss Mollie Doherty, Miss Mabel Ferguson, Miss May McLaughlin, Mrs. F. Foster, Mr. Martin Wyke, Mr. Wm. Edge, Mr. Thomas Edge, Miss Adelaide Sullivan, Miss Jones, Mrs. J. Smith, Miss Minnie Damon, Miss Spilaine and the Misses Bertha and Amilda Cote. Those responsible for the musical part of the program were: Miss Genevieve Smith, who gave a number of selections on the piano; solos, Miss Spilaine and Miss Mollie Doherty; jokes were given by Mrs. J. Johnson. Seasonable refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Ward proved to be most genial and hospitable hosts.

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS

BOSTON, April 27.—Two police inspectors left Boston today for Shreveport, La. to bring back to this city, Alexander B. Hugh who is under arrest in the Louisiana city. Hugh is wanted here for the alleged passing of worthless checks.

The Boston police officials say that the man is wanted in Brockton and Worcester and several cities and towns in Connecticut and New orkY state on similar charges.

FRENCH COOKING DEMONSTRATION LECTURE

The Lowell Gas Light company comes very near being up to the minute in most things, and particularly in looking after the interests of the Lowell public and all the public. Under its auspices and at its expense, Miss Carolyn Putnam Webber, through the aid of an interpreter, will give one of her cooking demonstration lectures before the French people of the city. Place, Bennett hall, corner Emerll and West Sixth streets; time, Thursday morning, April 29, at 9 o'clock. No admission fee and everyone more than welcome. The menu for the evening is as follows:

BONNE SOUPE AUX POIS
IMPERIAL STICKS
STEAK DE BOEUF A LA HENRIETTE
SAUCE HENRIETTE
RAMEKINS A LA STUYVESANT
SAUCE AUX TOMATES
PUFF AUX POTATES
SHORTCAKE AUX PECHES NOTTINGHAM

SCHOONER IS FREE

HYANNIS, April 27.—The schooner Alaska which grounded at the eastern entrance to the harbor during a gale Sunday night released herself from her precarious position early today and proceed under her own sail to an anchorage in the inner harbor. It was not believed that the vessel was damaged very severely.

Mr. Joseph P. Ginty writes that Barnum and Bailey's circus starts on the road Wednesday, April 27th. After a run of five weeks in the Coliseum, Chicago, Ill., the circus goes from Chicago to Champaign, Ill., and then to Bloomington, Ill., then to St. Louis, Mo., for a week's stay. Mr. Ginty is a musician with the circus.

I Just Love the Cakes Mama Bakes in our new Glenwood
"Makes Cooking Easy"

Plain "Mission Style."
No filigree or fancy nickel.
A room saver too—like the upright piano.

M. F. Gookin Company,
35 Market St., Lowell.

SKULL CRUSHED

Police Are Looking for Man's Son

NEW YORK, April 27.—The body of Thomas Browne, aged 60, was found in the kitchen of his home in Brooklyn today where he had been murdered some time during the night. His skull was crushed, probably with a stone. The police began to search for Edward Browne, his son, with whom he had a disagreement on Saturday.

$15,000 OFFER

FOR BOUT BETWEEN GOTCH AND HACKENSCHMIDT

SEATTLE, Wash., April 27. —The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition was offered $15,000 for a finish "go" between Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt for the wrestling championship of the world. Sixty per cent of the gate receipts, guaranteed not to be less than $15,000 together with a half interest in the picture rights and the traveling and training expenses, are used as the bait to blind the eyes of the wrestlers to the offer of $25,000 from Australia which is said to have been made.

A WATER GUN

TO BE USED TO STOP AUTO SCORCHING

HAMMOND, Ind., April 27.—The police of this town have devised a new plan to quench the ardor of the auto scorcher whose favorite stretch for speedway is Calumet avenue. Midway along this thoroughfare is a field telephone, installed and worked by an officer, who will send information to the farthest end of the approach of a violator of the speed ordinance.

Here will be established a water gun with a three inch nozzle and one hundred pounds pressure to the inch. It is claimed that on the refusal of the chauffeur to stop when ordered a stream will be turned upon him with a force sufficient to lift him out of the machine without inflicting serious injury.

BALTIMORE WOMAN

HAS ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The original manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner" has been located by the Francis Scott Key Memorial association, which is endeavoring to obtain possession of it. While it is improbable that the owner of this precious relic, a Baltimore woman, will consent permanently to part with it, the association hopes to be able to borrow the manuscript to place on exhibition at the old Key mansion in Georgetown, D. C.

CHILD IS DEAD

SHE SURVIVED HER MOTHER JUST ONE WEEK

EAST PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 27. —Surviving her mother just a week, 13-year-old Sarah Clinton, died here today of burns received. At that time the child's clothing caught fire from the kitchen stove and while she was rushing to aid her daughter, the mother, Mrs. Salina M. Clinton, dropped dead.

COTTON FUTURES

NEW YORK, April 27.—Cotton futures opened easy: May 10.55; June —; July 10.47; April 10.28; Sept., old., 10.18; Oct., 10.18; Nov., —; Dec. 10.15; Jan. 10.09; Feb., —; March 65c, 10.09.

Neuralgic Anodyne for RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA ACHES and PAINS

Try NEURALGIC ANODYNE for any pain or ache, no matter how severe and the result won't disappoint you.

It's human nature to procrastinate. Everyone knows that NEURALGIC ANODYNE will almost perform miracles in times of painful distress, and yet at such times many people will not have it on hand.

If you haven't NEURALGIO ANODYNE in the house, get a bottle right now. It is for sale everywhere, and a large bottle only costs 25 cents.

It cures neuralgia, rheumatism, pains in the chest or back, stomach pains, dysentery, coughs, nervous headaches, and all aches and pains. It is an absolute necessity in every household. The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

LIVELY RACE

AND HONORS WENT TO THE "KID"

Editor Sun:

A very exciting and enjoyable "Marathon" race was witnessed by a number of spectators on Appleton and Chelmsford streets last evening. The contest was due to an argument that arose in the Boston fish market, when Charles Allen made the assertion that he could "beat" any one in the market. One of the other clerks said that John McQuade, known at the market as the "kid," could give him a trimming and they made a wager on the result.

It was just 6.45 and the "course" was named as up Appleton to Chelmsford and conclude at the proprietor's residence in Norcross street. The contest started with both men on the scratch. It was followed by the other employes of the shop in teams, including the stakeholder. It was nip and tuck until the corner of Cambridge and Chelmsford streets was reached, when the "old man" succumbed and was taken in one of the teams to the barn. The "kid" continued and finished in fine condition. He received a great ovation and a good bit of change, while all Charlie got was a great guying.

Upon telephoning to the market today, the writer was informed that Charlie reported for work early and not so fully convinced as he was yesterday that the boy runner can best him.

Yours truly,

Tom Mahoney.

ST. PETER'S MISSION

St. Peter's church, auditorium and basement, was crowded again last evening at the second night's services in the women's mission. Rev. Fr. Robert, C. P., preached a powerful sermon on "Mortal Sin." The children who are making the mission made their confession this afternoon and their mission will close tomorrow.

WILL IS OPPOSED

Relatives Seek Estate of Mrs. Noble

MANSFIELD, April 27.—There is to be a contest of the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth F. Noble of this town, who died April 2 at the age of 94, leaving a fortune estimated at from $600,000 to $800,000.

Mrs. Noble left generous sums of money to charitable and other public organizations in New York, Boston and other places, while her relatives, nearly all of whom are said to be poor, were bequeathed only from $50 to $3000 apiece as a rule.

Several of the relatives are to contest the will on the ground that Mrs. Noble was mentally incompetent when the document was drafted. The will is dated Dec. 7, 1901, when Mrs. Noble was in her 86th year.

Mrs. Noble had no children of her own. Her husband, a wealthy New York business man, died 40 years ago and left her all his money. He is said to have been in the coal business. About 20 years ago Mrs. Noble came to Mansfield and moved into a handsome house deeded to her by her brother, Henry Kinsell, located on South Main street near Park row. Here she lived alone with her maid up to the time of her death.

Practically the only relatives Mrs. Noble has living are nieces and nephews and grand-nieces and grand-nephews. None of these live in Mansfield but are scattered all over the United States. Among the principal ones mentioned in the will are Catherine A. McClellan of New York, but now in Florida, niece; Annie S. Emley of New York, niece; Elizabeth M. Johnson of Milford, niece; Lucy M. Smith of Malden, niece; Robert Kinsell of Washington, D. C., nephew; Nellie Kinsell of St. Louis, grand-niece; Dudley Kinsell of Oakland, Cal., grand-nephew; Omega K. Swartz of St. Louis, Mo., grand-niece; Benjamin Kinsell of Dallas, Texas, grand-nephew; Geo. H. Stoddard of Somerville, grand-nephew; Victor H. Stoddard of Melrose, and Frederick A. Stoddard of Melrose, grand-nephews.

The largest bequest received by any one of these was $8000. Practically all the others were under $3000 or $4000, while some were as low as $50, it is said. In addition to the above named Mrs. Helen Hooper of Lexington received $1000 and Miss Annie Thompson of Lynn $500. Hattie Cavaner, who was Mrs. Noble's maid, was deeded a tenement house on Union street and several thousand dollars.

THINK IT OVER

But don't think too long. A 25c shaving mug, a cake of Colgate's shaving soap and a good father brush, all for 25c. Howard, the druggist, 197 Central street. (College boys 5c. Ice cream soda 5c.)

If you are savingly inclined,
You stretch your dollars to the limit.
At Coburn's you will find
More truth than poetry in it.

HARRISON'S
"Town and Country PAINT"

Will keep your house in good looks longer and for less cost than any other.

All Regular Shades $1.60 a Gal.

C. B. COBURN CO.
63 MARKET ST.

IS CHAMPION

MAX LUTTBEG DEFEATED ALBERT WASSON

CHICAGO, April 27.—Max Luttbeg of Kansas City won the lightweight wrestling championship of America by defeating Albert Wasson of St. Louis in the final match at the lightweight tournament at the Illinois A. C. last night.

The preliminaries having taken up so much time the principals agreed to wrestle one fall to a finish for the title. Luttbeg took the fall in 25 minutes after an exciting tussle with a half nelson and bar arm hold. Wasson was awarded second money.

Ernest Limberg of Chicago won third money by winning from Arthur in a one fall match with a scissors and body hold.

FIRE STARTED

IN THE WAYS OF BATTLESHIP FLORIDA

NEW YORK, April 27.—Some excitement was created in the New York navy yard in Brooklyn today when fire was discovered working under the bows of the splendid new battleship Florida which is under construction there. Investigation showed that the ways had caught fire probably from a hot rivet dropped by one of the workmen. An orderly who discovered the fire and a sentry used a chemical extinguisher to such good effect that a fire engine on arrival had nothing to do. Work was resumed as usual on the battleship. The damage was trifling.

CAPT. BENSON

WAS MEANS OF STOPPING FILIBUSTERING EXPEDITION

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Captain Benson of the cruiser Albany, who has been in Central American waters under instructions from this government to watch developments in that territory, it was learned here was the means of stopping an alleged filibustering expedition in command of Capt. John Moissant, an American, which was about to cross from Nicaragua into Salvator. Details have not yet been received. The expedition, it is alleged, was to start under cover of night. Captain Benson threatened to open fire, it is said, if the supposed filibusters made any move.

COL. STANFORD

TO REPRESENT UNITED STATES AT CONFERENCE

NEWPORT, R. I., April 27.—Lieut. Col. James C. Sanford, U. S. A. corps of engineers will sail on May 4 as the representative of the United States to the annual meeting of the permanent international association of navigation congresses which is to be held at Brussels on May 17. He will act as the delegate of the American commission, the members of which are Brigadier General Raymond, retired; Lieut. Hodges, corps of engineers at Panama; E. L. Corthell and John Bogart, civil engineers of New York.

Plans for the next international navigation congress will be formulated at this meeting which will be attended by delegates from most of the countries of the world. The congress is held at intervals of about three years, and at its sessions questions concerning inland and maritime navigation are considered and other matters connected with the improvement of waterways discussed.

TRE CENTENARY

OF THE BIRTH OF OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—In connection with the centenary of the birth of Oliver Wendell Holmes which will be celebrated appropriately at Harvard university tonight, the exhibition of the various editions of the author's works, manuscripts and other memorabilia was visited today by hundreds of persons. At tonight's exercises President Eliot of Harvard will preside and among the literary guests expected are Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Julia Ward Howe, Judge Robert Grant, George W. Cable, Florence Earle Coates of Philadelphia, Prof. Arlo Bates of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Prof. Thomas R. Lounsberry of Yale.

Lowell, Tuesday, April 26, 1909

A. G. Pollard Co.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

OUR OFFERING OF

NEW SPRING WOOLENS

69c a Yard for $1.00 to $1.50 Grades

Includes all the most popular novelty goods made by one of the biggest and best mills. Every good shade and new weave you have seen is represented. Plain and fancy panamas, serges, mannish suitings, English mixtures, shadow stripes and checks — strictly all wool and full 50 or 54 inches wide.

We offer some 15,000 yards of short lengths and part pieces for your choosing.

We invite your attention to our Window Show, Merrimack Street.

REMEMBER—$1.00 TO $1.50 DRESS GOODS ONLY

69c Yard

Palmer Street, Right Aisle

You're Interested in Wunderhose

Children's .....4 pairs for $1.00
Ladies' .....3 pairs for $1.00
Men's Half Hose.....4 pairs for $1.00

And the makers assure you that the dollar's worth of either size will wear three months without darning at heel or toe, or they'll replace any worn ones you send to them.

We are the sole sellers of these good stockings for this section—Let us show them to you at the Men's or Ladies' Hosiery Sections.

East Section, Left Aisle—West Section, Left Aisle

ON SALE TODAY

Laces At Less Than Half Price

There are 350 pieces of Fine Torchon, Linen and Valenciennes, Edgings and Insertions for all kinds of trimmings, all new patterns, fresh from the importers. Laces that wash and will wear. The reductions are most attractive.

Torchon Laces—fine quality, edges and insertions to match, 5c and 8c value at .....3c Yard

Fine Torchon Laces—all new patterns, very fine quality, all widths, 10c and 12½c values at .....5c Yard

All Linen Laces—nice fine quality, from one inch to four inches wide, very handsome patterns, 10c to 15c value at .....5c Yard

Sale in Our Basement Bargain Department

Palmer Street, Basement

LIVED IN LOWELL

Mother and Daughter Married to the Same Man

DENVER, April 27.—Mrs. Luella Nicholson, widow of William Curtis, a railroad employe of Ayer, Mass., and divorced wife of Edward Booth, a Boston man, is now being held in the city jail, together with her husband, Edward Nicholson, and her daughter, Sadie Nicholson. Meanwhile the police are confronted with a matrimonial dilemma. Nicholson is said to be the husband of both Mrs. Luella and Sadie.

The trio were arrested Saturday night at their temporary residence, 260 South Broadway, where they, in company with the landlady, had been engaged in a hand-to-hand fight. At police headquarters the elder Mrs. Nicholson gave an inkling that led to revelations concerning the married lives of her husband, her daughter and herself which Chief of Police Armstrong declares are unrivaled for intricacy.

Mrs. Nicholson's Story

Mrs. Luella Nicholson, as she states her story, is a Massachusetts woman. She married, when 16 years old, William Curtis, then an employe of the Nashua & Fitchburg railroad. The couple had been wedded not more than two years when Curtis was discharged. Quarrels followed and the young mother was frequently left alone for days with their baby, the 8-month-old Sadie. In 1893 he was killed by a Nashua & Fitchburg train near Ayer.

Mrs. Curtis moved soon after to Lowell and worked in the mills. In 1898 she went to Boston, where she met Edward Booth and they were married. The couple lived in Boston for five years and a son Harry was born. Then Mrs. Curtis-Booth discovered that Booth had a wife in Boston. The marriage was annulled.

Leaving Harry in Boston with friends the disappointed woman went with Sadie to Chicago. There she encountered William Van Rossen, whom she wedded. She sent to Boston for Harry and there promised to be some happiness for the young woman. But when she and her third husband left Chicago for Denver, domestic felicity was again menaced and later destroyed by the present husband, who maintains that the much wedded woman threatened death to both herself and her husband if she did not obtain a divorce and marry him. The decree was gotten. Nicholson and Mrs. Curtis-Booth-Van Rossen were then married. Incidentally Nicholson is a cousin of Jesse James, the famous bandit.

Sadie's Three Husbands

Meanwhile Sadie had grown up and the son, Harry, had been sent to an orphanage at Van Rossen's instigation. Nicholson, who is said to have already had a wife in Cheyenne, became enamored of Sadie and when she married William Chesney is said to have forced the couple by threats to divorce. The same is reported as the fate of the girl and her two ensuing husbands, Ed Rolander and Charles Yarbrough.

Then, after chasing his stepdaughter to Raton, N. M., he is charged with marrying her. This was before he had been divorced from his first wife or from his bride's mother. What appears to be the stepfather, husband, and the stepdaughter-wife went to California for a honeymoon and then returned to Denver, where they were arrested on account of the chance fight.

Mrs. Nicholson, the elder, claims to have two brothers in Massachusetts. Her son Harry, she thinks, is in or about Boston, adopted from an asylum by a private family. She has been kept from searching for the boy, who is now 14 years old, by her last two husbands, who would not support him.

Another Bridegroom Waiting

Later information apprises the police of the fact that Mrs. Luella Nicholson if she had not been arrested Saturday night would have again been married Sunday afternoon. She acknowledged freely that she had had an appointment with a man, the name of whom she refused to divulge, to meet him at a designated place and there be wedded.

The daughter, whose two children, Luella and Walter, are in confinement with her, was also acquainted with the state of affairs and states that her mother was forced by threats of the husband and stepfather to undertake the step, Nicholson calculating that if she should again marry she would also be guilty of bigamy and therefore not be in a position to prosecute as she had intimated she would do.

The accused man claims to be a native of Kentucky, where he has influential relatives, whom, he says, will assist him when they hear of his predicament.

TO SIGNAL MARS

Prof. Pickering Has Been Offered Sum of $10,000,000

BOSTON, April 27.—William Henry Pickering, professor of astronomy at Harvard university, yesterday received a telegram from Fort Worth, Tex., proposing that if the professor would go to Texas to superintend extensive experiments for signalling to the planet Mars, $10,000,000 would be raised for the purpose. The telegram was signed by The Star and The Telegram, the two leading newspapers in Fort Worth.

Prof. Pickering said last night that he would heartily enter into any experiments of this kind, but that he would advise those who made the offer to wait until additional and more conclusive evidence as to life on Mars had been procured before spending so large a sum on experiments which might prove of little value. He has not yet replied to the telegram.

Advocates Observatory

Prof. Pickering said he would counsel those behind the movement to establish an observatory of the highest possible efficiency in some favorable location in western Texas, where he and other astronomers could carry on extended observations of the planet within the next few years. This could be done, he said, for a very small part of the immense sum which it is proposed to expend on the undertaking. Those observations, the professor said, might yield information such as would warrant further and more costly steps, namely, the building of enormous reflectors by means of which the sun's light could be reflected with sufficient intensity to reach through the 45,000,000 miles between the earth and Mars and attract the attention of the planet's inhabitants.

In discussing the matter Prof. Pickering said:

"The brevity of the telegram does not permit me to say from what sources the money for the experiments is coming—the telegram was signed only with the names of the newspapers.

"However, I don't feel that we know enough about the planet as yet to spend much money in signaling to possible inhabitants. But the planet will shortly come around into a position of exceptional advantage for observation. As it moves about its orbit it comes into a position where it is nearer the earth than any other time of the year. Its average mean distance from the earth in the last several years was approximately 45,000,000 miles.

Mars Coming Nearer

"But next fall—or rather, late next summer, the planet will swing round to a position only 35,000,000 miles from the earth. If an observatory of efficiency is in working order in the clear atmosphere of the west Texan hills about that time, some very surprising observations and records might be procured. If the observations found in that way warranted going on with the work, there would still be plenty of time for expending the large sums necessary to build the immense multiple reflectors.

"Our knowledge of Mars is not so very extended as yet. We all know that there are lakes there and canals connecting them in some places. In many respects these canals seem to be artificial; for instance, they are straight in their lines of construction, and at their junction with the lakes have formations and constructions which, by all the laws of the world in which we live, are artificial and not of natural construction of growth.

"That is one of the things which an observatory such as I suggest might determine—whether or not these canals are natural or artificial; whether they are really straight or merely appear so because of the inconceivable distance through which we see them."

"Doctor's Daughter"

Talk on the Stomach

The stomach and digestive organs are many times the cause of some disease which might have been prevented if these organs had performed their natural functions, and the great variety of symptoms which arise from a disordered condition of the stomach and liver, cause many people to think that they have some awful disease, the consequence of which is, that they do nothing for their stomach, but doctor for some other trouble. A poor acting stomach and liver will cause headache, backache, nervous troubles, distress after eating, bloating, sour stomach, heart pressure, insomnia, loss of flesh, constipation and many other disagreeable feelings. If you are a sufferer of any trouble and your stomach or liver is out of order correct these troubles first, get the benefit of the food you eat, and your other troubles will many times correct themselves. Stomach-Rite, the combined stomach and liver remedy has an unequaled record of many remarkable cures to its credit, and when you need a stomach remedy, get the best, a remedy that gives results, not promises, that's Stomach-Rite. One 50 cent box will quickly convince you the true worth of this medicine. There is nothing just as good, insist on Stomach-Rite.

Very truly yours,
DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

Summer Prices For COAL

Buy Early and Get the Best

E. A. Wilson & Co.

4 Merrimack Square—700 Broadway—15 Tanner Street

ASKS FREEDOM

Woman Says She Was Illegally Jailed

BOSTON, April 27.—Molly Clark, alias Minnie Williams, petitioned the supreme court yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus against Sheriff Seavey for her release out of Charles street jail. She is being held there in default of bail upon an indictment for larceny. She was claimed to have worked the badger game and got $2200 from Maxime Bellville and on James Barrett when she got $275.

Her claim to her freedom is based upon the ground that she was once put in jeopardy upon the whole indictment and that while the government sought to elect to try her only on the charge of larceny from Barrett and then consented to a verdict of not guilty on it, the election to try only that count came too late. Hence, in effect, she claims the whole indictment was disposed of and her release should have been ordered.

She was brought to trial on March 17 in the superior court. The jury was empanelled. The indictment was read to it. Then the prosecuting attorney elected to proceed on only the count concerning Barrett. Later the government consented to a verdict of not guilty on that. She claims the whole indictment was put before the jury, and that she was in legal contemplation on trial upon it and put in jeopardy, and cannot be tried over again on the remaining count relating to Bellville's $2200. An order of notice was issued returnable today.

GREAT TRADE

BETWEEN U. S. AND NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Trade between the United States and its non-contiguous territories will aggregate approximately 150 million dollars in the fiscal year which ends with June next, against approximately 70 millions in 1899, a decade earlier. For the eight months for which the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor has complete figures the shipments of merchandise from the United States to its non-contiguous territories—Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands, Guam, Midway Islands, and Tutuila—amounted to 43½ million dollars, and the shipments of merchandise from those territories to the United States amounted to 52½ million dollars. These figures relate only to merchandise. The value of the native gold shipped from Alaska to the United States in the period in question was 16¾ million dollars or more than twice the purchase price of Alaska.

The shipments of merchandise from the non-contiguous territories to the United States for the eight months ending with February, 1909 (52½ million dollars), show an increase of about 2 million dollars over the corresponding period of 1908, and 5½ million dollars over the corresponding period of 1907. The merchandise shipped from the United States to the non-contiguous territories in the same period (43½ million dollars) shows a decrease of about a half million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of 1908, but an increase of about three-quarters of a million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of 1907.

This slight decrease in the shipments to the non-contiguous territories in 1909, as compared with 1908, is due in part at least to the fall in prices of certain classes of articles sent to those territories. Prices of many manufacturers have ranged somewhat lower in the eight months ending with February, 1909, than those of the corresponding periods of 1908 and 1907, and as a consequence this fall in prices has given a lower total of values even in cases where the quantity shipped was greater. In manufactures of iron and steel, which form an important item in the shipments to Alaska, prices are less than those of 1908 and 1907; in cotton manufactures, which form an important item in the shipments to Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines, prices are also less than those of the immediately preceding years.

The value of merchandise shipped from the United States to Alaska during the period in question was $9,470,452, against $10,694,384, in the corresponding months of the immediately preceding year. The value of the merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States in the same period was $12,155,533, against $10,172,747 in the corresponding months of the preceding year. The principal articles forming the 9½ million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Alaska in the period under consideration were: Iron and steel manufactures, $1,162,704, against $1,571,269 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products, $1,308,268, against $1,121,448 in the same months of last year; breadstuffs, $457,258; manufactures of wool, $455,548; manufactures of cotton, $351,532; fruits and nuts, $346,158; leather and manufactures thereof, $227,898; mineral oils, $270,125; spirits, wines, and liquors, $[illegible]; vegetables, $372,032; and wood and manufactures thereof, $435,966. The 12 million dollars' worth of merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States included: Canned salmon, $8,859,793; fish, other than salmon, $[illegible]; copper ore, $165,905; furs and fur skins, $175,314; and whalebone, $[illegible]. Of the 12 million dollars' worth of merchandise coming from Alaska, $[illegible] entered at the port of San Francisco, $3,387,512 at Seattle, and $[illegible] at Tacoma. Of the merchandise sent to Alaska, $5,771,[illegible] went out through the customs district of Puget Sound, and $377,482 went out through San Francisco.

Of the $11,180,119 worth of merchandise sent to the Hawaiian Islands in the eight months under consideration, breadstuffs amounted to $1,240,[illegible], against $1,070,374 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; cotton manufactures $1,[illegible], against $884,455 in the corresponding months of the preceding year; iron and steel manufactures, $1,653,676, against $1,256,205 in the same months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products $186,720; mineral oil, $842,183; spirits, wines and liquors, $377,695; and wood and manufactures thereof, $650,860. Of this total 7 1-4 million dollars worth went out of San Francisco, a little over 1 1-2 million dollars worth out of Puget Sound, and nearly 2 million dollars worth out of New York. Of the $22,647,780 worshipped from the Hawaiian islands to the United States, sugar amounted to $20,937,649, against $18,819,428 in the same months of last year; canned fruits, $728,323, against $572,420 in the same months of last year; fruits, green, ripe, or dried, $149,245, against $102,302 in the same months of last year; coffee, $129,993, against $49,961 in the same months of last year; rice, $174,330; and wood and manufactures thereof, $55,169. Of this 22 1-2 million dollars worth of merchandise sent from the Hawaiian Islands, about 10 millions went to San Francisco and about 12 millions to New York and Philadelphia, chiefly the former.

Of the $15,827,039 worth of merchandise sent to Porto Rico, breadstuffs amounted to $1,299,659, against $1,182,863 in the same months of last year; cotton manufactures to $2,594,178, against $1,800,378 in the same months of last year; manufactures of iron and steel, $2,015,061, against $2,908,130 in the same months of the preceding year; meat and dairy products, $1,633,094, against $1,598,539 in the corresponding months of last year; rice, $2,214,166, against $2,195,515 in the same months of the preceding year; wood and manufactures thereof, $805,230; vegetables, $316,806; spirits, wines and liquors, $172,477; and mineral oil, $222,986. The $10,750,057 worth of merchandise sent from Porto Rico to the United States in the period under consideration included: Sugar, $5,643,576, against $6,764,235 in the corresponding months of last year; cigars, $2,950,827, against $2,195,184 in the corresponding months of last year; leaf tobacco, $820,995, against $1,139,981 in the same months of last year; fruits and nuts, $707,509; coffee, $5468, against $9354 in the same months of 1908 and $14,514 in the same months of 1907. Nearly all of the trade of Porto Rico with the United States passes through the port of New York.

Of the $6,874,826 worth of merchandise sent from the United States to the Philippine Islands during the eight months ending with February, 1909, iron and steel manufactures amounted to $1,503,037, against $2,320,323 in the corresponding months of last year; explosives, including dynamite, cartridges, gunpowder, etc., $724,572, against $432,023 in the same months of last year; cotton manufactures, $497,235, against $571,926 in the corresponding months of 1908; mineral oils, $571,705, against $522,057 in the same months of preceding year; meat and dairy products, $278,456; spirits, wines, and liquors, $31,760; manufactures of tobacco, $88,074; and leather and its manufactures, $256,640. The $7,070,132 worth of merchandise sent from the Philippines to the United States included: Manila hemp, $4,938,712, against $4,725,568 in the corresponding months of last year, a fall of nearly 2 million dollars in the value, although the quantity actually increased by several thousand tons; sugar, $1,594,604, against $813,800 for the same months of last year; cocoanut meat, copra, etc., $193,672; cocoanut oil, $177,409; chemicals, $38,579; and straw hats, $18,444.

Of the 9½ million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Alaska in the period under consideration, 4¼ million was manufactures ready for consumption, and 4½ million was in foodstuffs. Of the 11 million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Hawaii for the period under consideration 6½ million was manufactures ready for consumption and nearly 3 millions foodstuffs. Of the 15½ million dollars' worth sent to Porto Rico practically 8 million was manufactures ready for consumption and a little more than 6 million foodstuffs. Of the 6¾ million dollars value sent to the Philippines 4½ million was manufactures ready for consumption and 1½ million foodstuffs.

FALLING HAIR is the forerunner of baldness. If you wish to prevent it, start in now to use and see how quickly the new hairs will begin to come in; good strong healthy ones too. The old hairs will stop falling out, and dandruff, the cause of baldness, will disappear. Then you will have a head of hair to be proud of.

Hay's Hair Health

IS NOT A DYE.

$1 AND 50c. BOTTLES, AT DRUGGISTS.

Hay's Harfina Soap cures Eczema, red, rough and chapped hands, and all skin diseases. Keeps skin fine and soft. 25c. druggists. Send 2c. for free books, "The Care of the Skin," "The Care of the Hair."

Philo Hay Spec. Co., Newark, N. J.

FALLS & BURKINSHAW

WOMEN OUSTED

Clerk of the U. S. Circuit Court Opposed Judges

BOSTON, April 27.—The announcement was made yesterday of the resignation of Mrs. Lillian C. Tucker, deputy clerk of the U. S. circuit court, and the discharge of her sister, Miss Edith Rollins, employed as a clerk in the court, by Clerk Alexander H. Trowbridge.

Mrs. Tucker has been in the service of the court for about 25 years, entering the office when scarcely more than 15 years old. With the late John G. Stetson as clerk, she rose steadily, being appointed deputy in 1900.

Last September, on the death of Benjamin J. Bradlee, the chief deputy clerk, she succeeded to his position with the attendant salary of $2500. As deputy clerk she had a large part of the work of the office to carry on.

Thought Salary Too Much

Mr. Trowbridge, in an interview yesterday afternoon, stated that he had requested and received her resignation Nov. 16 last. He had objected to a woman receiving the salary of $2500, which Mr. Bradlee had had, and though he had made application for its payment it was only on the recommendation of the judges of the court and contrary to his own ideas, especially in view of the insufficiency of funds in the office. At the time, he added, an official in the office of the attorney general at Washington, to whom he made the application, stated that the payment of such a salary to a woman was quite unprecedented.

In addition to the disagreement over the matter of salary, he said there had been other troubles. Mrs. Tucker, he admitted, had great ability and the quality of her work had been excellent but as she was ambitious to the last degree and highly popular with the judges she tended, he said, to assume authority which did not belong to her as deputy clerk, so that he himself was unable to accomplish anything or have his recommendations approved by the court unless they were approved by her.

GOVERNOR'S SON

Will Continue to Work in Mill

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 27.—Despite the fact that a reconciliation between Bristow Draper and his father, the governor, has been effected, the young man will not return to Hopedale. He will continue to work in the cotton mill here, where for the past year, since his marriage with Queenie Sanford, he has labored as a common spinner for $7.50 per week.

By the side of beautiful Lake Champlain stands the little cottage where the heir to the Draper millions found true happiness with the wife for whom he gave up all else, and the bright eyed baby boy, whose dimples and smiles triumphed over parental sternness. Here he will make his home. Bristow Draper no longer works as a common spinner for a $7.50 wage, for his own ability has won him recognition and promotion.

Both Mrs. Draper and her husband were anxious that the young man should go to college and take up a profession, preferably the law. He entered Harvard in accordance with their wishes, but it was not long before he announced to his parents that he had made up his mind to go to work. The father was disappointed, but a position was offered the young man in the mills at Hopedale.

Bristow Draper donned overalls and went to work in the machine shop. He did not go in as a machinist; he started at the very bottom of the ladder. It was not long before the boy, who was only 20 at the time he entered the shops, had made a mark.

He was treated just as were the other men in the shops. He labored with the rest from 7 in the morning until 6 at night.

When young Draper wed Queenie Sanford, the popular actress, there came the banishment which has just been recalled.

NUN KILLED

SHE WAS RUN OVER BY A HEAVY TRUCK

NEW YORK, April 27.—There is grief in the Dominican convent of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary in East 63d street, over the death of Sister Angela, who was run over by a truck in Third ave., late yesterday. Sister Angela, who, before taking the veil, was Miss Margaret O'Manning of Troy, N. Y., was out for a stroll with her sister Loretta, whom she had not seen for a number of years, when the accident occurred.

The younger woman was able to escape being knocked down by the unmanageable horse, but the nun, embarrassed by her heavy clothing, could not save herself. Both wheels of the truck passed over her, causing instant death. The body was taken to the convent between rows of children who loved the nun and who stood aside bareheaded and wept.

The driver of the truck, Isidor Wolf, was placed under arrest charged with homicide.

A SUICIDE

MRS. SPENCER KILLED HERSELF WITH A RIFLE

ORLEANS, Vt., April 27.—The second suicide in two weeks in this vicinity occurred yesterday when Mrs. Wallace Spencer, aged 50 years, sent a rifle bullet through her heart, immediate death resulting. Mrs. Spencer, who lived near Brownington, suffered a shock about a year ago, since which she has been in poor health. Sunday night she suffered considerable but felt [illegible] yesterday morning and helped [illegible] washing. After dinner her husband left the house to transact [illegible] business matter with a neighbor and during this moment of absence Mrs. Spencer went into the pantry and took [illegible] life.

She is survived by her husband and two sons.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frank [illegible] of Dorchester and Miss Edith [illegible] Staples of this city were married yesterday at high noon at the home of the bride's [illegible], Mrs. W. H. Sta[illegible] [illegible] Stevens street. Rev. E. Victor [illegible], pastor of the Eliot Congregational church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Edith [illegible], a sister of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. James Webster Jr., and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Edward F. Staples. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony by the [illegible] Page Co., and the couple left for a wedding tour. Their home will be in Plymouth, Mass.

"The Kayser"

Patent Finger-Tipped Silk Gloves

The pure silk fabric is made in our factory—made in our durable weave.

The double tips are famous as the tips that outwear the gloves.

The fit is perfection, as millions of women know.

And the guarantee found in every pair insures satisfaction.

50 Operations

The exquisite finish is due to 50 operations, through which every Kayser glove goes. All this has come through 25 years of experience. There are no other gloves which compare with them. These are the gloves which all women want, for they cost no more than the common. So look in the hem—see that "Kayser" is there. That is the only way to be sure of the genuine.

Short Silk Gloves 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25

Long Silk Gloves 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50

JULIUS KAYSER & CO. MAKERS NEW YORK

WERE NOL PROS'D

Boston Normal School Cases Disposed Of

BOSTON, April 27.—Dist. Atty. Hill yesterday nol pros'd the indictments against the Geo. W. Carr Co. and John J. McAllister, Roger Tansey and Nicola Gentile, based on alleged violations of the law in building the foundation of the new normal school in Huntington avenue. The indictments were found by the grand jury in August, 1906, at the instance of the late Dist. Atty. Moran. These are the first of the Moran special cases that Mr. Hill has thrown out. Several others have been resubmitted to the grand jury and new indictments were obtained.

The men named were charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of Boston in having used three bags of cement in a batch of concrete instead of four bags. The company was charged with building the foundation of a building of concrete without the authority of the building commissioners and the board of appeal.

BILLERICA

A stubborn brush fire broke out in the Shawsheen district in East Billerica Sunday night and had gained considerable headway before being discovered. The Billerica Centre fire department was notified and after promptly responding got down to work on the flames. Owing to the start that the fire had it took the firemen considerable time to get it under control. About 30 acres were burned over. A quantity of cord wood was also destroyed.

Two canoes and two dory boats, owned by people who frequent the Concord river during the summer time have been reported missing. One of the canoes had been stored in a boat house in North Billerica and when the owner went to look for it last week found that it was missing. The other boats belonged to campers on the Bridle road. The matter has been reported to the police.

BENEFIT FOR SCHAEFER

NEW YORK, April 27.—Billiard enthusiasts and admirers of Jake Schaefer, "the wizard of the cue" who is critically ill at Denver, Colo., played benefit games and took up collections for the former champion, in practically all the larger cities throughout the country last night. Men prominent in other sports gave their support to the testimonial liberally.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Nervous Women will find that Nature responds promptly to the gentle laxative effects, and the helpful tonic action of Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

Two 2 grain Quinine Capsules a Cup of Hot Water and one Blackburn's CascaRoyal-Pills Will Check a Cold in a Few Hours.

SIMPLEX Vacuum Cleaner

Operated by hand. Price $25 delivered. Rentals, $3.50 per day.

W. T. S. Bartlett

653-659 MERRIMACK ST.

The Uptown Hardware Store

TRUE'S ELIXIR

The Best Worm Medicine

For children and adults. Purely vegetable. In use since 1851. Reliable stomach remedy and laxative.

35 cts., 50 cts., $1.00—At all dealers

BAY STATE DYE WORKS

Have you had any work done with us since we installed our new machinery? If you have not you should give us a trial, for we do all kinds of dyeing, cleansing and pressing, as well as feathers, gloves and all kinds of ladies' garments dyed, cleansed and pressed, by the most improved methods. All work promptly attended to.

BAY STATE DYE WORKS

54 Prescott Street

D. J. LEARY, Proprietor

REMEMBER THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR TO GET THAT

Gas Stove, Ice Chest, Refrigerator, Tin Roof Conductor, or Gutters Repaired.

Special attention given to furnace and stove work

C. F. Hoisington & Son

141 Market St. Tel. Connection

All orders promptly attended to.

TRAINS TO AND FROM BOSTON

| SOUTHERN DIV. To Boston. Lve. | Arr. | From Boston. Lve. | Arr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 5.46 | 6.50 | 6.30 | 7.20 |
| a6.27 | 7.41 | 7.33 | 8.55 |
| a6.44 | 7.53 | 8.15 | 9.01 |
| 6.49 | 7.39 | 9.00 | 9.53 |
| 7.01 | 8.00 | 10.00 | 10.37 |
| 7.23 | 8.05 | 10.31 | 11.34 |
| b7.31 | 8.50 | 11.30 | 12.07 |
| 7.44 | 8.35 | 12.00 | 12.56 |
| 8.59 | 9.40 | 1.00 | 1.37 |
| b9.27 | 10.35 | 2.00 | 3.02 |
| 9.33 | 10.19 | 3.00 | 3.37 |
| 10.45 | 11.40 | b3.51 | 5.02 |
| 11.55 | 12.20 | e4.16 | 5.3? |
| 12.12 | 1.00 | 5.00 | 5.37 |
| 1.40 | 2.30 | b5.21 | 6.23 |
| 2.41 | 3.33 | 5.38 | 6.28 |
| 3.57 | 4.40 | b5.51 | 7.?3 |
| 4.28 | 5.30 | s6.1? | 7.39 |
| 5.20 | 6.15 | 7.35 | 8.09 |
| 6.10 | 7.19 | 8.50 | 9.05 |
| 6.28 | 7.10 | 10.30 | 11.34 |
| 7.52 | 8.35 | 11.20 | 12.16 |

| WESTERN DIV. To Boston. Lve. | Arr. | From Boston. Lve. | Arr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6.50 | 7.55 | s7.00 | 8.10 |
| 8.04 | 8.55 | 5.25 | 10.35 |
| 9.50 | 10.59 | 10.55 | 11.52 |
| 10.50 | 11.55 | 11.50 | 12.53 |
| 12.00 | 1.05 | 2.15 | 3.29 |
| 3.10 | 4.14 | 3.50 | 4.30 |
| 4.28 | 5.25 | 4.59 | 5.56 |
| 5.06 | 6.12 | 6.02 | 7.03 |
| 7.00 | 8.09 | 6.35 | 7.45 |
| 9.55 | 10.53 | 9.55 | 10.31 |
| | | *11.25 | 12.21 |

*Runs to Lowell Saturdays only. a Via Lawrence Junction.
b Via Bedford.
s Via Salem Jct.
z Via Wilmington Junction.

SUNDAY TRAINS

SOUTHERN DIVISION

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6.49 | 7.50 | 9.00 | 10.00 |
| 7.23 | 8.05 | 10.00 | 10.87 |
| 8.48 | 9.49 | 11.30 | 12.07 |
| 9.20 | 10.15 | 1.00 | 1.57 |
| 10.30 | 11.35 | 5.00 | 6.02 |
| 2.25 | 3.27 | 7.30 | 8.05 |
| 5.10 | 6.00 | 8.50 | 9.08 |
| 6.28 | 7.10 | 9.00 | 10.02 |
| 7.52 | 8.35 | 10.29 | 11.35 |

SUNDAY TRAINS

WESTERN DIVISION

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 8.20 | 9.24 | 8.00 | 9.05 |
| 12.10 | 1.15 | 12.00 | 1.00 |
| 8.50 | 5.00 | 2.15 | 3.23 |
| 5.45 | 7.00 | 3.39 | 4.40 |
| 8.50 | 10.02 | 6.20 | 6.35 |
| | | 8.40 | 9.42 |

LOCAL NEWS

You want printing; Tobin's Printery.

Hicks, eye expert, 137 Central street.

Dr. Walker, dentist, Central block.

Undertaker Finnegan, Davis sq. Tel.

Interest begins Saturday, May 1, at The Central Savings Bank.

When placing insurance consult J. F. Donohoe, Donovan building. Tel.

Teeth extracted without pain by the Obtundine system of painless dentistry, Dr. Gagnon, 466 Merrimack street.

The trade journals are taking notice of Humphrey O'Sullivan's scheme of advertising the Merrimack Clothing store in the Boston papers. The Fourth Estate is among the journals that takes special notice of this departure.

Lowell Institution for Savings, 18 Shattuck street, was incorporated in 1829 and this month completes its 80th year. It has paid its depositors 159 consecutive dividends and over $8,000,000 in interest. This is a record worth consideration. Deposits begin to draw interest Saturday, May 1.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Proprietor—JULIUS CAHN—Mgr.

FRIDAY, April 30
M. Paul Cazeneuve and Company, Presenting
"FAUST"
(In French)
Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c. Seats on sale.

Saturday, May 1 Matinee Night
Henry D. Carey, in the Thrilling Western Drama
"MONTANA"
A Complete Scenic Production
Matinee prices, 10c to 25c. Evening prices, 15c, 25c, 35c and 50c. Seats on sale.

HATHAWAY'S
CLOSING WEEK OF VAUDEVILLE
MR. EDWARD EDWARDS
In "All Rivers Meet at the Sea"
ELSIE HARVEY and HER BOYS
JAMES and LUCIA COOPER
J. WARREN KEANE
LONG ACRE QUARTET
ROBERT DUMONT TRIO
HATHASCOPE
WORMWOOD'S DOGS and MONKEYS
Matinees at 2.30. Evenings at 8.15
Ladies' Orchestra Seats, Matinees, 10c
Pianos from M. Steinert Co.

The Great Turbine Steel Steamships
Harvard and Yale
will resume Service for the Season on the All-the-Way-by-Water Route of the Metropolitan Line between
Boston and New York
on Monday, May 3rd. Leave Boston and New York 5 P. M. every day—15 hours direct between the two Cities. Tickets via the Metropolitan Line to New York and to points beyond will be on sale at all regular Railroad and Steamboat Ticket Offices in the East and throughout the United States. Ask for tickets via the Metropolitan Line.

Academy of Music
HIGH CLASS MOTION PICTURES
NEW ILLUSTRATED SONGS
Performances 2 to 5 and 7 to 10.30 p. m. Continuous performance Saturday, 2 to 10.30 p. m. Admission 5c, with a Good Seat. Reserved Seats 5c Extra.

Theatre Voyons Today
A Drive for Life
Jack's Successful Bluff
A Fighting Chance
The Day and the Man
"In the Days of Long Ago" and "My Pony Boy" are the songs
TEN CENTS—THAT'S ALL

A BUNCH OF KEYS lost in post-office. Reward if returned to office at 125 Perry st.

CAPABLE WOMAN wanted at once for light general housework. References required. Ready before Saturday. Address B, Sun office.

5-ROOM TENEMENT to let, clean, sunny, dry cellar, city water, fine view, hen house, also 12,000 feet land for garden, $8. Cur Falls, 71 Johnson st., off Varnum avenue.

A WOMAN FOR WASHING and scrubbing wanted. Inquire at S. Cohen, 119 Howard st.

1 TOP STITCHER, 2 BACK STAYERS wanted, on Wheeler Wilson Post machines, apply, Federal Shoe Co., Dix st.

TURKISH NEWS

Continued

SULTAN IS DEPOSED IN FAVOR OF BROTHER

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—Abdul Hamid II has been deposed as sultan of the Turkish empire. Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, his brother, will be proclaimed his successor, probably by 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The deposition will be through the regular form prescribed by the tenets of the Mohammedan faith. It is understood that the sheik-ul-Islam, the head of the church, will issue the decree of deposition.

The news of the deposition of Abdul Hamid and the selection of his brother to succeed him caused great excitement throughout Constantinople.

Crowds at once began to gather in the principal squares and thoroughfares and around the imperial palace of Yildiz in anticipation of the proclamation of a new sultan.

A TERRIBLE MASSACRE IN VILAYET OF ADANA

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—The following account of the disorders at Adana has been received here by telegraph from the Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, a missionary:

"The entire vilayet of Adana has been visited during the past five days by a terrible massacre of Armenians, the worst ever known in the history of the district. The terror has been universal and the government is powerless to check the disorders. Adana, the capital of the province, has been the storm center.

Conditions have been unsettled for some time past and there has been animosity between Turks and Armenians owing to the political activity of the latter and their open purchasing of arms.

"Early last Wednesday while I was in the market I noticed that the Armenians were closing their shops and hurrying to their homes. An Armenian and a Turk had been killed during the night and the corpses were paraded through their respective quarters. The sight of the dead inflamed the inhabitants and crowds began to gather in the streets armed with sticks, axes and knives. A few young Armenians assembled in the center of the covered market and began firing revolver shots into the air. By 1 a. m. the crowd had begun the looting of shops.

"The military commander of Adana was by my side in the market when the firing began. He had not the courage to disperse the mob; he returned to his residence and did not venture out for two days.

"William Chambers, field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and myself proceeded to the Konak and found a howling mob demanding arms with which to kill the Giaours. We then went to the telegraph office to summons the British consul. On the steps of the building we saw three dead Armenians. Their bodies had been mutilated. While we were in the telegraph office a mob burst into the room where we were and killed two Armenians before our eyes. The unfortunate ones were supplicating the protection of the vali when they were struck down.

"We managed to make our way into the next room where we made representations to the vali. This official said he could do nothing. He was afraid of his own life and he made no attempt to protect us. Somehow we managed to get to the interior of the Konak where we remained at the side of the government officials for the next 48 hours. That afternoon the situation grew distinctly worse. The Armenians withdrew to their quarter of Adana which is situated on a hill and converted their houses into fortresses. Here the fighting went on for two days, the Armenians beating off their Turkish assailants.

Wednesday evening Major Daughty-Wylie, the British vice consul at Mersina arrived at Adana and established headquarters in the house of a dragoman of a wealthy Greek resident, where many refugees had been received. The wife of the British consul who was brought into Adana under fire on Thursday, attended personally to many wounded women and children.

"Adana was a hell. The bazaars were looted and set on fire. There was continuous shooting and killing in every part of the town, and fires raged in many quarters. Moslems from the neighborhood began pouring into the city and notwithstanding our vehement protests the vali distributed arms to these men, alleging that they were Turkish reserves.

"Major Daughty-Wylie at the head of troops which he compelled the vali to supply, went to the railroad end of the town and was successful in preventing the villagers from coming into Adana. Later while the major was attempting to pacify the town he was shot and disabled.

"Missionaries of the Central Turkey mission had assembled for a district conference in the center of Adana on the day of the outbreak. They received and protected hundreds of refugees in the American seminary for girls and courageously endeavored to pacify the warring elements.

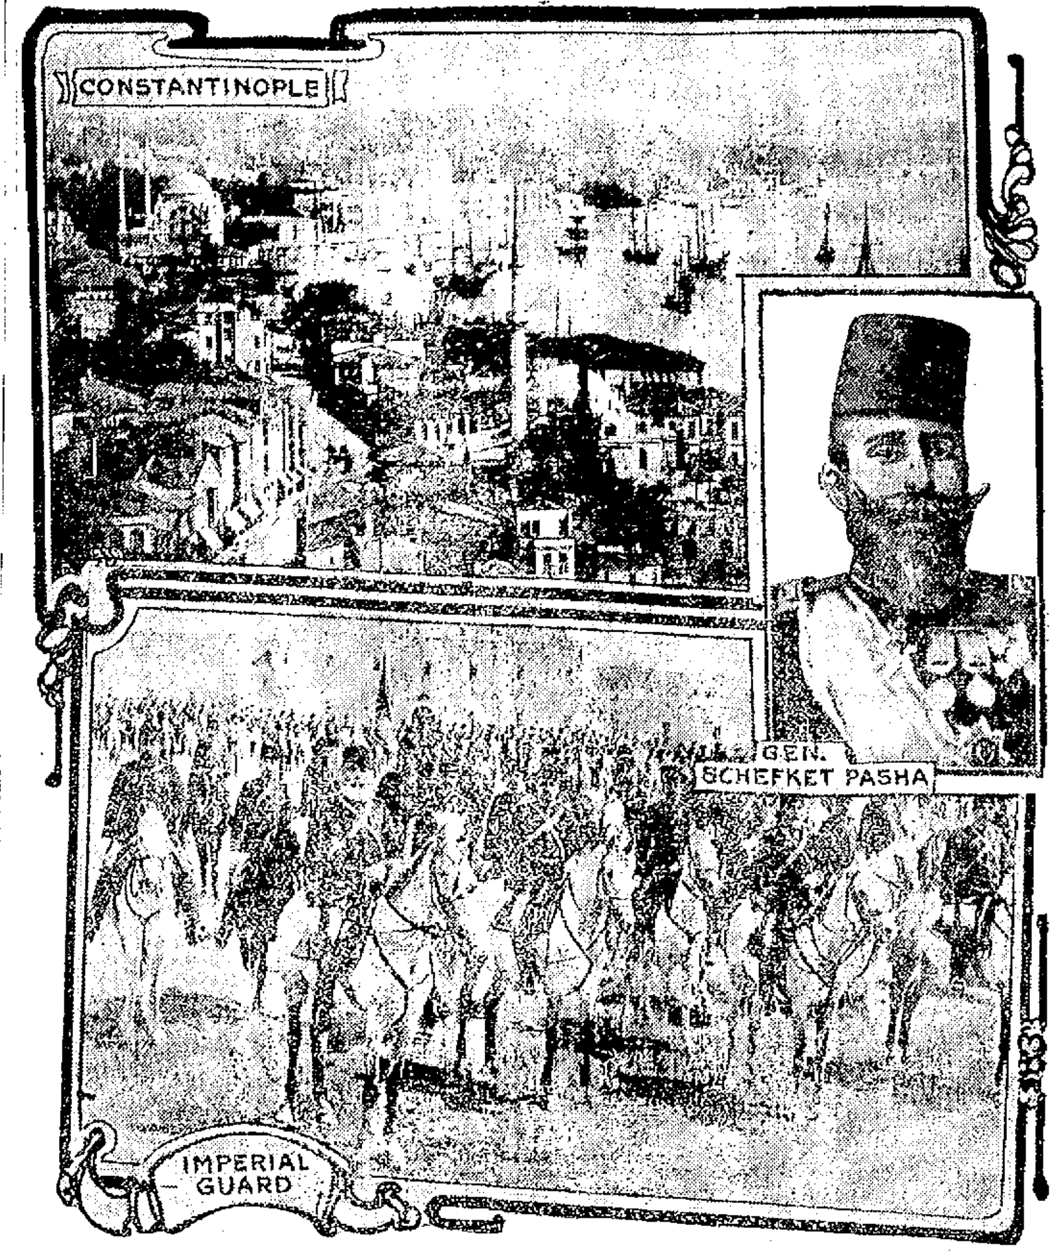

"On Thursday Daniel M. Rogers and Harry Maurer, American missionaries, were killed under treacherous circumstances.

"On Friday the Armenians yielded since when there has been little murdering.

"Adana is in a pitiable condition. The town has been pillaged and destroyed and thousands of homeless people here are without means of livelihood. It is impossible to estimate the number of killed. The corpses lie scattered through the streets. Friday when I went out I had to pick my way between the dead to avoid stepping on them. Saturday morning I counted a dozen cart-loads of Armenian bodies in one-half hour being carried to the river and thrown into the water. In Turkish cemeteries graves are being dug wholesale.

"The condition of the refugees is pitiable and heart-rending. Not only are there orphans and widows beyond number but a great many, even the babies, are suffering from severe wounds.

"The situation in Adana itself is unspeakable. On Friday afternoon 250 so-called Turkish reserves without officers seized a train at Adana and compelled the engineer to convey them to Tarsus where they took part in the complete destruction of the Armenian quarter of that town, which is the best part of Tarsus. Their work of looting was thorough and rapid. It is said that they spread with kerosene and fired the great historic Armenian church at Tarsus, the most important building in the city. They demolished marble statues and shattered historic tablets. Everything portable was carried away, but the church itself resisted the attempts to burn. Fortunately few persons were killed here. This was owing to the proximity of the American college where 4000 destitute and homeless persons had sought and found shelter.

SOOTHING WASH CURES ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen Compound Solves a Vexing Medical Problem

One of the most vexing problems in all medicine appears at last to have been solved by the most simple of all remedies. Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded with thymol, glycerine and other mild healing liquids, tones up the healthy skin while killing and ultimately removing the eczema germs.

This compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription, has now so thoroughly proven its efficacy that druggists recommend it unhesitatingly.

The Sheriff of Franklin Co., Frankfort, Ky., Mr. W. H. Graham, writes: "My twelve-year-old daughter had been suffering with an aggravated form of eczema for more than two years. We had her under the care of the best physicians [illegible]. Upon getting no relief, we were induced to try D. D. D. Prescription.

"She was entirely relieved. It has now been more than one year since she ceased the use of the Remedy, and no sign of the trouble has appeared."

We recommend D. D. D. Prescription to all sufferers from eczema. Carter & Sherburne, Falls & Burkinshaw and Billingwood & Co.

REV. H. A. GIBBONS IS A YOUNG MINISTER

BOSTON, April 27.—Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, the missionary who has telegraphed the details of the Adana massacre, is a teacher in St. Paul's institute at Tarsus, a college maintained by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. Rev. Thomas D. Christie, who has been a missionary of the board since his graduation from Andover Seminary in 1877 is its president.

Rev. Mr. Gibbons is a young man having been graduated from Ho[illegible] College only recently. After graduation he went to Paris to pursue further studies and the [illegible] he was engaged [illegible] Christie [illegible]. A daughter of President Christie was the [illegible] of D. Miner Rogers who was killed at Adana.

LAST NIGHT'S EVENTS IN TURKISH CAPITOL

CONSTANTINOPLE, Apr. 27.—T[illegible]

deposition of Sultan Abdul Hamid appears now to be certain and the 101 guns saluting Mahemmed Rechad Effendi as the new ruler of the empire probably will be heard before the next selamlik on Friday. The dignitaries of the church care as little for Abdul Hamid as does the committee of union and progress, but the higher clergy are seeking to curb the agitation of the enthusiasts of the Mohammedan league. Senators and deputies who have inquired among the Ulemas find them in different degrees favorable to the sultan's removal. A caucus of senators and deputies yesterday determined to make an effort to compel him to abdicate under the ecclesiastical law, by the terms of which a decree may be issued by the Sheik-Ul-Islam, the highest authority of Mohammedanism next o the sultan, pronouncing the sultan incapable of ruling.

The grounds upon which the issuance of a canonical rescript will be demanded are that the sultan's supremacy is harmful to the church, contrary to the sacred law and unjust to the Turkish people. The program as agreed upon at the caucus is that a demand shall be made for the abdication of Abdul Hamid simultaneously from the highest court of the church, from the national assembly and from the military chiefs. The sultan will be offered a palace and liberal allowances.

The parliamentary leaders wish to discuss this program at a public sitting before they approach the Sheik-Ul-Islam on the subject, for it is with this man, who lives a secluded life of a mysterious, semi-holy character, in the popular belief, that the difficulty lies. He is not likely to act without giving serious consideration to this important matter, taking counsel with the principal Ulema and seeking the opinion of the wisest and most powerful men in the church.

The constitutionalists have no wish to oppose ecclesiastical authority nor to undertake the tasks of progress without the support of a majority of the wise men, and if they strongly oppose the abdication of the sultan, it would hardly be insisted upon at present, although this is regarded as the simplest course to avoid further complications with Abdul Hamid.

Mahemmed Rechad Effendi, the heir apparent to the throne, who would probably be selected for the accession, has lived practically a prisoner for 25 years in the large palace and gardens not far from the Yildiz Kiosk. Since the July revolution, however, he has often been in the streets of Constantinople, looking from the carriage windows upon the scenes in the tumultuous which must have been [illegible] to him. He is gray haired [illegible] not very strong, to judge from his appearance. He is 65 years of age and well educated, although [illegible] of the affairs of the world.

Yesterday afternoon [illegible] the [illegible] the siege of the Yildiz. General Schefket, commander of the [illegible] overawing the Al[illegible] surrender. This force, which was composed of [illegible] men, was [illegible] imperial palace. The [illegible] were not engaged in the [illegible] on Saturday [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

The Salonikins showed great severity. Many of the arrested softas, civilians being [illegible] have been [illegible] treated. The [illegible] search continues even in the European countries. It is estimated now that at least 10,000 prisoners are in the hands of the Salonikins. Those liable to severe punishment, such as the rebellious Saloniki chasseurs, have been securely roped. Among the civilians arrested are: Maurad Bey, editor of the Mizan; Abdurrahman Effendi, assistant minister of finance, and several high officials of the Porte. A number of reactionary newspapers have been suppressed.

Fresh battalions continue to arrive from the country districts. They came in yesterday, marched to the palace of Justice where the parliament was sitting and saluted the representatives of the new government. Many of the soldiers went to the mosques yesterday to pray.

Most of the American tourists have left the city. Ambassador Leishman, who has received many telegrams inquiring whether it is safe to come to Constantinople, has replied to these that such course would be inadvisable, as the city is under martial law. Nevertheless, several Americans reached here yesterday, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Moore.

The condition of Frederick Moore, the American correspondent, who was shot while watching the fighting on Saturday, is causing anxiety. His wound may prove to be more serious than at first supposed. The surgeons in attendance will not be able for two or three days to give a definite opinion as to whether his spine is injured.

Alexander Girgalou, first dragoman of the American embassy, who also was wounded by a stray bullet, is improving. He was able yesterday to go from his residence to the hospital to have his wound dressed, and it is expected will be well in a fortnight.

Booth, the London Daily Graphic artist and correspondent, is able to sit up in bed and was engaged in sketching street scenes.

Tewfik Pasha, the grand vizier, and the other members of the cabinet, resigned yesterday, but their resignations were not acted upon. Tahir Pasha, one of the commanders of the Yildiz garrison, has been degraded and dismissed from the army. Numerous other officials of the palace have been dismissed, while many women of the sultan's harem, with their families, have been sent away.

The senate and chamber of deputies, in joint session, requested the ministers to remain in office for some days longer.

Gen. Schefket last night issued a proclamation, announcing that the instigators of the recent crimes, including those who have been guilty of stirring up a feeling of discontent, will be exterminated as the worst enemies of the country, in accordance with Sheriat and the unanimous wish of the nation, and that measures will be taken to prevent the propagation of the subversive ideas. The proclamation concludes with the assurance that peace will be maintained and the people will remain tranquil.

GEN. BABCOCK

NEW YORK, April 27.—Brig. Gen. Breckenbridge Babcock, U. S. A., retired, died [illegible] aboard the Prinz Friedrich W[illegible] which arrived here today from Bremen. Gen. Babcock's death occurred yesterday from Bright's disease. His body was brought to port on the steamer. Mrs. Babcock and their son Franklin accompanied the general to Europe [illegible] ago in the hope that the trip would improve the general's health.

Gen. Babcock was born in Louisiana in 1843. He served in New York regiments during the Civil war and emerged with the rank of major. He was appointed to the regulars from Connecticut as a second lieutenant in [illegible] and finally [illegible] the rank of brigadier [illegible], being retired at his own request in the same year. During the Spanish-American war he was a brigadier general of volunteers.

I Wish to Announce
to the general public that I am prepared to do plastering, whitening and whitewashing and general jobbing of all kinds in this line. Reasonable prices and satisfaction guaranteed.
JAMES LARGY
23 RICHMOND STREET, CITY

WEISS IN COURT

Was Charged With Disturbing the Peace

Max Weiss, the second hand clothing dealer who has come into the lime light because of the fact that he has an overcoat hanging outside of his store which is stolen periodically, was in police court again this morning, but this time instead of being the complainant in the case, he is a defendant, he and Abraham Deshefsky, of Boston, having been arrested for disturbing the peace.

The cases were called for trial this morning but on the request of counsel they were postponed till Thursday.

Weiss and the Boston man got into an argument at the corner of Middlesex and Howard streets last night and had succeeded in attracting quite a large crowd when Patrolman Frank Donovan put in an appearance and sent both men to the police station. As is usual each man blames the other and the case is so mixed up that there is sure to be something doing when the cases are heard Thursday.

Locked Out in the Cold

"Won't you open dat door and let me in, I'm out here freezing cold to the skin," was the refrain which John Gillis was singing outside his house on the Tremont & Suffolk corporation about ten minutes after one o'clock this morning when Special Officer John Mahan put in an appearance. Gillis was under the influence of liquor and was placed under arrest.

In court this morning he explained that owing to the fact that he has an artificial limb he has had considerable difficulty in securing work and went out to North Chelmsford last night to look for a job. He arrived in Lowell shortly before eleven o'clock and managed to connect with a couple of "four masted" schooners before closing time. He then wended his way towards his domicile. He rang the bell but received no response. He rang it again and again, and then again and he kept on ringing but his wife refused to open the door. He said: "I ring the bell but she would not open the house so I was waiting around for her to open the house."

He was sentenced to four months in jail, from which decision he appealed and was held for the superior court.

Milk Below the Standard

John Constantopolous entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with having milk below the standard in his possession. In fact the milk was very poor, analysis showing that there was but 9.92 per cent. of solids while the standard is 12.15 per cent. He was fined the usual amount, $15.

Drunken Offenders

Mary A. Kelley was in for the third time within two months and she will spend the next four months in jail.

Four first offenders were each fined $2 and four simple drunks were released before the opening of the court.

BADLY INJURED

Girl Was Testing Rope Fire Escape

WELLESLEY, April 27.—By the breaking of a rope fire escape, Miss Jeanette Tandy of Vevay, Ind., a sophomore at Wellesley college, fell two stories striking on her back and head and sustaining serious injuries. She was taken to the hospital conscious and suffering great pain.

The accident happened in Stone hall, one of the college dormitories, about 8 a. m. Within the past year every room in the college has been equipped with rope fire escapes and it is compulsory on every student to make at least one descent by the rope under the direction of one of the captains of the college fire brigade. This morning Miss Tandy under the direction of Miss Julia Locke, a senior, the captain of the Stone hall fire brigade, started to make the descent by the rope from the second floor. The fire escape was hung on the inside of the building near the staircase. Miss Tandy, who is rather heavy, had just swung over the railing on the second floor when the rope broke and she fell to the bottom floor some thirty feet below. She struck on her back and the back of her head. She was conscious when picked up but appeared to be in great pain. She was taken immediately to the Wellesley hospital. The extent of her injuries has not been determined although it is believed that she was badly hurt.

RACES TODAY

WON BY AVALANCHE II. OVER NOTED HORSES

NEWMARKET, April 27.—The first spring two-year-old stakes of ten sovereigns each with two hundred sovereigns added, distance four furlongs, was run here today and won by Avalanche II. East Pool was second, and LeCroisette third. Among the fifteen starters were H. P. Whitney's Oversight and C. Carroll's Truckee.

BENHALL'S WINE OF OLIVES
For the thin, pale, tired, or sufferers from dyspepsia. Makes both fat and muscle, and aids digestion in a remarkable way. Gives health and strength to the weak.
Prepared by BENHALL OLIVE CO., Lowell, Mass. For Sale by Leading Druggists.

"Hello," 1485 please. "Is this Keyes' Auction Room?" "Yes sir." "Have you any upright pianos in your furniture sale Thursday?" "Yes, there are three nice ones." "What else is there?" "Oh! there is a roll top desk, several brass beds, leather couch, lot of carpets and art squares, piazza chairs and fancy rockers, square pianos and organs, camp chairs and settees, and there are four elegant pieces of antique furniture." "Better come down and look them over." "Are you open in the evening?" "Yes sir." "What time does the sale commence Thursday?" "At 1.30 sharp." "Thank you, good-bye."

EAT CORNED BEEF, CABBAGE, PORK AND ONIONS FOR DINNER

Do you crave for a good old fashioned New England boiled dinner?

Corned beef and cabbage and pork and beets and onions and turnips?

There may be a few readers of the Sun who will turn up their noses and sniff contemptuously, but if they do it's because they have never faced the good old kind like mother used to make.

But there are thousands of people in this world who won't eat a New England boiled dinner because they can't digest it.

And these people ought to know at once that Mi-o-na tablets, the quick acting and guaranteed cure for indigestion, will put the stomach in such a clean and perfectly healthy condition in a few days that they will be able to eat and digest a New England boiled dinner or any other kind of a dinner.

Carter & Sherburne sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box and they guarantee it to cure indigestion, catarrh of the stomach or any chronic or acute stomach trouble or money back.

Mrs. Susan Rea, says: "For months I endured the pains and agony of the stomach that I could not digest and my appetite got [illegible]. I doctored without relief or success until I used a treatment of Mi-o-na. This remedy cured my trouble entirely and I can, since using Mi-o-na partake of any kind of food that I wish." 30 Pratt St., Pontiac, Mich.

Mi-o-na is a wonder worker. It instantly stops distress after eating; turns a sour stomach into a sweet one; stops belching and heartburn. Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

WALTER E. GUYETTE Auctioneer
Office, Rooms 77-78 Central Block. Tel. 2415.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
OF A COTTAGE HOUSE, NO. 14 PENN AVE., OFF LINCOLN STREET, LOWELL, SATURDAY, MAY 1, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

I will offer for sale by the order of the mortgagee, at the above time, a cottage house and about 2200 square feet of land, more or less, situated within seven minutes' walk from Gorham street. The house comprises a six-room house, bath room, gas, city water, electric lights, etc. The house is in perfect repair inside and out, only recently the present owner added a large piazza running the whole side of the house. There are six fruit trees that will bear this year. If you are looking for a nice home in a good location, where it requires but little money, be sure and attend this sale. It is just what you want.

Terms: $200 to be deposited with the auctioneer as soon as struck off, other terms at sale.

By order of LOWELL CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee,
By William D. Brown, Treasurer.